Harold Z. (Hal) Steinbrenner

Managing General Partner / Co-Chairperson

Hal Steinbrenner begins his 22nd season with the New York Yankees organization in 2012 and his fourth as Managing General Partner / Co-Chairperson. On November 20, 2008, Major League Baseball formalized Mr. Steinbrenner's role as the New York Yankees' managing partner.

Under Mr. Steinbrenner's leadership, the Yankees have retained and enhanced their global popularity while continuing to field championship-caliber teams. In 2011, the franchise led the American League in home and road attendance, combining to draw 6,345,290 fans while reaching the postseason for the 16th time in the last 17 seasons (1995-2007,'09-11). In his first full year as Managing General Partner in 2009, the Yankees capped their historic inaugural season in Yankee Stadium with their 27th World Championship.

The 43-year-old son of George Steinbrenner was elected General Partner by the New York Yankees Partnership in 1996, and he held that title for 13 seasons. In 2007, Mr. Steinbrenner was also named Chairman of Yankee Global Enterprises, LLC.

Along with General Partner / Co-Chairperson Hank Steinbrenner, his responsibilities include overseeing all areas of the club's business and baseball operations, and directing financial aspects of the New York Yankees, Yankee Global Enterprises and affiliates. In addition, he serves on the Board of Directors for Legends Hospitality, LLC, a concession and merchandising company developed with the Dallas Cowboys, which operates at the Yankees' and Cowboys' new stadiums.

Mr. Steinbrenner is also Chairman and CEO of Steinbrenner Hotel Properties and holds a seat on both the Board of Directors of the Boys & Girls Club of Tampa Bay and the Special Operations Warrior Foundation.

Mr. Steinbrenner attended Culver Military Academy and graduated from Williams College in 1991 with a Bachelor of Arts degree. He earned a Master's degree in Business Administration from the University of Florida in 1994. Mr. Steinbrenner and his wife, Christina, currently reside in Tampa, Fla.

Henry G. (Hank) Steinbrenner

General Partner / Co-Chairperson

Hank Steinbrenner begins his fifth season as General Partner and fourth season as Co-Chairperson of the New York Yankees. Along with Managing General Partner / Co-Chairperson Hal Steinbrenner, the 54-year-old son of George Steinbrenner is responsible for overseeing all areas of the club's business and baseball operations.

Prior to the 2008 season, Mr. Steinbrenner was directly involved in the delicate negotiations and eventual re-signings of Yankees All-Stars Jorge Posada, Mariano Rivera and Alex Rodriguez, while guiding the managerial search that concluded with the hiring of former Yankees catcher and bench coach Joe Girardi, who led the club to the 2009 World Series title. Mr. Steinbrenner was also part of the collaborative front office effort of the 2008-09 offseason, which led to the signings of free agent first baseman Mark Teixeira and pitchers CC Sabathia and A.J. Burnett, who helped propel the club to the 27th championship in franchise history.

Mr. Steinbrenner has served as Chairman and Director of Minch Transit Company, Vice President and Director of Bay Farms Corporation, Vice President and Director of Mid-Florida Hotels Corporation, and has been a member of the board of the Ocala Breeders Sales Company. In the Tampa Bay community, he has been involved in a number of children's charities.

In 2010, Mr. Steinbrenner sponsored and supervised "Hank's Yanks," an 18-and-under summer league baseball team comprised of teenagers from a variety of socioeconomic backgrounds in the New York metropolitan area. In their first two seasons, Hank's Yanks have won back-to-back championships in Yaphank, Long Island's "Baseball Heaven" league and have been victorious in both editions of the "Boss' Cup" youth baseball exhibition played at Yankee Stadium. In just two seasons, over 15 players have gone on to receive college scholarships, while four players have either been signed or drafted by Major League teams, including the Yankees' fourth-round selection in 2011 (Matt Duran).

Mr. Steinbrenner attended Culver Military Academy and Central Methodist College. He is the father of four children and resides in Tampa, Fla.

Jennifer Steinbrenner Swindal

General Partner / Vice Chairperson

Jennifer Steinbrenner Swindal begins her fourth full season in the role of General Partner/ Vice Chairperson of the New York Yankees. In 2008, Ms. Steinbrenner held the title of Senior Vice President of New Stadium Public Affairs. The elder daughter of George Steinbrenner previously served in the Yankees Public Affairs Department in 1984-85 prior to spending 23 years actively participating in the philanthropic community.

Her present responsibilities include the implementation and integration of various community programs relating to Yankee Stadium. In addition, she serves in a supervisory role for the New York Yankees and Tampa Yankees Foundations, overseeing numerous local, regional and national outreach efforts.

Ms. Steinbrenner has a distinguished record of contributing to community projects and initiatives, including current commitments on the Florida State Fair Authority (Executive Committee, Agricultural Committee, and Chairwoman of the Marketing Committee), Board of Directors of Mary Lee's House (a child protection and advocacy center in Tampa), Board of Directors of the Boys & Girls Club of Tampa Bay, and Board of Directors/Advisory Committee for the Tampa Salvation Army. She has also held prior board positions with the Children's Cancer Center of Tampa, H.B. Plant Museum at the University of Tampa, New York Pops, Florida Orchestra, Red Cross Angels of Tampa and Culver Academies.

A Morehead Scholar and 1981 graduate of the University of North Carolina with a Bachelor of Science degree in business administration, Ms. Steinbrenner has previously served on the UNC Board of Visitors and the Parents Council. Her daughter, Haley, also a Morehead Scholar, received her undergraduate degree from UNC in 2008. Her son, Stephen, graduated from UNC in 2011 and currently works with the Yankees in their Stadium Operations Department.

Ms. Steinbrenner was born in Cleveland, Ohio, and makes her home in Tampa, Fla.

Jessica Steinbrenner

General Partner / Vice Chairperson

Jessica Steinbrenner begins her fourth full season as General Partner / Vice Chairperson for the New York Yankees. The younger daughter of George M. Steinbrenner previously served in the role of Senior Vice President for the team in 2008.

In addition, Mrs. Steinbrenner serves as the Chief Executive Officer of Bay Farms Corporation and serves on the board of the Florida Thoroughbred Breeders' and Owners' Association. She has also authored two children's books: My Sleepy Room and My Messy Room.

She attended Culver Girls Academy and graduated from Sweet Briar College in Virginia. Mrs. Steinbrenner has four children and currently resides in Tampa, Fla., with her husband, Felix.

Joan Z. Steinbrenner

Vice Chairperson

Joan Steinbrenner holds the position of Vice Chairperson of the New York Yankees. Mrs. Steinbrenner was married to Principal Owner George M. Steinbrenner from 1956 until his passing in 2010.

Mrs. Steinbrenner has participated in many community projects and supported numerous philanthropic organizations. Among her many dignified community roles, she was named State Chairperson for the Florida Special Olympics in 1981 and 1982, and for two years was on the Board of Directors of the National Society to Prevent Blindness. She was also a charter member of Town and Gown, established in 1977 in an effort to form a bond between community supporters in the downtown Tampa area and the University of South Florida.

In addition, Mrs. Steinbrenner was a longtime board member for Children's Home, Inc., and was one of the original members of the H.B. Plant Museum Society. From 1991 to 2000 she served on the Development Council of St. Joseph's Hospital Foundation Board. She currently is a member of the Junior League of Tampa, the Chiselers, and sits on the Board of Directors for the Florida Orchestra.

A graduate of Upper Arlington High School in Columbus, Ohio, and Ohio State University, Mrs. Steinbrenner earned a degree in dental hygiene. She has four children and 13 grandchildren, and currently resides in Tampa, Fla.

Randy Levine

President

Randy Levine begins his 13th season as President of the New York Yankees in 2012. He was named to his position in January 2000, becoming the first person to hold the post with the club since 1986.

Under his supervision and guidance, the franchise constructed the state-of-the-art Yankee Stadium, completing the facility on time for the beginning of the 2009 season, which culminated in the franchise's 27th World Championship. Mr. Levine was a principal founder of the YES Network, which was recently named the most-watched regional sports network in the United States for the ninth consecutive year (2003-11). In 2008, he was instrumental in creating Legends Hospitality, LLC, a new concession and merchandising company with the Dallas Cowboys which currently operates at the Yankees' and Cowboys' new stadiums. In 2004, he helped organize Yankees-Steiner, a leading sports memorabilia company.

Mr. Levine has also played a prominent role in the Yankees' international brand expansion, including the 2007 establishment of a first-of-its-kind working relationship with the Chinese Baseball Association. More recently, he led a 2010 Yankees delegation that visited Tokyo, Beijing and Hong Kong with the 2009 World Series Trophy, marking the first-ever time that the Yankees have brought one of their World Series trophies to Asia. In addition, Mr. Levine helped develop the joint venture agreement in Japan between the Yankees and Yomiuri Shimbun, which is the parent company of the Yomiuri Giants.

In 2007, the Yankees became the first Major League organization to sign players from the Israel Baseball League and also embarked on their first-ever large-scale outreach into Taiwan by holding a clinic for high school players and coaches in Taipei, Taiwan. Mr. Levine is also the Yankees' principal liaison to Major League Baseball and contributes to player negotiations and contract issues.

Mr. Levine has been at the forefront of bringing a diverse array of entertainment and special events to Yankee Stadium, transforming the venue into a year-round destination for a variety of college football, music, boxing and corporate events. Highlights have included concerts by Paul McCartney, two double-bills of JAY-Z and Eminem, as well as renewing the tradition of college football at the home of the Yankees with games featuring iconic institutions such as Notre Dame, Army, Syracuse and ascendant powers such as Rutgers, Iowa State and Kansas State.

The Yankees president has also been the driving force behind the creation, organization and implementation of college football's newest bowl game—the New Era Pinstripe Bowl. The nationally broadcast contest provides the schools, their alumni and traveling supporters the unparalleled and thoroughly unique opportunity to enjoy a full week of bowl festivities in New York City during Christmas week.

Mr. Levine's baseball and business vision has also led to record numbers at Yankee Stadium turnstiles. In 2011, the Yankees topped the American League in home attendance for the ninth consecutive season (2003-11), leading Baseball in home attendance seven times over that same stretch (2003-08, '10). Additionally, the organization also led the Majors in road attendance last season. The Yankees combined draw of 6,345,166 fans topped the AL for the 13th consecutive season. In 2008, his direction helped the club establish the all-time AL single-season attendance record of 4,298,543 to become the only Major League franchise to exceed the 4 million mark at home in four consecutive seasons (2005-08).

Before joining the Yankees, Mr. Levine served as New York City's Deputy Mayor for Economic Development, Planning and Administration. He also served as New York City's Labor Commissioner.

From 1995 through 1997, Mr. Levine was Chief Negotiator for Major League Baseball. In 1996, he negotiated the labor agreement that for the first time included revenue sharing, luxury taxes and Interleague play. Prior to that, Mr. Levine served as Principal Associate Deputy Attorney General and Principal Deputy Attorney General at the United States Department of Justice. He has also served as a special delegate to the United States Department of Labor and was a board member for Hudson River Park. Mr. Levine presently serves on the boards of George Washington University, the ASCPA and the Yogi Berra Museum.

Mr. Levine has served on the Board of Directors of the New Jersey Nets and New Jersey Devils and is a member of the Board of Directors of the YES Network and Legends Hospitality, LLC. He is also an officer of Yankee Global Enterprises, LLC. Additionally, Mr. Levine serves on the International, Diversity and Labor Policy Committees of Major League Baseball.

Mr. Levine has been a partner in the New York law firm of Proskauer Rose Goetz & Mendelson and is presently Senior Counsel at the law firm of Akin Gump Strauss Hauer & Feld.

Born on February 22, 1955, in Brooklyn, N.Y., Mr. Levine received a Bachelor of Arts degree from George Washington University in 1977, and in 2011 was named as Chair of the school's athletic committee. He received his J.D. from Hofstra University School of Law in 1980. Mr. Levine and his wife, Mindy, reside in Manhattan.

Felix M. Lopez, Jr.

Executive Vice President/Chief International Officer

Felix M. Lopez, Jr. begins his third season as Executive Vice President/Chief International Officer in 2012. From 2005-09, he served as Yankees Senior Vice President. His current responsibilities include overseeing the daily operations of George M. Steinbrenner Field, the Himes Player Development Complex and the Single-A Tampa Yankees. He is also involved with the Yankees' Latin Baseball Academy in Boca Chica, Dominican Republic, as well as player development in Latin America.

Under Mr. Lopez's supervision, the Yankees spring training home in Tampa, Fla., has undergone several structural enhancements and renovations in recent years, including the expansion of field box seating and the redesign of the Yankees' clubhouse facilities.

Fan-friendly amenities have been at the forefront of Mr. Lopez's operational strategy, including the design of the Brighthouse Networks Dugout Club, located underneath the field box seats behind home plate. In 2011, under Mr. Lopez's guidance, the Yankees Pavilion underwent a complete structural renovation, transforming into a year-round, all-weather multi-purpose event facility. In addition, Mr. Lopez was instrumental in developing the Tampa Tribune Deck, which was unveiled in 2008. Located beyond the right field wall, the unique and intimate structure features picnic-style seating for 500 people, private concessions and a full bar.

In January 2010, Mr. Lopez headed a Yankees delegation that took the club's 2009 World Series trophy to the Dominican Republic. The visit included stops at the Presidential Palace, U.S. Embassy, National Police Headquarters and Santo Domingo's Quisqueya Stadium for a Dominican Winter League playoff game.

Mr. Lopez also serves on the boards of Yankee Global Enterprises, LLC, and Legends Hospitality, LLC.

Before joining the Yankees, Mr. Lopez was the president and owner of Architecture Design Construction, Inc., a company specializing in commercial construction in the southeastern United States. Born on April 1, 1954, in Havana, Cuba, Mr. Lopez moved to Tampa, Fla., in 1969 and later graduated from Cam Tech School of Construction. He is a member of the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of Florida and Nobles of the Mystic Shrine of North America. He also serves on the board of the Gold Shield Foundation and contributes to the efforts of the Police Athletic League (PAL).

Mr. Lopez and his wife, Jessica, reside in Tampa, Fla.

Lonn A. Trost Chief Operating Officer

Lonn A. Trost begins his 13th season as Chief Operating Officer of the New York Yankees in 2012. He was named to the position on January 10, 2000, after serving as the club's Executive Vice President and General Counsel from 1997-99.

Mr. Trost is responsible for the overall day-to-day functioning of the Yankees' operations. Under his direction, the Yankees have seen tremendous growth in brand recognition and sponsorship opportunities, while also establishing single-season home attendance records nine times (1998-99; 2002-08). In 2011, the club led the American League in home attendance for the ninth consecutive season, drawing nearly 15,000 more fans per home game than the combined average of the 29 other Major League teams. The Yankees have also led the Majors in home attendance seven times in the last nine seasons (2003-08,'10).

Additionally, Mr. Trost, along with Hal Steinbrenner and Randy Levine, spearheaded the most complex undertaking in New York Yankees history—construction and development of Yankee Stadium, which is the largest privately funded building project in the history of the Bronx. While remaining true to the architectural grandeur of the 1923 original, the current facility is the most technologically advanced stadium in baseball.

Mr. Trost has played a significant role in Yankee Stadium becoming a year-round multi-purpose home to special events. Since 2010, Yankee Stadium has played host to an array of landmark activities that transcend baseball, including concerts by Paul McCartney, two double-bills of JAY-Z and Eminem, a world championship boxing match between Miguel Cotto and Yuri Foreman, as well as renewing the tradition of college football at the home of the Yankees with games featuring iconic institutions such as Notre Dame, Army and Syracuse. In addition, Mr. Trost has been an integral figure in the development of college football's newest postseason game—the New Era Pinstripe Bowl—held annually for the last two years during Christmas week.

In 2012, Yankee Stadium is scheduled to open its doors to additional marquee sports and entertainment events, including concerts from pop culture icon Madonna and Pink Floyd principal songwriter Roger Waters.

Before joining the Yankees, Mr. Trost was a partner and member of the Executive Committee of the law firm of Shea and Gould from 1972 to 1994. He was also a partner at the New York law firm of Herrick, Feinstein from 1994 through 1997. While with these firms, he served as outside general counsel for numerous sports franchises, institutions and agents. Among his clients were the New York Yankees and Mets, the New Jersey Nets and Devils, the National Baseball Hall of Fame, Little League Baseball and TCI Cable.

Mr. Trost was instrumental in the creation of the YES Network and is a member of its Board of Directors. In addition, he serves as an officer for Yankee Global Enterprises and on the Board of Directors for Legends Hospitality, LLC, both of which he participated in founding. While he maintains his responsibilities with the New York Yankees Partnership and the Yankees' other affiliates, he is also actively involved with the Tourette Syndrome Association, with whom he is a member of the Corporate and Professional Council.

Born on May 8, 1945, Mr. Trost began his legal career in 1971 with the U.S. Justice Department, Office of Chief Counsel (Treasury Department). A 1968 graduate of Hunter College in the Bronx, Mr. Trost received his J.D. from Brooklyn Law School in 1971. It's interesting to note that Mr. Trost's initial employment with the Yankees was as a grandstand vendor in the mid-1960s in the original Yankee Stadium. He resides in Monroe Township, N.J., with his wife, Carol. They have two children, Evan and Audra, and two grandchildren, Ariella and Alexander.

Brian Cashman

Senior Vice President, General Manager

Brian McGuire Cashman has literally grown up in the Yankees family. He joined the organization in 1986 as a 19-year-old intern in the Minor League and Scouting Department and now commands one of the most demanding jobs in sports as Yankees Senior Vice President and General Manager.

Over the course of his 25 seasons with the team, he has earned five World Series rings, including four as General Manager, becoming the first GM to win four World Series titles since the Dodgers' Buzzie Bavasi in the 1950s and '60s. Notably, he has won his titles with two different managers — Joe Torre in 1998, 1999 and 2000, and Joe Girardi in 2009.

Mr. Cashman assumed his current post on February 3, 1998. At age 30, he became the second-youngest General Manager in Baseball history. In his first season, he became the youngest-ever GM to win a World Series, and with championships in 1999 and 2000, he became the only GM in Baseball history to win world titles in each of his first three seasons. A pennant in 2001 gave him four straight League Championships, placing him alongside Hall of Fame Yankees General Managers Ed Barrow (1936-39, four) and George Weiss (1949-53, five) as the only GMs in Baseball history to win four-or-more straight league titles at any point in their careers.

Among his peers, Mr. Cashman has achieved unparalleled success while carrying on the winning tradition of the Yankees. His lifetime winning percentage of .605 (1,369-895-2) is the highest of any General Manager with at least five seasons of experience whose career brgan in 1950 or later and marks the best team winning percentage in the Major Leagues during that same stretch. Now in his 15th season, Mr. Cashman has the third-longest tenure among all general managers in baseball (trailing San Francisco's Brian Sabean and Oakland's Billy Bean) and is the longest-serving Yankees GM since Barrow led the team from October 28, 1920 to February 20, 1945.

In all, his clubs have claimed 11 Division titles and six AL championships to go along with four World Series titles. His feat of reaching the playoffs in each of his first 10 seasons (1998-2007) remains unmatched in Baseball history.

In his present role, Mr. Cashman has been involved in dozens of high-profile Major League free-agent signings, including those of A.J. Burnett, Johnny Damon, Orlando Hernandez, Hiroki Kuroda, Hideki Matsui, Mike Mussina, CC Sabathia, Alfonso Soriano and Mark Teixeira. Mr. Cashman has also executed more than 70 trades involving over 200 players, bringing the talents of Bobby Abreu, Aaron Boone, Roger Clemens, Curtis Granderson, Chuck Knoblauch, David Justice, Michael Pineda, Alex Rodriguez and Nick Swisher to the Bronx.

Mr. Cashman has focused on reestablishing the Yankees farm system, while still maintaining World Championship talent at the Major League level. The emphasis he and his baseball operations staff have placed on the First-Year Player Draft and international scouting is demonstrated by the organization's homegrown talent, including Manny Banuelos, Dellin Betances, Robinson Cano, Joba Chamberlain, Phil Coke, Brett Gardner, Phil Hughes, Austin Jackson, Ian Kennedy, Jesus Montero, Ivan Nova, Eduardo Nunez, David Robertson, Austin Romine and Gary Sanchez.

There have been three women in Major League history to hold the position of Assistant General Manager, and Mr. Cashman has hired two of them: Jean Afterman, the Yankees' current Senior Vice President and Assistant General Manager; and Kim Ng, who worked for the Yankees from 1998-2001 and currently holds the position of Senior Vice President of Baseball Operations for Major League Baseball.

Various groups have honored the achievements of the Yankees and Mr. Cashman. With the club's recent World Series title, the Yankees were named "2009 Male Team of the Year" by the United States Sports Academy and were nominated as "Team of the Year" in the Laureus World Sports Awards competition. In both 1998 and 2000, the Yankees earned ESPY Awards — presented by ESPN — as "Outstanding Team of the Year," and were named "Organization of the Year" by Baseball America in 1998 and by USA Today in 1999.

Mr. Cashman has been honored as "Executive of the Year" four times: by the Boston Chapter of the BBWAA in 2000 and 2009; and in 1999 and 2003 by the New Jersey Sportswriters' Association. In 2001, he received his third consecutive "40 Under 40" Award presented by Street & Smith's Sports Business Journal to recognize the top 40 people under the age of 40 who have made the greatest impact in the sports business industry. He has since been inducted into the publication's "40 Under 40" Hall of Fame. In 2003, Mr. Cashman was honored by the Latino Sports Writers and Broadcasters Association with their annual "Latino Achievement Award" for his contributions to the Latino media.

Philanthropy and community involvement play equally important roles in Mr. Cashman's scope of work. For the past two years he has served on the Board of Directors of Covenant House, which provides services for homeless youth. After being honored by the organization with their Beacon of Hope Award in June, he slept overnight on the street in Manhattan in November in the group's CEO Solidarity Sleepout to draw attention to the cause.

In each of the last two offseasons, Mr. Cashman has rappelled down the 22-story Landmark Building in Stamford, Conn., as part of the Christmas-themed Heights and Lights Program, promoting activity in the city's downtown business district. He also traveled to Vermont in November 2011 to join fellow GMs Theo Epstein and Neal Huntington at an event organized by ESPN's Buster Olney to support farm relief in the wake of tropical storm Irene.

For his efforts at work and in the community, Mr. Cashman was recognized by the Catholic Youth Organization of New York with the 2011 John C. Mara Sportsman of the Year Award and the 2005 Ossie Davis Award for Inspirational Leadership for promoting diversity in the workplace.

Mr. Cashman remains committed to growing the Yankees brand and increasing the number of people who play and enjoy baseball worldwide. In February 2010, he was part of the Yankees delegation that brought the 2009 World Series trophy to Tokyo, Beijing and Hong Kong. While on the Chinese mainland, the group met with the Chinese Baseball Association to discuss ways the game can be promoted in China. He was also heavily involved in bringing the Yankees to Tokyo for the "Opening Series 2004" to honor the 70th anniversary of Major League Baseball's historic tour of Japan, which included Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig.

His career as a full-time Yankees employee began following his graduation from Catholic University in 1989, when Mr. Cashman became a full-time Assistant in Baseball Operations. He was later promoted and transferred to Tampa, Fla., where he served as Assistant Farm Director from 1990 to 1992. He returned to New York and became Assistant General Manager, Baseball Administration in November 1992.

Born on July 3, 1967, in Rockville Center, N.Y., Mr. Cashman grew up in Lexington, Ky. He attended Georgetown Prep in Rockville, Md., before attending Catholic University in Washington, D.C., where he majored in history and played intercollegiate baseball. His love for baseball developed when former Brooklyn Dodger Ralph Branca and his wife, Ann, arranged for him to serve as a bat boy for the Los Angeles Dodgers in spring training in 1982.

Mark Newman

Senior Vice President, Baseball Operations

Mark Newman begins his 13th season as the Yankees' Senior Vice President of Baseball Operations and his 24th season with the Yankees. Prior to being named to his current position in 2000, Mr. Newman served as the club's Vice President of Player Development and Scouting from 1997-99.

During his tenure, the Yankees player development system has been recognized for producing homegrown talent, including All-Stars Robinson Cano, Phil Hughes, Derek Jeter, Mariano Rivera and David Robertson. Under Mr. Newman's supervision, the Yankees have drafted and stockpiled prospects to evolve into what has been lauded as one of the top player development systems in Baseball.

In December 2010, Mr. Newman received the Sheldon "Chief" Bender Award, recognizing his distinguished service to player development.

Over the last six years (2006-11), Yankees farm teams have captured 11 league championships, and in 2008 became the first organization since Houston in 1993 to have its Triple-A and Double-A clubs both win titles in the same season. The Yankees' system was one of only two AL organizations (also Boston) to boast multiple Topps Minor League Player of the Year honorees in 2011 (Mason Williams-NYPL, Dante Bichette Jr.-GCL).

In addition to stringing together 16 seasons of Major League postseason play over the last 17 years (1995-2007, '09-11) and winning five World Championships over the stretch, the Yankees are one of only two teams, along with the Cleveland Indians, whose minor league affiliates have combined to post winning records in each of the last 22 seasons since 1990. The Yankees were selected as the "Organization of the Year" by Baseball America in 1998 and earned the same honor from USA Today in 1999.

Mr. Newman began his career in the Yankees organization in 1989 as Coordinator of Instruction and served in that position until his promotion to Director of Player Development and Scouting in 1996. He was named Vice President of Player Development and Scouting in 1997. In his first role with the club, he oversaw all managers and coaches in the farm system and planned both Major and Minor League spring training.

In 1972, Mr. Newman began his baseball coaching career at 22 years old as the pitching coach for Southern Illinois University. After spending nine successful seasons there—during which he earned his law degree with honors—he was named Head Baseball Coach at Old Dominion University in 1981. Mr. Newman's impressive 321-167-3 record in nine seasons was recognized with his induction into the ODU Hall of Fame in 1997. He was inducted into the SIU Hall of Fame in 2000.

Jean Afterman

Senior Vice President, Assistant General Manager

Jean Afterman enters her 11th season as the Yankees' Assistant General Manager and first as Senior Vice President in 2012. She became only the third female to hold the position of Assistant General Manager in Major League Baseball history, and is currently the only woman to hold the title.

Ms. Afterman has been an integral part of the Yankees' efforts to spearhead operations in Asia. In her first year with the Yankees, she was instrumental in developing the club's relationship with the Yomiuri Giants of the Japan Central League and signing three-time MVP Hideki Matsui. In 2007, she joined team President Randy Levine and General Manager Brian Cashman on a week-long trip to Asia that concluded with a working agreement with the Chinese Baseball Association. She once again joined Levine and Cashman in 2010, when the Yankees brought the 2009 World Series trophy to Tokyo, Beijing and Hong Kong. While in Hong Kong, Ms. Afterman was given the honor of throwing out one of the ceremonial first pitches at the 2010 Phoenix Cup Tournament, an annual international women's baseball tournament.

Ms. Afterman's contributions and leadership have been repeatedly recognized. In 2010, she was named by WISE (Women in Sports and Events) as one of the "Women of the Year," and was tabbed by New York Moves magazine as a "Power Woman." Ms. Afterman was named one of the 2004 "Power 100" by the Sporting News, and was selected as one of the "50 Most Powerful Women in New York" by the New York Post in 2003 and 2007. Also in 2007, Ms. Afterman was profiled as one of Crain's New York Business' "100 Most Influential Women in New York Business." In 2008, she was profiled by Forbes Magazine as one of the top female executives in Baseball.

Ms. Afterman joined the Yankees with a diverse business and legal background, focusing on international sports and licensing with an emphasis on US-Japan matters. Prior to joining the Yankees, Ms. Afterman managed her own practice, providing athletic representation and management with a specialization in arbitration proceedings. From 1994-99, she was General Counsel at KDN Sports, Inc. and handled business and legal affairs for international baseball clients, including Hideo Nomo, Hideki Irabu, Masato Yoshii, Alfonso Soriano and more than 30 Major and Minor League players. In 1996, Ms. Afterman was appointed by the U.S. Secretary of Agriculture to a federal advisory committee, the National Organic Standards Board.

Ms. Afterman graduated from the University of California at Berkeley in 1979 and was the recipient of the Rosalynn Schneider Eisner Prize and the Mark Goodson Scholarship Grant. She received her J.D. from the University of San Francisco School of Law in 1991. In 2009, she was named "Alumni of the Year" by the Katherine Delmar Burke School in San Francisco.

Ms. Afterman maintains an active role in the Bronx community, working closely with P.S. 35, an elementary school within walking distance from Yankee Stadium. Over the last four years, she has organized Yankees-sponsored Read-A-Thons and directed a mentoring program which matches Yankees employees with fourth and fifth grade students. Additionally, she has reached out to high school-aged students through New York City's Explorers program, which engages young people through career-orientation programs. She received the 2009 "Exploring Leadership Award" for her work with the group. In January 2012, she was appointed to the Board of Trustees of the Women's Sports Foundation.

Billy Eppler

Assistant General Manager/Pro Personnel

Billy Eppler begins his first season as Assistant General Manager/Pro Personnel with the Yankees, assisting General Manager Brian Cashman in all areas of Major League Operations including player acquisitions, roster composition and management, staffing and personnel decisions, and player contract negotiations. In addition, he oversees all phases and personnel in the Yankees' Major League and professional scouting departments both domestically and internationally.

The 2012 season marks his eighth with the Yankees organization, having been hired by the club as Assistant Director of Baseball Operations on November 1, 2004. He served as Director of Professional Scouting from 2006-09 and Senior Director of Professional Personnel from 2010-11.

Prior to his tenure with the Yankees, Eppler worked for five years in the Colorado Rockies organization where he was hired in January 2000. He was appointed as Area Scouting Supervisor in September of 2000 for the Southern California area. He then joined the front office as Assistant Director of Pro Scouting and Player Development from 2003-04.

A native of San Diego, Eppler graduated cum laude from the University of Connecticut with a Finance degree in 1998, and began his sports career as an intern in the Washington Redskins scouting department. He resides in Greenwich, Conn.

First Home Runs in Franchise History

Courtesy of the Elias Sports Bureau

The first home run in franchise history was hit by John Ganzel on May 11, 1903. It was a fifth-inning, inside-the-park, solo homer at the Detroit Tigers' Bennett Park off George Mullin in an 8-2 Highlanders victory.

The first home run hit at home in franchise history was by Ernie Courtney on June 1, 1903, at Hilltop Park off Boston's Tom Hughes. The two-run, one-out homer in the bottom of the ninth accounted for the Highlanders' only runs in an 8-2 loss.

Commitment to Community

The New York Yankees organization takes as much pride in the championship baseball played on the field as they do in their charitable endeavors throughout the community. The Yankees' community efforts reach far beyond the Bronx and the tri-state area, encompassing programs and donations throughout the United States and even spanning into Latin America and Asia.

The Yankees strive to create partnerships with programs that support children's initiatives, education enhancement and health awareness. The club's donations, grants, tickets, promotional items and other contributions to such programs exceeded $5.5 million in 2011. Throughout the season, Yankees players and front office personnel make numerous visits to various local hospitals, schools and youth groups, and the club makes every effort to recognize community excellence through outreach and during pregame ceremonies.

BACK TO SCHOOL YANKEES-STYLE

Back-to-School Immunization Campaign

Prior to the start of the 2011 school year, the New York Yankees and Lincoln Medical and Mental Health Center partnered to host several immunization fairs to afford Bronx youth, ages 4-18, the opportunity to receive their required vaccinations at no cost. More than 1,680 vaccinations were administered at the Fifth Annual Back-to-School Immunization Fair on August 16 at Yankee Stadium, as the immunization records of 1,360 Bronx youth were updated. During the event, families were provided information on healthy lifestyle initiatives, food, entertainment, promotional giveaways and tickets to attend a 2011 home game.

CC Sabathia [C], along with teammates Curtis Granderson [at R] and Andruw Jones [far R] gave free haircuts to neighborhood kids on June 8, 2011 at Jordan's Barber Shop in the Bronx.

10th Annual Back-to-School Jamm/Health Fair

The New York Yankees partnered with the 161st Street Merchants Association to ensure local youth kicked off the 2011/2012 school year on a positive note. Throughout the day individuals in attendance at the 10th Annual Back-to-School Jamm/Health Fair were provided with food, entertainment and free health screenings. In addition, 2,500 Bronx-based students received a New York Yankees backpack complete with school supplies.

WAKE UP! NYC

The Yankees and Mayor Bloomberg worked together in 2011 to address the issues of truancy, chronic absenteeism and lack of school engagement in New York City public schools. Yankees players Joba Chamberlain, Phil Hughes and Mark Teixeira joined the WakeUp! NYC campaign, recording surprise wake-up messages to encourage students to attend school on time, as well as congratulating them for improved attendance.

During the 2011 season, the Yankees teamed with Legends Hospitality, Stop & Shop and Nourishing NYC to provide area youth, ages 12-15, the chance to participate in "Healthy Homeplate," a program focused on the methods for preparing healthy and affordable meals.

YANKEES ANCHOR BLOOD DRIVE

In response to the drastic drop in blood donations associated with Hurricane Irene, the New York Yankees and the New York Blood Center teamed up to administer numerous blood drives throughout the tri-state area, providing participants with two tickets to attend a game at Yankee Stadium.

The Yankees and the New York Blood Center also continued their High School Blood Donor Championship in 2011. The total number of donations collected at each school competing in the Blood Donor Championship is tallied at the end of the academic year, and the top schools are invited to attend a game at Yankee Stadium and are honored in a pre-game on-field ceremony. Since the program's inception in 1996, approximately 650,000 donations have been made, providing patients in New York, New Jersey and Connecticut-based hospitals with almost two million life-saving blood products.

A DIFFERENT BRAND OF BASEBALL

The New York Yankees hosted a special doubleheader on July 10, 2011, when the Long Island Bombers organization played a game of "beep" baseball in the Yankee Stadium outfield following the completion of the Yankees-Rays game.

The Long Island Bombers are a not-for-profit organization, providing blind or visually impaired athletes with an opportunity to play baseball using specially designed "beep" baseball and "buzzing" bases. Established in 1997, the Bombers are an affiliate of the National Beep Baseball Association. Their mission is to provide blind or visually impaired athletes with the opportunity to play the game of baseball, while educating the sighted community about the accomplishments of those athletes with disabilities.

SHARPENING THEIR PENCILS

Beginning in 2009, Yankees front office staff members began a mentoring program with students at P.S. 35 in the Bronx. Under the leadership of Yankees Assistant GM Jean Afterman, mentors from various Yankees front office departments have worked in small groups with students on career awareness and job-readiness projects, such as designing mock advertisements, proposing new product ideas and evaluating player statistics.

STEPPING UP IN RELIEF

Following the devestation of Hurricane Irene in August 2011, the Yankees donated a total of $100,000 to support rescue and relief efforts, splitting their contribution between the Salvation Army and the Red Cross.

A month later, the Yankees again stepped up to the plate to make a $25,000 donation specifically to support the rescue and relief efforts associated with the Texas wildfires.

YANKEES SPREAD SOME PINSTRIPED CHEER

For the second straight year, the New York Yankees partnered with New York City's Public Schools Athletic League (PSAL) on a series of community initiatives to commemorate the New Era Pinstripe Bowl.

Yankee Stadium played host to the PSAL Football Championship Game on December 6 for the second straight year. Abraham Lincoln High School (from Coney Island) defeated Erasmus Hall High School (from Flatbush), 20-12, for Brooklyn bragging rights and the city title.

Additionally, the Yankees honored the best scholar-athletes in New York City on December 20 at Yankee Stadium during the MVP Scholar Athlete Awards Ceremony. The occasion brought together a group of 55 male and female student-athletes—11 from each of New York City's five boroughs—who have led by example in the community, classroom and in their respective sports. In addition, each of the MVPs were recognized during the New Era Pinstripe Bowl.

The Yankees continued their community outreach during bowl week, as the participating schools (Rutgers and Iowa State) took part in community events, including hosting youth tackle leagues for a pep talk at Yankee Stadium, visiting children at Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center and paying their respects at the National September 11 Memorial at Ground Zero.

WALKING IN A WINTER WONDERLAND

On December 16, 2011, Yankee Stadium's Great Hall transformed into the North Pole for the Bronx Winter Wonderland event. Approximately 5,000 children from the Bronx were treated to a holiday extravaganza, complete with Christmas decorations and festive holiday music, including caroling from the Bronx-based Kips Bay Boys & Girls Club choir. Complimentary food and beverages were provided by Legends Hospitality and the Hard Rock Cafe.

Yankee Stadium's Great Hall became a Winter Wonderland on Dec. 16, 2011.

Additionally, Santa and his helpers set up their workshop in the Great Hall, handing out a toy to each child in attendance. The New York Yankees Foundation made a $25,000 contribution to cover the costs associated with the event, and a matching in-kind contribution was made by Neil and Amanda Friedman to ensure that each child in attendance received a holiday gift.

ANNUAL FOOD DRIVES

The Yankees held their 18th Annual Holiday Food Drive at Yankee Stadium on December 14, 2011, presented by White Rose Foods. With Yankees Manager Joe Girardi and second baseman Robinson Cano on hand to greet donors, a record-breaking 109,301 lbs. of food and over $500 was collected. The Yankees extend special thanks to partners White Rose, for donating 60,000 pounds of canned goods, and Domino Sugar, for contributing $15,000 worth of 5 lb. bags of sugar. The Yankees also thank ACE Endico, who helped get the day started with a donation of 6,250 lbs. of food.

Robinson Cano was on hand to accept donations at the Yankees' annual Holiday Food Drive at Yankee Stadium in December.

The donated food was distributed throughout the Bronx to those in need during the holiday season. Fans donating 30 pounds of nonperishable goods received a voucher valid for two tickets to one of 22 designated Yankees games in 2012 (restrictions apply) and a voucher valid for discounted ticket pricing for the 2011 New Era Pinstripe Bowl.

In another holiday tradition, the Yankees and White Rose held their annual Pre-Thanksgiving Food Voucher Giveaway on November 17, 2011, distributing 1,000 vouchers to Bronx residents for redemption at local Met Food markets or Pioneer Supermarkets.

YANKEES HIT COMMUNITY HOME RUNS

CC PITCCHes IN

Yankees left-handed pitcher CC Sabathia once again reached his charitable wings across the country from his hometown of Vallejo, Calif., to the New York tri-state area. CC and his wife, Amber, continued their work with their PitCCh In Foundation to support inner-city youth through the funding and support of academic and athletic programs in New York and Northern California.

In 2011, CC and Amber held new fundraising events including a spring training bowling tournament, the CC Challenge in November (an Amazing Race-type event throughout New York City) and a holiday party at the MLB Fan Cave in New York City. In addition, the Sabathias provided annual contributions to both communities with CC's annual All-Star Baseball Clinic at Thurmon and Williams Baseball fields in Vallejo and back-to-school backpack donations filled with school supplies to nearly 2,000 children each in Vallejo and the Bronx.

For his efforts, Sabathia was named the Yankees' 2011 Roberto Clemente Award nominee, recognizing a player on each team who best represents the game of baseball through positive contributions on and off the field, including sportsmanship and community involvement.

TEIXEIRA CONTINUES HARLEM RBI SUPPORT

Following his $100,000 commitment to the Harlem RBI Future's Fund in 2010, Mark Teixeira and his wife, Leigh, made a $1 million donation to Harlem RBI. Additionally, they organized a Dream Team campaign with the goal of raising $10 million to help the organization build a state-of-the-art facility for the children that are served by Harlem RBI and its partner, DREAM Charter School.

Mark Teixeira, seen here with participants in Harlem RBI, was named the 2011 "Sportsman of the Year" by the March of Dimes Foundation in November 2011.

SWISHER SINGS FOR THE FENCES

In his continuing efforts as a leader on the field and in the community, Yankees outfielder Nick Swisher released a full-length, 12-song children's CD entitled Believe, with a portion of the proceeds going to his charitable foundation Swish's Wishes.

On Believe, Swisher is joined in the recording studio by an all-star band of musicians, as well as former New York Yankee Bernie Williams and San Francisco Giants pitcher Barry Zito. Also accompanying Nick on the album is a group of talented kids ages 8 to 13 years old who sing backup vocals on each song. Selecting all the numbers himself, Swisher's song list includes the David Bowie classic "Heroes," John Denver's "Take Me Home, Country Roads,""Hang On Sloopy,""Proud Mary" and "Jumpin' Jack Flash" among others.

ROBERTSON LOOKS AFTER HOMETOWN

Yankees reliever David Robertson and his wife, Erin, saw a need for relief in his hometown of Tuscaloosa, Ala., following the devestating tornadoes that ravaged the area in April 2011. After going to witness the damage for themselves in May, they quickly established the David and Erin Robertson Foundation and pledged $100 for each strikeout David recorded during the 2011 season. The two also organized several events throughout New York City, which raised over $200,000. For his efforts, David was the recipient of the Joan Payson Award for community service at the BBWAA's annual New York Chapter awards dinner in January 2012. He and his wife were also honored by the organization Winning Beyond Winning with the Great Americans Award.

Yankees HOPE Week

The Yankees were proud to celebrate their third annual HOPE Week (Helping Others Persevere & Excel) in 2011 – an initiative rooted in the fundamental belief that acts of goodwill provide hope and encouragement to more than just the recipient of the gesture.

Each day during HOPE Week from Monday, July 25 through Friday, July 29, the Yankees reached out to an individual, family or organization worthy of recognition and support. Though each day's celebration culminated at Yankee Stadium, outreach often took place away from the field. Whenever possible, the Yankees attempted to personally connect with individuals in the settings of their greatest success or locations that honored the spirit of their endeavors.

Initiated in 2009, HOPE Week is about people helping people. The one thing everybody has – no matter where they come from, what their financial situation is or what kind of skills they possess – is time.

A unique aspect of HOPE Week is that every player on the roster, Manager Joe Girardi, his coaching staff, General Manager Brian Cashman and many front office employees all participate in the outreach during the week.

Equally significant during HOPE Week is garnering publicity for the highlighted causes and organizations. The greatest challenge facing many not-for-profits is generating interest, awareness and funding for their missions.

The Yankees will once again celebrate HOPE Week from June 25-29, 2012. If you know an individual, family or organization that embodies the spirit of HOPE Week, please let us know by visiting hopeweek.com and telling their story in the nomination form.

MONDAY, JULY 25

The Yankees kicked off HOPE Week by honoring Daniel Trush and Daniel's Music Foundation at the Brooks Atkinson Theatre for a Broadway performance. When the curtain was raised, Nick Swisher, Russell Martin, Francisco Cervelli, Chris Dickerson and former Yankee Bernie Williams surprised the group. The Yankees rehearsed with DMF singers and musicians, and then took to the stage as part of the performance in front of nearly 1,000 friends and family. The DMF students were also invited back to the Stadium that night and sang the national anthem. In addition, Casio donated 10 electronic keyboards to the organization.

Nick Swisher [L] sang along with members of Daniel's Music Foundation during their Broadway performance.

In February 2006, the Trush Family established Daniel's Music Foundation (DMF) after being inspired by the music therapy that aided Daniel's recouperation from an arterial brain aneurysm. DMF is a not-for-profit organization which provides free music instruction to individuals with disabilities in the five boroughs of New York City.

HOPE Week was recognized as an award-winning effort by the National Sportsmanship Awards in 2010 and won the "Just Cause" Award at the PromaxBDA Sports Media Marketing Summit in 2011. Additionally, 2011 honorees Daniel's Music Foundation named the Yankees the 2011 "DMF Champion of HOPE" Award winner.

TUESDAY, JULY 26

The Yankees honored Tuesday's Children which was founded in the year following the Sept. 11, 2001, terrorist attacks to promote healing and recovery. The organization established a unique mentoring program that helps to heal still-open wounds. Serving the greater New York tri-state region, its mentorship program supports relationships between affected children and adult role models who themselves have lost family as a result of tragic circumstances. Yankees Mariano Rivera, Curtis Granderson, Phil Hughes, Cory Wade, Luis Ayala, Steve Garrison and former Manager Joe Torre surprised the mentors and mentees at the Beekman Beach Club in Manhattan for a barbeque lunch provided by Hard Rock Cafe, followed by a Delta Water Taxi ride back to Yankee Stadium. Mentor of the Year honoree Keith Pryde and his mentee, Robert, threw out the first pitch.

Mentees from Tuesday's Children joined Yankees players on the Delta Water Taxi past the Statue of Liberty then up to Yankee Stadium.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 27

The Yankees recognized 15 child refugees who survived the devastating earthquake in Haiti in January 2010. The children all attend Ss. Joachim and Anne's School in Queens Village, N.Y., which took them in. Following the team's day game, Yankees players CC Sabathia, Jorge Posada and Freddy Garcia along with coaches Tony Pena and Mike Harkey surprised the students with a Gray Line double-decker bus tour through Manhattan to light the Empire State Building in Yankee blue and white. Derek Jeter then surprised the students on the bus in Times Square with pizza from Famous Famiglia for dinner. The group ended the day at Saint Patrick's Cathedral, joining Archbishop Timothy Dolan for a tour of the facility and ice cream dessert in his private residence.

Derek Jeter [R] with Charles Boute atop the Grayline Double Decker bus in Times Square.

THURSDAY, JULY 28

The Yankees visited Megan Ajello at her annual lemonade stand in support of the Special Olympics. Megan endures the hardships of cerebral palsy and scoliosis, which have necessitated six major surgeries, including a spinal fusion. General Manager Brian Cashman surprised Megan at her home in Staten Island with a brand new lemonade stand constructed by Yankee Stadium carpenters. Later that day, Yankees players A.J. Burnett, Robinson Cano, Andruw Jones, Eduardo Nunez, David Robertson and Boone Logan, along with coaches Mick Kelleher, Rob Thomson and Charlie Wonsowicz stopped by Megan's house for lemonade and to get dunked in a dunk tank. Other groups heard about Megan's incredible volunteerism and also stopped by to lend their support, including Cake Boss Buddy Valastro, actress Melissa Joan Hart, Sports Illustrated swimsuit models Kate Upton, Chrissy Teagan and Julie Henderson, and the NETS Dancers.

FRIDAY, JULY 29

The Yankees concluded HOPE Week by honoring John Lahutsky of Bethlehem, Penn., reuniting him at NBC's TODAY Show studio with his long-lost friend Andrei Sullivan. John and Andrei endured horrendous living conditions in a Russian orphanage until they were both adopted by American families in the late 1990s. John recently wrote a book, The Boy from Baby House 10, telling their story. After the reunion, made possible through the generous support of Delta Air Lines, John and Andrei took a tour of NBC Studios with Yankees Manager Joe Girardi, followed by a carriage ride to the Central Park Zoo, where they were met by Yankees players Mark Teixeira and Brett Gardner along with coaches Kevin Long and Larry Rothschild.

Manager Joe Girardi joined Andrei Sullivan [L] and John Lahutsky [C] for a Central Park carriage ride.

Once again, in conjunction with HOPE Week, the White House's Corporation for National and Community Service awarded HOPE Week honorees "President's Volunteer Service Awards," bestowed by the President to salute volunteers who strengthen the nation's culture of service. The Steinbrenner family was also honored with the President's Volunteer Service Award during the week, given "in recognition and appreciation of commitment to strengthening the Nation and for making a difference through volunteer service."

N.L. Manager of the Year
- 2006

N.L. All-Star Team

STATUS

- Re-signed to a three-year contract on October 29, 2010, extending through the 2013 season…was named the 32nd manager in club history on October 30, 2007, becoming the 17th Yankees manager to have played for the club and fourth former Yankees catcher to skipper the team (also Bill Dickey, Ralph Houk and Yogi Berra).

AT THE HELM IN 2011

- Guided the Yankees to the best record in the AL (97-65, .599), owning first place in the AL East, or at least a share of first for 98 days in 2011, including each of the final 26.
- Became the sixth Yankees skipper to lead the club to three consecutive postseason appearances (2009-11), joining Miller Huggins, Joe McCarthy, Casey Stengel, Ralph Houk and Joe Torre.
- Managed his 500th game with the Yankees in 4/17 win vs. Texas, becoming the ninth manager in franchise history to reach the plateau (also Clark Griffith, Ralph Houk, Miller Huggins, Billy Martin, Joe McCarthy, Buck Showalter, Casey Stengel and Joe Torre)…only Houk, McCarthy and Stengel had a better record than Girardi (296-204) through their first 500 games as Yankees manager—credit: Elias.
- Earned win No. 300 as Yankees Manager on 4/27 vs. Chicago-AL, becoming the ninth skipper in franchise history to reach the milestone…recorded his 314th career win as Yankees manager on 5/25 vs. Toronto, surpassing Buck Showalter (313) for sole possession of eighth place on the franchise's all-time managerial wins list…overall career managerial win No. 400 came on 6/11 vs. Cleveland.
- The 2011 squad became the fourth team in Baseball history to record at least 220HR and 140SB, joining Colorado (1996), Toronto (1998) and Texas (2009).
- Was ejected three times in 2011—all vs. Boston (5/14, 8/30 and 9/25-G2)…has been ejected 17 times in his career, 14 times as a Manager (12 as Yankees manager) and 13 times as a Yankee (also 8/6/99 as a player).
- Since taking over in 2008, the Yankees lead the AL with a .986 fielding percentage.
- At 47 years old, is the fifth-youngest manager in the Majors, behind St. Louis' Mike Matheny (41), Cleveland's Manny Acta (43), Seattle's Eric Wedge (44) and Chicago-AL's Robin Ventura (44).

IN THE WIN COLUMN

With a .570 (462-348) career managerial winning percentage, only Al Lopez (.584, 1,410-1,004) and Earl Weaver (.583, 1,480-1,060) own a higher winning percentage among Major League managers whose careers began after 1950…according to Elias, it marks the highest winning percentage for any MLB manager over his first five seasons since Cito Gaston had a .574 mark from 1989 through 1993.

MANAGERIAL/COACHING CAREER

- Is one of only two current managers to take his team to the postseason in each of the last three seasons—also Philadelphia's Charlie Manuel.
- Led the 2010 Yankees to the second-best record in the AL (95-67) and back to the postseason, falling to Texas in six games in the ALCS…the club led the Majors with 48 come-from-behind wins, including six when trailing after the end of the eighth inning…did not lose more than four straight games, and were the last team in the Majors to be swept in a series of at least three games (9/10-12 at Texas).
- Earned his 200th win as Yankees Manager on 4/17/10 vs. Texas…recorded his 300th career managerial win on 5/31/10vs.Cleveland.
- Led the Yankees to their 27th World Championship in 2009 in his second season, becoming the ninth Yankees manager to win a World Series…in his postseason managerial debut, joined Ralph Houk and Billy Martin as the only three Yankees to play for and manage a Yankees World Championship team…also joined Houk, Bob Lemon and Casey Stengel as the only four Yankees managers to win a World Series in their first postseason as a manager.

- Led the club to a Major League-best 103-59 regular season record in 2009, their most wins since 2002 (103-58)…became the eighth Yankees manager to collect at least 100 wins in a full season, joining Miller Huggins, Joe McCarthy, Casey Stengel, Ralph Houk, Billy Martin, Dick Howser and Joe Torre…joined McCarthy, Houk, Martin and Howser as the only five Yankees skippers to accomplish the feat within their first two full seasons with the team…finished third in AL Manager of the Year voting with 34 total points, including four first-place votes.

WISE BEYOND HIS YEARS

In 2009, Joe Girardi became the youngest manager in Yankees history to win a World Series. He remains the fourth-youngest World Series-winning manager over the last 34 years (1977-2010) behind Minnesota's Tom Kelly (1987 and '91), the White Sox's Ozzie Guillen (2005) and the Mets' Davey Johnson (1986).

- The Yankees' 114 total wins in 2009 (including postseason) tied their second-most ever in a single year behind the 125 victories of the 1998 squad (also 114 wins in 1927)…was a member of the 1998 Yankees (114-48), becoming the only active Major League manager at the time to both play for and manage teams that won at least 100 games in a season and won a World Series, according to the Elias Sports Bureau…became the only Major League manager in the 2000s to lead a team to 100-or-more regular season wins and a World Series title.
- Earned his 200th career managerial win on 6/7/09 vs. Tampa Bay…earned his 100th win as Yankees manager on 4/29/09 at Detroit.
- Led the Yankees to an 89-73 record in 2008 in his first season as the club's skipper…was one of only two managers (also the Angels' Mike Scioscia) whose team did not lose more than four consecutive games during the 2008 season…won his Yankees managerial debut on 4/1/08 vs. Toronto (lost his previous Opening Day as Manager in 2006 with Florida).

World Series Winner* Wild Card*

- Earned his 100th career managerial win on 5/22/08 vs. Baltimore…was ejected by HP umpire Chris Guccione in the bottom of the ninth inning.
- Was named the 2006 National League "Manager of the Year" by the BBWAA and the Sporting News…guided the Florida Marlins to a 78-84 record in his first season as a Major League manager…since the award was established in 1983, became one of only three men in either league to win the honor in their managerial debuts: also Houston Astros' Hal Lanier (1986) and the San Francisco Giants' Dusty Baker (1993)…at the age of 41, became the youngest manager in Marlins history (previously 47-year-old John Boles in 1996)…was named Marlins manager just two seasons after retiring as a player prior to the 2004 campaign, marking the shortest time between being an active player (2003) and making a managerial debut (2006) since 1987, when both John Wathan (Kansas City) and Larry Bowa (San Diego) became managers after last playing during the 1985 season.
- Became the first manager in the Modern Era (since 1900) to improve his club's record above .500 after falling at least 20 gms below the .500 mark during the same season…the Marlins were a season-low 20 games under .500 on 5/21 (11-31), but then went 62-41 through 9/12 to improve to 73-72…the only other Major League team to return to the .500 mark after falling 20 or more games below was the 1899 Louisville Colonels (managed by Fred Clarke), who were 22 games under at 16-38 and improved to 72-72-3 before finishing with a record of 75-77-3.
- Managed Anibal Sanchez's no-hitter on 9/6/06 vs. Arizona…was the fourth no-hitter in Marlins history and the fourth no-hitter that Girardi has been a part of, having caught two (Dwight Gooden's on 5/14/96 and David Cone's perfect game on 7/18/99) and been a teammate in one (David Wells' perfect game on 5/17/98)…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, Girardi became the first person since Jeff Torborg to both catch and manage a no-hitter…Torborg managed Wilson Alvarez's no-hitter on 9/11/91 with the White Sox after catching no–hitters by Sandy Koufax (perfect game, 9/9/65), Bill Singer (7/20/70) and Nolan Ryan (5/15/73).
- Made his coaching debut in 2005, serving as bench coach and catching instructor on Joe Torre's New York Yankees staff…assisted in guiding the Yankees to a 95-67 (.586) record and the American League East title.
- Appeared in 39 career postseason games as a player, most among all current American League managers…among active Major League managers, only Cincinnati's Dusty Baker (40) appeared in more postseason games as a player.

PLAYING CAREER

- Played parts of 15 seasons as a catcher in the Major Leagues with the Chicago Cubs (1989-92 and 2000-02), Colorado Rockies (1993-95), New York Yankees (1996-99) and St. Louis Cardinals (2003)…was a member of three World Series Championship teams in New York (1996, 1998-99) and played in a total of six postseasons with the Cubs (1989), Rockies (1995) and Yankees (1996-99).
- In 1,277 career Major League games, batted .267 (1,100-for-4,127) with 454 runs, 186 doubles, 36HR and 422RBI, finishing with a .991 career fielding percentage while throwing out 27.6% of potential base stealers…batted .184 (21-for-114) with 2 triples and 1RBI in 39 career postseason games.
- Saw his first Major League action in 1989 as the Cubs' Opening Day catcher…was the first rookie catcher to start a season opener for the Cubs since Randy Hundley in 1966…was selected to Baseball Digest's All-Rookie Team…played in four games of the 1989 NL Championship Series against San Francisco, recording one hit.
- Played his first full big league season in 1990…stole eight bases, the most by a Cubs catcher since Gabby Hartnett's 10 in 1924…ranked second among NL catchers in assists (61) and threw out 33.3% of baserunners attempting to steal (38-of-114).
- On 8/7/91, in his first game back after missing nearly four months with a strained lower back, suffered a broken nose in a home plate collision with the Phillies' John Kruk.
- Was selected by the Rockies with the 19th pick in the Expansion Draft from the Cubs…established career highs with 8HR, 55RBI and 63R in 1995 with the Colorado Rockies.

DID YOU KNOW??? Joe Girardi and Yogi Berra are the only Yankees catchers to be behind the plate for two regular season no-hitters. Girardi was the catcher for Dwight Gooden's no-hitter on 5/14/96 vs. Seattle and David Cone's perfect game on 7/18/99 vs. Montreal. Berra caught both of Allie Reynolds' no-hitters in 1951.

- Acquired by the Yankees on 11/3/95 from the Rockies in exchange for LHP Mike DeJean…hit a career-high .294 with 2HR and 45RBI for the 1996 World Series Champions…stole 13 bases, marking the highest total among big league catchers and a record for a Yankees catcher…stole home on the front end of a double steal on 4/11 vs. Kansas City, becoming the first Yankees catcher to steal home since Jake Gibbs on 7/13/68…had two triples during the 1996 postseason, including a run-scoring three-base hit off Greg Maddux in Game 6 of the World Series at Yankee Stadium.
- Was the catcher for Dwight Gooden's no-hitter on 5/14/96 vs. Seattle…in his final season as a player with the Yankees, caught David Cone's perfect game on 7/18/99 vs. Montreal…had a career-high 7RBI on 8/23/99 in a 21-3 victory at Texas, going 4-for-6 with 2 doubles and 1 triple.
- Rejoined the Cubs organization in 2000 and earned his first and only trip to an All-Star Game that season in Atlanta as a replacement for the injured Mike Piazza (did not play)…when he homered on 5/2/00 vs. Houston off Jose Lima, it was his first Cubs home run since 5/8/92…only one player, Billy Jurges (nine years, 1938-47), had a longer span between homers with the Cubs.
- Recorded his 1,000th Major League hit on 5/27/01 vs. Milwaukee off Jimmy Haynes – a seventh-inning, game-winning, two-run double.
- Was one of the Cubs' co-captains in 2001 and 2002.
- Played his final career regular season game on 9/28/03 at Arizona with the St. Louis Cardinals…his single in the ninth inning off the Diamondbacks' Edgar Gonzalez gave him 1,100 career hits.

Consecutive Postseason Appearances

The Yankees have reached the playoffs in 16 of the last 17 years (1995-2007, '09-11)…their stretch of 13 consecutive seasons in postseason play from 1995-2007 marked the second longest playoff streak in Major League history behind only the Atlanta Braves' stretch of 14 straight postseason appearances. (1991-93, 1995-2005 – no postseason in 1994)…prior to the streaks by the Yankees and Braves, the Yankees (from 1949-53 and 1960-64) and the Oakland A's (from 1971-75) were the only teams in baseball history to appear in postseason play in as many as five straight seasons.

Gene Monahan – A Tribute to a Great Trainer

The man known in the clubhouse as "Geno" began his career as an athletic trainer in 1962 with an apprenticeship in the minor leagues. He was the trainer and the traveling secretary — essentially the first and last line of problem solving.

Eugene James Monahan, 66, was the eldest of eight children in a family that moved to Fort Lauderdale, Fla., from Pittsburgh. His father, also named Gene, was a cement truck driver who shared with his son a love of baseball and auto racing.

When Monahan read an item in a local paper that the Yankees planned to have a Class D minor league affiliate in Fort Lauderdale, he wrote a letter to Dan Topping Jr., son of the team owner, offering his services as a batboy. The job Topping offered Monahan was a jack-of-all-trades position to work as the team batboy and help an elderly custodian around the clubhouse. He said yes to everything, and the next year he was asked back to help the training staff.

Gene Monahan was the head trainer for five Hall of Famers and 54 All-Stars, including Bernie Williams.

Monahan graduated from Indiana University in 1969 and was certified by the National Athletics Trainers Association. He also served as a medic during his six-year Army reserve hitch, working with burn patients returning from Vietnam at Fort Sam Houston in San Antonio, Texas.

In 1973, the same year a group headed by George Steinbrenner bought the team from CBS, Monahan was promoted to the Yankees' head trainer's job.

The rest, as they say, is history. In his career, he witnessed 22 changes in the managerial position, going back to Ralph Houk, who broke in the rookie trainer.

On May 11, 2011, Monahan announced that he would be retiring at the conclusion of the 2011 season. After living in New Jersey for more than 30 years, Monahan, who has two grown daughters from his first marriage, relocated with his fiancée, Liz, to a house he bought in North Carolina, in the heart of NASCAR country. In January, he was presented with the William J. Slocum-Jack Lang Award from the New York chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association of America for his long and meritorious service.

-Written by Jack O'Connell and excerpted from "The Healer" in the May 2011 issue of Yankees Magazine.

CAREER HONORS

2007 - Inducted into the New York State Athletic Trainers' Association Hall of Fame.

1990 - "Athletic Training Staff of the Year" Award, presented to Monahan and Donohue by Major League Baseball.

"There aren't too many people who last this long at the same place, especially around here, but that just shows you how important he is to this organization and what a good job he's done."

-YANKEES SHORTSTOP DEREK JETER

MONAHAN HONORED DURING OLD-TIMERS' DAY 2011

On June 26, 2011, as part of the Yankees' Old-Timers Day celebrations, the Yankees honored Gene Monahan for his long and meritorious service. With his fiancée, Liz, and daughters, Amanda and Kelly, by his side, the Yankees and special guests presented Monahan with the following gifts:

Hip, Hip, Jorge!

Posada caught the last out of a World Series Championship in 1999 (seen here), 2000 and 2009.

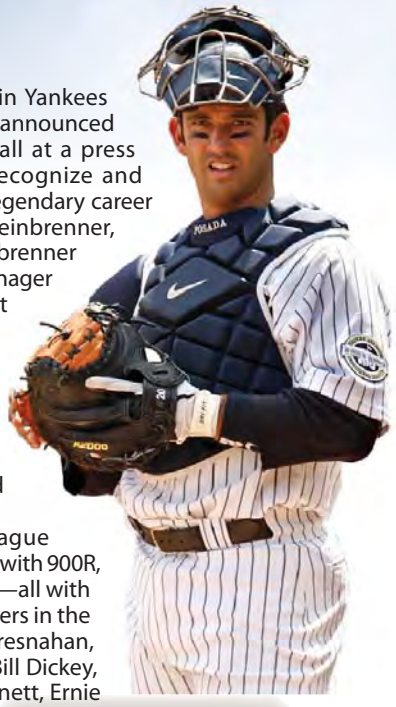
Posada, seen here in 1992 with Greensboro, played all 21 professional seasons with the Yankees organization.



On Tuesday, January 24, 2012, a chapter in Yankees history came to a close as Jorge Posada announced his retirement from the game of Baseball at a press conference at Yankee Stadium. On hand to recognize and congratulate the former Yankees catcher on his legendary career were Yankees Managing General Partner Hal Steinbrenner, General Partner/Vice Chairperson Jennifer Steinbrenner Swindal, team President Randy Levine, General Manager Brian Cashman and various other Yankees front office members. Teammates Derek Jeter, Mariano Rivera and CC Sabathia, along with Manager Joe Girardi and former coach Willie Randolph were also there to lend support. In addition, Diana Munson, widow of Yankees catcher Thurman Munson, spoke during the ceremony, along with Lisa and Brett Niederer, who have received assistance from the Jorge Posada Foundation.

Posada, 40, finished his 17-year Major League career with a .273 batting average (1,664-for-6,092) with 900R, 379 doubles, 275HR and 1,065RBI in 1,829 games—all with the Yankees. Of the 13 former Major League catchers in the Hall of Fame (Johnny Bench, Yogi Berra, Roger Bresnahan, Roy Campanella, Gary Carter, Mickey Cochrane, Bill Dickey, Buck Ewing, Rick Ferrell, Carlton Fisk, Gabby Hartnett, Ernie Lombardi and Ray Schalk), only Berra has better numbers in batting average, home runs and RBI (.285, 358 and 1,430, respectively).

As a player on five World Series championship teams (1996, '98, '99, 2000, '09), Posada finished his career among Baseball's all-time postseason leaders in games played (second, 125), doubles (third, 23), hits (fourth, 103) and RBI (tied for ninth, 42). In his career, he caught at least one game in six different World Series, tied with Elston Howard and Wally Schang for third-most all time, trailing Berra (12) and Bill Dickey (eight).

Originally selected by the Yankees in the 24th round of the 1990 First-Year Player Draft, Posada holds the distinction of being one of just five players all time to record at least 1,500H, 350 doubles, 275 HR and 1,000RBI while playing at least 50.0% of his games at catcher, joining Ivan Rodriguez and Hall of Famers Johnny Bench, Gary Carter and Carlton Fisk.

Posada was the first Major Leaguer to catch at least one game with the same team in 17 straight seasons (1995-2011) since Cincinnati's Johnny Bench did so in 17 consecutive seasons from 1967-83 (credit: Elias Sports Bureau). In his career, Posada caught 1,574 games with the Yankees, trailing only Bill Dickey (1,708) and Yogi Berra (1,695) for most games ever caught in pinstripes. A five-time American League All-Star (2000-03, '07), he twice finished in the top 10 in American League Most Valuable Player balloting, ranking third in 2003 and sixth in 2007. On May 17, 1998 vs. Minnesota, he caught David Wells' perfect game, the second of three in Yankees history.

The Puerto Rico native finished his career ranked seventh on the Yankees' all-time list with 379 doubles and 936 walks, eighth with 275 home runs and 11th with 1,065 RBI. He is one of just eight players to appear in at least one game with the Yankees in each of 17 different seasons, joining Yogi Berra (18), Mickey Mantle (18), Frank Crosetti (17), Bill Dickey (17), Lou Gehrig (17), Derek Jeter (17) and Mariano Rivera (17).

A five-time Silver Slugger Award winner (2000-03, '07), Posada's 246 home runs as a catcher rank second on the Yankees' all-time list behind only Yogi Berra. In his career, he recorded 14 pinch-hit, go-ahead RBI in the seventh inning or later, tied with Johnny Blanchard for the most such RBI by a Yankee since 1950 (credit: ESPN Research).

From the Bronx with Care

The New York Yankees, along with ServiceNation and Bank of America, teamed up on Veterans Day—Friday, November 11, 2011—to assemble approximately 5,000 Big Apple Packs for active servicemen and servicewomen

Yankee Stadium's Great Hall hosted more than 140 volunteers, made up of Yankees front office employees, members of Jeter's Leaders, Bank of America's Community Volunteers, as well as service members and veterans who all helped assemble care packages, each with various items, including snacks, books, games and Yankees memorabilia.

Also on hand to lend support to the cause was New York Yankees Manager Joe Girardi, who assisted with Bank of America's event in 2010 at their downtown Manhattan office, and former Yankees pitcher David Cone.

The USO of Metropolitan New York distributed the packs to deploying troops and those serving in Afghanistan during the 2011 holiday season.

The event was part of the ServiceNation's Mission Serve program which was established in 2009, with support from First Lady Michelle Obama and Dr. Jill Biden, and seeks to establish Veterans Day as a day of service and celebration. On Veterans Day 2011, 11 civilian-military service projects were held across the United States, including the care package USO event at Yankee Stadium, that will provide opportunities for the civilian and military communities to join together in service. These events are intended to bring focus to civilian-military integration, as well as to the importance of volunteerism and community service for our nation.

- Was promoted to Scranton/WB on 8/16, going 0-3 with a 5.14 ERA (21.0IP, 12ER) in four starts…was credited with his first career complete game on 8/29 vs. Pawtucket, allowing 2H and 2ER in 7.0IP and recording the loss in the second game of a doubleheader.
- Following the season, was named the organization's third-best prospect (top right-handed pitcher) by Baseball America…was also tabbed by the publication as possessing the "Best Fastball" and "Best Curveball" in the system.

- Combined to go 8-1 with a 2.11 ERA (85.1IP, 20ER) in 17 starts with Single-A Tampa and Double-A Trenton.
- Began the season on the disabled list recovering from "Tommy John" surgery performed on 8/27/09.
- Made his season debut on 6/10 with Tampa…in 14 starts with the Yankees, went 8-1 with a 1.77 ERA (71.0IP, 14ER)…held opponents to 2ER or less in each of his 14 starts and did not allow a run in six of his starts…opponents batted .169 (43-for-254, 1HR); LH .217 (25-for-115, 0HR), RH .129 (18-for-139, 1HR).
- Was named the FSL "Pitcher of the Week" for the period from 6/21-28, going 1-0 and tossing 11.0 scoreless innings during the span (3H, 2BB, 1HBP, 14K).
- Was promoted to Trenton on 8/23, posting a 3.77 ERA (14.1IP, 6ER) in three starts without recording a decision.
- Made two postseason starts for Trenton, going 1-1 with a 3.27 ERA (11.0IP, 4ER) and 15K.
- Following the season, was tabbed by Baseball America as the third-best prospect (top pitcher) and as having the "Best Fastball" in the Yankees organization.
- Was added to the Yankees 40-man roster on 11/19/10.

- Went 2-5 with a 5.48 ERA (44.1IP, 27ER) in 11 starts with Single-A Tampa, recording 44K.
- Was placed on the disabled list on 6/25 with elbow inflammation…underwent "Tommy John" surgery on 8/27 and missed the remainder of the season.

- Combined to go 9-5 with a 3.92 ERA (121.2IP, 53ER) in 25 appearances (24 starts) with Single-A Charleston and the GCL Yankees…ranked second among Yankees minor league pitchers with 141K. Spent a majority of the season with Charleston, going 9-4 with a 3.67 ERA (115.1IP, 47ER) in 22 starts…led the RiverDogs' staff in wins (90) and strikeouts (135)…tied for fifth in the South Atlantic League, averaging 10.5K/9.0IP…held opponents to a .208 (87-for-419) batting average, eighth-best among all minor league starters.
- Was placed on the disabled list on 5/27 with right shoulder inflammation…began a rehab assignment with the GCL Yankees on 6/20, going 0-1 with an 8.53 ERA in three appearances (two starts)…was returned from rehab and reinstated from the disabled list on 7/4.
- Struck out a career-high 12 batters in 8/16 win at Lakeland.
- Following the season, was ranked by Baseball America as the fifth-best prospect in the Yankees organization.

- Was 1-2 with a 3.60 ERA (25.0IP, 10 ER) in six starts with short-season Single-A Staten Island, striking out 29 batters.
- Was placed on the disabled list on 7/21 with right elbow inflammation, missing the remainder of the season.

- Made his professional debut with the GCL Yankees, going 0-1 with a 1.16 ERA (23.1IP, 3ER) in seven starts…held opponents to a .173 batting average (14-for-81).
- Following the season, was ranked as the Yankees' third-best prospect, according to Baseball America.

PERSONAL

- As a senior at Grand Street Campus High School in Brooklyn, set a school record with 20K in a single game…became the first player from New York City to be honored as an Aflac All-American in 2005…during the 2005 regular season, posted a 6-0 record with a 0.22 ERA, allowing just 1ER while recording 100K in 41.2IP.

No Hits For You

Former Yankee and Hall of Famer Allie Reynolds (pictured) is one of only four pitchers to record two regular-season no-hitters in the same season, accomplishing the feat in 1951…prior to Reynolds, Cincinnati's Johnny Vander Meer was the only pitcher to hurl two no-hitters in the same season, doing so in back-to-back starts in June 1938…Detroit's Virgil Trucks (1952) and California's Nolan Ryan (1973) are the only other pitchers to match the record.

Reynolds' first no-hitter of the 1951 season came on July 12 vs. Cleveland…his second no-hitter, an 8-0 Yankees victory on September 28 vs. Boston, clinched the American League title for the Yankees.

Yankees Have a Fan in Fashion

Growing up as the youngest of Frank and Frieda Lifshitz's four children, Ralph Lauren didn't know what a fashion designer was and preferred to be either a movie star or a ballplayer. As homage to his baseball passion, the numbers 3, 4, 5, and 7 appear on the sleeves of his "Big Pony" line of shirts, representing the Yankee uniform numbers of Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, Joe DiMaggio, and Mickey Mantle.

PERSONAL

- Full name is Cesar Augusto Cabral…has a younger brother in the Red Sox organization with the same first and last name (Cesar Ariel Cabral).

Baseball Glossary

HOW TO FIGURE…

Batting Average: (H/AB) Hits divided by at-bats.

ERA: (ERx9/IP) Multiply earned runs by nine and divide the total by innings pitched.

Slugging Percentage: (TB/AB) Total bases (1B=1, 2B=2, 3B=3, HR=4) divided by at-bats.

On-Base Percentage: (H+BB+HBP)/(AB+BB+HBP+SF) Add hits, walks, hit by pitch and divide by the total of at-bats plus walks plus hit-by-pitch plus sacrifice flies.

Fielding Percentage: (PO+A)/(PO+A+E) Total putouts plus assists divided by total chances.

Winning Percentage: The number of games won divided by the total games played.

Magic Number: Determine the number of games yet to be played, add one, then subtract the number of games ahead in the loss column of the standings from the closest opponent.

QUALIFYING RULES

Batting Championship: To qualify for a batting title, a player must make 502 or more plate appearances (calculated by 3.1 plate appearances per team game scheduled, which is 162).

Pitching Championship: To qualify for the lowest ERA, a pitcher must throw at least 162.0 innings.

Fielding Championship: To qualify as the top fielder:
(a) a catcher must have played in at least 81 games at catcher.
(b) an infielder or outfielder must have participated at his position in at least 108 games.
(c) a pitcher must have 162.0 innings pitched.

Rookie: A player shall be considered a rookie unless, during a previous season or seasons, he has (a) exceeded 130 at-bats or 50 innings pitched in the major leagues; or (b) accumulated more than 45 days on the active roster of a major league club or clubs during the period of the 25-player limit.

Save: Credit a pitcher with a save when:
(1) He is the finishing pitcher in a game won by his club;
(2) He is not the winning pitcher, and
(3) He qualifies under one of the following conditions:
a. He enters the game with a lead of no more than three runs and pitches for at least one inning, or
b. He enters the game with the potential tying run either on base, at bat or on deck, or
c. He pitches effectively for at least three innings
*No more than one save may be credited each game.

STATUS

- Signed by the Yankees as a non-drafted free agent on March 1, 2003…signed through the 2012 season.

CAREER NOTES

- Was named the organization's "Best Defensive Catcher" by Baseball America in four straight seasons from 2006-09.
- Is 9-for-20 (.450) with 1 double, 1HR, 26RBI and 3BB with the bases loaded in his career.

- Hit .266 (33-for-124) with 17R, 4 doubles, 4HR, 22RBI and 9BB in 43 games (35 starts at C) with the Yankees in 2011…in his 35 starts, the Yankees went 25-10…had the fourth-lowest catchers ERA (3.50) among catchers with at least 300.0 innings of work.
- Began the season on the 15-day disabled list with a fracture in his left foot, missing the team's first 22 games…suffered the injury on 3/2 vs. Houston at GMS Field in Tampa in his second plate appearance of a spring training game, fouling a ball off his foot…was returned from rehab and reinstated from the 15-day disabled list on 4/29.
- Made his season debut in 5/1 win vs. Toronto, going 0-for-2 with 1SH and 1RBI.
- Hit grand slam and was 1-for-5 with 2R in 5/8 win at Texas…was his first career grand slam and just his second career homer (also 6/24/09 at Atlanta)…snapped a 307AB homerless stretch…Derek Jeter also homered in the game (snapping his own 259AB homerless stretch)…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, it marked the first time since 10/2/91 that a pair of Major League teammates each ended streaks of at least 250 homerless at-bats in the same game (Kansas City's Hal McRae-297AB and Jim Eisenreich-254AB)…Elias also notes it was the first time two Yankees had accomplished the feat since Juan Bonilla (264) and Bobby Meacham (310) on 8/1/87 vs. Detroit (10-5 loss).
- Stole two bases in 5/30 win at Oakland after having just one prior stolen base in his entire career (7/17/10 vs. Tampa Bay).
- Made his first career appearance at 2B in 7/31 win vs. Baltimore…fielded his only chance cleanly.
- Hit three home runs in four games from 8/30-9/6 (14AB) after hitting just 2HR in the first 176 games (471AB) of his career.
- Finished the season on the disabled list after suffering a concussion in a home plate collision with Nick Markakis on 9/8 at Baltimore…returned to New York on 9/11 and on 9/12 was seen by Dr. Kirk Roberts—a neurologist at NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital specializing in concussion syndromes…was diagnosed with a concussion (MRI results were negative) and placed on the 15-day D.L. on 9/13 with a concussion (retroactive to 9/9).

- Hit .271 (72-for-266) with 11 doubles, 3 triples and 38RBI in 93 games (80 starts at C) with the Yankees…the Yankees were 44-36 in his starts at catcher…marked the most hits and RBI by a Yankees catcher other than Jorge Posada since Joe Girardi in 1997 (105H and 50RBI)…his 3 triples were the most by a Yankees catcher since Girardi in 1998 (4)…caught 8-of-63 (12.7%) runners attempting to steal.
- Hit .545 (6-for-11) with 17RBI with the bases loaded…batted .381 (16-for-42) with 24RBI and a .435 OBP with RISP and two outs, ranking third in the Majors in average in such circumstances (min. 40PA).
- Made his first career Opening Day roster…hit safely in each of his first four starts, six of his first seven and 10 of his first 12, batting .360 (9-for-25) in April…made his first start—and appearance—of the season, in 4/10 win at Tampa Bay, when CC Sabathia held the Rays hitless through the first 7.2 innings.
- Became the third Yankee in the last 15 years with a triple and bunt single in the same game in 5/4 win vs. Baltimore (also Derek Jeter-1996 and 2009; and Alfonso Soriano-2002)—credit: Elias.
- Established a career high with 5RBI in 5/8 win at Boston, going 3-for-4 with 1BB…marked the most RBI by a Yankees catcher since Jorge Posada on 9/6/06 at Kansas City (6RBI), the most by a Yankees catcher in a game vs. Boston since Yogi Berra had 8RBI on 7/3/57 at Yankee Stadium, and the most RBI by a Yankees catcher at Fenway Park since Berra on 5/29/54 (6RBI).
- Appeared in one game during the postseason, starting Game 4 loss of the ALCS vs. Texas (0-for-2).

- Hit .298 (28-for-94) with 13R, 4 doubles, 1HR and 11RBI in 42 games (25 starts at C) over two stints with the Yankees (5/5-7/8, 9/1-10/4)…threw out 13-of-21 potential base stealers (61.9%)…at the time of his first start at catcher on 5/8, was the third-youngest active catcher to start a game in the Majors in 2009 (23 years old) behind Pablo Sandoval (Giants, 22) and Lou Marson (Phillies, 22)—credit: Elias Sports Bureau.
- Was recalled from Double-A Trenton on 5/5 when Jorge Posada was placed on the disabled list.
- Collected his first Major League hit—a fourth-inning single off Jeremy Guthrie—while calling CC Sabathia's CG shutout in 5/8 win at Baltimore, going 1-for-2 with 1R, 1BB and 1SH…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, became the second Yankees catcher to call a complete-game shutout in his first start, joining Thurman Munson who did so in his debut on 8/8/69 by catching Al Downing's four-hit shutout vs. the Athletics.
- Caught Phil Hughes the next night at Baltimore, becoming the first Yankees battery each under the age of 24 prior to September callups since Steve Kline and Thurman Munson on 6/1/71 (credit: Elias).
- Hit his first Major League HR in 6/24 win at Atlanta, a solo HR off RHP Kris Medlen.
- Was optioned to Triple-A Scranton/Wilkes-Barre on 7/7, and recalled on 9/1…in 17 September games (two starts at C), was 7-for-16 (.438) with 3R, 1 double and 2RBI…hit game-winning "walk-off" RBI single with one out in the ninth inning of 9/16 win vs. Toronto after entering the game defensively in the eighth at C.
- Named to Yankees playoff roster in ALDS and ALCS, appearing in two games and striking out in his only at-bat.
- Played with the Cardenales de Lara in the Venezuelan Winter League following the season, batting .214 (3-for-14) with 3R and 1 double in six games…participated in the WBC prior to the season, appearing in three games with Team Italy and going 1-for-7 (.143).

- Appeared in three games (one start at C) with the Yankees, going hitless in five at-bats as a September call-up in his first Major League action…was recalled from Double-A Trenton on 9/15…made his Major League debut in 9/18 win vs. Chicago-AL, entering the game as a defensive replacement in the eighth at C (did not bat).
- Was one of three Yankees to make their Major League debut on 9/18 (also Juan Miranda and Humberto Sanchez)…according to Elias, was the first time three different Yankees made their ML debut in the same game since 3/31/03 when Hideki Matsui, Jose Contreras and Jason Anderson each debuted in the Yankees' win at Toronto.
- Made his first Major League start (at catcher) in 9/25 loss at Toronto.
- Began the season on the disabled list after suffering a broken right wrist in a home plate collision with Tampa Bay's Elliot Johnson on 3/8 at George M. Steinbrenner Field (then Legends Field)…was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital in Tampa for X-rays and had his wrist casted that night.
- Was reinstated from the minor league D.L. on 6/16 and assigned to Single-A Tampa…appeared in three games with Tampa before suffering a left knee sprain and returning to the D.L…returned to action on 7/30.
- Played winter ball with the Cardenales de Lara of the Venezuelan Baseball League, batting .267 (16-for-60) with 2 doubles, 1HR and 5RBI in 26 games…caught 7-of-19 (36.8%) potential basestealers.

- Hit .279 (81-for-290) with 34R, 24 doubles, 2 triples, 2HR, 32RBI and 36BB in 89 games with Single-A Tampa…led all Florida State League catchers with a 41.0% caught stealing rate (41-for-100) and a .997 fielding percentage (2E, 743TC)…ranked second with 667 putouts and 74 assists and tied for fourth with 89 games played…tied for first in doubles, ranked third in runs, hits and walks and placed fourth in RBI among all FSL catchers (min. 40G at C).

- Participated in the FSL All-Star Game, entering the game defensively in the seventh at C (was 0-for-1)…was also named to the FSL postseason All-Star team.
- Caught the entire game in a 20-inning loss vs. the Clearwater Threshers on 4/17, recording 24 putouts…fashioned a career-high 10-game hitting streak from 4/27-5/10, batting .500 (16-for-32) with 4 doubles and 4RBI during the span…hit his first career grand slam and recorded a career-high 5RBI in 5/15 win at Dunedin…was placed on the disabled list from 8/10-9/5 with a left knee sprain.
- Played for the Cardenales de Lara of the Venezuelan Baseball League, batting .212 (7-for-33) with 2R, 2 doubles, 10BB and 1SH in 16 games.

- Batted .309 (42-for-306) in 42 games with short season Single-A Staten Island…led the team with a .397OBP and a .426 slugging percentage and ranked second in batting average…posted a .340 batting average at home (18-for-53) and hit .323 vs. right-handed pitchers (30-for-93)…was named to the American League team for the NY-Penn League All-Star Game…helped lead the team to their second consecutive NYPL Championship.

2003-2005

- Made his professional debut with the Yankees' Dominican Summer League team in 2003, batting .239 (37-for-155) in 52 games…in 2004, batted .216 (19-for-88) in 40 games with the DSL Yankees…played in 24 games for the GCL Yankees in 2005, batting .190 (11-for-58) with 1HR and 9RBI.

2011

- Was 2-0 with a 2.83 ERA (28.2IP, 9ER) in 27 relief appearances before undergoing season-ending "Tommy John" surgery in June…opponents batted .228 (23-for-101, 3HR); LH .250 (12-for-48, 1HR), RH .208 (11-for-53, 2HR)…retired 22-of-27 first batters faced (81.5%)…prevented 8-of-10 inherited runners from scoring (80.0%).
- Of his 27 relief appearances, 25 were at least 1.0 inning…held opponents scoreless in 20 of his outings.
- Made his fourth straight Opening Day roster…tossed a perfect seventh inning to earn the Opening Day win on 3/31 vs. Detroit (1.0IP, 1K).
- Was charged with his lone blown save of the season in 4/17 win vs. Texas, allowing 1H and 1ER in 0.2IP (1BB).
- Allowed his opponent to score in just two of his final 16 appearances of the season, coming in back-to-back outings on 5/13 and 5/15 vs. Boston (allowing home runs in each game)…did not allow a run in his final eight outings of the season from 5/16-6/5, tossing 9.2 scoreless innings (7H, 4BB, 7K).
- Made his final appearance of the season in 6/5 win at Los Angeles-AL, tossing 1.2 scoreless innings (2H, 1BB, 1K).
- Was placed on the 15-day disabled list on 6/8 with a strained right flexor muscle…underwent an MRI on 6/9 revealing a torn medial collateral ligament in his right elbow…underwent "Tommy John" surgery in Pensacola, Fla. on 6/16, performed by Dr. James Andrews…was transferred to the 60-day disabled list on 6/10.

- Was 3-4 with three saves and a 4.40 ERA in a team-leading 73 relief appearances with the Yankees, working exclusively out of the bullpen for the entire season…opponents batted .253 (71-for-281, 6HR); LH .246 (31-for-126, 3HR), RH .258 (40-for-155, 3HR)…retired 48-of-73 first batters faced (65.8%)…prevented 28-of-37 inherited runners from scoring (75.7%)…the Yankees were 48-25 in games he appeared in.

- Made his third consecutive Opening Day roster…held opponents scoreless in 14 of his first 17 outings of the season.
- Earned the save in back-to-back games on 5/3 vs. Baltimore and on 5/4 vs. Baltimore—his first save since 9/23/07 vs. Toronto…according to Elias, is one of just three Yankees to earn a save in consecutive games since Mariano Rivera became the team's closer in 1997 (also Mike Stanton-4/11-12/98 and Juan Acevedo-4/25-26/03).
- Struck out the side in a perfect eighth inning on 5/14 vs. Minnesota (1.0IP, 3K)…was credited with the win despite not being the pitcher of record when the Yankees took the lead.
- Beginning 7/28, just prior to the acquisition of Kerry Wood on 7/31, through the end of the season, went 2-0 with a 2.15 ERA in 30 relief appearances (29.1IP, 20H, 5BB, 30K)…allowed no more than 2H in any of his outings…three of the seven runs allowed came via solo HRs.
- Allowed 1ER in 3.1IP over three relief appearance in the postseason (4H, 2BB, 3K).

- Was 9-6 with a 4.75 ERA in 32 appearances (31 starts) with the Yankees…the Yankees were 20-11 in his starts, including 15 come-from-behind victories…were 15-4 in his 19 starts at home…opponents batted .274 (167-for-610, 21HR); LH .266 (85-for-319, 11HR), RH .282 (82-for-291, 10HR)…hit an American League-high 12 batters, matching the most HP by a Yankees pitcher in the 2000s (Randy Johnson, 2005).
- Allowed a total of 21R (19ER) in the first inning of games (30.2IP, 5.58 first-inning ERA)…combined to allow 73R (64ER) over his other 126.2IP (for a 4.55 ERA in the second inning of the game and beyond).
- Was 5-3 with a 4.03 ERA in 13 games (12 starts) on the road…went undefeated in his first nine road starts of the season, going 5-0 with a 2.78 ERA (55.0IP, 17ER)…went 4-3 with a 5.28 ERA (90.1IP, 53ER) in 19 starts at Yankee Stadium…was the second-highest home ERA in the AL behind Scott Kazmir (5.95).
- Did not record a decision in his first three starts of the year and 11 of his first 17 starts of 2009…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, his 10 decisions (7-3) through his first 29 career starts were the fewest in Major League history.
- Struck out a career-high 12 batters in 5/5 loss vs. Boston, including nine on called third strikes…were the most strikeouts in a game by a Yankees pitcher since Mike Mussina on 5/7/03 at Seattle (12K)…marked the most by a Yankee in a home game since Mussina on 9/24/02 vs. Tampa Bay (12K)…became the youngest Yankee to strike out 12-or-more batters since Al Downing on 6/21/64 (Game 2) at Chicago-AL (13K)…allowed the first four batters of the game to score and first five to reach, after which he permitted just one infield single, 2BB and 1HP with all 12K…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, only two other pitchers since 1900 struck out 12-or-more batters in a game in which they allowed four-or-more first inning runs (Herb Score in 1959 and Nolan Ryan in 1973).
- Elias also noted that Chamberlain became one of five pitchers to strike out 12-or-more batters while pitching less than 6.0 innings in a game (also Cole Hamels in 2006, Curt Schilling in 1997, Kevin Appier in 1994 and J.R. Richard in 1978).
- Hit a batter in four consecutive starts from 4/24-5/10, matching the longest such streak for a Yankees pitcher in the last 50 years…also Rick Rhoden (1988), David Cone (1998), Orlando Hernandez (2002) and Randy Johnson (2005)—credit: Elias.
- Won his first four starts immediately following the All-Star break, posting a 2.03 ERA (26.2IP, 6ER) and a .156 (14-for-90) opponent's average from 7/19-8/6…was 3-0 with a 0.83 ERA over three starts from 7/19-29, allowing just 8H and 2ER in 21.2IP (8BB, 2HP, 1WP, 1BK, 1HR)…became the first Yankees pitcher to limit his opposition to 3H or fewer in three straight starts since Randy Johnson in April 2005.
- Recorded his first win at Yankee Stadium on 7/19 vs. Detroit, snapping a nine-start winless stretch at Yankee Stadium to begin the season (0-2, 5.36 ERA)…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, it marked the most winless starts at home to begin a season for a Yankees pitcher since 1990 when Andy Hawkins was 0-7 in his first 10 home starts and Tim Leary was 0-6 in his first nine home starts at the original Yankee Stadium.
- Recorded the win on 8/6 vs. Boston despite issuing a career-high 7BB…was the most walks allowed by a Yankees pitcher who also recorded a victory since David Cone walked seven in a 12-3 Yankees win on 4/9/99 vs. Detroit, according to the Elias Sports Bureau.
- Set a franchise record by pitching 4.0 innings or less in six consecutive starts from 8/25-9/20, according to the Elias Sports Bureau…made his lone relief appearance of the season in the final team game of 2009 on 10/4 at Tampa Bay, tossing 1.0 perfect inning (1K).
- Made 10 relief appearances in the postseason, going 1-0 with a 2.84 ERA (6.1IP, 9H, 2ER, 1BB, 7K)…earned the win in Game 4 of the World Series, allowing the game-tying run on a solo HR and striking out the side in 1.0IP of relief.

- Was 4-3 with a 2.60 ERA in 42 appearances (12 starts) with the Yankees…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, became the first Yankee since Roy Sherid in 1929 to start his rookie season with at least 10 relief appearances before a mid-season switch resulting in at least 10 starts.
- The Yankees were 8-4 in his starts…in 30 relief appearances, was 1-2 with a 2.31 ERA…as a reliever, retired 25-of-30 first batters faced (83.3%) and prevented 8-of-10 (80%) inherited runners from scoring.
- Began the season in the Yankees bullpen before making the transition to a starter in late May.
- Among AL rookies, ranked first in ERA (2.60), second in strikeouts (118), fourth in opponents batting average (.233) and seventh in innings pitched (100.1)…allowed just 5HR, an average of 0.45HR/9.0IP, the second-lowest among all rookie Major Leaguers with at least 75.0IP (behind the Marlins' Chris Volstad, 0.32HR/9.0IP).
- His strikeout total marked the most by a Yankees rookie in a single season since Orlando Hernandez recorded 131K in 1998…were the third-most in a season by a Yankees pitcher under the age of 23, behind Al Downing's 171 in 1963 and Lefty Gomez's 150 in 1931.
- Made his first appearance of the season in 4/1 Opening Day win vs. Toronto, tossing a scoreless eighth inning (1.0IP, 1BB, 2K)…made his first Opening Day roster…was placed on the bereavement list from 4/14-19 to be with his hospitalized father, Harlan, in Nebraska (missed five team games).

- Allowed a "walk-off" single to Joe Crede to suffer his first Major League loss on 4/23 at Chicago-AL…was his fourth appearance in five games.
- Began the transition from relief pitcher to starter on 5/21 vs. Baltimore, tossing 2.0 scoreless innings (1H, 2BB, 3K)…Manager Joe Girardi announced the move following the game…tossed a relief-appearance career-high 40 pitches on 5/24 vs. Seattle (2.0IP, 1H, 1BB, 2K)…in three "transition" relief appearances, did not allow a run over 5.1IP, holding opponents to 3H and 4BB while striking out eight batters…Girardi announced on 5/30 that Chamberlain would make his first start on 6/3 vs. the Toronto Blue Jays.
- Allowed 1ER in 2.1IP (1H, 2R, 4BB, 3K, 1BK) without recording a decision in his first Major League start on 6/3 vs. Toronto…threw 62 pitches overall, facing 12 total batters and marking the first time he faced more than nine batters in a single game…opposed Roy Halladay and, according to Elias, joined Greg Cadaret as the only Yankee to make his first Major League start against a former Cy Young Award winner…Cadaret recorded the loss against Roger Clemens on 7/7/89 at Fenway Park after making over 100 relief appearances for the A's and Yankees.
- At 22 years old, joined Yankees pitchers Phil Hughes (21) and Ian Kennedy (23), as the first trio all age 23 or younger, to start a game in the same season for the Yankees prior to September callups since 1993 (Sterling Hitchcock, Mark Hutton and Sam Militello)…the last Yankees trio to do it as early in the season (prior to 6/4) was Gil Blanco, Al Downing and Mel Stottlemyre in 1965.
- Held opponents to 3ER or less in each of his first 11 Major League starts from 6/3-7/30, becoming the first pitcher to do so since the Marlins' Josh Johnson in 13 straight starts from 2005-06 (credit: Elias Sports Bureau)…was the only Yankees pitcher in 2008 to have at least 11 straight starts and allow no more than 3ER in any of them…was the first Yankee to accomplish the feat since Mike Mussina from 4/4-5/31/06 (12 straight starts)…his 2.23 ERA was the lowest for any Yankees pitcher over his first 11 Major League starts since Mel Stottlemyre in 1964 (1.97 ERA).
- Earned his first career win as a starter on 6/25 at Pittsburgh, tossing 6.2 scoreless innings…was his first time holding opponents scoreless in a Major League start…tossed a career-high 114 pitches.
- Had 124K at the time he reached 100.0 career IP on 7/25 at Boston, the most for any Yankees pitcher all time through his first 100.0 innings in the Majors…allowed just 24R in his first 100.0IP, the fewest by a Yankee since Dave Righetti allowed 23 in 1981 (credit: Elias Sports Bureau).
- Was removed from 8/4 loss at Texas in the fifth inning with right shoulder stiffness after allowing 8H, 5ER and 2HR in 4.2IP…had an MRI performed on 8/5 and was seen by Dr. James Andrews on 8/6…was diagnosed with rotator cuff tendinitis and placed on the 15-day disabled list on 8/6 (missed 24 team games).
- Was reinstated from the 15-day D.L. on 9/2 and returned to the bullpen…made his 21st relief appearance of the season that night at Tampa Bay, allowing 1H and 1BB in 1.1IP.
- Had a 2.38 ERA in 10 relief appearances after returning from the D.L. on 9/2, allowing 11H and 3ER in 11.1IP (14K) without recording a decision.
- Entered the 2008 season ranked by Baseball America as the Yankees' top prospect and the top pitching prospect in all of Baseball (third-best overall)…was also rated as having the "Best Fastball," "Best Curveball" and "Best Slider" among all pitchers in the Yankees system.

- Was 2-0 with one save and a 0.38 ERA in 19 relief appearances with the Yankees, allowing only 2R (1ER) in 24.0IP…the Yankees were 17-2 in games he appeared in.
- Struck out 34 batters in 24.0IP, averaging 12.75 strikeouts per 9.0IP while issuing just 6BB…was the fourth-highest K/9.0IP ratio among Major League relievers with at least 20.0IP.
- Did not allow a run in his first 15.1 Major League innings…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, it was the second longest scoreless-inning streak for any pitcher in Yankees franchise history beginning his Major League career behind Slow Joe Doyle, who went 18.0 innings before allowing his first career run in 1906.
- Made his ML debut in 8/7 win at Toronto, closing out the game with 2.0 scoreless IP (1H, 2BB, 2K)…was signed to a Major League contract and added to the roster from Triple-A Scranton/Wilkes-Barre prior to the game.
- In 8/30 win vs. Boston, allowed 1H and 1BB in 1.1IP before being ejected in the ninth inning by HP Umpire Angel Hernandez…was suspended for two games (8/31-9/1) by Major League Baseball.
- Earned his first win on 9/5 vs. Seattle, tossing a perfect seventh inning (1.0IP)…became the ninth Yankees pitcher to record his first Major League win in 2007, extending the club record (previous six, done in 1946).
- Allowed one unearned run in 1.2IP on 9/12 at Toronto, snapping his streak of 15.1 scoreless innings to begin his Major League career…allowed solo-HR to Mike Lowell in the eighth on 9/16 at Boston, snapping his streak of 17.0IP without allowing an earned run to begin his Major League career, but still came away with the win.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS
A.L. All-Star
- 2001, 2002

STATUS

- Signed by the Yankees as a free agent on December 9, 2011…contract extends through the 2012 season.

CAREER NOTES

- Has won at least 12 games in nine Major League seasons (1999, 2001-06, '10-11), tying Derek Lowe and Roy Halladay for the fourth-most among active pitchers (CC Sabathia, Mark Buehrle and Tim Hudson all have 10 such seasons).
- Among Venezuelan-born pitchers, Garcia ranks first all-time in wins (145) and innings pitched (2,076.1), and third in strikeouts (1,486)…pitched for Venezuela in the inaugural World Baseball Classic in 2006, going 1-0 with a 1.23 ERA (7.1IP, 1ER) and 11K in two starts.
- Has tossed at least 6.0 innings and limited opponents to 3ER or less in 34 of his 53 starts over the last two seasons (2010 w/ Chicago-AL and 2011 w/ the Yankees)…has gone 23-3 in those starts with his team posting a 29-5 record.
- According to the Elias Sports Bureau, has the most career innings pitched (2,076.1) of any active pitcher who has never allowed a grand slam…in his career, opponents have batted just .212 (22-for-104) with 5 doubles, 8BB and 69 RBI with the bases loaded.
- As an American League pitcher, is fifth in starts (316), sixth in career IP (2,018.1) and sixth in wins (144) among active players.
- Registered at least 10 wins, 30 starts and 200.0IP each season from 2001-06, one of only four Major League pitchers to reach the totals in each season over the span: also Mark Buehrle, Livan Hernandez and Barry Zito.
- Is 55-24 (.696) in his career in day games, marking the fourth-highest career winning pct. in day games among active pitchers (min: 50GS) according to Elias.
- Has made 41 career interleague starts, going 23-10 with a 2.83 ERA (280.1IP, 88ER)…is tied with Jamie Moyer for second all time in Interleague wins, trailing only Mark Buehrle (24).
- Is a two-time All-Star (2000-01 w/ Seattle)…earned the win in the 2000 Midsummer Classic, tossing 1.0 scoreless inning of relief.
- Owns a career mark of 6-3 with a 3.28 ERA (60.1IP, 22ER) and 51K in 10 postseason starts…among active pitchers, ranks eighth in playoff wins and is tied for 10th in starts.

STATUS

- Selected by the Yankees in the third round of the 2005 First-Year Player Draft…signed through the 2012 season.

CAREER NOTES

- Has stolen 135 bases in 163 career attempts…his 82.8% success rate ranks fourth among active players with at least 100 stolen base attempts.
- Collected 103SB within his first three years in the Majors (6/30/08-6/29/11)…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, were the most SB by a Yankee within three years of his debut since Ben Chapman, who stole 113 bases before 4/15/30.
- Stole his 100th career base on 6/14/11…came in his 364th game and 124th career attempt…according to Elias, during the Live Ball Era (since 1920, the same year CS became an official stat in the AL), only Rickey Henderson (162 games) and Ben Chapman (313) reached 100SB for the Yankees in fewer games…Elias also notes his 24CS at the time of his 100th SB were the fewest among players who made their Major League debut with the Yankees in the Live Ball Era…broke the previous record held by Mickey Mantle, who had 27CS at the time of his 100th SB in 1960…overall, is the third Yankee since 1920 with as few as 24CS at the time of his 100th SB with the club: also Rickey Henderson and Alex Rodriguez.
- Recorded his 50th SB in his 171st game, the first Yankee to reach the plateau in as few games from the start of his career since Fritz Maisel on 6/21/14 (102 games) - credit: Elias Sports Bureau.
- Is one of three Yankees all-time with at least 45SB in back-to-back seasons (2010-11), joining Fritz Maisel (1914-15) and Rickey Henderson (1985-86).
- Owns 23 career triples, becoming the second Yankee in the Expansion Era (since 1961) to collect at least 20 triples over his first four Major League seasons (all with the Yankees), joining Derek Jeter (22, 1995-98).
- Has hit 15 home runs in his career, with the Yankees going 13-2 in those contests.

- Hit .262 (153-for-583) with 136R, 26 doubles, 41HR, 119RBI, 25SB and 85BB in 156 games (150 starts in CF and one at DH) with the Yankees, setting career highs in runs, HR and RBI…led the Majors in runs scored, ranked second in HR and extra-base hits (81), third in RBI and total bases (332)…also led the Majors with 4.44 pitches seen per plate appearance…came in fourth place in AL MVP voting, garnering three first-place votes.
- Earned his first Silver Slugger Award and was named the Sporting News All-Star team…also named the Yankees' 2011 nominee for the Hank Aaron Award, given to the top offensive performer in each league…selected as the recipient of the 2011 AL Oscar Charleston "MVP" Award by the Negro Leagues Baseball Museum (NLBM).
- Reached double digits in doubles (26), triples (10), HR (41) and SB (25)…since stolen bases became an official stat in the AL in 1913, became the first Yankee since 1945 and the ninth overall to reach the double digits in those categories: also Ben Chapman (1930, '31 and '32), Lou Gehrig (1927, '30 and '31), Joe Gordon (1940), Tony Lazzeri (1926, '28, '32 and '33), Bob Meusel (1921, '22, '24 and '25), Wally Pipp (1916), Babe Ruth (1921 and '23) and Snuffy Stirnweiss (1945)—credit: Elias.

- Became the first player in Major League history to record at least 40HR, 10 triples and 25SB in a season.
- Became the seventh Yankee to collect 130R and 40HR in a single season, joining Joe DiMaggio (1937), Lou Gehrig (1927, '30-31, '36), Mickey Mantle (1956, '61), Roger Maris (1961), Alex Rodriguez (2007) and Babe Ruth (1920-21, '23-24, '26-28, '30-31).
- Became the first centerfielder to record at least 130R and 115RBI in a season since Atlanta's Dale Murphy in 1983 and the first in the AL since Mickey Mantle in 1961.
- Scored 136 runs (15 more than any other player in 2011), the most by a Yankees outfielder since Rickey Henderson in 1985 (146R).
- Became the third Yankees centerfielder with at least 41HR in a single season, joining Mickey Mantle (three times) and Joe DiMaggio (once)…marked the most home runs by a Yankees CF since Mantle hit 54HR in 1961.
- Homered in back-to-back games four times and three straight games three times…collected four multi-HR games (5/6 at Texas, 7/5 at Cleveland, 8/10 vs. Los Angeles-AL and 8/28-G2 at Baltimore).
- Hit a career-high 16HR off left-handed pitching in 2011 (previous high was 5HR in 147 such at-bats in 2008)…had 20 such home runs in his career entering the season…led the Majors with 16HR and ranked second to teammate Robinson Cano with 44RBI against left-handed pitching in 2011…marked the most home runs in a season by a Yankee vs. LHP since Bernie Williams (16) in 1996 and most by a Yankees left-handed batter since Don Mattingly (18) in 1985.
- Of his 119RBI in 2011, 46 either tied the game or gave the Yankees the lead (38.7%)…20 of his 41HR came with runners on base (48.8%).
- Had 109R and 92RBI in 112 games when hitting second in the lineup, the most such runs and RBI out of that spot in the Majors in 2011.
- Became the first Yankee since Joe DiMaggio in 1937 (15 triples, 46HR) with at least 10 triples and 40HR in a season, and just the fourth Yankee (seventh time) since 1903 to reach the totals—credit: STATS, Inc…according to Elias, is the first player in club history with at least 10 triples, 30HR and 20SB in a single year.
- Set a franchise record with 169K in 2011, marking the sixth-most among all Major Leaguers.

'C' NOTES

CF Curtis Granderson became the first Major Leaguer to record 100R and 100RBI in 2011, doing so in his first 126 games…according to Elias, only two Yankees since 2000 have reached those marks in 126 personal games or fewer: Alex Rodriguez in 2007 and Bernie Williams in 2000.

DYNAMIC DUO

Yankees combo 1B Mark Teixeira (32HR) and CF Curtis Granderson (33HR) each surpassed the 30-HR plateau through the first 115 games of 2011…only two pairs of Yankees each hit at least 30HR in fewer than 115 team games in a season–Maris/Mantle (1961) and Gehrig/Ruth (three times).

- Earned his second All-Star Game selection, making his first start (in CF) in 7/12 All-Star Game, going 0-for-2 in the NL's 5-1 victory…with 6,683,877 fan votes, received the second-highest vote total of all-time (behind Jose Bautista's 7,454,753 in 2011)…became the Yankees' first centerfielder to be named to the All-Star team since Bernie Williams in 2001.
- Had 25HR before the All-Star break…over the last 50 years (1962-2011), only three Yankees hit more home runs prior to the All-Star break—Alex Rodriguez (30HR in 2007), Tino Martinez (28HR in 1997) and Jason Giambi (27HR in 2006 and 26HR in 2003)…became just the third player in Major League history to accumulate at least 7 triples and 25HR in a season before the All-Star break, joining Willie Mays (1955, NY Giants) and Eddie Mathews (1959, Milwaukee)…was the first Yankee with at least seven triples before the All-Star game since Derek Jeter in 1999 (eight)—credit: Elias…was the first Yankee to accumulate at least 25HR and 15SB before the All-Star break.
- Had 11 assists in 2011, setting a single-season career high (previous high was 10CF assists in 2007).
- Made his fifth career Opening Day roster (began the 2008 season on the 15-day D.L.)…hit game-winning solo HR and was 1-for-3 in 3/31 win vs. Detroit…has now homered on Opening Day in each of the last three seasons, becoming the third player in the last decade (since 2002) to homer in three straight Opening Day games, joining Adam Lind (2009-11) and Adam Dunn (2005-07)…the homer came off LHP Phil Coke, his first AB vs. a LHP in 2011…did not homer of a lefty in 2010 until 6/1 vs. Baltimore (off Brian Matusz) in his 36th AB of the season facing a LHP.
- Hit 7HR by the end of April, becoming the first Yankees centerfielder with at least 7HR by the end of the month since Mickey Mantle in 1961 (credit: ESPN Research)…hit 5HR in a seven-game span from 4/15-24, batting .414 (12-for-29) over the stretch.

- Became the fifth player in Yankees history to hit 14 or more home runs before the team's 40th game of the season (through 5/17), joining Babe Ruth (six times), Mickey Mantle (1956), Tino Martinez (1997) and Alex Rodriguez (2007)…hit 16HR through the team's first 45 games (through 5/22), becoming the third Yankee in the last 50 years to reach the total in 45 games or less, joining Martinez (17HR in 1997) and Rodriguez (16HR in 2005; 18HR in 2007)—credit: Elias Sports Bureau.
- Scored at least one run in eight consecutive games from 5/21-29, matching the longest such streak of his career (also 8/27-9/4/08 w/ Detroit).
- Drove in the game-tying run with a two-out RBI single in the ninth inning of 5/24 win vs. Toronto…was his second game-tying hit with two outs in the ninth inning or later in 2011 (also 5/11 vs. Kansas City)…according to ESPN Research, joined Gary Sheffield (two in 2005), Roberto Kelly (two in 1991), Willie Randolph (two in 1980) and Graig Nettles (two in 1975) as the only Yankees since 1962 to have two such hits in the same season.
- With 5 triples and 17HR by the close of play on 5/31, joined Babe Ruth (5 triples and 19HR though 5/31 in 1928) as the only two players in Major League history to reach those totals in a season before June 1—credit: Elias Sports Bureau.

Yankees "Minor League Pitcher of the Year"
- 2006

STATUS

- Selected by the Yankees in the first round (23rd overall) of the 2004 First-Year Player Draft…signed through the 2012 season.

CAREER NOTES

- According to the Elias Sports Bureau, Hughes' 36 career wins are the most victories by a player the Yankees selected in the first round of the First-Year Player Draft, surpassing the six career wins of Bill Burbach (Yankees 1965 first-round pick).
- Is 30-21 with a 4.90 ERA (387.1IP, 211ER) in 71 career starts…is 6-2 with a 1.44 ERA (56.1IP, 9ER) in 49 career relief appearances.
- Enters the 2012 season having gone 10-1 in his last 14 starts that immediately followed a Yankees loss (since May 2009).
- Is 11-4 with a 4.34 ERA (112.0IP, 54ER) in day games (including relief appearances) since 2009.
- Has lost just six of his last 28 home starts since 5/15/09 (regular season and postseason), going 14-6 with a 5.17 ERA (156.2IP, 90ER)…the Yankees have gone 22-6 in those starts.
- According to Elias, the Yankees are undefeated (26-0) when staking Hughes to a lead of three runs or more in any of his starts, with Hughes winning 23 of those outings.
- In 106 career regular season appearances (57 starts) from May through October, is 33-17 with a 4.09 ERA (383.0IP, 174ER)…is 3-6 with a 6.82 ERA (60.2IP, 46ER) in 14 starts during the month of April in his career.
- Was 23-11 prior to turning 24 on 6/24/10, marking the most wins by a Yankee under 24 since 1965, when Mel Stottlemyre (29 wins) and Al Downing (32 wins) each celebrated their 24th birthday.

*start came after a Yankees loss – Bold-season high – italics-relief appearance

- Was credited with his first career shutout in his start on 8/2 at Chicago-AL, limiting the White Sox to 3H with no walks and 4K in 6.0 scoreless innings…according to Elias, prior to that start, the last Yankees pitcher to be credited with a shutout despite not pitching 9.0 innings was Sam McDowell on 7/20/73, also against the White Sox…McDowell threw only six innings in the second game of a doubleheader that was halted by rain at the original Yankee Stadium.
- Made his first relief appearance of the season on 8/7 at Boston…marked his first relief appearance in nearly a year, having last appearing out of the bullpen on 10/2/10 at Fenway Park.
- Held opponents to 11H in their last 57 at-bats (.193 avg.) with runners on base over the season's final two months.
- Appeared out of the bullpen in his final two outings of the season, 9/26 and 9/28 at Tampa Bay…combined to allow just 1H in 2.2IP with 3BB and 2K.
- Made two relief appearances in the ALDS vs. Detroit, combining to toss 2.1 scoreless innings (2H, 4K).

- Went 18-8 with a 4.19 ERA (176.1IP, 82ER) and 146K in 31G/29GS with the Yankees, setting career highs in wins, losses, IP and strikeouts…was tied for fourth in the AL and tied for seventh in the Majors in wins…was tied for fifth in the AL and tied for sixth in the Majors with a .692 winning percentage…lasted at least 5.0IP in 28 of his 29 starts (only exception on 8/25 at Toronto, 3.2IP)…opponents batted .244 (162-for-665, 25HR); LH .235 (81-for-345, 17HR) and RH .253 (81-for-320, 8HR)…the Yankees went 20-9 in his starts.
- Became the second Yankees pitcher age 24 or younger in the last 45 years to win at least 18 games in a season (also Andy Pettitte in 1996, 21 wins)…was the youngest Yankees righthander to win at least 18 games in a season since 23-year old Mel Stottlemyre won 20 games in 1965.
- Joined CC Sabathia (21-7) as the first set of Yankees teammates with at least 18 wins each since 2002 (Mike Mussina 18-10 and Davis Wells 19-7)…was the first time a pair of 18-game winning Yankees were 30 years old or younger since 1978 (Ron Guidry 25-3 and Ed Figueroa 20-9).
- Allowed 20HR at home (including each of his first 15 total HR allowed), tying Scott Sanderson (20 in 1992) for the most HRs allowed at home in a single season in franchise history, according to the Elias Sports Bureau…tied Baltimore's Kevin Millwood and the Dodgers' Ted Lilly for most homers allowed at home in the Majors in 2010…according to Elias, became the first pitcher to allow his first 15HR at home since Seattle's Gaylord Perry in 1982.
- Did not hit a batter, becoming the first Yankee since Ron Guidry in 1985 to throw at least 175.0IP in a season and not hit anyone.
- Received 7.49R/9.0IP of support in his starts, the highest mark among qualifying Major League pitchers.
- Appeared on his first All-Star roster, receiving his selection via the player ballot…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, became the third-youngest pitcher to represent the Yankees in an All-Star Game (1956-Johnny Kucks age 22; and 1965-Mel Stottlemyre age 23)…was charged with the loss in the 3-1 NL victory (0.1IP, 2H, 2ER), becoming the first Yankee to take the loss in the Midsummer Classic since Tommy John in 1980…faced three batters in the seventh inning, retiring Cincinnati's Joey Votto before allowing back-to-back singles to Cincinnati's Scott Rolen and St. Louis' Matt Holliday (who would both come around to score after he left).
- Was named the Yankees' fifth starter to open the season by Manager Joe Girardi on 3/25…following spring training, made two starts in extended spring training while remaining on the Yankees' 25-man active roster.

- Allowed just 10 combined hits in his first four starts of the season (25.0IP) and 17 combined hits in his first five starts (32.0IP) of 2010…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, became the first Major League pitcher since the Yankees' David Cone in 1999 to limit his opposition to as few hits with as many IP over his first four and first five starts of a season.
- Carried a no-hitter through 7.0IP on 4/21 at Oakland, recording the win in a 3-1 Yankees victory (7.1IP, 1H, 1ER, 2BB, 10K).
- Won each of his first five decisions to start the season, the youngest Yankees starter to begin a season 5-0 since Whitey Ford in 1950 (9-0)…according to Elias, with a 1.38 ERA after his first six starts, became the first Yankee with at least five wins and a sub-1.50 ERA through his first six starts since Bob Turley in 1958 (6-0, 0.83 ERA).
- Joined Andy Pettitte at 5-0 to start the season, marking just the fourth time in the last 50 years that two Yankees starters each won their first five decisions in the same season…also occurred in 2004 (Kevin Brown and Orlando Hernandez), 2003 (Mike Mussina and David Wells) and 1980 (Ron Guidry and Tommy John), according to Elias.

- Allowed a career-high 8ER on 8H in 1.2IP on 5/9 at Baltimore, recording the loss in a 12-5 Orioles victory…marked his shortest career start (2BB, 0K, 1HR)…tossed a scoreless first inning then allowed nine of his next 11 batters faced to reach.
- Went undefeated over his final four starts from 5/15-31 (2-0, 3.91 ERA, 23.0IP, 10ER)…tossed 8.0 shutout innings (3H, 1BB, 6K) and recorded the win in an 11-1 Yankees victory on 5/25 at Texas…matched his career high in innings pitched (also 9/24/08 at Toronto).
- Made his first career regular season relief appearance in 6/8 win vs. Tampa Bay, tossing a perfect seventh inning (1.0IP, 1K).
- Did not allow a run over 16 consecutive outings from 6/14-7/26, tossing 21.0 shutout innings over the stretch (11H, 4BB/1IBB, 25K)…compiled a 23.1-inning scoreless stretch dating back to 6/10 at Boston, marking the longest single-season scoreless stretch for a Yankees reliever since Mariano Rivera's 30.2-inning scoreless stretch to finish the 1999 regular season (credit: Elias)…was also the fifth-longest by a Yankees pitcher, starter or reliever, in the last 25 seasons (1985-2009), behind Rivera, Lee Guetterman (30.2 in 1989), Steve Farr (27.0 in 1991) and Rivera (26.0 in 1996)…had his scoreless streak broken on 7/30 at Chicago-AL, when he was charged with 1ER in 2.0IP (2H, 1K)…exited with the score tied 2-2 and two runners on base before Phil Coke allowed a "walk-off" RBI single.
- Earned his first regular-season win as a reliever on 7/17 vs. Detroit, tossing 2.0 scoreless IP while striking out six-of-nine batters faced (3H, 1BK)…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, became just the third pitcher in Yankees history to record at least 6K in a game with all his outs being recorded via strikeout (also Joe Page, 6K vs. Detroit on 9/13/47 and Goose Gossage, 6K vs. Kansas City on 9/1/79).
- Earned his first career save in 7/23 win vs. Oakland, tossing 2.0 perfect innings…according to Elias, became the youngest Yankees pitcher to earn a save of at least six outs since 18-year-old Jose Rijo notched a 3.0-inning save on 4/18/84 at Cleveland.
- Opened the year with Scranton/WB, going 3-0 with a 1.86 ERA (19.1IP, 4ER) in three starts…allowed only 3BB while striking out 19 batters 19.1IP…opponents were batting .233 (17-for-73) at the time of his recall.
- Made nine postseason appearances in 2009, going 0-1 with an 8.53 ERA (6.1IP, 11H, 6ER, 4BB, 7K, 1HR)…pitched in all three Division Series wins vs. Minnesota.

- Was 0-4 with a 6.62 ERA in eight starts over two stints with the Yankees (3/31-7/30 and 9/13-28)…the Yankees were 3-5 in his starts…opponents batted .314 (43-for-137, 3HR); LH .333 (20-for-60, 1HR), RH .299 (23-for-77, 2HR)…his eight starts were the third-most all time by a Yankees pitcher in a winless season behind Steve Trout (9, 1987) and Ian Kennedy (9, 2008).
- Leadoff batters hit at a .412 clip (14-for-34)…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, opponents scored in 12 of the 17 innings the leadoff batter reached, but only two of 20 innings in which he retired the first batter.
- Opened the season as the youngest pitcher in the Majors and the second youngest player in the Majors behind Arizona's Justin Upton (20 years old, born 8/25/87)…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, was the youngest pitcher to begin a season in the Yankees rotation since Bill Burbach in 1969 (Opening Day age of 21 years, 232 days).
- Turned 22 on 6/24…made 19 starts with a 5-7 record and 71 career strikeouts before the age of 22…were the most starts, wins and strikeouts by a Yankees starting pitcher prior to his 22nd birthday since Bill Burbach went 6-8 with 76K in 24 starts prior to turning 22 years old on 8/22/69.
- At 21 years old, joined Yankees pitchers Joba Chamberlain (22) and Ian Kennedy (23) as the first trio—each under age 24—to start a game in the same season for the Yankees prior to September callups since 1993 (Sterling Hitchcock, Mark Hutton and Sam Militello)…the last Yankees trio to do it prior to June 4 of a season was Gil Blanco, Al Downing and Mel Stottlemyre in 1965.
- With his first start of the season on 4/3 vs. Toronto in the Yankees' third game, became the youngest Yankees pitcher to start one of the team's first three games since Waite Hoyt (21 years, 217 days) took the mound for the club's second game in 1921.

- Was 21 years old at the start of the season, and—with Ian Kennedy (age 23)—became the fourth pair of pitchers, each under the age of 24, to start for the Yankees within the team's first four games of a season (also Dave Righetti-23 and Mike Morgan-22 in 1982; Hippo Vaughn-23, Ray Fisher-23 and Ray Caldwell-22 in 1911; and Mel Stottlemyre-23 and Al Downing-23 in 1965)—credit: Elias Sports Bureau.
- Underwent an MRI on 5/1 that revealed a stress fracture in his ninth right rib and was placed on the 15-day disabled list that day…was transferred to the 60-day disabled list on 7/18 when the Yankees signed 1B Richie Sexson…was returned from rehab, reinstated from the 60-day D.L. and optioned to Charleston on 7/30…did not allow a run in two relief appearances with Charleston, going 2-0 (6.2IP, 3H, 2BB, 6K)…was promoted to Triple-A Scranton/Wilkes-Barre on 8/6 where he went 1-0 with a 5.90 ERA in six starts…in two postseason starts with Scranton/WB, was 1-0 with a 0.69 ERA, allowing 1ER in 13.0IP and striking out 23 batters (8H, 4BB)…recorded the series-clinching win in Game 4 of the Governor's Cup Series on 9/12 at Durham, allowing just 1ER in 5.0IP and striking out 12 (4H, 4BB) to establish a SWB single-game playoff strikeout record…his 23K also set a franchise-postseason record.
- Was recalled from Scranton/WB prior to 9/13 doubleheader vs. Tampa Bay and joined the Yankees the following day…made start on 9/17 vs. Chicago-AL, allowing 1ER in 4.0IP (4H, 2BB, 4K)…allowed three combined earned runs over his final two starts of the season (12.0IP), walking two and striking out 10.
- Established a career-high with 8.0IP in his final start of the season on 9/24 at Toronto…limited the Blue Jays to 2ER with 0BB and 6K…did not record a decision after the Yankees won in 10th on Bobby Abreu's grand slam.
- Pitched for the Peoria Javelinas of the Arizona Fall League following the season, making seven starts and going 2-0 with a 3.00 ERA (30.0IP, 10ER).

- Was 5-3 with a 4.46 ERA in 13 starts for the Yankees in his first Major League action…at 21 years old, was the youngest member of the Yankees rotation in 2007…the Yankees were 8-5 in games he started…opponents batted .235 (64-for-272, 8HR); LH .264 (34-for-129, 6HR), RH .210 (30-for-143, 2HR)…held opponents to 3ER or less in eight of his 13 Major League starts…opponents batted just .194 (19-for-98) the first time through the order and hit .259 after that (45-for-174).
- Had contract purchased from Triple-A Scranton/Wilkes-Barre on 4/25 and made his Major League debut the next night vs. Toronto, recording the loss in a 6-0 Blue Jays victory…was the youngest Yankees pitcher (20 years, 306 days old) to debut since Jose Rijo on 4/5/84 (18 years, 328 days)…since Rijo's first appearance, the only other Yankees to make their Major League debuts under the age of 21 were Derek Jeter (20 years, 337 days), Dioner Navarro (20 years, 211 days) and Melky Cabrera (20 years, 330 days).
- According to the Elias Sports Bureau, was the youngest Yankees draftee to debut with the Bombers since the amateur draft began in 1965…was the youngest Yankee to debut as a starter since Gene Nelson on 5/4/81 (20 years, 152 days)…became the Yankees' first top draft choice to pitch for the club since Bill Burbach, who was chosen in 1965 (the inaugural year of the First-Year Player Draft).
- Earned his first Major League win in his second start on 5/1 at Texas…tossed 6.1 hitless innings (3BB, 6K) in the Yankees' 10-1 victory before being removed in the seventh inning with a strained left hamstring…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, it was the furthest into a game that a Yankees starter had been removed with a no-hitter still intact since David Cone on 9/2/96, when he threw 7.0 no-hit innings in his first start after returning from aneurysm surgery (5-0 win at Oakland).
- Was placed on the 15-day disabled list with a strained left hamstring from 5/3-8/4 (retroactive to 5/2), missing 85 team games…was transferred to the 60-day D.L. on 6/9…endured a setback on 5/25 when he suffered a sprained left ankle while participating in agility drills in Tampa…made five rehab starts from 7/9-29 with Single-A Tampa, Double-A Trenton and Triple-A Scranton/WB, going 2-0 with a 0.42 ERA.
- Participated in the Triple-A All-Star Game on 7/11 at Isotopes Park in Albuquerque, pitching in relief and allowing 2H and 3ER in 0.2IP (1BB, 1K, 1HR) in a 7-5 International League win…was named International League "Pitcher of the Week" for the period from 7/23-29 (2-0, 0.00 ERA, 12.2IP, 5H, 4BB, 11K, .122 opp. avg.).
- Was returned from rehab and reinstated from the 60-day D.L. on 8/4 and started that day vs. Kansas City, recording a no-decision (4.2IP, 6ER)…surrendered his first Major League home run to David DeJesus in the fifth inning…was the first home run he allowed in either the Majors or minors in 2007, snapping a streak of 52.2 homerless innings (15.0IP Major Leagues, 37.2IP minor leagues).
- Recorded the win on 8/10 at Cleveland, allowing 4H and 1ER in 6.0IP… at 21 years, 48 days old, combined with RHP Joba Chamberlain (21 years, 322 days old) to become the youngest pair of Yankees pitchers to appear in the same game since 19-year-old Mike Jurewicz and 19-year-old Gil Blanco pitched in relief on 9/7/65 vs. Baltimore (Game 2).
- Was 3-0 in September and led Yankees starters with a 2.73 ERA (29.2IP, 9ER) for the month (ninth-best in the AL)…the Yankees won each of his final five starts (9/5-27) as he held opponents to 3ER or less in each outing.
- Appeared in two Division Series games vs. Cleveland, allowing only 1ER in 5.2IP of relief (1.59 ERA, 3H, 0BB, 6K)…tossed 2.0 innings in Game 1 loss at Jacobs Field, allowing a Ryan Garko solo-HR…at 21 years, 102 days old, became the youngest Yankees pitcher to appear in a postseason game since Bill Stafford (21 years, 58 days) in Game 5 of the 1960 World Series vs. Pittsburgh.

- Tossed 3.2 scoreless innings to earn the win in ALDS Game 3…at 21 years, 105 days old, surpassed Whitey Ford (21 years, 351 days old in 1950 World Series Game 4) as the youngest pitcher in franchise history to earn a postseason victory.
- Entered the 2007 season ranked as the top right-handed pitching prospect throughout all of Baseball by Baseball America…also ranked as the Yankees' No. 1 prospect for the second straight year and was rated as having the "Best Curveball" and "Best Control" among all Yankees farmhands.

- Earned the 2006 "Kevin Lawn Minor League Pitcher of the Year" Award, given annually to the top pitching prospect in the Yankees organization, after posting a combined record of 12-6 with a 2.16 ERA in 26 starts with Class-A Tampa and Double-A Trenton…led all Eastern League pitchers with a 2.25 ERA and ranked fourth in the league with 138 strikeouts.
- Began the season in Tampa and went 2-3 with a 1.80 ERA, holding opponents to a .178 batting average and recording 30 strikeouts in 30.0IP…was promoted to Trenton on 4/30…in 21 starts with Trenton, went 10-3 with a Thunder franchise-record 2.25 ERA and 138 strikeouts in 116.0 innings…limited opposing batters to a .179 batting average and held left-handed hitters to just .161 (27-for-168)…was selected to participate in the Eastern League All-Star Game and was named to the U.S. team for the All-Star Futures Game at PNC Park in Pittsburgh.
- Did not allow a run in four consecutive starts from 6/23-7/17 (22.2IP, 7H, 6BB, 31K)…was named the Eastern League "Pitcher of the Week" from 8/7-13 after going 2-0 with a 0.90 ERA and 15K in 10.0IP…set a record for most strikeouts by a Thunder pitcher in a postseason game when he recorded 13K in 6.0IP on 9/6 vs. Portland in Game 1 of the Division Series.
- Following the season was named by Baseball America to the 2006 Minor League All-Star team as well as the Double-A All-Star squad.

- In his sophomore campaign, fought through two stints on the disabled list with right shoulder inflammation to go 9-1 with a 2.19 ERA and 93 strikeouts in 17 combined appearances (16 starts) with Single-A Charleston and Single-A Tampa.
- Went 7-1 with a 1.97 ERA in 12 starts for Charleston, striking out 72 batters in 68.2IP with only 16 walks…opponents batted just .192 and right-handed hitters were held to a .172 average…struck out eight batters and allowed only two hits in 5.0 shutout innings on 4/26 at Augusta…was credited with his first career complete game in a 6/1 win vs. Greensboro (game 1), limiting the Grasshoppers to 1ER on 2H in 7.0IP for the win…was scheduled to start the South Atlantic League All-Star Game on 6/28 but was scratched after being placed on the D.L. with mild inflammation in his shoulder…went 2-0 with a 3.06 ERA in five games (four starts) for the Tampa Yankees.

- Made only three starts for the Yankees' Gulf Coast League squad in his first professional season, holding opponents scoreless over 5.1IP without recording a decision (4H, 0BB, 8K)…missed most of the season with a fractured toe on his left foot.

PERSONAL

- Graduated from Foothill High School in Santa Ana, Calif., where he owns the school record for most career wins (23) and ranks third in school history with 182 strikeouts…also spent time playing third base and first base…was named the 2004 Most Valuable Player with a 9-1 record and a 0.69 ERA…was honored as a pre-season All-American prior to his junior year and set school single-season records with 12 wins and a 0.64 ERA that season…tossed a perfect game on 4/8/04 in a 9-0 win over Laguna Hills…named to the Los Angeles Times' 2004 All-Star team…prior to being drafted, was named by Baseball America as the top right-handed pitcher in the Orange County region…was primarily a third baseman until his sophomore year of high school…was signed by Jeff Patterson.
- Received the 2010 Ben Epstein-Dan Castellano "Good Guy" Award from the New York chapter of the BBWAA.

- In his final season in Philadelphia, hit .245 (131-for-535) with 65R, 31 doubles, 20HR and 84RBI in 144 games (131 starts in LF).
- Hit the second-most home runs in Phillies history among players that turned 39 years old in a season, trailing only Cy Williams, who had 30 in 1927.
- Went hitless in 35 straight at-bats from 4/18-5/3, the longest such streak of his career and longest by a Phillie since 1998 (Desi Relaford, 0-for-36).
- Collected his 1,000th career RBI in 6/5 win at Pittsburgh on a sacrifice fly.
- Hit his sixth career walk-off home run in 7/8 win vs. Atlanta…scored his 900th run on the HR...named NL "Player of the Week" for the period ending on 7/10.
- Missed three games from 8/22-24 with a left groin strain.
- Hit his 250th career HR in 9/7 win vs. Atlanta…connected for his ninth career grand slam in the Phillies' division-clinching win on 9/17 vs. St. Louis.
- Collected his second career pinch-hit homer in 9/20 Game 1 loss vs. Washington, tying the game in the seventh inning with the three-run HR.
- Went 3-for-15 with 1R, 1HR and 4RBI in the Phillies' NLDS loss vs. St. Louis.

- Batted .275 (154-for-561) with 75R, 37 doubles, 5 triples, 16HR and 83RBI in 155 games with the Phillies.
- Finished with the second-best fielding percentage (.991) among all NL left fielders.

- Compiled a career-high 18-game hitting streak from 7/22-8/11 (.409, 27-for-66, 4HR, 17RBI), which was tied for the third-longest in the NL in 2010.
- Hit .358 (34-for-95) with 9 doubles, 4HR and 18RBI over his final 24 games of the season beginning on 9/6…carried a .483 batting average (14-for-29) vs left-handed pitching over his final 17 games from 9/8 through the end of the season.
- Batted .250 (3-for-12) in the NLDS win vs. Cincinnati and .211 (4-for-19) in the NLCS loss vs. San Francisco.

- In his first season with the Phillies—and first in the NL—hit .272 (136-for-500) with 93R, 32 doubles, 3 triples, a career-high 34HR and 93RBI in 134 games…ranked eighth in the NL in slugging percentage (.552), ninth in HR and tied for 10th in extra-base hits (69)…tied for the NL lead in OF assists by a left fielder (nine).
- Collected 51RBI in the team's first 50 games, the most by a Phillie since 1932 (Don Hurst – 51)…also became the fastest Phillie to 20HR (accomplishing the feat in his 56th game), breaking Jim Thome's previous record (77G in 2003).
- Batted .368 (50-for-136) with 13HR and 35RBI through his first 35 games.
- Homered three times in a doubleheader on 5/16 at Washington, becoming the first Phillie in 51 years (ninth all-time) to accomplish the feat…earned NL "Player of the Week" honors…homered 10 times in May, his most for any month in his career.
- Hit safely in 19 straight road games from 5/20-7/27 (.341, 7 doubles, 10HR and 25RBI).
- Recorded his 200th career home run in 6/2 win at San Diego (off Josh Geer).
- Spent time on the 15-day disabled list from 6/18-7/10 with a left groin strain.
- Combined to hit .259 (14-for-54) in 15 postseason games for the National League champions...batted .417 (5-for-12) with runners in scoring position during the playoffs…homered off Dodgers LHP George Sherrill in Game 1 of the NLCS—the only HR Sherrill allowed to a left-handed hitter all year…had a team-high 7H and a team-high 4 doubles in the World Series loss vs. the Yankees (.304, 7-for-23).

- In his final season with the Mariners organization, batted .293 (186-for-635) with 85R, 43 doubles, 3 triples, 23HR and 110RBI in 162 games…set career highs in hits and doubles…made 153 starts in LF and nine at DH.
- Was named the Mariners' MVP by the Seattle chapter of the BBWAA for the second time (also 2006).
- Ranked fifth in the AL in RBI, tied for sixth in hits, tied for seventh in doubles, was ninth in total bases (304) and tied for 10th in extra-base hits (69) and OF assists (9).
- Batted .327 (56-for-171) with runners in scoring position…hit at a.305 (60-for-197) clip vs. left-handed pitchers.
- Reached base safely in a career-best 32 consecutive games from 8/9-9/14 (.398, 5HR, 27RBI)…hit his fourth career "walk-off" HR on 8/7 vs. Tampa Bay.

Home Sweet Home

The Yankees were 52-29 (.642) at Yankee Stadium in 2011, tying Texas and Philadelphia for the second-highest home winning percentage in the Majors behind Milwaukee (57-24, .704). It marked The Yankees' 20th consecutive winning season at home (since 1992)…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, it is the longest current streak of any team in the Majors and the longest such streak by any team since a 21-year streak for the Yankees from 1969-89, which included two seasons (1974-75) at Shea Stadium.

According to the Elias Sports Bureau, the Yankees' 161 victories in their first three seasons of play at the current Yankee Stadium are the second-most by a Major League team in its first three seasons at a particular venue behind Atlanta who won 162 games in their first three seasons at Turner Field (1997-99).

The Yankees own the top two highest single-season home winning percentages all time: .805 (62-15) in 1932 and .802 (65-16) in 1961.

HIT MACHINE

According to the Elias Sports Bureau, prior to Jeter setting the all-time franchise hits record on 9/11/09, Lou Gehrig had held the mark since 9/6/37, when he surpassed Babe Ruth (2,518H)…Willie Keeler led the Highlanders in hits in 1903, their first season in New York, and he remained the all-time leader for New York until Hal Chase passed him in August 1911…Chase led the franchise until Sept. 1922, when he was followed by Wally Pipp (1922–1929), then Ruth (1929–1937).

- Made his 13th Opening Day start at SS for the Yankees, going 3-for-5 in 4/6 Opening Day loss at Baltimore…were his most hits on Opening Day since 1999 (3-for-3).
- Recorded the first at-bat by a Yankee in Yankee Stadium in 4/16 loss vs. Cleveland…prior to his first-inning plate appearance, the bat used by Babe Ruth to hit the first home run in the first game at the original Yankee Stadium on 4/18/1923 was placed across the plate in a symbolic nod to the original Stadium.
- Committed his first error of the year in 5/2 loss vs. Los Angeles-AL (sixth-inning throwing error)…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, his 23-game errorless stretch was his longest to start a season of his career.
- Scored the 1,500th run of his career in the fourth inning of 6/2 win vs. Texas…became the fourth Yankee (also Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig and Mickey Mantle) to reach the plateau…reached the milestone in his 2,035th career game…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, only Rickey Henderson (1,891), Alex Rodriguez (1,903), Mickey Mantle (1,949) and Willie Mays (2,009) did so in fewer games than Jeter in the expansion era (since 1961).
- His third-inning RBI double on 8/16 at Seattle was his 2,674th career hit as a shortstop (also has 13 hits as a DH), surpassing Luis Aparicio (2,673) for the most hits in Major League history from the shortstop position (credit: Elias).
- Was 2-for-3 with 1 double and 2BB in 8/25 loss vs. Texas…his first-inning walk snapped a career-long 113 plate appearance stretch (7/28-8/23) without a base-on-balls (previous long was 68 PA in 2000).
- Batted .344 (22-for-64) with 14R, 5 doubles, 3HR and 6RBI in 15 postseason games, leading the team in hits (22)…reached base safely in all 15 contests, trailing only Barry Bonds (17 straight in 2002) and Gary Sheffield (16 straight in 1997) for the longest streak of reaching base in a single postseason…reached base four times in ALDS Game 1 win (single, HR, 2BB)…collected his third career postseason leadoff HR in the ALCS Game 3 loss at Los Angeles-AL, the first leadoff HR by a Yankee in ALCS history…batted .407 (11-for-27) in the World Series, hitting safely in all six games and marking his most hits in any postseason series…became the oldest starting shortstop on a World Series-winning team since Pee Wee Reese in 1955…donated his bat from Game 6 of the World Series to the Baseball Hall of Fame.

- Hit .300 (179-for-596) with 88R, 25 doubles, 3 triples, 11HR and 69RBI in 150 games with the Yankees (147 starts at SS, two starts at DH).
- Struck out 85 times, the fewest for any full season in his Major League career (previous low was 88K in 2003).
- Committed 12 errors, marking his fewest miscues since 1998 (nine) while his .979 fielding percentage was his highest since 2005 (also .979)…was the second-fewest errors among AL shortstops with at least 100 games played at the position, trailing only Texas' Michael Young (10)…went 31 consecutive games without an error from 7/8-8/15.
- Was selected to his ninth All-Star Game…finished second in the AL with 3,737,437 votes (behind teammate Alex Rodriguez)…was 1-for-3 (first-inning infield single) with 1SB in the All-Star Game on 7/15 at Yankee Stadium…following the season, was named to the 2008 Sporting News AL All-Star team, which was selected by a panel of 41 general managers and assistant general managers from both leagues…also earned his third consecutive Silver Slugger Award.
- Was 1-for-4 in 4/1 Opening Day win vs. Toronto…was his 12th Opening Day start at SS for the Yankees, surpassing Phil Rizzuto (11) for the most Opening Day starts by a Yankees shortstop in franchise history…started his fifth straight Opening Day at shortstop with Alex Rodriguez at third base, becoming the first pair of Yankees to start on the left side of the infield in five consecutive years since Graig Nettles and Bucky Dent started six consecutive season openers from 1977-82.
- Missed six games from 4/8-13 with a strained left quadriceps…was the longest stretch of consecutive DNPs in his career, not counting times he's been on the D.L. (credit: Elias Sports Bureau)…upon returning, hit in seven straight games from 4/14-20, going 12-for-31 (.387) with 4R, 2 doubles, 1 triple, 10RBI and 2BB…did not score a run in nine straight games from 4/18-27, the longest such stretch of his career (credit: Elias).
- Hit his first home run of the season and was 2-for-5 with 2R in 5/10 win at Detroit, snapping a 128AB homerless stretch, the longest streak to begin a season of his career (credit: Elias).
- Recorded his first stolen base of the season in his 38th game played (5/18 loss vs. the Mets)…his 37-game streak without a steal was his longest in a single season since going 49 straight games without a steal from 6/4-7/26/96 (credit: Elias)…was just his second stolen base attempt of 2008 (also 4/1 vs. Toronto)…the streak of 36 games without a steal attempt was the longest of his career (previous high was 30 games in 1996).
- Went hitless in five straight games (0-for-18), his longest such streak since going hitless in seven straight from 4/21-28/04…was picked off second base in the top of the sixth inning by Dennis Sarfate in 5/27 loss at Baltimore…according to Elias, it was the first time he had been picked off any base since 9/2/98.
- Turned 34 years old on 6/26…his 2,438 career hits were the most by a Yankee before turning 34 years old (17 more than Lou Gehrig when he turned 34)…was the most among all active players prior to their 34th birthday…in AL history, only Ty Cobb and Robin Yount accumulated more hits than Jeter before turning 34.
- In 7/12 win at Toronto, hit his 19th career leadoff homer and first since 9/27/05 at Baltimore…was also his 200th home run as a Yankee…the Elias Sports Bureau notes that with Jason Giambi (8/9) and Alex Rodriguez (8/12) also hitting their 200th Yankees homers in 2008, they became the first teammates on any club to reach the 200HR plateau together in the same season.
- Became the 88th player all time—and the sixth active Major Leaguer—to reach the 2,500-hit plateau with his first-inning single in 8/22 win vs. Baltimore…also became the third player in Yankees franchise history to tally 2,500 hits with the club, joining Lou Gehrig (2,721) and Babe Ruth (2,518)…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, only two players in the last 65 years were younger than Jeter (34 years, 57 days) at the time of their 2,500th hit (Hank Aaron in 1967 and Robin Yount in 1989).
- In 9/7 loss at Seattle, hit solo-HR to mark his 1,000th career RBI…had a third-inning single to tie Babe Ruth (2,518) for second place on the all-time Yankees hit list…collected his 2,519th career hit with a first-inning single off the Angels' Ervin Santana on 9/9 at Los Angeles, surpassing Ruth…marked the first time since 6/22/33 that someone other than Ruth or Gehrig occupied first or second place on the Yankees' all-time hits list (credit: Elias).

"For all of us up here, it's a huge honor to put this uniform on every day and come out here and play. Every member of this organization, past and present, has been calling this place home for 85 years. There's a lot of tradition, a lot of history, and a lot of memories. Now, the great thing about memories, is you're able to pass [them] along from generation to generation. And although things are going to change next year – we're going to move across the street – there are a few things with the New York Yankees that never change. That's pride, it's tradition, and most of all, we have the greatest fans in the world.

"We're relying on you to take the memories from this Stadium, add them to the new memories that come at the new Yankee Stadium and continue to pass them on from generation to generation. So, on behalf of the entire organization, we just want to take this moment to salute you, the greatest fans in the world."

- Went 6-for-7 in 9/13 doubleheader vs. Tampa Bay, going 3-for-4 in Game 1 loss and 3-for-3 in Game 2 win…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, became the first Yankee to record 3H in each game of a doubleheader in remodeled Yankee Stadium (since 1976) and only the sixth Yankee over the last 40 years to accomplish the feat at any park (Johnny Damon in 2006, Willie Randolph in 1987, Dave Winfield in 1983, Matty Alou in 1973 and Roy White in 1972)…also recorded 3H in the series finale on 9/14, finishing the series 9-for-11 and reaching base in 11 of his 13 plate appearances (1BB, 1HBP)…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, became the fifth player (and second Yankee) to record at least three hits in every game of a series of three games or more at Yankee Stadium joining Boston's Edgar Renteria (2005), the Yankees' Ken Griffey Sr. (1982), Oakland's Reggie Jackson (1973), and Boston's Dom DiMaggio (1949).
- With a first-inning single off Gavin Floyd in 9/16 loss vs. Chicago-AL, passed Lou Gehrig (1,269) in all-time hits at the original Yankee Stadium…in the same at-bat, gained sole possession of second place on the Yankees' all-time at-bats list, passing Gehrig (8,001AB)…following the game, his spikes were sent to the National Baseball Hall of Fame.
- Was 0-for-5 in the final game at the original Yankee Stadium on 9/21 vs. Baltimore, making the last Yankees out on a groundout (third base to first base)…gave a speech to the Stadium crowd following the game…the bat he used during the final homestand was sent to the National Baseball Hall of Fame…his final game speech was voted by fans as the MLB.com "Moment of the Year."
- Was scratched from the lineup prior to 9/23 win at Toronto (sore left hand)…entered the game at SS in the ninth…originally suffered the injury on 9/20 vs. Baltimore when he was hit by a Jim Miller pitch in his final at-bat of the game…left 9/26 win at Boston in the third inning with a sore wrist…missed final two games of the season.

STATUS

- Selected by the Yankees in the fifth round of the 2006 First-Year Player Draft…contract extends through the 2012 season.

- Posted a 3.00 ERA (6.0IP, 2ER) without recording a decision in seven relief appearances with the Yankees as a September callup…retired five of his six first batters faced and prevented each of his six inherited runners from scoring…held opponents scoreless in five of his appearances.
- Was signed to a Major League contract and selected to the Yankees' active roster from Triple-A Scranton/Wilkes-Barre on 9/6…made his Major League debut in 9/10 loss at Los Angeles-AL, allowing 2H and 1ER in 1.1IP (2K, 1HR)…did not face an official batter in 9/18 loss at Toronto after Lawrie was caught stealing second base to end the inning.
- Entered 9/22 loss vs. Tampa Bay with the bases loaded and struck out Justin Ruggiano to strand all three runners (1.1IP, 1H, 1K).
- Prior to his call-up, went 4-4 with two saves and a 2.62 ERA (89.1IP, 26ER) in 40 appearances (four starts) at Scranton/WB…was 1-0 with a 2.08 ERA (17.1IP, 4ER) in four starts and 3-4 with a 2.75 ERA (72.0IP, 22ER) in 36 relief appearances…tossed at least 2.0 innings in 21 of his 36 relief outings, including six appearances of at least 3.0 innings and two with at least 4.0IP.
- Was returned to the Yankees from the Padres on 3/14/11 after being selected in the 2010 Rule 5 Draft.

- Combined to go 0-4 with a 3.60 ERA (45.0IP, 18ER) in 24 appearances (two starts) with Single-A Tampa, Double-A Trenton and Triple-A Scranton/Wilkes-Barre…had made just two career relief appearances entering the season…struck out 38 batters with just 15BB.
- Began the season on the disabled list recovering from "Tommy John" surgery performed on 7/7/09.
- Was reinstated from the D.L. on 6/18 and joined Tampa, going 0-1 with a 2.61 ERA (10.1IP, 3ER) in five appearances (two starts)…was promoted to Trenton on 7/6, going 0-2 with a 3.38 ERA (32.0IP, 12ER) in 17 relief appearances…was transferred to Scranton/WB on 9/1, making two relief appearances over the season's final week (0-1, 10.12 ERA, 2.2IP, 3ER).
- Was selected by the Padres in the Rule 5 Draft on 12/9/10.

- Combined to go 4-5 with a 3.15 ERA (71.1IP, 25ER) in 13 starts with Double-A Trenton and Triple-A Scranton/Wilkes-Barre.
- Began the season with Trenton, going 1-1 with a 2.66 ERA (20.1IP, 6ER) in four starts before being promoted to Scranton/WB on 5/4…in nine starts with Scranton/WB, went 3-4 with a 3.35 ERA (51.0IP, 19ER).
- Was 3-1 with a 2.25 ERA (28.0IP, 7ER) in his first five starts with Scranton/WB, but went 0-3 with a 4.70 ERA (23.0IP, 12ER) over his final four starts.

- Was 8-7 with a 3.76 ERA (117.1IP, 49ER) in 21 appearances (20 starts) for the Dodgers…opponents batted .243 (110-for-452, 12HR); LH .233 (50-for-215, 7HR), RH .253 (60-for-237, 5HR).
- Was the Dodgers' Opening Day starter, earning the win after allowing 4H and 1ER in 5.2IP (1BB, 2K) on 4/6 at San Diego…became just the third Japan-born pitcher to make an Opening Day start in the Majors.
- Was placed on the 15-day disabled list on 4/11 (retroactive to 4/7) with a left oblique strain and was reinstated on 6/1…made two rehab starts with Single-A Inland Empire, posting a 5.19 ERA (8.2IP, 5ER) without recording a decision.
- Tossed 30.1 consecutive innings without walking a batter from 6/6-7/3, the second-longest such streak in the Majors that season, trailing only the Cardinals' Joel Pineiro (34.0IP).
- Made his only career relief appearance in the Majors in 7/12 win at Milwaukee, allowing 2H and 3ER in 1.1IP (1BB).
- Sustained a concussion on 8/15 at Arizona when he took a comebacker off the right side of his head…the ball came off the bat of Rusty Ryal in the sixth-inning of the Dodgers' 4-3 loss, hit Kuroda's head and bounced all the way back toward the Diamondbacks' on-deck circle and into the seats…he never lost consciousness and was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital and Medical Center in Phoenix for a CAT Scan, the results of which were negative…remained in the hospital overnight for observation and was discharged the following morning after he was cleared to fly with the team back to Los Angeles following that afternoon's game in Arizona…was placed on the 15-day disabled list from 8/19 (retroactive to 8/16)-9/6 with a concussion…made one rehab start with Inland Empire, allowing 5H in 5.0IP (1R, 0ER).
- Went 3-2 with a 2.79 ERA (29.0IP, 9ER) in five starts following his second D.L. stint…won three straight starts for the first time in his Major League career from 9/11-22, with wins over San Francisco, Pittsburgh and Washington over the span…allowed just 3ER in 20.0IP (1.35 ERA) during the streak.
- Missed his final regular season start due to a sore neck caused by a small herniation in his cervical spine…was not placed on the Division Series roster against St. Louis…started NLCS Game 3 at Philadelphia on 10/18, allowing 6H and 6ER in 1.1IP to record the loss in his only playoff appearance.

- Saw his first Major League action, going 9-10 with a 3.73 ERA (183.1IP, 76ER) in 31 starts with the Dodgers…opponents batted .253 (181-for-715, 13HR); LH .260 (94-for-361, 9HR), RH .246 (87-for-354, 4HR)…tied for eighth in the NL with a 2.06BB/9.0IP (42BB, 183.1IP) ratio, allowing 2BB or less in 26 of his 31 starts.
- Made his Major League debut—and earned his first Major League win—on 4/4 at San Diego, allowing 1ER in 7.0IP (3H, 0BB, 4K, 1HR)…became the seventh Japanese-born player to appear in a game for the Dodgers, joining Hideo Nomo (1995-98, 2002-04), Kazuhisa Ishii (2002-04), Masao Kida (2003-04), Norihiro Nakamura (2005), Dave Roberts (2002-04) and Takashi Saito (2006-07).
- Tossed his first career complete game and shutout on 6/6/08 vs. Chicago-NL, retiring 16 of his final 17 batters faced (9.0IP, 4H, 11K)…tossed a one-hit shutout (9.0IP, 6K) on 7/7/08 vs. Atlanta, going perfect through 7.0 innings before allowing an eighth-inning leadoff double to Mark Teixeira…was just the third rookie since 1969 to carry a perfect game into the eighth inning, joining Bob Owchinko in 1977 and Orel Hershiser in 1984…was the first pitcher since Cleveland's Billy Traber (7/8/03 vs. New York-AL) to throw a complete-game one-hitter without issuing a walk…became the first Dodgers pitcher to throw two complete-game shutouts in the same season since Jeff Weaver and Derek Lowe each accomplished the feat in 2005.

FORE!

The New York Yankees Foundation held its inaugural New York Yankees/New Era Pinstripe Bowl Charity Golf Tournament on May 9, 2011, at Forsgate Country Club in Monroe Township, N.J.

Net proceeds from the event benefited the Memorial Sloan-Kettering Pediatric Cancer Center, Public Schools Athletic League, Tourette Syndrome Association of Central New Jersey and the Boomer Esiason Foundation Fighting Cystic Fibrosis.

The scramble format tournament featured Yankees alumni and front office members, head football coaches and alumni from various Big East Conference schools, New York Jets and Giants front office and alumni, as well as YES and ESPN broadcasters.

Brian Cashman [R] and David Cone hit the links for a good cause.

Sheppard Honored by Congress

On November 16, 2010, Congresswoman Carolyn McCarthy (NY-04) proposed House Resolution 1529, commending Bob Sheppard – the Voice of Yankee Stadium – for his respected career as the public-address announcer for the New York Yankees and the New York Giants.

The resolution was voice-voted and there was no opposition.

- Hit .237 (99-for-417) with 57R, 17 doubles, 18HR, 65RBI and 50BB in 125 games (118 starts at C) with the Yankees…also appeared in three games as a defensive replacement at 3B and one game at 2B.
- Caught 35 runners attempting to steal, leading all Major League catchers.
- Hit 18HR in 417AB after combining to hit 12HR in 836AB from 2009-10…10 of his homers came in games in which he was not in the previous day's starting lineup or had the previous day off.
- Led all Major League catchers with 8SB, third-most by a Yankee as a C since 1969 behind Joe Girardi (13SB in 1996) and Thurman Munson (12SB in '76)…tied for fourth among AL catchers in home runs and fourth in RBI.
- Was voted via player balloting to his third career All-Star team—and first with the AL…did not play in the NL's 5-1 victory…was the first Yankees All-Star catcher since Posada in 2007.
- Made his fifth career Opening Day roster—first with the Yankees—and fifth straight Opening Day start at C.
- Caught each inning of the Yankees' first 12 games of the season from 3/31-4/15…according to Elias, had been the only catcher in the Majors to catch all the innings of his team's games through 4/15.
- Stole third base in the third inning of 3/31 Opening Day win vs. Detroit…became the first Yankees catcher to steal third base since Jorge Posada on 4/19/00 at Texas and just the second since Thurman Munson on 8/12/75 at Oakland.
- Hit three-run HR and solo HR in 4/9 win at Boston, his second career multi-HR game…marked just the second time in the last 16 seasons (since 1996) that a Yankees catcher other than Jorge Posada had a multi-HR game (also John Flaherty on 8/16/03 at Baltimore-2HR)…joined Posada (8/30/03) as the only Yankees catchers to record a multi-HR game at Fenway Park over the last 70 years (credit: Elias).

- Hit 6HR in April, 1HR shy of the single-season Yankees record for homers as a catcher during the month of April (Jorge Posada – 7HR – April 2003) – credit: Elias.
- Did not have an extra-base hit in a career-long 68AB stretch between his solo HR on 5/24 vs. Toronto and his three-run HR on 6/29 vs. Milwaukee—credit: Elias.
- Missed two games (5/29 at Seattle and 5/30 at Oakland) with a bruised left big toe.
- Snapped an 0-for-16 stretch with his first-inning single on 6/3 at Los Angeles-AL…matched the longest single-season hitless streak of his career.
- Batted .286 (22-for-77) with 14R, 7HR and 19RBI in 23 games in August…marked his most HR in any calendar month during his career and is tied for his second-highest single-month RBI total (20RBI in June 2006, 19RBI in April 2011 and May 2009).
- Recorded his fourth career multi-HR game and third as a Yankee in 8/19 win at Minnesota…was batting ninth in the game, marking his second multi-HR from the ninth spot in the batting order (also 4/9 at Boston)…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, became the second player in Yankees franchise history to have a multi-homer game from the ninth spot in the batting order twice in one season, joining pitcher Red Ruffing (1930 and 1936).
- Made his first career appearance at 2B in 8/20 loss at Minnesota, starting at C and moving to 2B in the seventh inning.
- Set a career high in hits and RBI and tied his career high in runs scored in 8/25 win vs. Oakland, hitting a solo HR and a grand slam and going 5-for-5 with 3R, 1 double, 6RBI and 1BB…the grand slam was the third of his career and the second of the Yankees' Major League record three GS in the game.
- Marked the 11th time in the Live Ball era (since 1920) that a Yankee recorded at least 5H and 6RBI in a game, first since Alex Rodriguez went 5-for-6 with 6RBI on 4/18/05 vs. Tampa Bay…marked the most hits by a Yankees catcher in a single game since Elston Howard went 5-for-6 on 4/18/59 at Boston…was just the fourth time in the Live Ball era that a Yankee recorded 5H in 5AB with at least 6RBI (also Danny Tartabull, 9/8/92 at Baltimore; Joe DiMaggio, 7/9/37 vs. Washington and Del Pratt, 8/23/20 vs. Detroit)…was the sixth time since 1920 a Major League catcher had at least 5H and 6RBI in a game, first since Joe Mauer on 7/26/10 at Kansas City (5-for-5, 7RBI).

Steinbrenner High School

Named after the Yankees Principal Owner, George M. Steinbrenner High School opened in August 2009 on Lutz Lake Fern Road just north of Tampa.

"Over the years, Mr. Steinbrenner has been deeply involved in the community, particularly with the schools and the school system," said Steven Ayers, director of community relations for Hillsborough County public schools. "He has been very involved and very philanthropic. He has probably donated tens of millions over the length of time. He's had a significant amount of money and significant amount of involvement in the community."

In addition to regular classroom curriculum, the school also offers classes for students preparing for a career in sports with sports marketing, sports medicine and the business of sports (BOSS). The school's mascot is the Warriors, featuring navy and gold coloring.

Two Great Sports Brands Unite

On October 20, 2008, the New York Yankees and Dallas Cowboys, along with Goldman Sachs and CIC Partners, announced the founding of Legends Hospitality Management, LLC. Offering a broad range of sports business services, Legends has the exclusive right to operate concessions, catering and merchandising services at the new, state-of-the-art stadiums of the Yankees and Cowboys.

With an initial focus on operating catering, concessions, retail merchandising and other facility management enterprises for major sports and entertainment facilities, Legends has gradually expanded its services to include premium-seat sales and consulting services, ticket sales training and other services. It recently acquired CSL International and CSL Marketing Group, which does sports research and venue marketing.

LEGENDS

Beyond operating catering, concessions, retail merchandising and other facility management enterprises for the Yankees' and Cowboys' home stadiums, Legends services have expanded to service football's San Francisco 49ers and Tampa Bay Buccaneers; basketball's Charlotte Bobcats, Indiana Pacers, Oklahoma City Thunder and Phoenix Suns; baseball's San Diego Padres; and college football's Rose Bowl.

Legends, led by new Chairman and Chief Executive Officer Dave Checketts, is headquartered in Newark, N.J., and will offer differentiated solutions to create innovative, high-quality stadium experiences for fans. For more information, please visit Legends' website at www.legendshm.com.

- Was 16-4 with a 3.70 ERA (165.1IP, 68ER) in 28 games (27 starts) in his rookie season with the Yankees…among qualifying rookie starters (starts only), ranked first in wins (16), second in ERA (3.66), third in innings pitched (164.2) and fourth in opponents' batting average against (.256) and strikeouts (98)…opponents batted .258 (163-for-633); LH .240 (75-for-313); RH .275 (88-for-320)…the Yankees were 19-8 in his starts.
- His 16 wins marked the most among Major League rookies and tied for ninth most among all Major League pitchers…marked the most wins by a Yankees rookie since Stan Bahnsen in 1968 (17-12)…since 2000, only three Major League rookies compiled more wins in a season: CC Sabathia in 2001 (17 w/Cleveland), Justin Verlander in 2006 (17 w/Detroit) and Jason Jennings in 2002 (16 w/Colorado).
- Won 16 of his first 20 decisions of the season…according to Elias, only four other rookies won at least 16 of their first 20 decisions in a season: Bob Grim (1954), Jack S. Sanford (1957), Wally Bunker (1964) and Tom Gordon (1989).
- According to Elias, the Yankees' 19-8 (.703) mark in games started by Nova was the second-best for any AL team in starts by one pitcher (min: 20GS), behind only Detroit's Justin Verlander (25-9 , .735).
- At 15-3 (.833) through his first 25 starts of the season, marked the second-highest winning percentage for a rookie since 1910…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, only Boston's Mike Nagy (.846, 11-2) had a higher mark over his first 25 starts of 1969.
- Made 16 "quality starts" (at least 6.0IP, 3ER or fewer), lasting 7.0 or more innings in 10 of those outings and holding his opponent to 1ER or less in seven of those appearances.
- Made five spring training starts, going 2-0 with a 1.80 ERA (20.0IP, 4ER), earning a spot in the rotation…led all Yankees starters in ERA, the lowest mark for a Yankees pitcher during the exhibition season (minimum: 20.0IP) since Jaret Wright posted a 0.86 ERA in the spring of 2005, according to Elias.
- With his win on 4/4 vs. Minnesota became the first Yankees rookie to win a start within a season's first four games since 22-year-old Al Leiter defeated the Brewers, 4-1, in the fourth game of the 1988 season, according to the Elias.

- Started three of the Yankees' first 12 games, the first Yankees rookie to accomplish the feat since Bill Piercy in 1921…started four games in April, the seventh Yankees rookie to do so, joining Bill Burbach (1969), Doc Medich (1973), Bob Tewksbury (1986), Al Leiter (1988), Kei Igawa (2007) and Ian Kennedy (2008).
- Became one of two Yankees since 1980 to go undefeated in his first six career starts, joining Joba Chamberlain (first 7GS in 2008).
- Made his lone relief appearance on 4/19 at Toronto and recorded the loss, allowing 1ER in 0.2IP (2H) in the "walk-off" loss.
- Held the Rangers to one unearned run and just 2H in 7.1IP to earn the win on 5/6 at Texas…became just the second Yankees rookie over the last 25 years (since 1986) to earn a win while limiting his opponent to just 2H and 0ER and pitching more than 7.0 innings in a road start (also Mariano Rivera, 7/4/95 at Chicago-AL).

*Start came after a Yankees loss / Bold=season high / Italics = relief/ += Gm. 2 of a doubleheader

- Went undefeated in his last 16 starts (12-0 with a 3.25 ERA)…according to Elias, tied the Yankees' all-time record for longest winning streak as a starting pitcher in a single season by a rookie, set by Russ Ford in 1910 and matched by Atley Donald in 1939…was the longest for any Major League rookie since Cincinnati's Tom Browning went undefeated in 14 consecutive starts in 1985…had his streak of winning eight consecutive starts come to an end in his start on 9/8 at Baltimore with a no-decision…the eight-start streak ran from 7/1-9/2, becoming the first Yankees rookie with such a streak since Marius Russo won eight straight in 1939, according to Elias.
- The Yankees won 12-consecutive starts with Nova on the mound from 6/10-9/2/11, their longest streak of wins in games started by a particular pitcher since they won 20 straight games started by Roger Clemens in 2001.
- Was optioned to Triple-A Scranton/Wilkes Barre on 7/3, following Bartolo Colon's return from the D.L…made three starts for Scranton/WB, going 1-2 with a 3.38 ERA (16.0IP, 6ER, 18K, 2BB)…made his last minor league start on 7/19 at the Columbus Clippers and recorded the loss, allowing 1ER in just 1.1IP before being removed from the game with a sore right ankle (3H, 1BB, 3K, 1HR).
- Was recalled from Scranton/WB prior to his start on 7/30 in Game 2 of a doubleheader vs. Baltimore…went 8-0 with a 3.18 ERA (73.2IP, 26ER) over the remainder of the regular season, holding opponents to 3ER or less in nine of 11 starts.
- Went 1-1 with a 4.32 ERA in two ALDS appearances (one start) vs. Detroit…made his postseason debut in relief in Game 1, which was halted due to rain on 9/30 in the bottom of the second inning with the score tied, 1-1…game was resumed the following day with Nova on the mound for the Yankees…held the Tigers to 2ER in 6.1IP (4H, 4BB, 5K) to earn the win, becoming the first Yankees rookie to earn a win in his postseason debut since Orlando Hernandez on 10/10/98 in Game 4 of the ALCS at Cleveland…retired his first seven batters faced.
- Made his first career postseason start in the deciding Game 5, allowing 2ER in 2.0IP (3H, 0BB, 3K, 2HR) before exiting with a tight right forearm and suffering the loss…was the first Yankees rookie to start a winner-take-all postseason game since Mel Stottlemyre in the 1964 WS at St. Louis, and became only the second rookie pitcher all time to make his first postseason start in a winner-take-all game, joining the Phillies' Marty Bystrom in the 1980 NLCS Game 5 at Houston, according to the Elias Sports Bureau.
- Was diagnosed with a Grade 1 Flexor Strain of his right forearm after seeing Dr. Christopher Ahmad and undergoing an MRI at NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital on 10/7.

- Was 1-2 with a 4.50 ERA in 10 games (seven starts) with the Yankees in his first Major League action…opponents batted .268 (44-for-164, 4HR); LH .276 (27-for-98, 3HR), RH .258 (17-for-98, 7HR)…went 0-1 with a 1.69 ERA (5.1IP, 1ER) in his three relief outings…posted a 1-1 record with a 4.91 ERA in his seven starts.
- Opposing batters hit .230 (17-for-74) with two extra-base hits their first time through the order, .262 (17-for-65) with eight extra-base hits their second pass and .400 (10-for-25) with two extra-base hits the third time through.
- Was recalled from Triple-A Scranton/Wilkes-Barre on 5/10…made his Major League debut in 5/13 loss at Detroit, tossing 2.0 scoreless innings (2H, 1K) of relief…made one additional relief appearance (5/16 vs. Minnesota) before being optioned back to Scranton/WB on 5/17 when Chan Ho Park was reinstated from the 15-day D.L.
- Was recalled a second time on 8/22, joining the starting rotation…completed 6.0 innings just once (9/8 vs. Baltimore)…was removed with a lead in four of his seven starts.
- Made his first Major League start against Toronto at Rogers Centre on 8/23, recording a no-decision, (5.1IP, 6H, 2ER, 1BB, 3K, 1HR)…pitched out of a bases-loaded, no-out jam in the first inning…both runs allowed came on a two-run HR by Jose Bautista in the third.
- Recorded his first Major League win in his second start on 8/29 at Chicago-AL, allowing 1ER in 5.2IP (5H, 1BB, 7K)…became the first Yankees rookie starter to earn a win since Alfredo Aceves on 9/9/08 (credit: Elias) as the Yankees became the last Major League team in 2010 to have a rookie earn a win.
- Suffered his first loss on 9/25 vs. Boston in his ninth appearance, seventh start (4.2IP, 4H, 4ER, 3BB, 2K, 1HP)…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, became one of two Yankees since 1980 to go undefeated in his first six career starts, joining Joba Chamberlain (first 7GS in 2008).
- Went 12-3 with a 2.86 ERA in 23 starts at Triple-A Scranton/WB (145.0IP, 135H, 50R, 46ER, 48BB, 115K, 10HR, .250 opp. BA)…led the staff in wins, ERA, innings pitched (145.0) and strikeouts (115)…ranked second in the International League in ERA, trailing only Baseball America "Player of the Year" Jeremy Hellickson…tied for first in winning percentage and ranked third in wins…among Yankees farmhands, tied for third in wins and ranked fifth in ERA.
- Made 17 "quality starts" (at least 6.0IP, 3ER or fewer) with SWB, lasting 7.0 or more innings in seven of his outings and recording a season-high-tying 8.0IP twice.
- Lost just one of his final 14 starts with SWB, going 10-1 with a 2.19 ERA (94.2IP, 23ER) over his final 14 starts from 6/5-8/18.
- Did not record a decision in three spring training relief appearances with the Yankees, allowing 1ER in 4.0IP (2.25 ERA, 4H, 2BB, 3K, 1HR).
- Made three relief appearances in his first spring training, limiting opponents to 1ER in 4.0IP.

- Made 24 combined starts with Double-A Trenton and Triple-A Scranton/Wilkes-Barre, going 6-8 with a 3.68 ERA (139.1IP, 57ER).
- Held opponents to 2ER or less in 10 of his 12 starts with Trenton, including each of his final seven outings…left-handers batted just .188 (25-for-133, 1HR) against him at the Double-A level.
- Tossed 5.2 scoreless innings and allowed just 1H in his Triple-A debut on 6/29 vs. Rochester, earning the win in a 5-0 SWB victory (3BB, 5K)…was credited with his first career complete game on 7/30 vs. Durham, throwing all 7.0 innings and recording the loss in Game 1 of a doubleheader (6H, 6R, 5ER, 3BB, 2K, 1HR).
- Made two postseason starts for Scranton/WB, going 1-0 with a 1.93 ERA, allowing just three earned runs in 14.0IP and striking out 10 batters.
- Following the season, appeared in five games (four starts) with Escogido in the Dominican Winter League, going 1-0 with a 1.05 ERA (25.2IP, 17H, 3ER, 4BB, 17K).
- Was selected by the San Diego Padres in the second round of the 2008 Rule 5 Draft…attended Major League Spring Training with the Padres, allowing 11R (8ER) on 13H in 8.2IP over eight relief appearances…was returned to the Yankees on 3/29/09.

- Made 26 appearances (24 starts) with Single-A Tampa, going 8-13 with a 4.36 ERA and striking out 109 batters…ranked second among Florida State League pitchers with 148.2IP…led the team in starts, tied for most wins and ranked second in strikeouts.

- Committed two errors on 4/28 vs. Chicago-AL and again in his next start on 5/5 at Detroit, starting at SS in both contests…according to Elias, the only other Yankees shortstops to make at least two errors in consecutive games played since 1920 were Frank Crosetti (twice, 1936 and '45) and Mark Koenig (twice, 1927 and '28).
- Made 17 consecutive starts at SS from 6/14-7/2 while Derek Jeter was on the 15-day disabled list, batting .339 (20-for-59) with 5R, 5 doubles, 2HR, 7RBI and 4BB during the stretch while the Yankees went 14-3…marked the fifth-highest average among Major League shortstops over the stretch.
- Hit solo HR and was 2-for-4 with 1BB and 2SB in 6/15 win vs. Texas on his 24th birthday… became the eighth Yankee since 2000 to homer on his birthday and first since Hideki Matsui in 2009…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, since Yogi Berra homered on his 22nd birthday in 1947, the only other Yankee younger than Nunez to hit a birthday homer was Rusty Torres on his 23rd birthday in 1971.
- Set a career high in hits in 7/1 win at the Mets, going 4-for-4 with 1 double and 1RBI…joined Brett Gardner (5-for-6 on 6/26/09 at the Mets) as the only Yankees since 2007 to record at least four hits in a game as a rookie.

- Went 7-for-8 in the first two games of the series at Citi Field on 7/1 and 7/2, becoming the first Yankee ever to collect 7H over a two-game span in the same series against the Mets—credit: Elias…also according to the Elias Sports Bureau, became the fourth Yankees rookie shortstop to have at least three hits in back-to-back games in the expansion era (since 1961), joining Frank Baker (1970), Andy Stankiewicz (1992) and Derek Jeter (1996).
- Batted .261 (29-for-111) with 16R, 5 doubles, 1 triple, 1HR and 12RBI in 35 games from 7/9-8/20 while Alex Rodriguez was on the 15-day disabled list, making 23 starts at 3B during the stretch.
- Hit in the leadoff position in the starting order for the first time in his career in 9/7 loss vs. Baltimore, going 0-for-4 with 1SH before being removed for PH (Chavez) in the 11th.
- Homered off James Shields in 9/21 Game 1 win vs. Tampa Bay, tying the score at 2-2 in the seventh as the Yankees clinched a playoff berth with the victory…collected five extra-base hits (4 doubles, 1HR) over his final nine games with an AB.
- Appeared in one ALDS game vs. Detroit as a pinch runner, stealing a base in the Game 3 loss at Comerica Park.

- Hit .280 (14-for-50) with 12R, 1 double, 1HR and 7RBI in 30 games (10 starts at 3B and three at SS) with the Yankees…stole five bases without being caught…struck out just twice in 53 plate appearances.
- Was recalled from Triple-A Scranton/WB on 8/19 when Lance Berkman went on the 15-day D.L…made his Major League debut in that night's win vs. Detroit, entering the game defensively in the seventh at SS and going 0-for-1.
- Made his first Major League start (at 3B) in 8/21 win vs. Seattle, going 1-for-3 with 1R and 1RBI…collected his first hit with a go-ahead RBI-single off Jason Vargas in the seventh inning.
- Made 11 starts from 8/21-9/4 (nine at 3B and two at SS) while Alex Rodriguez was on the disabled list…hit .293 (12-for-41) over the stretch, committing just one error in 27 chances.
- Hit two-run HR—the first of his Major League career—and was 3-for-4 with 2R, 4RBI, 1BB and 1SB in 8/29 win at Chicago-AL…marked the most RBI in a game by a Yankees rookie since Brett Gardner on 9/26/08 at Boston (also 4RBI)…became the first Yankee to drive in at least four runs in a game within his first 10 Major League contests since Shelley Duncan in 2007 (4RBI vs. Tampa Bay) and just the fifth to do so in the last 44 years (since 1967), joining Andy Phillips (4RBI on 4/24/05 vs. Texas), Hideki Matsui (4RBI on 4/8/03 vs. Minnesota) and Brian Dayett (4RBI on 9/18/83 Game 2 at Cleveland)…according to Elias, became just the fifth Yankee in franchise history to hit his first Major League HR and steal his first base in the same game, joining Willie Randolph (1976), Roy White (1966), Gil McDougald (1951) and Wally Pipp (1915).
- Began the season with Triple-A Scranton/Wilkes-Barre, batting .289 (134-for-464) with 55R, 25 doubles, 3 triples, 4HR, 50RBI and 23SB in 118 games…recorded the third-highest average among all Yankees farmhands and led all Scranton/WB batters in hits, doubles and stolen bases…at the time of his recall, was leading the International League in hits…was named to the International League postseason All-Star team as the league's top shortstop…also selected to the IL midseason All-Star team, starting at SS and going 0-for-2 in the IL's 2-1 victory.
- Following the season, was named by Baseball America as the eighth-best prospect in the Yankees organization…also selected by the publication as the "Best Defensive Infielder" and possessing the "Best Infield Arm" among Yankees farmhands.
- Batted .348 (8-for-23) with 2RBI in seven games with the Toros del Este in the Dominican Winter League following the season…missed time after a ball he bunted ricocheted off his face.

- Batted .322 (160-for-497) with 9HR, 55RBI and 19SB in 123 games with Double-A Trenton in 2009, making 120 starts at shortstop…set career highs in hits, doubles and home runs in his first season at the Double-A level…ranked second in the Eastern League in hits and third in batting average…committed 33 errors, most among Eastern League players.
- Was named the top shortstop in the EL, earning a spot on the postseason All-Star team…was also the starting shortstop for the North Division in the Eastern League midseason All-Star Game, the lone Thunder player to earn both midseason and postseason All-Star honors in 2009.
- Compiled five hitting streaks of eight-or-more games, including a career-high-tying 11-game hitting streak from 4/30-5/11, in which he batted .378 (17-for-45) over the stretch with just 5K.
- Appeared in four games with Toros del Este in the Dominican Winter League, going 2-for-10 (.200)

CAREER NOTES

- Has posted a record of .500 or better and made at least 15 starts in 16 consecutive seasons since the start of his Major League career in 1995, surpassing Cy Young (15 seasons, 1890-1904) and Tom Seaver (15, 1967-81) for the longest such streak to begin a Major League career in Baseball history, according to the Elias Sports Bureau…posted a winning record in each of his first 13 Major League seasons (1995- 2007), marking the third-longest streak of consecutive winning seasons to start a Major league career behind Grover Alexander (17) and Cy Young (15).
- Among active Major League pitchers, ranks second in wins (240), starts (479) and strikeouts (2,251), and third in IP (3,055.1)…among active lefthanders, is second in wins, starts, IP and strikeouts – trailing Jamie Moyer in each category.
- Owns a .635 (240-138) career winning percentage, eighth-best among all lefthanders who began their careers in 1950 or later (min: 140 decisions).
- Has recorded 203 wins as a Yankee, third-most in franchise history and the most for any pitcher with his current club (credit: Elias Sports Bureau)…ranks second in strikeouts (1,823), second in games started (396), fourth in IP (2,535.2), and eighth in appearances (405)…is the only pitcher drafted by the Yankees to win 200 games in the Majors.
- Has made at least one start in 13 different seasons with the Yankees (1995-2003, '07-10), becoming just the sixth pitcher in franchise history to accomplish the feat… joined Whitey Ford (16 seasons), Red Ruffing (15), Ron Guidry (13), Lefty Gomez (13) and Bob Shawkey (13).
- As a Yankee , is 85-47 (.6 4 4) in regular season starts immediately following a team loss (credit: Elias).
- Over the last 10 years (2002-11), has posted a 125-73 (.631) record with a 3.78 ERA (1605.2IP, 674ER), ranking ninth in wins among all Major League pitchers over the span–despite missing all of 2010.
- Is currently 102 games over .500 (240-138)…is the only pitcher currently on a Major League 40-man roster and one of 26 pitchers all-time at least 100 games over .500… of those other pitchers, 18 are in the Hall of Fame (Grover Alexander, Three-Fingered Brown, John Clarkson, Bob Feller, Whitey Ford, Lefty Grove, Walter Johnson, Tim Keefe, Juan Marichal, Christy Mathewson, Joe McGinnity, Kid Nichols, Jim Palmer, Eddie Plank, Old Hoss Radbourn, Tom Seaver, Warren Spahn and Cy Young)… six are not yet eligible (Roger Clemens, Tom Glavine, Randy Johnson, Greg Maddux, Pedro Martinez and Mike Mussina)… and one remains eligible for the HOF ("Parisian Bob" Caruthers, who went 218-99 from 1884-92).
- Has won 49.9% of his 479 career starts (is 239-137 in his starts), marking the second-best percentage among active pitchers with at least 250 career games started (Roy Hallday-52.6%).
- Has a .682 (118-55) career winning percentage and a 3.66 ERA (1420.1IP, 578ER) after the All-Star break compared to a .595 (122-83) career mark and a 4.07 ERA (1635.0IP, 739ER) before the break.

- Went 14-13 with a 4.20 ERA in 36 appearances (35 starts) for the Houston Astros…tied a career high with 35 starts (also 1997)…his 178K were tied for 10th in the NL and were two shy of his career-high of 180 set in 2003.
- Struck out a season-high 10 batters three times: 7/15 at Florida, 8/11 vs. San Diego and 8/21 at Cincinnati…tossed two complete games, his highest total since he logged three in 2002…allowed 238H, fifth-most in the NL…his 14 wins ranked second among NL lefties…was 7-4 with a 2.80 ERA (93.1IP, 29ER) in 16 second-half outings (15 starts).
- Carried a no-hitter into the seventh inning on 4/24 vs. Los Angeles-NL that was broken up by a J.D. Drew home run and eventually won by the Dodgers, 6-2.
- Tossed his fourth career complete-game shutout on 5/14 vs. Colorado, allowing three hits in a 3-0 win…made his eighth career relief appearance on 7/28 vs. Arizona (first since 9/25/98 vs. Tampa Bay), allowing 1ER in the 11th inning to record the loss (1.0IP).
- Hit his first career home run (off Chan Ho Park) and recorded the win on 8/11 vs. San Diego while tying a season-high with 10K.
- Was 4-2 with a 2.27 ERA in August, leading Major League pitchers with 49 strikeouts, the most strikeouts by a Houston pitcher in August since Randy Johnson struck out 61 in 1998…his 2.27 ERA was his lowest of any month in 2006…was 1-0 in five September starts with a 2.60 ERA…left the game on 9/12 at St. Louis after just 2.2 innings with a strained flexor muscle in his left elbow and missed one start.

- Named 2005 Astros "Pitcher of the Year" by the Houston chapter of the BBWAA after finishing 17-9 with a career-low 2.39 ERA in 33 starts…allowed three or fewer earned runs in 31 of his 33 starts…led the Majors with a 2.12 ERA at home, was tied with Chris Carpenter for the MLB lead in "quality starts" with 27 and ranked second in overall ERA…also ranked third all-time in single-season ERA by a lefty starter in club history…Houston was 21-12 in his 33 starts…did not allow more than one home run in any of his starts and allowed none 16 times.
- Ranked third in the NL in road ERA at 2.69, tied for fifth in wins, ranked sixth with a .230 opponent's batting average and eighth with a .654 winning percentage…was named NL "Pitcher of the Month" in both July and September, the first Astro to capture the award twice in one season…was one of six National League finalists for the MLB "Comeback Player of the Year Award" (Cliff Floyd, Brian Fuentes, Troy Glaus, Ken Griffey, Jr., and Todd Jones).
- Went 14-2 with a 1.56 ERA (24ER/138.2IP) in his last 20 starts of the season from 6/20-10/1, leading the Majors in ERA and wins during that time span…pitched 7.0 or more innings in 12 of his 16 starts after the All-Star Break…led the Majors with a 1.69 ERA and a .201 opponent batting average in the second half…tied Jose Contreras for the most wins after the All-Star break with 11.
- Went 5-0 with an 0.90 ERA (4ER/40.0IP) in six July starts, the second-lowest ERA among NL starters and the lowest for one month in his career…also marked the third-lowest ERA for an Astros pitcher in a single month since 1969 (Nolan Ryan, 0.20, May 1984 and J.R. Richard, 0.67, Aug. 1979)…tossed 8.0 scoreless innings on 7/30 vs. NY Mets, marking his eighth straight start pitching at least 5.0 innings and not allowing more than one run (6/20-7/30)…it was the longest streak by a NL pitcher since Bill Gullickson in 1986, and only four other NL pitchers had done the same since 1960: Sandy Koufax (1962), Don Drysdale (1968), Bob Gibson (1968), and J.R. Richard (1979).
- Won seven consecutive starts from 8/21-9/20, compiling a 1.70 ERA over the stretch with 8BB and 37K…tossed 5.2 scoreless innings on 9/5 at Philadelphia, but had his start cut short after being hit in the left foot with a line drive in the third inning.
- Was 1-1 in four postseason starts with a 4.26 ERA…earned the win in NLDS Game 1 at Atlanta, allowing 4H and 3ER in 7.0IP (6K)…suffered the loss in NLCS Game 1 at St. Louis…left two games in 2005 playoffs with a 4-2 lead, only to receive no-decisions…allowed two runs in 6.1 innings of NLCS Game 5 and two runs in 6.0 innings in World Series Game 2.

ANDY, CY & TOM

Andy Pettitte has posted a record of .500 or better and made at least 15 starts in each of his 16 Major League seasons since the start of his career in 1995… according to the Elias Sports Bureau, that surpasses Cy Young (15 seasons, 1890-1904) and Tom Seaver (15, 1967-81) for the longest such streak in Major League history.

The left-handr posted a winning record in each of his first 13 seasons to begin his Major League career (1995-2007)… marked the third-longest streak of consecutive winning seasons to start a Major League career behind Grover Alexander (19) and Cy Young (15).

- Made 15 starts in his first season with Houston, finishing 6-4 with a 3.90 ERA…was placed on the disabled list three times: 4/7-29 (left elbow strain); 5/27-6/28 (left forearm strain); 8/13-10/3 (left elbow surgery)…suffered the loss in his first start with Houston on 4/6 vs. San Francisco, allowing 6ER on 11H over 5.1IP….was placed on the 15-day D.L. on 4/10 (retroactive to 4/7) with a strained left elbow…suffered the injury during a checked swing in his first start on 4/6 vs. San Francisco and missed 19 games.
- Earned the 150th win of his career on 4/29 at Pittsburgh, his first win of the season…left his start on 5/26 vs. Chicago-NL after 4.0 innings with a left forearm strain…was placed on the 15-day D.L. on 5/27 and missed 28 games…made two rehab starts at Double-A Round Rock on 6/18 and 6/23.
- Was reinstated from the D.L. on 6/28 and received a no-decision in his start that night at Chicago-NL, allowing 3ER over 5.0IP…made his longest start of the year, tossing 8.0 innings for the win in a 5-2 victory on 7/21 at Arizona…took the loss on 7/26 vs. Arizona, allowing 2ER before leaving the game after the fifth inning with a sore left elbow.
- Returned to New York to face the Mets on 8/12 and did not record a decision, allowing 1ER over 5.2IP in the Astros' 2-1 loss…was placed on the D.L. the following day and underwent season-ending surgery on 8/24 to repair a torn flexor tendon in his left elbow…the surgery was performed by Dr. James Andrews and Dr. David Lintner.

- Finished the season 21-8 with a 4.02 ERA in 33 starts…the Yankees were 23-10 in games he started…tied for second in the American League in wins, was fifth with a .724 winning percentage, and ranked sixth with 180 strikeouts and 7.8 strikeouts per nine innings…with 21 victories, equaled his single-season career high (also 1996)…his 33 starts were the most since starting 35 games in 1997…opponents batted .272 (227-for-835, 21HR); LH .321 (72-for-224, 5HR), RH .254 (155-for-611, 16HR).
- Became the first pitcher in the post-expansion era (since 1961) to win at least 12 games in each of his first nine seasons, according to the Elias Sports Bureau…became the first pitcher since Hall of Famer Stan Coveleski (from 1916-1926) to accomplish the feat.
- Lost four straight starts/decisions from 5/6-22 for the first time in his career (a span of 206 games)…in Major League history, only four pitchers had more decisions to start their careers before a four-game losing streak: Whitey Ford (306 decisions), Juan Marichal (267), Ed Reulbach (227), and Mike Mussina (208).
- Won a career-high eight consecutive decisions from 6/14-7/29 with a 3.36 ERA over the nine-game stretch…on 8/9 vs. Seattle, recorded the loss in a 2-1 Mariners victory despite throwing his first complete game of the season (9.0IP, 5H, 2ER, 1BB, 5K).
- Went 3-1 with a 2.10 ERA in five postseason starts…collected the win in Game 2 of the Division Series vs. Minnesota…fanned 10 batters and allowed one earned run in 7.0 innings…started Game 2 and Game 6 of the ALCS vs. Boston…was 1-1 with an 0.57 ERA (1ER/15.2IP) in two World Series starts…notched his 13th career playoff win in the Yankees' 6-1 victory vs. Florida in Game 2 of the World Series, pitching on three-days' rest (1ER, 8.2IP)…was the losing pitcher in the Marlins' series-clinching Game 6 victory despite allowing 2R (1ER) in 7.0IP.

- Was 13-5 with a 3.27 ERA and a team-high three complete games in 22GS…the Yankees were 16-6 in games he started…won 11 of his final 13 decisions of the season, 10 of his last 11 and five straight to conclude the season…opponents batted .272 (144-for-529, 6HR); LH .255 (26-for-102, 2HR), RH .276 (118-for- 427, 4HR)…became the first pitcher in the post-expansion era (since 1961) to win at least 12 games in each of his first eight seasons (credit: Elias Sports Bureau).
- Allowed homers in only five of his 22 starts (6HR total)…recorded the victory in his first start of the season on 4/5 vs. Tampa Bay in the home opener at Yankee Stadium, tossing 6.0 scoreless innings in the Yankees 4-0 win (2H, 0BB, 6K)…with his first-inning strikeout of Steve Cox, became the eighth pitcher in Yankees history to reach the 1,000K plateau.
- Was placed on the 15-day disabled list on 4/21 (retroactive to 4/16) with tendinitis of the left elbow…made four rehab assignment starts, tossing 15.1 innings (8H, 2ER, 1BB, 13K) before being reinstated from the D.L. on 6/14…on 6/30 vs. New York-NL, recorded his third career shutout (first since 6/29/00 vs. Detroit), in an 8-0 Yankees win (9.0IP, 3H, 2BB, 8K)…tied a career high with 12K in 7/28 win at Tampa Bay…was scratched from his scheduled start on 8/31 with a stiff lower back.
- Started Game 2 of the Division Series vs. Anaheim, allowing 4ER and 8H in 3.0IP but did not receive the decision in an 8-6 Angels win.

- Was 15-10 with a 3.99 ERA in 31 starts…the Yankees were 18-13 in games he started…opponents batted .281 (224-for-796, 14HR); LH .251 (42-for-167, 3HR), RH .289 (182-for-629, 11HR)…collected 103 wins over a six-season span (1996-2001), the most by any pitcher in the American League and second-most in the Majors during that span behind Greg Maddux (107)…became one of only five pitchers in the last 40 years to win at least 12 games in each of his first seven seasons in the Major Leagues, joining Dean Chance (1962-68), Tom Seaver (1967-73), Dennis Leonard (1975-81) and Fernando Valenzuela (1981-87)…became the first Yankees pitcher to make at least 25 starts for seven consecutive seasons (1995-2001) since Mel Stottlemyre did it in nine straight from 1965-73 and Fritz Peterson recorded eight straight from 1966-73.

- Averaged a career-low 1.8 walks per 9.0IP…allowed only 19BB in 17 GS/101.0IP after being reinstated from D.L. on 7/1 and allowed only one walk to a left-handed batter in his final 14 starts of the season…concluded the season with a 5-7 road record, his first losing record on the road since going 4-7 in his rookie campaign in 1995.
- In his 5/23 start vs. Boston, became the fourth youngest pitcher to start 200 games for the Yankees…only Waite Hoyt (27), Mel Stottlemyre (28) and Lefty Gomez (28) accomplished the feat at a younger age…on 6/15 at New York-NL, left the game after 3.1IP with a strained left groin and was placed on the 15-day disabled list on 6/16…was reinstated on 7/1.
- On 9/26 vs. Tampa Bay, left the game after two batters when he was hit on the left elbow by a Ben Grieve line drive, suffering a contusion (0.0IP, 2H)…did not pitch again until 10/6 at Tampa Bay, tossing 5.0 shutout innings (5H, 2BB, 2K) in his final outing of the regular season.
- Was 2-3 with a 4.55 ERA in five postseason starts…started and lost Game 2 of the Division Series at Oakland, snapping a streak of nine consecutive postseason wins for the Yankees in which Pettitte made the start (last lost on 10/9/98 in Game 3 of the ALCS at Cleveland).
- Was named Most Valuable Player of the American League Championship Series, going 2-0 with a 2.51 ERA in two starts…earned the win in Game 1 and the Game 5 clincher.

- Went 19-9 with a 4.35 ERA in 32 starts…his 88 wins over five seasons (1996-2000) were the third most in the Majors during that span behind only Pedro Martinez (90) and Greg Maddux (90)…earned his 100th career win on 9/24 vs. Detroit, becoming the 15th Yankee to record 100 career wins and the first since Ron Guidry in 1982…at 100-54, only four then-active pitchers had fewer losses at the time of their 100th win (Dwight Gooden, 100-37; Mike Mussina, 100-43; Roger Clemens, 100-47 and Pedro Martinez, 100-49).
- Allowed only 1HR to left-handed batters in 2000 (Robin Ventura, NY Mets on 6/10 at Yankee Stadium)…was placed on the 15-day disabled list on 4/13 (retroactive to 4/8) with a strained muscle on the left side of his back…was reinstated on 4/26 and pitched 5.0 shutout innings vs. Minnesota (3H, 1BB, 4K), but did not record a decision in a 2-0 Yankees win…on 5/29 vs. Oakland, allowed a career-low two hits while registering his 15th career complete game (first since 8/19/98 at Minnesota) in a Yankees' 4-1 win…lone run came on ninth inning Randy Velarde homer.
- Was 2-0 with a 2.84 ERA in five postseason starts…started the Yankees' World-Series clinching Game 5 on 10/25 at Shea Stadium…did not receive a decision, allowing two unearned runs in 7.0IP and leaving with the score tied at 2-2…was his third straight World Series road start in which he did not allow an earned run (22.2IP).

- Was 14-11 with a 4.70 ERA in 31 games (all starts)…his 69 wins over four seasons (1996-99) trailed only Pedro Martinez (72) and Greg Maddux (71) for the most wins in the Majors…compiled 81 wins in the 1990s, the most by any Yankee during the decade (David Cone was second with 60)…after going 5-7 with a 5.59 ERA (93.1IP, 58ER) in his first 16 starts, finished the season with a 9-4 record and a 3.84 ERA (98.1IP, 42ER) over his last 15 starts.
- Left his first–and only–spring training start on 3/7 vs. Minnesota after seven pitches with a strained left elbow…was placed on the 15-day disabled list on 4/4 with a strained elbow (retroactive to 3/26)…on 4/6 suffered a sprained right ankle during agility drills…was reinstated from the 15-day D.L. on 4/17…started that night vs. Detroit and pitched six shutout innings but did not record a decision in a 3-1 Yankees loss…earned his first win of the season on 5/5 at Minnesota…the win snapped Pettitte's three-game losing streak dating back to 1998…after 102 decisions, the three-game skid marked the first streak of at least three losses in his career…since 1900, only two pitchers have had more decisions at the start of their careers before compiling a three-game losing streak: Dwight Gooden (139) and Mike Mussina (119).
- Was 2-0 with a 3.93 ERA in three postseason starts…won Game 2 of the Division Series vs. Texas on 10/7, allowing only 1ER in 7.1IP…earned the win in Game 4 of the ALCS at Boston on 10/17, limiting the Red Sox to 2ER in 7.1IP…saw his streak of 15.2 scoreless innings in World Series play come to an end in the Yankees' come-from-behind win in Game 3 on 10/26 at Atlanta, allowing 10H and 5ER in 3.2IP…did not draw a decision in the game.

- Went 16-11 with a 4.24 ERA in 33 games (32 starts)…tied for fifth in the American League in wins…led the AL with 55 wins combined from 1996-98, trailing only Atlanta's John Smoltz (56)…tossed a career-high five complete games…became the first Yankees pitcher to throw over 200.0 innings in three straight seasons since Ron Guidry did it in four straight from 1977-80.
- Made the first Opening Day start of his career in a 4-1 loss on 4/1 at Anaheim, allowing 4ER in 6.0IP (9H, 3BB, 3K)…began the season 0-2 with a 5.54 ERA in his first two starts, then won five straight starts from 4/11-5/2 (33.1IP, 7ER, 1.89 ERA)…tossed his first complete game of the season in a 9-1 win over Roger Clemens and the Blue Jays on 4/22 at Toronto in his 100th career start…with a .671 winning percentage after 100 career starts, owned the seventh-highest winning percentage of any pitcher in the post-expansion era (1961) after 100 career starts…the top six after 100 career starts: Ron Guidry, .765 (62-19); Dwight Gooden, .756 (59-19); Roger Clemens, .718 (56-22); Juan Guzman, .708 (46- 19); Mike Mussina, .696 (55-24); and Jim Palmer, .671 (51-25).

- Threw a career-high 143 pitches in a complete-game 3-2 victory on 7/3 vs. Baltimore…missed 8/4 start at Oakland with a strain in his left trapezius…made his only relief appearance of the season on 9/25 vs. Tampa Bay, tossing three shutout innings in relief of Orlando Hernandez in a 6-1 Yankees win.
- Was 2-1 with a 3.32 ERA in three postseason starts, making one start in each round of the playoffs…won Game 2 of the Division Series on 9/30 vs. Texas, limiting the Rangers to 1ER on 3H in 7.0IP in a 3-1 Yankees victory…lost Game 3 of the ALCS on 10/9 at Cleveland in a 6-1 Indians win (4.2IP, 8H, 6ER)…won Game 4 of the World Series on 10/21 at San Diego, throwing 7.1 scoreless innings (5H) in the Yankees' 3-0 victory to clinch the Series.

- Was 18-7 with a 2.88 ERA in 35 starts…set career bests for starts and innings pitched (240.1)…compiled an American League-high 39 wins over 1996 and '97, tying him with Atlanta's John Smoltz for the Major League lead…the Yankees were 24-11 in his starts, scoring 217 runs (6.2 runs/start - third-best in the AL)…opponents batted .256 (233-for-910, 7HR); LH hit .321 (62-for-193, 1HR), RH hit .238 (171-for-717, 6HR)…led American League pitchers with 35 starts, 14 pickoffs and 36 ground-ball double plays induced…allowed an AL-low 0.26HR/9.0IP (7HR, 240.1IP)…ranked fourth in the AL in ERA, wins and winning percentage (.720)…ranked third in innings pitched, tied for sixth in complete games (4) and was eighth in strikeouts (166).
- Earned his third win of the season in Game 1 of a 4/13 doubleheader vs. Oakland in the Yankees' 10th game of the season, the second straight season he won three of the Yankees' first 10 games…joined Waite Hoyt (1922 and '29) as the only Yankees pitchers to accomplish the feat twice…finished April with a 5-0 record and a 2.32 ERA, joining Mel Stottlemyre (1969 and '74) as the only Yankees pitchers to win five games in April…became the first Yankee to start the season 5-0 since Bob Wickman opened 8-0 in 1993.
- Recorded consecutive losses for first time in 54 starts on 5/26 vs. Baltimore (last recorded two straight losses on 8/21 and 8/25/95)…tossed his first career shutout on 7/5 at Toronto (6H) in an 8-0 Yankees victory…had a season-high 23.0-inning scoreless streak snapped in an 11-5 win on 7/16 at Chicago-AL…was the longest by a Yankees starter since Jimmy Key also tossed 23.0 scoreless innings from 4/5-21/93…lasted just one inning on 9/5 vs. Baltimore after being hit in the face by a Cal Ripken line drive (suffered contusions of the left thumb, lip and nose as well as a small laceration of the nose)…struck out a career-high 12 batters on 9/16 vs. Boston (G1), tossing eight shutout innings in a 2-0 victory (did not walk a batter).
- Was 0-2 with an 8.49 ERA in two starts vs. Cleveland in the Division Series…took the loss in Game 2, allowing 7ER on nine hits in five innings on 10/2 at Yankee Stadium…was the losing pitcher in Cleveland's series-clinching Game 5, allowing 4ER in 6.2IP on 10/6 at Jacobs Field in the 4-3 Indians victory.

- Went 21-8 with a 3.87 ERA in 35 games (34 starts)…finished second to Toronto's Pat Hentgen in American League Cy Young Award voting…led the AL in wins and was eighth in ERA…the Yankees were 24-10 in his starts, scoring 195R (5.7 runs/start)…led the Majors with 11 pickoffs…opponents hit .271 (229-for-844, 23HR); LH .329 (50-for-152, 1HR), RH .259 (179-for-692, 22HR)…was 13-3 after a Yankees loss and 11-1 in day games…was named to the Sporting News All-Star team…at 23 years, nine months and 24 days, became the youngest Yankees pitcher to start the home opener since James "Hippo" Vaughn started on 4/14/10 vs. Boston at Hilltop Park.
- Made his only relief appearance of the season on 5/1 at Baltimore, tossing 3.0 shutout innings for the win in an 11-6, 15-inning victory…was his first relief appearance since 5/13/95, snapping a streak of 32 consecutive starts…recorded his 10th win of the season on 6/11 at Toronto, becoming only the fourth Yankees pitcher in the post-expansion era to record 10 wins in the team's first 60 games (Whitey Ford 10-2 in 1961, Ron Guidry 10-0 in 1978 and Tommy John 10-1 in 1979).
- Won his 15th game of the season on 7/24 vs. Texas, making him the third fastest Yankees pitcher to win 15 games in a season…won his 20th game of the season in a 10-3 victory on 9/4 at Oakland, becoming the Yankees' first 20-game winner since Ron Guidry in 1985…picked up his league-leading 21st win in a 4-1 victory on 9/13 vs. Toronto.
- Was 2-1 with a 4.78 ERA in the postseason…received no-decisions in his first two postseason starts, both Yankees wins (5-4 in Game 2 of the Division Series vs. Texas and 5-4 in Game 1 of the ALCS vs. Baltimore)…started Game 1 of the World Series vs. Atlanta and recorded his first career postseason loss in a 12-1 Braves victory (2.1IP, 7ER)…in Game 5 at Atlanta, tossed 8.1 shutout innings, out-dueling John Smoltz in the Yankees' 1-0 victory.

- Finished third in American League "Rookie of the Year" voting after going 12-9 with a 4.17 ERA in 31 games (26 starts)…his 16 points in the voting trailed Minnesota's Marty Cordova (105) and California's Garret Anderson (99)…led all American League rookies in wins…led the American League with 12 pickoffs…began the season in the bullpen, making five appearances without recording a decision (5.14 ERA)…made his Major League debut on 4/29 at Kansas City (0.2IP, 3H, 2ER, 1K).
- Was optioned to Triple-A Columbus on 5/16 to make room for Mariano Rivera on the 25-man roster…was recalled on 5/27 and made his first Major League start that day at Oakland, suffering the loss in a 3-0 Athletics win (5.1IP, 7H, 3R, 1ER, 2BB, 3K, 1HR)…stayed in the Yankees' starting rotation for the remainder of the season…threw his first career complete game in his second Major League start on 6/2 vs. California, but suffered the loss in a 3-2 Angels win.

- Earned his first Major League win on 6/7 vs. Oakland in a 6-1 Yankees victory, allowing 1ER in 7.0IP (4H, 1BB, 3K)…suffered the shortest start of his career on 8/21 at Oakland in a 13-4 Athletics win, leaving after 0.2IP (6ER, 8H)…tossed a complete-game five-hitter, tying his season high with eight strikeouts, in a 4-1 victory on 8/30 vs. the Angels (retired 20 of his first 21 batters faced).
- Did not allow a home run to a left-handed batter until he allowed a two-run shot to Rafael Palmeiro in the ninth inning of a 5-4 win on 9/14 at Baltimore…went 5-1 with a 3.38 ERA in six September starts…became only the fifth Yankees rookie starter to ever win five games after 9/1, joining Russ Ford (7-0 in 1910), Ernie Bonham (6-1 in 1940), Mel Stottlemyre (5-2 in 1964) and Bob Wickman (5-1 in 1992).

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS
A.L. All-Star Team
- 2011

STATUS

- Acquired by the Yankees along with RHP Jose Campos from Seattle in exchange for C/DH Jesus Montero and RHP Hector Noesi on January 23, 2012…contract extends through the 2012 season.

- Went 9-10 with a 3.74 ERA (171.0IP, 71ER) in 28 starts with the Mariners in his first Major League action…opponents batted .211 (133-for-629, 18HR); LH .237 (77-for-325, 8HR), RH .184 (56-for-304, 10HR)…his .184 opponent average vs. right-handers was a Major League low (min. 225 batters faced).
- Finished fifth in American League "Rookie of the Year" Award voting, leading all AL rookies in strikeouts (173) and K/9.0IP (9.11), ranking second in innings pitched, opponents batting average (.211) and quality starts (19), tying for second in starts and ranking fourth in wins…both his strikeout-to-walk ratio (3.15, 173K, 55BB) and strikeouts/9.0IP are the second-highest all time by a qualifying AL rookie behind Brett Anderson (3.33, 2009 w/Oakland) and Herb Score (9.70, 1955 w/ Cleveland), respectively…finished second among all AL pitchers in K/9.0IP in 2011, trailing only Toronto's Brandon Morrow (10.19).
- His 173K were fifth-most by any pitcher at age 22 or younger since 1969, trailing only Dwight Gooden (276K in 1984), Kerry Wood (233K in 1998), Tom Griffin (200K in 1969) and Bobby Witt (174K in 1986)…were the sixth-most by an AL rookie over the last 30 years and second-most all time by a Mariners rookie behind Mark Langston's mark of 204 in 1984.
- Was named to the American League All-Star team as a replacement for Detroit's Justin Verlander after posting an 8-6 record with a 3.03 ERA (113.0IP, 38ER) in 18 starts in the first half…became the second rookie pitcher in Mariners history to be named to the All-Star team (also Matt Young in 1983)…tossed a scoreless third inning with 2K in the game, becoming the first rookie AL All-Star with at least 2K since Don Schwall in 1961.
- Opened the season in the Mariners' starting rotation and—at 22 years, 72 days (as of March 31)—was the third-youngest AL player on a 2011 Opening Day roster, behind Kansas City LHP Tim Collins (21 years, 222 days) and Chicago-AL LHP Chris Sale (22 years, 1 day)…became the first Mariners rookie pitcher to make the club's Opening Day starting rotation since Freddy Garcia in 1999.
- Made his Major League debut on 4/5 at Texas, allowing 5H and 3ER in 6.0IP (1BB, 4K) while recording the loss…struck out his first batter faced (Ian Kinsler) on three pitches…was the first Seattle rookie pitcher to make his Major League debut as a starter since Felix Hernandez on 8/4/05.
- Earned his first Major League win on 4/12 vs. Toronto (7.1IP, 5H, 2R, 1ER, 2BB, 7K).
- Was named the April AL "Rookie of the Month," going 4-1 with a 2.01 ERA (31.1IP, 7ER) in five starts.
- Recorded his first Major League hit in 6/23 loss at Washington, a sixth-inning single off Jason Marquis.

- Won just one of his final 11 starts of the season beginning on 7/9, going 1-5 with a 5.71 ERA (63.0IP, 40ER) over the stretch.
- Reached the All-Star break with 113K, becoming the first rookie pitcher in Mariners history to record at least 100K prior to the All-Star Break…was just the fourth rookie pitcher in the Majors over the previous 25 years (1987-2011) to record at least 113K by the break: also Kerry Wood (139K in 1998), Daisuke Matsuzaka (123K in 2007) and Hideo Nomo (119K in 1995).
- Struck out a career-high 10 batters and allowed 1H in 6.1IP in 7/30 win vs. Tampa Bay…combined with Jeff Gray (1.2IP) and Brandon League (1.0IP) on the second team one-hitter in Mariners franchise history…became just the second Mariners starting pitcher to throw at least 6.0 innings, allow 1H or less and strike out at least 10 batters, joining Randy Johnson who accomplished the feat six times (last: 7/16/98 vs. Minnesota).
- Went winless over his final seven starts of the season, despite posting quality starts in five of those contests and compiling a 3.60 ERA (30.0IP, 12ER) over his final five outings…each of his final seven starts were decided by three runs or less with the Mariners getting shutout in two of the contests.

- Is one of two pitchers in franchise history to record a save after turning 40, joining Jim Kaat, who earned two saves as a 40-year-old in 1979—credit: Elias Sports Bureau.
- Along with Derek Jeter and Jorge Posada, became the first trio of teammates in each of the four major sports (MLB, NBA, NFL, NHL) to play together in each of 17 straight seasons.
- Has been selected to 12 All-Star teams, joining teammate Derek Jeter as the only players to be named to the All-Star team with their current team at least 10 times, according to the Elias Sports Bureau…both players are tied with Elston Howard (12) for fourth-most selections in franchise history, trailing Mickey Mantle (20), Yogi Berra (18) and Joe DiMaggio (13)…his 12 All-Star selections are tied with Tom Seaver for second-most all time for a pitcher, trailing only Warren Spahn (17)…owns four career All-Star saves, most all time.
- Owns a career save conversion rate of 83.0% in March/April (83-for-100), compared to a 90.4% mark over the remainder of the year (520-for-575).
- Converted 51 straight saves at home from 8/18/07-4/30/10, tied with Eric Gagne (51 straight from 8/28/02-7/1/04) for the longest such streak all time (credit: Elias).
- Is the all-time leader in Interleague saves with 68…since blowing a save on 7/14/01 at Florida, has converted 43 of his last 45 save chances in Interleague play, including 24 straight from 6/20/06-6/29/11 (credit: Elias)…had converted 26 straight save chances against the NL (including two in the 2009 WS), tying Troy Percival for the second-longest streak of consecutive Interleague saves all time, trailing only Eric Gagne (29 straight).
- Recorded his 1,000th strikeout on 9/18/09 at Seattle, at which time he had walked just 255 batters in his career…according to Elias, only three pitchers since 1900 (Shane Reynolds-233; Ben Sheets-247; and Billy Wagner-255) had as many or fewer walks at the time of their 1,000th strikeout.
- According to the Elias Sports Bureau, his 230 saves at the original Yankee Stadium are the most by any one pitcher in any one ballpark.
- Has 42 career postseason saves—including 11 in the World Series—both Major League records…his 24 World Series appearances are the most all time…owns a 0.70 ERA (141.0IP, 11ER) in 96 postseason games, the lowest ERA all-time (min. 30.0IP) and the most postseason appearances for any pitcher in Major League history…owns 14 career 2.0-inning saves in the postseason.
- Held opponents scoreless in 33.1 consecutive postseason innings from 9/29/98 (ALDS Game 1)-10/13/00 (ALCS Game 3), marking the longest postseason scoreless stretch by any pitcher in Baseball history.
- Has allowed just 2HR in 141.0 career postseason innings (Cleveland's Sandy Alomar Jr in 1997 ALDS Game 4 and the Mets' Jay Payton in 2000 World Series Game 2).
- Leads all Major Leaguers with 39 appearances and 18 saves during the ALDS…has also pitched in a Major League-high 33 ALCS games, collecting an all-time-record 13 saves.

- Has recorded the final out in 16 of the last 18 Yankees postseason series clinching wins since the 1998 ALDS.
- Only two pitchers have recorded a postseason save at an older age than Rivera – Dennis Eckersley (4 times, oldest was at 42 yrs, 9 days in the 1996 NLCS) and Dick Hall (41 yrs, 14 days in the 1971 World Series).

- Was 1-2 with 44 saves (in 49 opportunities) and a 1.91 ERA (61.1IP, 13ER) in 64 relief appearances with the Yankees…tied his 2009 mark for the fifth-highest single-season saves total in franchise history…all five blown saves came on the road…ranked second in the AL—trailing only Detroit's Jose Valverde (47 saves)—and was fifth in the Majors in saves…ranked 10th in the Majors in ERA (fourth in the AL)…opponents batted .215 (47-for-219, 3HR); LH .240 (25-for-104, 2HR), RH .191 (22-for-115, 1HR)…retired 50-of-64 first batters faced (78.1%)…prevented 11-of-17 inherited runners from scoring (64.7%)…appeared in consecutive games 12 times and three straight games three times…the Yankees were 53-11 in games he appeared in.

- Was perfect in converting save opportunities at home (23-for-23) for the fourth time in the last six seasons (also 20-for-20 in 2006; 17-for-17 in 2008 and 24-for-24 in 2009)…held opponents scoreless in his first 21 home appearances of the season (21.0IP, 10H, 1BB, 17K)…was three games shy of the record for most consecutive scoreless home appearances to start at season shared by George Sherrill (2007, SEA), Steve Kline (2004, STL) and Graeme Lloyd (1998, NYY).
- At 41 years old, became the oldest player in Baseball history to save at least 40 games in a season…became one of just three pitchers ever to register as many as 15 saves in a season at age 41 or older (also St. Louis' Dennis Eckersley-30 in 1996, 36 in '97 and Milwaukee's Trevor Hoffman-37 in '09)—credit: Elias Sports Bureau.
- Was named to his 12th All-Star team on 7/3, but was unable to attend the game…received four fifth-place votes in Cy Young balloting…also tabbed as the AL's top reliever on the Sporting News 2011 All-Star Team.
- Made his 16th career Opening Day roster, most among all current Yankees…in 3/31 Opening Day win vs. Detroit, tossed a perfect ninth inning for his third career Opening Day save—most in franchise history—and sixth save in a Yankees home opener.
- Earned his second save of the season in 4/2 win vs. Detroit, retiring his only batter faced (0.1IP) to save the Yankees' first two games of the season for the first time since 2000.
- With his saves on 3/31 and 4/2 vs. Detroit and 4/4 and 4/7 vs. Minnesota, saved each of the Yankees first four wins of a season for the second time in his career (also 2000).
- Tossed a scoreless 10th inning on 4/14 vs. Baltimore to earn his only win of the season (1.0IP, 1H).
- Recorded back-to-back blown save chances in 4/19 loss at Toronto (1.0IP, 4H, 2ER, 1BB, 1WP) and 4/24 win at Baltimore (1.1IP, 2H, 1ER, 1BB, 2K)…marked the eighth time in his career—and fourth in April—he blew consecutive save opportunities and first overall since 4/15-20/07…prior to 4/19, had not allowed a run in his previous 19 April appearances (since 4/30/09), tossing 17.1 scoreless IP with 14 saves over the stretch (8H, 2BB, 17K).
- Earned his ninth save in 4/30 win vs. Toronto, marking his most saves ever in a season prior to 5/1.
- Earned a save in three straight games (4/30 and 5/1 wins vs. Toronto and 5/2 win at Detroit) for the 29th time in his career and on three straight days for the 22nd time in his career (each first since 7/17-19/09).
- Made his 1,000th career appearance in 5/25 win at Toronto, tossing a scoreless ninth (1.0IP, 1H, 1K)…became the 15th pitcher in Baseball history to reach the 1,000-games plateau and first to do so with the same team—credit: Elias .
- Retired the final batter of 6/4 win at Los Angeles-AL—on one pitch—to record his 15th save…was his second career one pitch save (also 8/7/05 at Toronto).
- Allowed a solo HR to Reed Johnson to lead off the ninth inning of 6/18 win at Chicago-NL, marking his first HR surrendered since 9/19/10 at Baltimore (Luke Scott) and just his third HR allowed since the start of 2010 (87.1IP).
- Recorded his fourth blown save of the season in 7/3 loss at the Mets, allowing 2H and 1ER in the ninth (1.0IP, 1BB, 1K)…snapped a stretch of 16 straight converted save chances against the Mets since July 1999, and 26 consecutive converted save chances against the NL (24 during the regular season and two in the 2009 WS).
- Allowed at least one run in three straight games from 8/7-11, doing so for the eighth time in his career as a reliever (first since 9/19-26/10)…also allowed at least one extra-base hit in each of those three outings, matching his career-long streak as a reliever (fourth time, first since 5/16-21/10)…allowed a home run in two consecutive games (8/9 and 8/11 vs. Los Angeles-AL) for the fourth time in his career as a reliever (first since 4/24-29/09).
- Allowed two-run HR to Bobby Abreu in 8/9 loss vs. Los Angeles-AL…according to ESPN Stats and Information, marked just the second time in his career he surrendered a homer to a former teammate (also 7/18/98 to Toronto's Mike Stanley).
- Following that outing, converted each of his final 15 save opportunities of the season (8/11-9/21)…in 18 total games over the span, allowed just 2ER in 17.0IP (1.06 ERA, 8H, 3BB, 1HR, 21K).
- Retired 17 consecutive batters from 8/11-29…had the span snapped with Ortiz's double to lead off the ninth inning of 8/30 win at Boston.
- Earned his 600th career save in 9/13 win at Seattle, tossing a scoreless ninth (1.0IP, 1H, 2K).

- Tossed 13.1 scoreless innings in 10 postseason appearances and was 6-for-6 in save opportunities…saved three of the Yankees' four wins vs. San Diego in the World Series…earned his first career World Series save in the Yankees' 9-6 victory in Game 1 at Yankee Stadium…completed the Yankees' sweep with a save in Game 4 at San Diego, retiring Mark Sweeney on a ground ball to third base for the final out.

- Took over as the Yankees' full-time closer, going 6-4 with a 1.88 ERA and 43 saves in 66 relief appearances…ranked second among American League relievers in ERA and saves…also led the AL in save opportunities (52), ranked sixth in games finished (56) and batting average with runners in scoring position (.151, 11-for-73) and seventh in save percentage (82.7%, 43-for-52)…opponents batted .237 (65-for-274, 5HR); LH .243 (37-for-152, 1HR), RH .230 (28-for-122, 4HR).
- Recorded saves in four straight games from 6/23-27, becoming only the third Yankees pitcher to save four consecutive games during the regular season…John Wetteland accomplished the feat twice in 1996 and Sparky Lyle did it in 1973…his 27 saves at the All-Star break were the sixth-highest total since the inception of the save rule…became the first Yankee to earn a save in the All-Star Game, tossing a perfect ninth on 7/8 at Jacobs Field in his All-Star debut…became only the sixth Yankees reliever to record 30 saves in a season with his save on 7/17 at Chicago-AL…saved both games of a doubleheader on 9/16 vs. Boston.
- Was 0-0 with a 4.50 ERA and one save in two games vs. Cleveland in the Division Series…earned his first career postseason save in the Yankees' 8-6 victory in Game 1 at Yankee Stadium…suffered a blown save in the Yankees' 3-2 loss in Game 4 at Cleveland, surrendering the game-tying home run to Sandy Alomar, Jr. in the bottom of the eighth inning.

- Was 8-3 with a 2.09 ERA and five saves in 61 appearances in his first season of full-time relief…led all Yankees pitchers in ERA and led all Yankees relievers in wins, tying for most relief wins in the American League…was the most wins by a Yankees reliever since Lee Guetterman recorded 11 victories in 1990…opponents batted just .189 (73-for-386, 1HR); LH .215 (46-for-214, 1HR), RH .157 (27-for-172, 0HR)…struck out the side (facing only three batters) four times…had at least one strikeout in 54 of his 61 appearances…first batters were 5-for-56 (.089) with 27K, 4BB and 1HBP…recorded 130 strikeouts in 107.2 innings, the most ever by a Yankees reliever (Gossage had 122 in 1978)…permitted only one home run (Baltimore's Rafael Palmiero on 6/28 at Yankee Stadium).
- Had a 26.0-inning scoreless streak from 4/19-5/21, the most by a Yankee since Steve Farr went 27.0 innings without allowing a run from 5/29-8/4/91…picked up wins vs. Minnesota on 4/26 and 4/28, tossing three no-hit innings in each game…had a streak of 15.0 consecutive hitless innings over six appearances snapped on 5/5 vs. Chicago-AL…recorded six strikeouts in three innings on 9/6 vs. Toronto, the most by a Yankees reliever in 1996.
- Was 1-0 with a 0.63 ERA in the postseason (14.1IP, 1ER)…picked up his second career postseason victory in the Yankees' 5-4, 11-inning victory in Game 1 of the ALCS vs. Baltimore.

Most Seasons With Same Team, Active Players

1. Chipper Jones ..... Atlanta 19 (1993-2011)
2. DEREK JETER ..... YANKEES 17 (1995-2011)
   MARIANO RIVERA..... YANKEES 17 (1995-2011)

According to the Elias Sports Bureau, Derek Jeter, Mariano Rivera and Jorge Posada became the first trio of teammates in MLB, NBA, NFL and NHL history to appear in at least one game together in each of 17 consecutive seasons in 2011…the second-longest trios in Yankees franchise history played 13 years together (Bill Dickey, Lefty Gomez and Red Ruffing from 1930-42; and Whitey Ford, Elston Howard and Mickey Mantle from 1955-67).

Elias also notes that Rivera and Jeter, in 2012, will become the first pair of players to be teammates in 18 or more consecutive seasons since Alan Trammell and Lou Whitaker with the Detroit Tigers, who were together 19 straight seasons from 1977-95.

The first game in which Derek Jeter and Mariano Rivera appeared together was Sept. 28, 1996 at Fenway Park. Jeter started and went 0-for-4. LHP Andy Pettitte also appeared in his first career game with the trio that day, starting and going 2.0IP. Ramiro Mendoza picked up the win, Rivera pitched 1.0IP and earned the hold, and John Wetteland earned his 43rd save. Posada also pinch-hit in the contest, striking out. The Yankees won, 4-2, and the losing pitcher was Roger Clemens.

- Was 4-0 with one save and a 1.08 ERA in a team-high 70 relief appearances with the Yankees in 2011…led all American League relievers and ranked second in the Majors in ERA trailing only Atlanta's Eric O'Flaherty (0.98)…held opponents scoreless in 63 of his appearances.
- Opponents batted .170 (40-for-235, 1HR), marking the ninth-lowest average among ML relievers; LH .156 (19-for-122, 0 HR), RH .186 (21-for-113, 1HR)…retired 52-of-70 first batters faced (74.3%)…prevented 34-of-44 inherited runners from scoring (77.3%)…appeared in consecutive games 13 times and three straight games twice (5/25-28 and 9/13-16)…the Yankees were 43-27 in games he appeared in, including a 15-6 mark over his final 21 outings…61 of his relief outings were at 1.0IP or less (85.9%).
- Led all AL relievers and ranked fourth in the Majors with 100K…marked the most strikeouts by a Yankees reliever since Mariano Rivera in 1996 (130), also marking the last time a Yankee led AL relievers in K's (credit: Elias)…ranked fourth in the Majors (second in the AL) with 13.50 K/9.0IP, striking out at least one batter in 60 of his 70 outings…marked the highest K/9.0IP ratio by a Yankees reliever in franchise history…became the third pitcher all time to fan at least 100 batters while throwing less than 70.0IP, joining Billy Wagner (1997 w/Houston and 2010 w/Atlanta) and Joel Hanrahan (2010 w/Pittsburgh).
- Opponents batted .053 (1-for-19) with 14K with the bases loaded…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, the 14K with the bases loaded matched the most by any pitcher in the last 35 seasons (Nolan Ryan, 1977 Angels and Mark Littell, 1978 Cardinals)…held opponents to a .140 (13-for-93) batting average with runners in scoring position and a .174 (8-for-46) average with RISP and two outs… held opponents hitless in their last 23AB with men on base to close out the season.
- Allowed just 1ER (a J.J. Hardy solo HR on 8/29 at Baltimore) in 36 appearances on the road (0.25 ERA, 36.0IP, 18H, 18BB, 52K).
- Held opponents homerless over a franchise-record 71 appearances (68.0IP) from 8/31/10-8/28/11 (Game 2), surpassing Mariano Rivera's 61-game homerless stretch from 8/19/05-7/17/06…had the streak snapped with Hardy's HR on 8/29 at Baltimore.

- Was named to his first career All-Star Game, tossing a scoreless second inning (1.0IP, 1H, 1K) for the American League in the 5-1 NL victory on 7/12.
- Held opponents scoreless in his first 28 road outings (28.2IP, 15H, 12BB, 41K) from 4/8-8/28 (Game 2), surpassing Mariano Rivera's (24 straight to open 2005) to establish a Major League record.
- Made his second career Opening Day roster and held opponents scoreless in his first 10 appearances of the season from 4/2-26, allowing 8H in 8.1IP (2BB, 10K).
- Entered 4/5 loss vs. Minnesota with the bases loaded and two outs in the eighth inning and allowed all three inherited runners to score to record his first blown save (0.1IP, 1H, 1K)…retired all 18 opposing batters with the bases loaded over the remainder of the season.
- Earned his first win of the season—on his 26th birthday—on 4/9 at Boston, retiring all five batters and stranding both inherited runners (1.2IP, 1K).
- Surrendered his first run of the season in 4/29 loss vs. Toronto, allowing 2ER in 1.0IP (1H, 2BB, 2K)…made his first career error on an errant throw to second base in the sixth inning, allowing Rajai Davis to score from third base.
- Held opponents scoreless in 26 of his final 27 appearances of the season, beginning on 7/26, allowing just 11H and 1ER over the 26.2IP stretch with 37K (9BB, .128 opponents batting average)…span was bookended by a pair of 13-game scoreless streaks from 7/26-8/28 and 9/1-28.
- Did not allow a run in 13 September outings, surrendering just 4H and striking out 19 batters over his final 13.1IP this season (6BB, 1HP).
- Closed out 9/3 win vs. Toronto with 2.0 scoreless innings to earn his third career save.
- Earned the win in the AL East-clinching victory in 9/21 Game 2 win vs. Tampa Bay to improve to 4-0…entered the game with one out and the bases loaded and induced a Zobrist double play on his first pitch…was his third career one-pitch win (also 7/22/08 vs. Minnesota and 6/4/09 vs. Texas), tied with Brian Shouse for most in the Majors since the start of 2008.
- Appeared in two ALDS games vs. Detroit, tossing 2.0 scoreless IP.

HOUDINI

RHP David Robertson has faced 48 batters with the bases loaded in his career, with 24K in those situations, including 14K in 19 such PA in 2011…according to Elias, the 14K in such situations matched the most by any pitcher from 1977-2011 (also Nolan Ryan, 1977 Angels and Mark Lettell, 1978 Cardinals)…allowed just 1H in 19 opponents plate appearances with the bases loaded in 2011…struck out 10 consecutive batters faced with the bases loaded during the 2011 season, becoming the only Major League pitcher since 1965 to register 10 straight bases-loaded strikeouts in a single season, according to Elias.

- Was 4-5 with one save and a 3.82 ERA in 64 relief appearances with the Yankees, striking out 71 batters in 61.1IP…opponents batted .258 (59-for-229, 5HR); LH .268 (26-for-97, 2HR), RH .250 (33-for-132, 3HR)…retired 43-of-64 first batters faced (67.2%)…prevented 23-of-33 inherited runners from scoring (69.7%)…appeared in consecutive games 10 times and three straight games twice…ranked seventh among all AL relievers with 10.42K/9.0IP…of his 64 relief outings, 48 were 1.0 inning or less (75.0%)…50 of his 64 outings were scoreless.
- Allowed 11ER over his first 10 appearances from 4/4-5/7 (7.1IP)…in 54 appearances from 5/8 through the end of the season, posted a 2.50 ERA (54.0IP, 15ER)…held opponents scoreless in 45 of those 54 outings.
- Tossed a season-high 2.0 scoreless IP (2BB, 2K, 1BK) in 5/16 loss vs. Minnesota…faced three batters before being removed from 5/29 loss vs. Cleveland with a mild lower back strain…did not pitch for six days.
- Earned his first win of the season on 7/4 vs. Toronto, tossing a scoreless 10th inning (1.0IP, 1H, 1BB, 1IBB, 1K)…was the first of 19 consecutive scoreless appearances from 7/4-8/21 (18.1IP, 9H, 8BB, 24K)…according to Elias, held opponents hitless in 23 consecutive at-bats prior to Willie Bloomquist's ninth-inning double on 8/12 at Kansas City, the longest such streak of his career.
- Earned his second career save in 8/12 win at Kansas City, recording the final out of the game.
- Appeared in six postseason games, allowing 6ER in 3.1IP…surrendered 5ER in 10/18 ALCS Game 3 loss at Texas.

- Was 2-1 with one save and a 3.30 ERA (43.2IP, 16ER) in 45 relief appearances over three stints with the Yankees (4/16; 4/24-5/9; 5/26-10/4)…opponents batted .216 (36-for-167, 4HR); LH .189 (14-for-74, 2HR), RH .237 (22-for-93, 2HR)…stranded 16-of-25 inherited runners (64.0%)…retired 34-of-45 first batters faced (75.6%).
- Had a 12.98K/9.0IP ratio (43.2IP, 63K)…among pitchers with at least 40.0IP, marked the second-best K/9.0IP ratio in the Majors behind the Dodgers' Jonathan Broxton (13.50).
- Was recalled from Triple-A Scranton/Wilkes-Barre prior to the Yankees' first-ever regular season game at Yankee Stadium on 4/16…made his first appearance of the season in the loss that day vs. Cleveland, striking out three batters in 2.0 scoreless innings (2H)…was optioned back to Scranton/WB the next day…recalled a second time on 4/24 when RHP Chien-Ming Wang was placed on the D.L…appeared in four games (2.2IP, 2H, 3R, 2ER, 4BB, 4K) before being optioned back to Scranton/WB.

- Was recalled a third time on 5/26 and pitched out of the Yankees bullpen for the remainder of the season…did not allow a run in any of his first seven appearances following his third recall (5.0IP, 2H, 2BB, 6K).
- Threw one pitch (Elvis Andrus flyout to LF) to earn his first win of the season on 6/4 vs. Texas…was his second career one-pitch win (also 7/22/08 vs. Minnesota).
- Held opposing left-handed batters hitless in 18 consecutive at-bats from 4/25-6/18.
- Struck out three batters in 0.2IP in 8/6 win vs. Boston, becoming the first Yankee to record at least three strikeouts without completing a full inning of work since Ron Davis on 9/17/80 vs. Toronto (0.2IP, 3K).
- Was shut down for three weeks from 9/6-28 with elbow stiffness…had an MRI on 9/7 and was seen by Dr. James Andrews in Pensacola, Fla., on 9/10.
- Began the year at Scranton/WB, going 0-3 with two saves and a 1.84 ERA (14.2IP, 3ER, 6BB, 25K) in eight outings.
- Did not allow a run in five appearances during the 2009 playoffs, tossing 5.1 scoreless innings (4H, 3BB, 3K)…earned the win in each of his first two postseason appearances (Game 2 of ALDS vs. Minnesota and Game 2 of ALCS vs. Los Angeles-AL), as the Yankees recorded "walk-off" wins in each contest.
- In his first career postseason appearance in Game 2 of ALDS vs. Minnesota, escaped a bases-loaded, no out jam in the top of the 11th inning without allowing any runs (Yankees won in the bottom of the frame on Teixeira's "walk-off" HR).

- Was 4-0 with a 5.34 ERA in 25 relief appearances over two stints with the Yankees (6/28-8/28; 9/13-28)…opponents batted .257 (29-for-113, 3HR); LH .259 (14-for-54, 0HR), RH .254 (15-for-59, 3HR)…retired 16-of-25 first batters faced (64.0%)…prevented 6-of-14 inherited runners from scoring (42.9%)…pitched in three consecutive games twice (7/13-18 and 8/24-27)…tossed a season-high 2.0 innings on six occasions.
- Was signed to a Major League contract and selected to the Yankees' 25-man roster on 6/28…made his ML debut in 6/29 loss at the Mets, allowing 1ER in 2.0IP (4H, 1K)…struck out his first batter faced (Oliver Perez).
- Held left-handed batters hitless over 16AB from 6/29-7/21 (9G) before Luke Scott's leadoff single in the sixth on 7/28 vs. Baltimore.
- Pitched a scoreless 12th inning and recorded his first Major League victory on 7/19 vs. Oakland (1.0IP, 1H, 1BB, 1K) after Jose Molina was hit by a pitch with the bases loaded, bringing in the game-winning run.
- Recorded his second Major League victory (within a four-game span) on 7/22 vs. Minnesota, stranding two inherited runners and getting the final out in the sixth on one pitch.
- In 7/28 loss vs. Baltimore, allowed a grand slam to Adam Jones and set a career high with 5ER…was his first HR allowed as a professional after 148.1 career IP (minors-136.0IP from 2007-08 and Majors-12.1IP).
- Allowed 16ER over 10 outings (13.1IP) from 7/28-8/27 and was optioned to Scranton/WB on 8/28.
- Was recalled from Scranton/WB on 9/13…did not allow a run over four appearances in his second stint (4.2IP, 2H, 3BB, 7K).
- In 53.2 combined minor league innings with Scranton/WB and Double-A Trenton, went 4-0 with three saves and a 1.67 ERA over 30 relief appearances (28H, 13R, 10ER, 23BB, 77K).
- Made three postseason relief outings with IL-champion SWB, allowing 3ER in 4.1IP (6.23 ERA, 2H, 4BB, 6K).
- Named the International League's "Best Reliever" in Baseball America's 2008 Best Tools survey.

- In his first professional season, pitched at Single-A Charleston, Single-A Tampa and Double-A Trenton, combining to go 8-3 with four saves and a 0.96 ERA in 44 relief appearances (32BB, 113K).
- Ranked third among minor league relievers, with a .154 opponents batting average…was named to the South Atlantic League's midseason All-Star team (w/ Charleston)…39 of his 44 outings were 2.0 innings and all but two were more than 1.0 inning…held opponents scoreless in 35 of his appearances and did not allow a hit in 16 of his games…converted on four of five save opportunities.
- Was 5-2 with three saves and a 0.77 ERA (47.0IP, 4ER) in 24 appearances with Charleston…began his career with 10 consecutive scoreless outings from 4/3-5/3, allowing just 7H in 18.1IP (6BB, 27K).
- Went 3-1 with one save and a 1.08 ERA with Tampa…did not allow an earned run in nine appearances at home (17.1IP, 8H, 2R, 9BB, 12K).
- Made two regular season appearances with Trenton, allowing 1ER in 4.0IP (2.25 ERA)…appeared in two postseason games for the Eastern League champion Thunder, surrendering 2ER in 5.0IP (3.60 ERA) and striking out five batters.

First-Place Finishes

The Yankees recorded their 47th first-place finish in 2011…set an American League record with nine consecutive first-place finishes from 1998-2006…their 47 overall first-place finishes, including the strike-shortened 1981 season when they won the first-half AL East title, are the most among all the teams in the four major sports.

- Hit .286 (127-for-444) with 17 doubles, 1 triple, 30HR, 100RBI and 14SB in 124 games (113 starts at 3B, nine at DH) with the Yankees…missed 28 team games at the beginning of the season due to injury…became the 12th player all time to reach 30HR and 100RBI in a season in which he played fewer than 125G, first since Manny Ramirez in 2002.
- The Yankees went 90-44 (.672) following his return from the disabled list on 5/8, marking the best winning percentage in the Majors over the stretch…ranked second in the American League in RBI and tied for second in the AL in home runs after coming off the D.L., trailing only teammate Mark Teixeira.
- Was involved in scoring or driving in the game-winning or tying run in six of the Yankees' 15 "walk-off" innings in 2009 (two game-ending home runs, one game-tying home run, two game-winning runs scored and hit a pop-up resulting in a two-run "walk-off" error vs. the Mets)…batted .310 (18-for-58) with 8HR and 21RBI in "close and late" situations, tying for second-most HR in the Majors in such situations.
- According to Elias, 15 of his 30HR either tied the game or put the team ahead…had 12HR in the seventh inning or later, seven of which tied the game or put the Yankees ahead…51 of his 100RBI tied the game or put the team ahead, tying for second in the AL with 29 go-ahead RBI…had 33RBI in the seventh inning or later, 15 of which tied the game or put the team ahead.
- Became the third Yankee to reach the 100RBI plateau in fewer than 125 games in a season (also Joe DiMaggio in 1939 and Bill Dickey in 1936).

- Was placed on the 15-day D.L. from 4/4–5/8 (retroactive to 3/27)…missed 28 team games…underwent arthroscopic surgery on 3/9 to repair his right hip labrum, remove an impingement in the joint and drain a cyst in the hip…the procedure was performed by Dr. Marc Philippon at the Vail Valley Surgery Center in Vail, Colo…the cyst and tear were discovered during an MRI taken on 2/28…cyst was originally drained on 3/5.
- In 44 plate appearances during rehab assignment from 4/30-5/7, was 7-for-36 (.194) with 3HR, 8BB and 8K…reported to Tampa on 4/13 to continue his rehab program…was selected to participate in the World Baseball Classic with the Dominican Republic, but was unable to play (hip surgery).
- Missed the Opening Day active roster for the first time since 1995, snapping a stretch of 13 straight Opening Day starts.
- Hit three-run HR on his first pitch seen of the season and was 1-for-4 in 5/8 win at Baltimore…became the first Yankee to homer on the first pitch of his first plate appearance of a season since Andy Phillips on 9/26/04 at Boston, in the first PA of his Major League career…was the second time that Rodriguez hit a HR in his first AB of a season (also 2006).
- Seven of his first 10 hits after returning from the disabled list on 5/8 were home runs…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, was the first Yankee in franchise history to collect 7HR within his first 10H of the season.
- Homered on four straight days from 5/16-19, marking the eighth time in his career he homered in at least four consecutive games…according to Elias, his five streaks of four straight games with a HR as a Yankee tie him with Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig and Yogi Berra for the most in franchise history.
- Hit 6HR on the Yankees' 10-game homestand from 5/15-24, matching his most HR hit during any homestand in his Major League career (third time).
- Reached the 14-year anniversary of his first HR (Tom Gordon on 6/12/95 w/ Seattle vs. Kansas City) with 561 homers…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, his career total of within 14 years of hitting his first were most all time…the next-highest such home run totals were Mark McGwire (552) and Sammy Sosa (539).
- Hit two-run HR—the 564th of his career to surpass Reggie Jackson for 11th place on Baseball's all-time list—in 6/26 win at the Mets.

- Hit two-run "walk-off" HR in the 15th inning of 8/7 win vs. Boston, becoming the fifth player in Baseball history to hit a "walk-off" HR in the 15th inning or later to break a scoreless tie, joining Old Hoss Radbourn in 1882 w/ Providence (18th inning), Earl Averill in 1935 w/ Cleveland (15th inning), Willie Mays in 1963 w/ San Francisco (16th inning) and Adrian Garrett in 1975 w/ Chicago-NL (16th inning)—credit: Elias Sports Bureau…was his ninth career extra-inning HR.
- The homer snapped a single-season career-high 72AB homerless stretch dating back to 7/19 (third-longest of career).
- Two games later, hit the go-ahead solo-HR in the seventh in 8/9 win vs. Boston…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, became the first player in Major League history to snap scoreless ties by hitting home runs in the seventh inning or later twice in one series.
- Recorded his 2,500th hit with a fifth-inning single in 9/2 win at Baltimore, becoming the 78th player all time to reach the hit total…according to the Elias Sports Bureau - at the age of 34 years, 37 days old – became the third-youngest player to reach the 2,500H plateau in the Expansion era, behind Hank Aaron (33 years, 127 days) and Robin Yount (33 years, 289 days)…among active players, only teammate Derek Jeter (1,999G) collected his 2,500th hit in fewer games than him (2,141G).
- Was ejected for the fifth time in 9/13 win vs. Baltimore in the middle of the fifth by Marty Foster for arguing balls and strikes.
- Homered twice in the sixth inning of the Yankees' regular season finale win at Tampa Bay on 10/4, with a three-run home run and a grand slam…the 7RBI marked the most in a single inning in American League history…became the second player in the modern era (since 1900) to drive in seven-or-more runs in an inning (also Fernando Tatis—8RBI on 4/23/99 vs. Los Angeles-NL)…became just the third player in the last 55 years (since 1955) to collect at least 7RBI in a season finale, joining Philadelphia's Dick Allen (7RBI in 1968) and Minnesota's Kirby Puckett (7RBI in 1994 on the day before the strike took effect)…became the 10th player since 1900 to hit two home runs in one inning, one of which was a grand slam…was the second time in his career he has homered twice in the same inning (also 9/5/07 vs. Seattle), marking the sixth time a Yankee has homered twice in the same frame and becoming the first Yankee to accomplish the feat twice in pinstripes.
- Hit .365 (19-for-52) with 15R, 5 doubles, 6HR and 18RBI in the postseason, leading the team in average, runs, home runs, RBI and tying for tops in doubles…hit three game-tying HR in the seventh inning or later in the 2009 postseason, the most such HR ever for a player in their postseason career (credit: Elias)…hit ninth-inning, two-run home run (off Joe Nathan) to tie game in Game 2 win of ALDS vs. Minnesota and solo HR (off Carl Pavano) to tie game in seventh inning of Game 3 ALDS clincher at Minnesota…tied the game with a solo HR (off Brian Fuentes) in the 11th inning of ALCS Game 2 win vs. Los Angeles-AL…matched Bernie Williams (6HR in 1996) for the most HR in a single postseason in franchise history, and was 1HR shy of tying the AL record (7-ANA Troy Glaus-2002 and TB B.J. Upton-2008)…his solo HR on 10/31/09 in Game 4 of World Series at Philadelphia became the first playoff homer to be reviewed by video replay.

- His 143 runs scored were the highest single-season total in the AL since the Yankees' Rickey Henderson scored 146 runs in 1985 and was the second-highest single-season total by a Yankee in the last 70 years (since 1938).
- Drove in 100 runs through the club's first 99 games of the season…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, became the first Yankee to reach the 100-RBI mark in fewer than 100 "team games" into a season since 1937, when both Joe DiMaggio (91 games) and Lou Gehrig (96 games) did so.
- His 24 stolen bases were the most for any player from the cleanup spot in the batting order since Preston Wilson stole 36 bases from that spot for the 2000 Marlins…became just the fourth player all-time to record at least 50HR and at least 20SB in a single season, joining Willie Mays (1955, New York Giants), Brady Anderson (1996, Baltimore) and Ken Griffey, Jr. (1998, Seattle).
- Hit two-run HR—his third career Opening Day home run and second as a Yankee—and was 2-for-5 with 2R and 1SB in 4/2 win vs. Tampa Bay…was his fourth straight Opening Day start at 3B for the Yankees and 12th Opening Day start of his career.
- Hit two-run HR and "walk-off" grand slam in the ninth inning in 4/7 win vs. Baltimore…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, became the third player in franchise history to hit a game-ending grand slam with the Yankees trailing when they came to the plate: also Jason Giambi in 2002 vs. Minnesota and Babe Ruth in 1925…marked only the eighth time in franchise history that the Yankees won a game with a "walk-off" grand slam…was his third career "walk-off" grand slam (first as a Yankee).

Century City

Alex Rodriguez drove in at least 100 runs while playing fewer than 140 games in each of three straight seasons from 2008-10… the only other players ever to have three such consecutive seasons were Joe DiMaggio (1939-41) and Chick Hafey (1928- 30)… joins DiMaggio as the only players to also have at least 30HR in each of those three seasons—credit: Elias.

- According to Elias, became only the second player in AL history to hit 6HR through his team's first seven games, joining Ken Griffey, Jr. (1997)…became the first player in Yankees franchise history to hit 7HR in the team's first 10 games of the season and 8HR in the first 12 games…hit 12HR in the first 15 games of the season, joining Mike Schmidt (12HR in the first 15 games of 1976) as the fastest players in Major League history to reach 12HR.
- Drove in 16 runs in his first eight games of the season (4/2-11), the most RBI for any AL player through his club's first eight games of a season since Minnesota's Brant Alyea in 1970 (credit: Elias)…drove in 31 runs in the first 16 games, most of any Major Leaguer over any 16-game span since Sammy Sosa had 32 in May/June 1998.
- According to the Elias Sports Bureau, became the first player in Yankees history (and the only Major Leaguer since 1958) to collect an extra-base hit in each of his team's first eight games of a season…his streak of 11 straight regular season games with an extra base hit (dating back to 2006) was the longest for any player in franchise history, breaking the mark of 10 straight shared by Don Mattingly (1987) and Paul O'Neill (2001).
- Hit three-run "walk-off" HR in the ninth inning—his third home run in a three-game span—and was 1-for-5 in 4/19 win vs. Cleveland…was his second "walk-off" home run of the season (also 4/7 vs. Baltimore) and seventh of his career (fourth as a Yankee)…according to Elias, became the fourth player in Major League history to hit two "walk-off" home runs so early in the season (through his team's first 14 games), joining Pat Burrell (nine games in 2002), Robin Yount (12 games in 1991) and Tommy Henrich (12 games in 1949)…is only the third player in Yankees history to hit a pair of "walk-off" homers within a span of five home games at any point in a season, joining Babe Ruth (August 1922) and Claudell Washington (September 1988) who each hit two "walk-off" home runs in three-game spans.
- In his 18th game, on 4/23 at Tampa Bay, became the fastest player in Major League history to reach 14HR to begin a season (previous record was held by Albert Pujols, who hit 14HR in the first 24 games of 2006)…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, only two players hit more than 14HR over an 18-game span for their team at any point during a season: Sammy Sosa in 1998 (16) and Barry Bonds in 2001 (15)…three others also hit 14 over a period of 18 games (Rudy York, 1937 Tigers; Albert Belle, 1995 Indians; and Mark McGwire, 1998 Cardinals).
- Began the season with an 18-game hitting streak, the longest hitting streak by an American Leaguer to start a season since George Brett hit safely in his first 19 games of the 1983 season…dating back to 2006, hit safely in a career-high 23 straight games.
- Was named the AL "Player of the Month" for April, hitting .355 (33-for-93) and leading the Majors with 14HR, 34RBI and 27R in 23 games…tied the mark for most home runs hit in April (also Albert Pujols in 2006) and finished 1RBI shy of Juan Gonzalez's Major League record for April (35) set in 1998 with Texas…with 14HR, fell 1HR shy of tying a career high for any calendar month (15HR with Texas in August 2003)…established a single-month career high with 34RBI (previous high was 31RBI with Texas in August 2003)…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, became the first player in Major League history to record at least 14HR and 34RBI by the end of April.
- Became the first Yankee with at least 14HR and 34RBI in any calendar month since Roger Maris in June 1961 (15HR, 35RBI)…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, the only other Yankees with more home runs in a calendar month were Babe Ruth, who did it four times (17 in September 1927; 15 in May 1928, August 1929 and June 1930), Joe DiMaggio (15 in July 1937) and Mickey Mantle (16 in May 1956)…only Harmon Killebrew (15 with the Washington Senators in May 1959) has hit more home runs in any calendar month all time among Major League third basemen.
- Hit game-winning solo-HR in the ninth and was 2-for-5 with 2RBI in 6/3 win at Boston…was his second ninth-inning, game-winning home run at Fenway Park since joining the Yankees (also 7/14/05 off Curt Schilling)…over the last 20 years, only two other Yankees have hit a game-winning homer in the ninth inning at Fenway: Bernie Williams and Alfonso Soriano (one each in 2001)…hit grand slam in the ninth—his third ninth-inning homer of the road trip—and was 2-for-4 with 1IBB in 6/7 win at Chicago-AL…according to Elias, became the second player in Yankees history to hit two grand slams in the ninth inning or later in the same season, joining Darryl Strawberry who hit two pinch-hit grand slams in 1998.

- Was named the AL "Player of the Month" for June, his second "Player of the Month" Award in 2007, fifth as a Yankee and ninth of his career—the most among American Leaguers…led the AL with 28R, 9HR, 34RBI, a .773 slugging percentage and a .496 on-base percentage, while ranking fourth with a .402 batting average…his 34RBI tied his personal best for any calendar month of his career, which he set in in April, and were the most by any Yankee in June since Roger Maris (35RBI) in 1961…no Yankee had posted as high of calendar-month numbers in average, home runs and RBI in over 50 years since Mickey Mantle batted .414 with 16HR and 35RBI in May 1956.
- Missed his first game of the season in 7/5 win vs. Minnesota (strained left hamstring)…was the only Yankee to start each of the first 81 games of 2007.
- Set personal highs for home runs (30) and RBI (86) before the All-Star break…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, Lou Gehrig (90 in 1934) is the only player in franchise history to have as many RBI at the break…was the first Yankee to lead the Majors in home runs at the All-Star break since Roger Maris in 1961 (33HR)…led the Major Leagues in runs (79), HR (30) and RBI (86) at the All-Star break, becoming the first player in the Majors to accomplish the feat since the Yankees' Mickey Mantle in 1956 (credit: Elias Sports Bureau)…also reached the All-Star break with 20HR for the Major League-record seventh consecutive season.
- Hit his 500th career HR in 8/4 win vs. Kansas City…became the 22nd player to reach the plateau…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, became the youngest player to hit 500 career home runs (32 years, 8 days), surpassing Jimmie Foxx (32 years, 338 days)…became the third player to hit his 500th HR as a Yankee (also Babe Ruth and Mickey Mantle) and only the second to hit his 500th at Yankee Stadium (Mantle on 5/14/67 off Baltimore's Stu Miller)…went 28AB between home runs #499 and #500…according to Elias, that tied Mickey Mantle for the third-longest homerless streak between #499 and #500 (Jimmie Foxx-61AB, Harmon Killebrew-43AB).
- Hit solo-HR and two-run HR in the seventh inning and was 2-for-3 with 1BB in 9/5 win vs. Seattle…hit two home runs in the same inning for the first time in his career becoming the fourth Yankee to accomplish the feat (first since Cliff Johnson in the eighth inning on 6/30/77 at Toronto).
- Homered in five consecutive games (7HR overall) from 9/4-9/9, tying a career high (also 8/11-16/99 and 8/17-21/03)…was the first Yankee to homer in five straight games since Tino Martinez did so from 5/7-11/05…joined Albert Pujols as the only Major Leaguers to homer in at least five straight games in 2007.
- On 9/28 at Baltimore, became the second player (since RBI became an official statistic in 1920) to reach 1,500 career runs and 1,500 career RBI in the same game (also Houston's Jeff Bagwell)…became the third-youngest player to reach 1,500 career RBI, behind Jimmie Foxx and Lou Gehrig (credit: Elias Sports Bureau)…came in his 1,903rd career game, marking the fourth-fewest games needed to reach the plateaus since 1920 (when RBIs became an official statistic) behind Lou Gehrig (1,715 games), Ted Williams (1,761) and Jimmie Foxx (1,850).
- Batted .267 (4-for-15) in four Division Series games vs. Cleveland with 1HR and 1RBI.

Triple Your Pleasure

The Yankees turned a triple play in the sixth inning of their April 22, 2010, loss at Oakland (5-4-3 – Alex Rodriguez to Robinson Cano to Nick Johnson on a ground ball hit by Kurt Suzuki), marking the team's first since June 3, 1968 vs. Minnesota, when the Twins' Johnny Roseboro hit into a 1-5-3 (Dooley Womack to Bobby Cox to Mickey Mantle). The Yankees had gone 6,632 regular season games between turning triple plays, during which every other Major League team had made at least one triple play and the Yankees themselves had hit into nine triple plays.

- Hit .158 (3-for-19) with 2R in nine games (four starts at C) with the Yankees as a September call-up.
- Was signed to a Major League contract and selected to the Yankees' active roster from Triple-A Scranton/Wilkes-Barre on 9/11…made his Major League debut that day at Los Angeles-AL, entering the game as a defensive replacement at catcher in the seventh inning (did not bat)…teammate Jesus Montero also made his catching debut that day (starting at the position), marking the first time in Yankees history that two players each made their first career appearance at catcher in the same game…was the first time for any Major League team since Boston's Gary Allenson and Mike O'Berry on 4/8/79 at Cleveland (credit: Elias).
- Made his first Major League start (at catcher) in 9/12 win at Seattle, going 1-for-4 with 1R…collected his first Major League hit with a seventh-inning single off Dan Cortes.
- Spent the majority of the season with Double-A Trenton, batting .286 (96-for-336) with 43R, 13 doubles, 6HR and 47RBI in 85 games…was named to the Eastern League midseason All-Star team…caught 23.9% (27-for-113) of potential base stealers with Trenton, ranking seventh in the league in caught stealing percentage.
- Represented the Yankees on the U.S. Team in the 2011 XM Futures All-Star Game on 7/10 at St. Louis, going 2-for-2 with 1R and 1RBI, driving in the go-ahead run in the 6-4 U.S. victory.
- Was promoted on 9/2 to Scranton/WB where he appeared in 4G and hit .133 (2-for-15).
- Attended spring training as a non-roster invitee with the Yankees, batting .217 (5-for-23) with 3R, 1 double, 2HR and 2RBI in 15 games.
- Following the season, was tabbed by Baseball America as the Yankees' eighth-best prospect and as the organization's "Best Defensive Catcher."

- Spent the entire season with Double-A Trenton where he batted .268 (122-for-455) with 31 doubles, 10HR and 69RBI in 115 games…matched his career high, recording 122 hits for the third straight season (2008-10)…was named to the Eastern League's midseason All-Star team.
- Recorded just 5E in 853 total chances, catching 22.7% of potential base stealers (25-of-110)…led all EL catchers in games (99), chances (853) and putouts (787).
- Hit .319 (37-for-116) with 11 doubles, 4HR and 11RBI off left-handed pitching.
- Appeared in 16 games with the Phoenix Desert Dogs of the Arizona Fall League after the season (.279, 17-for-61, 3 doubles, 7RBI), earning a spot on the Rising Star team.
- Following the season, was ranked by Baseball America as the sixth-best prospect in the Yankees organization and as the "Best Defensive Catcher."

- Was named the Yankees' "Minor League Player of the Year" and Topps Florida State League "Player of the Year," batting .276 (122-for-442) with 28 doubles, 13HR and 72RBI in 118 games for Single-A Tampa…set a career high in RBI…led the team in hits and doubles, tied for the team lead in home runs and ranked second in games played, runs scored and RBI…ranked fourth in the Florida State League in RBI and tied for fourth in doubles and extra-base hits (44).

- Did not go more than three straight games without recording a hit and went hitless in three straight contests just once (both games of a doubleheader on 4/15 and 4/16).
- Was named to the midseason and postseason FSL All-Star teams.
- Played in four games for the Surprise Rafters of the Arizona Fall League after the season, batting .400 (6-for-15) with 2R and 2RBI.
- Following the season, was named by Baseball America as the Yankees' second-best prospect.

- Batted .300 (122-for-407) with 66R, 24 doubles, 10HR and 49RBI in 104 games with Single-A Charleston…ranked second on the team and third among Yankees minor leaguers in batting average…recorded 35 multi-hit games, including 12 games with at least 3H and four contests with four hits.
- Batted .517 (15-for-29) with six multi-hit contests from 4/12-20…was placed on the D.L. from 4/23-5/22 with a right groin strain.

Thurman Munson Award

Each summer, the Cape Cod League presents the Thurman Munson Award to the player with the highest batting average in the league. The award is presented in memory of the great New York Yankee catcher and captain, whose life ended on August 2, 1979, when the private jet he was piloting crashed near his hometown of Canton, Ohio. Munson starred for the 1967 Chatham A's, for whom he batted .420. The following spring, the Yankees made him their first-round draft choice.

CAREER NOTES

- Since his debut in 2001, has a 176-96 (.647) record with a 3.51 ERA in 355 starts, marking the most wins in the Majors over the stretch…is second in IP (2,364.1) and strikeouts (2,017), tied for second in shutouts (12), and third in complete games (33) and starts (355) over the span.
- Among all active Major League pitchers, is third in strikeouts, tied for third in complete games and shutouts, fourth in wins (Tim Wakefield-200, Roy Halladay-188, Tim Hudson-176), sixth in ERA (min: 1,500.0IP), and ninth in IP and starts…among active lefthanders, is first in wins and strikeouts, second in IP, and third in winning percentage (min: 100 decisions), ERA (min: 1,000.0IP) and starts.
- Has gone 95-40 (.704) with a 3.09 ERA over the last five seasons (2007-11), leading the Majors in wins, winning pct. (min: 50 decisions), and IP (1199.0), tying for second in strikeouts (1,084) and ranking third in shutouts (8).
- Has won 19, 21, and 19 games, respectively, from 2009-11, the first Major Leaguer to win at least 19 games in three straight years since Randy Johnson (2000-02) and the first American Leaguer since Dave Stewart won 20 games in each season from 1987-90 (credit: Elias)…became just the fourth Yankee with at least 19 wins in three-or-more straight years, joining Vic Raschi (4 straight years, 1948-51); Red Ruffing (4, 1936-39); and Jack Chesboro (4, 1903-06 in the first four seasons the franchise was based in New York)…joins Chesboro as the second to accomplish the feat in his first three years with the club.
- Is the first pitcher to win at least 19 games in each of his first three seasons with a team since Oakland's Ken Holtzman, Cleveland's Gaylord Perry and the Angels' Nolan Ryan each accomplished the feat from 1972-74.
- Is the first pitcher to win least 17 games in five consecutive years (2007-11), since Randy Johnson accomplished the feat in six straight seasons from 1997-2002…over the last 35 years, the only other pitchers to accomplish the feat are Greg Maddux (1997-2001) and Roger Clemens (7 straight seasons, 1986-92) according to the Elias Sports Bureau.
- Has recorded at least 11 wins in each of his first 11 seasons to begin his Major League career, one of just five pitchers in the Modern Era (since 1900) to accomplish the feat: also Don Sutton (first 17 seasons, 1966-82), Eddie Plank (first 16 seasons, 1901-16), Tom Seaver (first 13 seasons, 1967-79) and George Mullin (first 11 seasons, 1902-12).
- Is one of just seven pitchers in the Modern Era with a winning record in each of his first 11 seasons (2001-11) in the Majors (Tim Hudson with a 13-season streak from 1999-2011 is the only other active pitcher with such a streak).
- Has tossed at least 230.0IP in each of the last five seasons (2007-11)…since 1990, just two other pitchers had streaks as long as Sabathia's: Randy Johnson (1998-2002) and Kevin Brown (1996-2000)…is the first Yankees pitcher since Ed Figueroa (1976-78) and first Yankees LHP since Fritz Peterson (1969-72) to record at least 230.0IP in three-or-more consecutive seasons.

- With 355 career starts, owns the most career starts among active pitchers who have never made a regular season relief appearance…has made at least 30 starts in 10 of his 11 big league seasons.
- Has 59 wins since joining the Yankees prior to the 2009 season, second behind Detroit's Justin Verlander (61) for most in the Majors over the span…over the same stretch, has compiled 60 starts of at least 7.0IP and 3ER-or-less, the third-most behind only Felix Hernandez (68) and Roy Halladay (63)…has posted a 3.18 ERA (705.0IP, 249ER) in 101GS since joining the Yankees, marking the second-best ERA among Yankees starters with at least 500.0 starting IP since George M. Steinbrenner became Principal Owner in 1973 (trailing only Rudy May, 3.13 ERA).
- Went 59-23 (.720) in his first 100 starts with the club…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, tied for the second-most wins by a Yankee within his first 100 games with the club (Jack Chesboro-63, Russ Ford-59), and was the most wins through 100 starts as a Yankee since Ron Guidry went 62-19 in his first 100 starts in pinstripes…Elias also notes that his 618K through his first 100GS as Yankee were the third-most in franchise history behind David Cone (673) and Ron Guidry (660).
- Is 26-7 with a 3.08 ERA (333.1IP, 114ER) and a .226 opponents average in 47 overall starts at Yankee Stadium…marks the fourth-most home wins by a Major League pitcher over the stretch (2009-11)…won 21 consecutive regular season starts at Yankee Stadium from 7/18/09-9/10/10 (16-0, 2.05 ERA)…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, tied Whitey Ford (8/8/64-8/18/65 at the original Yankee Stadium) for the longest undefeated streak of starts by a Yankee at any Stadium (home or away), and was tied for the longest home winning streak in franchise history with Johnny Allen (1932-33) and Ron Guidry (1985-86).
- Has won at least 12 games prior to the All-Star break in each of the last two seasons, going 13-4 in 2011 and 12-3 in 2010…is just the second Yankee in franchise history to win at least 12 games prior to the All-Star break in consecutive years, joining Tommy John (13-4 in 1979; 12-3 in 1980)…became just the fifth pitcher in the last 20 seasons (1992-2011) to win 12-or-more games prior to the break in consecutive seasons, joining Jack McDowell (1992-93 w/Chicago-AL), Curt Schilling (2001-02 w/Arizona), Mark Mulder (2003-04 w/Oakland) and Roy Halladay (2005-06 w/Toronto).
- Has made eight career Game 1 starts in the postseason, tying him with Whitey Ford and Roger Clemens for the second-most all time, trailing only Greg Maddux (11).

- Was 19-8 (.704) with a 3.00 ERA (237.1IP, 79ER) and 230K in 33 starts with the Yankees, marking his third consecutive season with at least 19 wins…Sabathia's ERA to four decimals was 2.996, which the Elias Sports Bureau recognizes as a sub-3.00 ERA…marks his second career sub-3.00 single-season ERA (also 2008 -2.70 in 35 starts)…became just the third Yankee since 1980 with as-many-or-more IP and a sub-3.00 ERA (Andy Pettitte in 1997, 240.1IP, 2.88 ERA; and Melido Perez in 1992, 247.2IP, 2.87 ERA).
- Finished fourth in AL Cy Young voting (63 total points), and received two sixth-place votes for AL MVP.
- Opponents batted .255 (230-for-902, 17HR); LH: .207 (51-for-246, 5HR); and RH: .273 (179-for-656,12HR)…left with a lead in 21 of 33 starts…the Yankees went 22-11 in his starts.
- Ranked among the leaders in wins (second in AL, tied for fourth in Majors), strikeouts (second in AL, fourth in Majors), winning pct. (fourth in AL, eighth in Majors), IP (fourth in AL, tied for fourth in Majors), starts (tied for sixth in AL, tied for ninth in Majors), K/BB (3.77 - sixth in AL, 13th in Majors) and ERA (ninth in AL, 17th in Majors).
- Went 11-5 with a 2.93 ERA (120.0IP, 39ER) in 17 road starts, tying Roy Halladay for the Majors' second-most road wins (Justin Verlander-14).
- Recorded 230 strikeouts, the third-highest single-season total in franchise history (Ron Guidry, 248 in 1978 and Jack Chesboro, 239 in 1904)…was the second-highest single-season total of his career (251 in 2008).
- Had five double-digit strikeout games, marking the most by a Yankee since Mike Mussina had six in 2001.
- Went 18-4 with a 2.49 ERA (206.1IP, 57ER) against all teams other than the Red Sox…went 1-4 with a 6.39 ERA (31.0IP, 22ER) vs. Boston, marking his first time losing to a team four times in one season…became the first Yankee to record four losses vs. Boston in a single season since Pat Dobson went 1-4 in 5GS in 1975…his first three losses vs. Boston were to Josh Beckett, marking the first time one pitcher defeated him three times in a single season.
- Was named to the 2011 AL All-Star team, his fifth selection (also 2003-04, '07, '10)…was unavailable to pitch.
- Made his eighth career Opening Day start and third with the Yankees on 3/31 vs. Detroit (ND – 6.0IP, 3R, 2ER, 2BB, 7K)…became the 12th pitcher in franchise history to make at least three Opening Day starts (also 2009-10), the first since Roger Clemens made four (1999, 2001, '02, '03) and first lefty since Jimmy Key (1993-95).
- Went winless over his first four starts of the year…marked the third time he failed to record a win in his first four starts of a season: also 2003 and 2008…since 2000, the only pitcher to begin a season with a streak of four consecutive winless starts after winning at least 20 games the previous season was Bartolo Colon in 2006…according to Elias, became the fifth pitcher in franchise history to go winless in his first four starts of a season with an ERA at or below 2.52: also Jack Warhop (1914), Whitey Ford (1966), Steve Barber (1968) and Joba Chamberlain (2008).

- Earned his first win of the season on 4/23 at Baltimore in a 15-3 Yankees victory.
- Took the loss on 5/14 vs. Boston, allowing a three-run HR to Adrian Gonzalez, marking just his second regular season HR allowed to a left-handed hitter at Yankee Stadium (also Baltimore's Luke Scott on 6/3/10).
- Recorded his 31st career complete game – and 24th complete-game win – on 5/24 vs. Toronto in a 5-4 Yankees "walk-off" win (9.0IP, 8H, 4ER, 1BB, 3K)…became the first Yankees starter to earn a win in a "walk-off" since LHP Andy Pettitte on 7/17/02 vs. Detroit…was the first 9.0-inning CG by a Yankees starter since he last accomplished the feat on 5/8/09 at Baltimore, snapping a streak of 341 consecutive starts without a CG of at least 9.0 innings—the longest such stretch for any team in AL history (credit: Elias).

*start came after a Yankees loss / Bold-season high / (CG) complete game

- Tossed at least 8.0IP in four straight starts from 5/19-6/4, marking his longest such stretch as a Yankee and matching his career-high streak done twice: also 8/12-29/06 and 5/7-24/06 w/Cleveland…won each of those four starts, becoming the second Yankee over the last 25 years to win at least four straight games and throw at least 8.0IP in each, joining Andy Pettitte (five straight such starts in 1995).
- Won seven straight starts from 6/14-7/16, tying the second-longest winning streak of his career (also 8/5-9/7/05).
- Tossed at least 7.0IP while allowing 1ER or less in five straight starts from 6/25-7/15, joining Steve Kline (six straight starts from 7/18-8/10/72) as the only pitchers in franchise history to record such a streak (credit: Elias).
- Allowed just 7ER over an eight-start stretch from 6/25-8/1, going 7-1 with a 1.01 ERA (62.2IP, 41H, 16BB, 78K, 2HR, .189 opp. avg.)…pitched at least 7.0 innings and allowed two or fewer ER in each of those eight starts to become the first Yankee with as long a streak since Steve Kline had nine consecutive in 1972.
- Became the Majors' first 10-game winner with a victory on 6/25 vs. Colorado…according to Elias, became the first Yankees pitcher to be first in the Majors to 10 wins in a season (tied or outright) since Tommy John in 1979…marked his 50th win as a Yankee, matching Chien-Ming Wang as the quickest to 50 wins as a Yankees starter over the last 30 years…at 50-19, became the fifth pitcher in the last 60 years with fewer than 20 losses at the time of their 50th win for the Yankees: also Whitey Ford, Ron Guidry, David Cone and Wang.
- Had three consecutive starts without allowing a run from 6/30-7/10, marking the Yankees' longest such streak since Mike Mussina from 9/19-29/02 (also 3GS).
- With his outings on 6/30 vs. Milwaukee (7.2IP, 0R, 13K) and 7/5 at Cleveland (7.0IP, 0R, 11K), he joined Ron Guidry (6/12/78 vs. Oakland-11K and 6/17/78 vs. California -18K) as the only two pitchers in franchise history to record two consecutive scoreless starts with at least 10K each, according to the Elias Sports Bureau.
- Recorded his 12th career shutout in a 1-0 win on 7/10 vs. Tampa Bay, (9.0IP, 4H, 1BB, 9K)…was his second shutout as a Yankee (also 5/8/09 at Baltimore)…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, became the first Yankee to pitch a complete game in a 1-0 win at home since Tommy John on 4/27/80 vs. Chicago-AL.
- Had a Major League-best and career-high 13 wins at the All-Star break, becoming the fifth Yankee to own the outright Major League lead in wins at the break: also Vic Raschi (13-3 in 1949), Bob Turley (12-3 in 1958), Whitey Ford (16-2 in 1961) and Ron Guidry (13-1 in 1978).

- Had a career-long 23.2-inning scoreless streak snapped in the first inning of his 7/16 win at Toronto…according to Elias, was the longest scoreless stretch by a Yankees starter since Tom Underwood in May 1980 (24.2IP).
- Struck out a career-high 14K batters and allowed just 1H in 7/26 win vs. Seattle (7.0IP, 1H, 1ER, 3BB)…retired his first 19 batters faced before allowing a one-out single to Brendan Ryan in the seventh inning…marked his longest stretch of being perfect from the start of a game…marked the most single-game strikeouts by a Yankee since David Cone fanned 14 batters on 6/7/98 vs. Florida, and the most by a Yankees LHP since David Wells struck out 16 on 07/30/97 vs. Oakland…struck out seven consecutive batters beginning with the first out of the fourth inning, marking the longest such stretch by a Yankee since Ron Davis tied the still-standing AL record with eight consecutive strikeouts on 5/4/81 at California…according to Elias, became the fifth LHP in the Live Ball Era (since 1920) to limit an opponent to 1H or less with at least 14K: also Randy Johnson (six such games), Steve Carlton (1972), Sandy Koufax (1965) and Warren Spahn (1960)…the only other Yankee to record such an outing—regular season or postseason—was Roger Clemens, who had 15K and allowed 1H at Seattle in Game 4 of the 2000 ALCS.
- Named the "AL Pitcher of the Month" for July (4-1, 0.92 ERA).
- Allowed season-highs with 7R and 7ER in 8/6 loss at Boston (6.0IP, 9H, 1BB, 6K, 1HR).
- Allowed a career high 5HR (all solo) on 8/12 vs. Tampa Bay…tied the franchise record for most HR allowed in a game (sixth time, first since David Wells on 7/4/03 vs. Boston)…is the only one to only allow all solo HRs…surrendered three solo HRs in the third (Kotchman and Shoppach back-to-back, and Damon), the second time in his career allowing 3HR in an inning (also 5/1/07 vs. Toronto, 1st inn.)…allowed 2HR to LH batters (Kotchman/Damon), matching his single-game career high (fourth time).

BIRTHDAY BOY

Had a 171-92 (.650) record before turning 31 on 7/21/11…according to Elias, prior to Sabathia, the last 10 pitchers to turn 31 with at least 167 career wins are all Hall of Famers: Bob Feller (192 wins in 1949), Hal Newhouser (191 in 1952), Robin Roberts (189 in 1957), Don Drysdale (185 in 1967), Juan Marichal (170 in 1968), Ferguson Jenkins (174 in 1974), Tom Seaver (168 in 1975), Jim Palmer (174 in 1976), Catfish Hunter (202 in 1977), and Bert Blyleven (167 in 1982)…Elias also notes that, over the past 100 years (since 1912), only five other pitchers turned 31 years old with at least 170 wins and a .650 winning percentage:

Chief Bender ..... (193-102, .654 in 1915)
Grover Alexander ..... (190-88, .683 in 1918)
Juan Marichal ..... (170, 77, .688 in 1968)
Jim Palmer ..... (174-93, .652 in 1976)

- His consecutive defeats on 8/6 at Boston and 8/12 vs. Tampa Bay marked just his third time losing consecutive starts since joining the Yankees prior to the 2009 season.
- Made his 350th career start (at age 31 yrs, 34 days) on 8/24 vs. Oakland… became the youngest pitcher to reach the milestone since Vida Blue in 1980 (31 yrs, 5 days) according to the Elias Sports Bureau…Elias also notes that only six pitchers who debuted in the last 100 years had as many wins and as high a winning pct as Sabathia (174-95, .647) over their first 350 starts: Whitey Ford (192-72, .727); Lefty Grove (214-92, .699); Pedro Martinez (185-80, .698); Juan Marichal (198-97, .671); Randy Johnson (175-93, .653) and Roger Clemens (182-99, .648)
- Defeated the Red Sox for the first time in 2011 on 8/30 at Boston (6.0IP, 10H, 2ER, 10K)…tossed 128 pitches, matching the second-highest total of his career, and the most by a Yankee since Randy Johnson (129 pitches on 7/19/06 vs. Seattle)…became the first Yankee to allow 10-or-more hits and strike out 10-or-more batters while recording a win since Ron Guidry on 6/4/84 vs. Boston (10H, 10K, 8-3 win)…tossed at least 120 pitches in three of his final five starts
- Made his 100th start and appearance as a Yankee on 9/16 at Toronto, recording a no-decision (5.2IP, 4ER).
- Went 0-1 with a 3.32 ERA (19.0IP, 7ER) over his final three starts, failing to earn win No. 20.
- Threw 4.0 simulated innings (65 pitches) on 9/25 prior to the Yankees' doubleheader vs. Boston.
- Appeared in three postseason games (2GS) in the Yankees' ALDS loss vs. Detroit, posting a 6.23 ERA (8.2IP, 10H, 6ER, 11K) with no decisions…had his Game 1 start cut short by a postponement (rain) after just 2.0IP…made his first career relief app. in Game 5 loss (1.1IP, 2H, 1ER, 2BB, 4K)…snapped a stretch of 370 consecutive regular season and postseason starts to start his career…among pitchers whose first career relief outing came in the postseason, had the third-longest streak before it was snapped (Mike Mussina - 400 starts before first relief app. in Game 7 of the 2003 ALCS vs. Boston; and John Smoltz - 380 starts before first relief app. in Game 2 of the 1999 NLCS w/ Atlanta vs. Mets).

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

Sporting News* AL Rookie Pitcher of the Year
- 2003

A.L. All-Star Team
- 2010

STATUS

- Signed by the Yankees as a free agent to a three-year contract on January 18, 2011…contract extends through the 2013 season.

CAREER

- Has limited opponents to a .190 batting average in his career as a reliever, the fourth-lowest mark among all active Major League relievers with at least 200.0IP.
- Has held right-handed batters to a .163 (138-for-848) batting average in his career, marking the fourth-lowest such average among all active pitchers (min. 100 batters faced).
- Over the 2009-10 seasons (in which he served primarily as a closer), allowed the seventh-lowest opponents batting average (.180), the seventh-fewest baserunners/9.0IP (8.61) and struck out the ninth-most batters (159) among all Major League relievers.
- Converted 38 consecutive saves at home from 9/18/07-9/24/10, marking the sixth-longest such streak all time.
- Began his career as an outfielder in the Mariners organization, before converting to pitcher prior to the 1999 season…in eight career Major League starts, is 0-3 with a 5.10 ERA (42.1IP, 24ER)…in 334 career relief appearances, has gone 11-17 with 88 saves and a 2.45 ERA (352.2IP, 96ER).

- Was 2-3 with two saves and a 4.12 ERA (39.1IP, 18ER) in 42 relief appearances in his first season with the Yankees…opponents batted .229 (33-for-144, 4HR); LH .302 (19-for-63, 2HR), RH .173 (14-for-81, 2HR)…retired 31-of-42 first batters faced (73.8%)…prevented six-of-eight inherited runners from scoring (75.0%)…appeared in consecutive games seven times, three straight games once and four straight games twice (4/16-20 and 9/13-17)…the Yankees were 28-14 in games he appeared in.
- Tossed exactly 1.0 inning in 35 of his 42 relief outings (83.3%)…held opponents scoreless in 33 of his appearances (78.6%).
- Made his seventh career Opening Day roster and first with the Yankees…tossed a perfect eighth (1.0IP, 1K) in his Yankees debut in 3/31 Opening Day win vs. Detroit.
- Tied his career high in runs allowed in a game as a reliever in 4/5 loss vs. Minnesota (third time), allowing 1H and 4ER in 0.2IP (3BB, 1K)…the 3BB allowed tied a career high and were his most ever in a relief appearance (allowed 3BB twice as a starter in 2002).
- Earned his first win as a Yankee on 4/17 vs. Texas, tossing a scoreless eighth inning (1.0IP, 1H, 1K).
- Earned his first save as a Yankee in 4/20 win at Toronto, recording the final two outs of the game (0.2IP, 1BB)…was his fourth appearance in as many games.
- Allowed a go-ahead, two-run HR to Paul Konerko in the eighth on 4/26 vs. Chicago-AL, recording his first blown save and loss of the season (1.0IP, 2H, 2ER, 1BB, 1K, 1HP, 1HR)…was his first blown save in a home game since 7/22/07 w/ Atlanta vs. St. Louis, snapping a stretch of 38 consecutive home save chances converted.
- Underwent a precautionary MRI on 5/11, revealing mild right elbow inflammation and was placed on the 15-day disabled list from 5/17 (retroactive to 5/14)–7/29 (missed 63 team games)…was transferred to the 60-day D.L. on 6/15.

- In four combined rehab outings from 7/19-25 (two games with Single-A Tampa and two games with Triple-A Scranton/Wilkes-Barre), allowed 5H and 4ER in 4.1IP (0BB, 3K, 2HR).
- Following his D.L. stint, went 1-2 with one save and a 3.33 ERA (24.1IP, 9ER)…allowed 18H and 7BB with 26K while working mostly in the seventh inning.
- Did not allow a run over an eight-appearance stretch from 9/11-25, allowing just 5H in 8.0IP (0BB, 12K)…struck out seven consecutive batters from 9/14-17.
- Allowed his only home run on the road in 2011 in the seventh inning on 9/27 at Tampa Bay (three-run HR by Matt Joyce) to suffer his third loss and third blown save (1.0IP, 1H, 3ER, 2BB, 1K).
- Made three postseason relief appearances, going 0-1 with a 1.93 ERA (4.2IP, 1ER)…allowed seventh-inning game-winning home run to Delmon Young on 10/3 at Detroit in ALDS Game 3.

- Went 3-2 with an American League-leading 45 saves (in 48 opportunities) and a 1.73 ERA in 64 relief appearances in his lone season with the Rays, setting a club record and a career high in saves…struck out 57 batters in 62.1IP with only 14BB…appeared in four straight games three times (4/30-5/4, 7/3-6 and 9/12-15).
- Held opponents to a .163 average (36-for-221, 4HR); RH (.196, 21-for-107, 2HR), LH .132 (15-for-114, 2HR)…marked the lowest batting average against RHH in the Majors (min. 100 BF)…first batters hit just .115 (7-for-61).
- Became only the fourth pitcher in Major League history to reach his totals for saves, ERA and opponents average in a single season, joining Oakland's Dennis Eckersley in 1990, Los Angeles-NL's Eric Gagne in 2003 and Florida's Armando Benitez in 2004.
- Converted 45-of-48 save opportunities (93.8%), leading the AL and ranking second in the Majors in save percentage behind San Diego's Heath Bell (94.0%, 47-for-50)…ranked third in the Majors in saves behind San Francisco's Brian Wilson (48) and Bell (47)…among AL relievers, ranked second in opponents average and third in ERA…was a perfect 22-for-22 in save opportunities at home.
- Earned his first career All-Star appearance, replacing the injured Mariano Rivera on the AL roster…threw a perfect eighth inning on only eight pitches, retiring San Diego's Adrian Gonzalez, and Cincinnati's Joey Votto and Scott Rolen on three fly balls…named to the Sporting News AL All-Star team as the league's top reliever, and won the 2010 Rolaids Relief Man of the Year Award in the AL.
- Named "DHL Delivery Man of the Month" for May, July and August…since the award was founded in 2005, no pitcher had won it multiple times in the same season…also received consideration for the AL Cy Young Award, placing eighth in the voting–the highest finish by a reliever in 2010 AL balloting.

Picture Perfect

The grandeur of the original Yankee Stadium was a much sought-out location for filming during its existence. Though no official list of which movies were shot at the House That Ruth Built exists, below is a list of films culled through research in which the Stadium was either prominently featured or used as a primary location for filming. The Stadium also appeared briefly in numerous other projects, as well as several episodes of the television series Seinfeld (1990-98).

Life's Greatest Game (1924)
The Cameraman (1928)
Fast Company (1929)
Pride of the Yankees (1942)
Woman of the Year (1942)
The Babe Ruth Story (1948)
It Happens Every Spring (1949)
The Stratton Story (1949)
Angels in the Outfield (1951)
The Winning Team (1952)
Beau James (1957)
Damn Yankees (1958)
The F.B.I. Story (1959)
Safe at Home! (1962)
Bang the Drum Slowly (1973)
Manhattan (1979)
It's My Turn (1980)
Major League (1989)
It Could Happen to You (1994)
For Love of the Game (1999)
Life (1999)
P.S. I Love You (2007)

The current Yankee Stadium has already been documented on film, appearing in The Adjustment Bureau (2011) as well as episodes of television's Extreme Makeover: Home Edition (2010), Entourage (2011) and White Collar (2012). The Stadium was also the site of Mariah Carey's music video for her 2009 song "I Want to Know What Love Is," and has been featured in a handful of commercials.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

A.L. All-Star Team
- 2010

STATUS

- Acquired by the Yankees along with RHP Kanekoa Texeira from the Chicago White Sox on November 13, 2008, in exchange for INF Wilson Betemit and RHPs Jeff Marquez and Jhonny Nunez…signed a five-year contract with a one-year club option on May 11, 2007 (w/ Oakland)…the Yankees picked up his one-year club option for 2012 on October 29, 2011.

CAREER NOTES

- Is one of three American Leaguers to hit at least 20HR in each of the last seven seasons (2005-11), joining Paul Konerko and David Ortiz.
- His 127HR since 2007 are the third-most among Major League switch-hitters over the last five years, trailing only teammate Mark Teixeira (174) and Lance Berkman (133).
- Has homered from both sides of the plate 10 times in his career…according to SABR's David Vincent, the 10 career switch-hit homers trail only teammate Mark Teixeira (12) for most among active players and are tied with Ken Caminiti, Tony Clark and Mickey Mantle for the fourth-most all-time behind Teixeira (12), Chili Davis (11) and Eddie Murray (11).
- Was the only player to hit 15 or more home runs with three different franchises from 2007-09 (22 w/ Oakland in 2007, 24 w/ Chicago-AL in 2008 and 29 w/ the Yankees in 2009)…according to Elias, the only other player to cap such a three-year streak with the Yankees was Reggie Jackson (36HR for the 1975 Athletics, 27HR for the 1976 Orioles and 32 for the 1977 Yankees).

- Hit .260 (137-for-526) with 81R, 30 doubles, 23HR, 85RBI and 95BB in 150 games (140 starts at RF, five at DH and three at 1B) with the Yankees…tied for fifth among Major League switch-hitters in home runs and ranked seventh in RBI.
- Batted .327 (52-for-159, 6HR) vs. left-handed pitching, compared to a .232 (85-for-367, 17HR) mark vs. righties…entered the season with a .260 (233-for-897) career batting average vs. LHP.
- Batted in each spot in the starting lineup from Nos. 1-8…14 of his 23HR came from the sixth spot in the batting order.
- Recorded 18HR and 58RBI in 90 games from 6/14 through the end of the season…hit just 5HR with 27RBI over his first 60 games (through 6/13).
- Had nine outfield assists, one shy of his career high set in 2010 (10).
- Made his seventh career Opening Day roster, third as a Yankee…was the only player to appear in every inning of the Yankees' first 26 games of the season (3/31-5/2).
- Collected his 500th career RBI in 4/8 loss at Boston, driving in Alex Rodriguez with a third-inning RBI groundout.
- Hit 10th-inning "walk-off" sacrifice fly in 4/14 win vs. Baltimore and was 0-for-3 with 1R, 1RBI and 1BB…was his sixth career "walk-off" RBI, fourth as a Yankee and second vs. Baltimore.

- Hit his first home run of the season in 4/28 win vs. Chicago-AL…snapped a 75AB homerless stretch to begin the season—his longest home run drought to start a season in his career…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, the stretch marked the third-longest single-season drought of his career behind only a 119AB spell w/ Oakland in 2005 and an 81AB stretch with the Yankees in 2010…was 3-for-4 with a career-high-tying 3R, 4RBI and 1BB in the game overall, snapping a career-high-tying 0-for-19 stretch with a fifth-inning single (also 19AB w/ Chicago-AL in 2008)—credit*: Elias*.
- Hit .326 (28-for-86) with 15R, 7 doubles, 7HR, 23RBI and a .651SLG in 26 games in June…entered the month batting .213 (36-for-169) with just 3HR, 20RBI, 31BB, a .335OBP and a .314SLG over his first 49 games of the season.
- Hit in the leadoff position for the first time as a Yankee—and the first time since 5/4/08 at Toronto (w/ Chicago-AL)—in 6/15 win vs. Texas, going 1-for-3 with 1R, 1 double and 2BB.
- Batted .409 (9-for-22) with 2 doubles, 2HR, 17RBI, 7BB and 3SF in 32 plate appearances with RISP from 6/16-7/6.
- Had two RF assists in 6/28 win vs. Milwaukee, marking his second multi-assist game from RF as a Yankee (also 6/23/10 at Arizona)…over the last 40 years, the only other players with at least two multi-assist games in RF as a Yankee are Jesse Barfield (two) and Paul O'Neill (two)—credit: Elias.
- Played in his 1,000th career game and was 2-for-3 with 1R and 1BB in 7/20 win at Tampa Bay.
- Tied his career high in RBI (fifth time) in 7/22 win vs. Oakland, hitting a three-run HR and going 3-for-4 with 2R, 5RBI and 1BB.
- Homered six times in a seven-game stretch for the first time in his Major League career from 8/23-29.
- Recorded his 17th career multi-HR game in 8/24 loss vs. Oakland, hitting two solo HR and going 2-for-3 with 1BB and 1HBP…was his first multi-homer game since 8/2/10 vs. Toronto.
- Missed three games from 9/9-11 with left elbow tendinitis.
- Hit .211 (4-for-19) with 1HR and 1RBI in five games during the Yankees' ALDS loss vs. Detroit.

- Hit .288 (163-for-566) with 91R, 33 doubles, 3 triples, 29HR and 89RBI in 150 games (131 starts in RF, 11 at DH) with the Yankees, setting career highs in batting average, at-bats, hits and triples…hit .286 (110-for-384) with 25HR as a lefthanded batter and .291 (53-for-182) with 4HR from the right side…17 of his 29 homers tied the game or gave the Yankees the lead.
- Among Major League switch-hitters, ranked second in runs (91), home runs (29) and RBI (89), trailing only teammate Mark Teixeira in each of the three categories (113R, 33HR and 108RBI)…ranked third with a .288BA.
- Hit .345 (88-for-255) with 15 doubles, 3 triples, 13HR, 73RBI and 29BB with runners on base, marking the fourth-best average in the AL…batted in seven different spots in the starting lineup (two through eight), homering in five of those spots (two, four, five, six and eight).
- Had at least three hits in a game 14 times, the most such games in any season in his career (previous was 10 in 2007)…only Robinson Cano (19) had more three-hit games among Yankees in 2010.
- Collected 10 outfield assists, eight more than his total from 2009 (two) and surpassing his previous career high (six in 2005 w/ Oakland).
- Won the 2010 All-Star Final Vote, earning the final spot on the AL's All-Star roster…pinch hit for Ty Wigginton in the seventh (0-for-1)…with his dad, Steve, a 1976 NL All-Star for the Chicago Cubs, the Swishers became the 12th family to have both a father and son named to an MLB All-Star team.
- Batted .374 (34-for-91) with 7HR and 17RBI in May, marking his most hits in any calendar month of his career (previous best was 32H in May 2007 and May 2006)…hit three home runs in a four-game stretch from 5/5-9 and five HR in an eight-game span from 5/1-9.
- Missed four games with a sore left biceps (5/13 and 5/17-19)…underwent an MRI at NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital on 5/14 and was diagnosed with a slight strain of the left biceps.
- Recorded his 15th career multi-HR game in 6/29 loss vs. Seattle, homering twice off LHP Cliff Lee…marked the second time in his career he hit 2HR off LH pitching in a game (also 5/11/06 w/ Oakland at Toronto – off Ted Lilly).
- Scored at least one run in 10 consecutive starts from 7/10-26, tying a career high (also 9/5-15/07) and marking the longest such streak in the AL in 2010.

- Hit ninth-inning "walk-off" RBI single and was 3-for-5 with 1R, 1HR and 3RBI in 7/16 win vs. Tampa Bay…was his third career "walk-off" hit, second with the Yankees.
- Fouled a ball off his left knee in 8/24 win at Toronto (with a 2-2 count) and was removed from the game immediately…missed the next game on 8/25 at Toronto and two additional games (9/3-4) with left knee stiffness.
- Hit ninth-inning, two-run "walk-off" HR and was 2-for-4 in 9/8 win vs. Baltimore…was his fourth career "walk-off" hit and third such HR…came one year to the day after his last "walk-off" homer (9/8/09 vs. Tampa Bay off Dan Wheeler)…became the fourth player in Baseball history ever to hit "walk-off" home runs exactly a year apart and first since the Giants' Jack Clark on 9/4/81 and 9/4/82—credit: Elias.
- Started all nine Yankees postseason games, batting .176 (6-for-34) with 6R, 3 doubles and 2HR…the Yankees were 4-0 when he scored a run.

- Hit .249 (124-for-498) with 84R, 35 doubles, 29HR and 82RBI in 150 games (126 starts in RF, 10 at 1B, four in LF, one at DH) in his first season with the Yankees…batted .250 (84-for-336, 20HR) as a left-handed batter and .247 (40-for-162, 9HR) as a right-handed batter.
- Ranked third among Major League switch-hitters in home runs, tied for third with 97BB and ranked sixth in RBI…ranked second overall in the AL in walks, marking the most free passes by a Yankees switch-hitter since Jorge Posada in 2000 (107)…ranked second in the AL and seventh in the Majors with 4.26 pitches per PA.
- Homered from both sides of the plate three times (4/29 at Detroit, 7/27 at Tampa Bay and 9/8 vs. Tampa Bay)…according to the Elias Sports Bureau, his three sets of switch-hit homers tied his high for any season (also 2007) and tied the AL single-season mark, also shared by Tony Clark (1998 with Detroit) and teammate Mark Teixeira, who joined Swisher in accomplishing the feat in 2009.

Bobby Murcer Recognized

Oklahoma Christian University dedicated the new Bobby Murcer Indoor Training Facility on September 23, 2011.

OCU officials and members of Bobby Murcer's family were on hand to celebrate the opening of the $503,000 facility, named after the Oklahoma City native and New York Yankees player and broadcaster, who died in July 2008 at age 62 after battling brain cancer.

Although he never attended Oklahoma Christian, Murcer—who attended Southeast High School in Oklahoma City and was one of the state's most famous baseball players before being drafted by the Yankees—had strong ties with many people associated with the university, as he and his wife, Kay, attended Memorial Road Church of Christ, which is located immediately southwest of the OCU campus.

The Bobby Murcer Indoor Training Facility is located on the northwest corner of the Oklahoma Christian campus, next to Dobson Field, where the Eagles' baseball team plays its home games. The 12,800-square-foot facility includes 8,000 square feet of workout space, including batting cages. The facility also includes a clubhouse with showers, an athletic training area, a weight training area and laundry facilities.

The lobby of the facility includes photos from Murcer's playing and broadcasting careers, special wallpaper depicting various scenes from OCU's baseball history and plaques honoring the 10 Oklahoma Christian players who have received NAIA All-America honors through the years.

CAREER NOTES

- Is the only Major Leaguer to reach 30HR and 100RBI in each of the last eight seasons (2004-11)…according to Elias, is one of three first basemen all time to surpass 30HR and 100RBI in eight straight years by age 31 (also Jimmie Foxx and Albert Pujols).
- Is one of just three Yankees first basemen in franchise history to record at least 100R, 30HR and 100RBI in multiple seasons with the club (2009-10), joining Lou Gehrig (10 times, 1927 and '29-37) and Don Mattingly (twice, 1985-86)…is the only player to accomplish the feat in his first two seasons with the club.
- Is the fourth Yankee all time to hit at least 30HR in each of his first three seasons with the club (also Babe Ruth, Roger Maris and Alex Rodriguez).
- Has reached the 25HR plateau in each of his first nine Major League seasons…according to Elias, became just the fourth player in Baseball history to accomplish the feat, joining Eddie Mathews (11 seasons), Albert Pujols (11) and Darryl Strawberry (nine).
- Is one of 13 players all-time to hit at least 250HR within the first eight years of their Major League career and one of just four active players to accomplish the feat, joining Albert Pujols (319 from 2001-08), Adam Dunn (278 from 2001-08) and Todd Helton (251 from 1997-2004).
- Owns 314 career home runs, the most ever by a switch-hitter through his first nine Major League seasons (2003-11)…Mickey Mantle is second with 280…reached the 300HR plateau in his 1,296th career game (on 6/30/11 vs. Milwaukee), surpassing Mantle (1,314) to become the fastest switch-hitter ever to reach the mark.
- Has homered from both sides of the plate in the same game 12 times in his career, surpassing Chili Davis and Eddie Murray (11 each) for the most such games all time.
- Has 1,017RBI in his career, becoming the sixth player in Baseball history to reach the 1,000RBI plateau within their first nine MLB seasons…he joins Al Simmons (1,156), Ted Williams (1,135), Joe DiMaggio (1,122), Albert Pujols (1,112) and Hank Greenberg (1,003).
- Is one of six players in Baseball history—and the first switch-hitter—to have at least 100RBI in at least eight of his first nine Major League seasons…his eight 100RBI seasons tie him with Carlos Beltran for the second-most all-time among switch-hitters, trailing only Chipper Jones (nine).
- Since returning to the AL on 7/29/08 when he was acquired by the Angels from Atlanta, leads all American Leaguers with 124HR, ranks second with 384RBI and is third with 345R.

- Made his ninth career Opening Day roster (third as a Yankee) and eighth Opening Day start at 1B…homered in his first official AB of the season in 3/31 win vs. Detroit (BB in first PA).
- Homered six times in the first month of the season, matching his career high for March/April (also 2005).
- Homered in each of the Yankees' first three games of the season (3/31-4/3 vs. Detroit), becoming just the second Yankee to homer in each of the team's first three games of a season (also Dave Winfield in 1983 at Seattle's Kingdome—credit: Elias)…homered in three straight games for the first time since 5/31-6/2/08 w/ Atlanta…did not hit his third home run of 2010 until a three-HR game on 5/8 at Boston…according to STATS, LLC., became the first player to hit a three-run HR (or grand slam) in each of his team's first two games of a season since Barry Bonds in 2002…according to Elias, also became the first player in Yankees history to drive in at least three runs in each of the team's first two games of a season.
- Hit his fourth HR of the season in 4/5 loss vs. Minnesota, becoming just the fourth Yankee all-time to total 4HR through the first five team games of a season (also Mickey Mantle-1956; Moose Skowron-1957; and Alex Rodriguez-2007)…was his third three-run homer of the year, becoming just the fourth player in Baseball history to hit at least three three-run home runs over their team's first five games of a season, joining Charles Johnson (2000 Orioles), Mark McGwire (1998 Cardinals) and Brant Alyea (1970 Twins)—credit: Elias.
- Elias also notes he became the fourth Yankee since 1920 with at least 10RBI in the team's first five games.
- Went hitless over his next 18AB following his 4/5 homer, one at-bat shy of his longest single-season hitless stretch as a Yankee (0-for-19 in September 2010).
- Drove in at least one run in six consecutive games from 5/24-30, marking the second-longest streak of his career (longest was seven straight games from 9/21-28/07 w/ Atlanta).
- Hit ninth-inning "walk-off" RBI single and was 2-for-4 with 1RBI and 1BB in 5/24 win vs. Toronto…was his fourth career regular-season "walk-off" hit and first as a Yankee.
- Hit 15HR through 5/28…with Curtis Granderson (16HR), became the first Yankees teammates to each hit at least 15 homers in the team's first 50 games of a season since Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris did it in 1961, according to the Elias Sports Bureau…overall, are the third set of Yankees teammates to accomplish the feat: also Lou Gehrig and Babe Ruth (1928 and '30) and Yogi Berra and Mickey Mantle (1956).

DYNAMIC DUO

Yankees combo 1B Mark Teixeira (32HR) and CF Curtis Granderson (33HR) each surpassed the 30-HR plateau through the first 115 games of 2011… only two pairs of Yankees each hit at least 30HR in fewer than 115 team games in a season – Maris/Mantle (1961) and Gehrig/Ruth (three times).

- Stole home for the first time in his career in the sixth inning on 5/31 at Oakland as part of a double steal with Alex Rodriguez, who was caught between first and second.
- Had 25RBI in June, tied for third-most in the Majors during the calendar month, trailing only Milwaukee's Prince Fielder (27) and the Mets' Carlos Beltran (26).
- Reached the 20HR plateau in his 65th game of the season (on 6/15 vs. Texas), marking his second-fewest games needed to reach 20HR in a season behind 2009 when he hit his 20th homer in game No. 57 on 6/12.
- Hit his 300th career HR in 6/30 win vs. Milwaukee (153 w/ Texas, 97 w/ the Yankees, 37 w/ Atlanta, 13 w/ Los Angeles-AL)…according to Elias, became the 13th player to hit his 300th Major League homer while playing for the Yankees…Elias also notes since Mickey Mantle hit his 300th home run (in 1960), the eight players to reach the mark in a Yankees uniform all joined the team after beginning their careers with other clubs: Reggie Jackson, Graig Nettles, Dave Winfield, Darryl Strawberry, Cecil Fielder, Ruben Sierra, Jason Giambi and Teixeira.

- Hit his sixth career grand slam in 7/22 win vs. Oakland…snapped a 70AB homerless stretch dating back to 6/30 vs. Milwaukee.
- Hit his 100th home run as a Yankee and was 2-for-4 in 7/26 win vs. Seattle.
- Homered from both sides of the plate in a game for the 12th time in his career (seventh time as a Yankee) and second time in 2011 (also 6/15 vs. Texas) in 8/2 win at Chicago-AL, surpassing Chili Davis and Eddie Murray to establish a Major League record…marked his 32nd career multi-HR game, 29th career two-HR game and third in 2011 (also 6/5 at Los Angeles-AL and 6/15 vs. Texas).
- Reached the 30HR plateau in the Yankees' 108th game (on 8/2)…reached the 1,000RBI plateau in 8/19 win at Minnesota.
- Missed two games (9/2-3) after leaving 9/1 win at Boston in the seventh with a bruised right knee after a sixth-inning hit-by-pitch.
- Batted fifth in the starting lineup for the first time as a Yankee—and first time since 2004—in 9/27 loss at Tampa Bay, going 1-for-4 with 1 double.
- Recorded his fourth multi-HR game of the season (33rd of his career) in 9/28 loss at Tampa Bay, going 2-for-4 with a grand slam (the seventh of his career) and a season-high 5RBI in the final regular season game.
- Hit .167 (3-for-18) with 2 doubles and 1RBI in five-game ALDS loss vs. Detroit.

- According to Elias, became the eighth player to hit at least 30HR in his first season with the Yankees (did so in his 112th game of the season), joining Babe Ruth (1920), Roger Maris (1960), Bobby Bonds (1975), Reggie Jackson (1977), Jason Giambi (2002), Alex Rodriguez (2004) and Gary Sheffield (2004)…only two of those players hit homer No. 30 fewer games into the season than Teixeira (Maris in 82 games and Ruth in 88 games).
- Became the fifth Yankee to reach 100R, 40 doubles, 35HR and 100RBI in a season (also Babe Ruth-1921 and '23; Lou Gehrig-1927, '30 and '34; Don Mattingly-1985 and Alfonso Soriano-2002)…is the only player to do so in his first season with the club.
- Homered from both sides of the plate three times in 2009 (5/4 vs. Boston, 5/18 vs. Minnesota and 9/19 at Seattle)…became the 11th Yankee all time to accomplish the feat and one of three in 2009 (also Melky Cabrera and Nick Swisher)…along with Swisher (2007 and 2009), tied Tony Clark (1998 w/ Detroit) for the most sets of single-game switch-hit homers in a single season.
- His 43 doubles were the most by a Yankees first baseman in a season since Don Mattingly had 53 in 1986…85 of his 178 hits (47.8%) went for extra bases (43 doubles, 3 triples and 39HR).
- Was voted as the AL's starting first baseman in the 2009 All-Star Game…went 0-for-3 in the AL's 4-3 win in St. Louis on 7/14, playing five innings at 1B…was named the starting AL All-Star at 1B for the second time in his career (also 2005)…was the first Yankee 1B to start an All-Star Game since Jason Giambi in 2004.
- Batted .200 (14-for-70) with 3HR and 10RBI in April…hit at a .304 (164-for-539) clip over the remainder of the season.
- Collected the 1,000th hit of his career with a third-inning infield single in 4/24 loss at Boston.

- Tied a career high with 5BB in 4/25 loss at Boston…is the only current Major Leaguer to walk five times in two games…Elias notes he became the first player to draw 5BB in two nine-inning contests since Mel Ott who had three (1929, 1943 and 1944)…were the most walks drawn by a Yankee since Roger Maris drew 5BB in a 12-inning game against the Angels on 5/22/62…were the most walks by a Yankee in a nine-inning game since Russ Derry drew 5BB in Game 1 of a doubleheader on 9/6/45 vs. Detroit.
- Hit 13HR in May, tying a career-high for his most HRs in any calendar month (also July 2004) …were the most by a Yankee since Alex Rodriguez hit 14HR in April 2007…led the Majors in HR and RBI (34) during May and, according to Elias, matched the most RBI for a Yankees player in a calendar month over the past 20 years: Tino Martinez (April 1997), Bernie Williams (August 1999) and Alex Rodriguez (April 2007 and June 2007).
- Hit safely in a career-high 14 straight games from 5/18-6/1…during the stretch, hit .397 (23-for-58) with 14R, 5 doubles, 8HR and 20RBI.
- Had 47RBI through his first 50 games with the Yankees, matching Harry Rice, Joe Gordon and Roger Maris for the third-most for any player in franchise history over his first 50 games with the team since 1920 when RBI became an official statistic…only Babe Ruth (57) and Joe DiMaggio (56) had more through their first 50 games (credit: Elias).
- Made ninth-inning throwing error in 7/2 loss vs. Seattle, snapping a 72-game stretch at 1B to start the season without committing an error…had been the longest errorless streak in one season for a Yankees first baseman since Tino Martinez went 82 straight games without an error in 1996 (credit: Elias)…also snapped a 106-game errorless stretch at 1B overall, dating back to 8/20/08.
- Snapped a career-long 95AB homerless stretch with solo-HR in 7/9 win at Minnesota.
- Played in his 1,000th career Major League game in 7/28/09 loss at Tampa Bay, going 1-for-4 with 1R and 1 double…the double was the 250th of his career—and with 228HR—became only the second active player to accumulate at least 250 doubles and 225HR through his first 1,000 games (also Albert Pujols – 273 doubles, 266 HR)—credit: Elias Sports Bureau.
- Drove in his 100th run of the season with a three-run home run in 8/30 win vs. Chicago-AL in his 126th game of the season…according to Elias, only four players reached the 100RBI milestone fewer games into their Yankees career than Teixeira: Babe Ruth in 1920 (97 games), Joe DiMaggio in 1936 (102), Roger Maris in 1960 (118) and Tony Lazzeri in 1926 (125).
- Batted .180 (11-for-61) with 2 doubles, 2HR and 8RBI in the postseason…hit "walk-off" solo home run off Jose Mijares in 11th inning in Game 2 of ALDS vs. Minnesota, marking his first career postseason home run and first career "walk-off" HR (regular and postseason)…was the Yankees' second "walk-off" homer in ALDS play (also Jim Leyritz in 1995 vs. Seattle)…scored a run in five of the six World Series games…was hit by a pitch three times in the WS, joining Alex Rodriguez (also 2009) and Pittsburgh's Max Carey (1925) as the only players to get plunked three times in a single Series.

- Combined to go 3-3 with a 3.66 ERA (46.2IP, 19ER) in 19 appearances (two starts) with the GCL Dodgers and rookie-level Ogden…made his professional debut with the GCL Dodgers, going 2-1 with one save and a 3.03 ERA (32.2IP, 11ER) in 11 games (two starts)…over his final 10 appearances with the club, went 2-0 with one save and a 1.72 ERA (31.1IP, 6ER).
- Was transferred to Ogden on 7/19, going 1-2 with a 5.14 ERA (14.0IP, 8ER) in eight relief appearances (19K).

PERSONAL

- Full name is Cory Nathaniel Wade…married to Mikaela with one daughter, Amaya Isabelle.
- Graduated from Broad Ripple High School (Ind.) in 2001, where he set the school's career strikeouts record.
- Was the seventh all-time Kentucky-Wesleyan baseball player drafted, and just the second to appear in the Majors (also Larry Ray, a 1979 selection by the Dodgers).

2012 OFFICIAL MEDIA GUIDE & RECORD BOOK

Shortstop Derek Jeter became the 28th player all time — and first Yankee — to reach 3,000 hits, when he homered off Tampa Bay's David Price on July 9, 2011, at Yankee Stadium.

2011 Postseason Summary

ALDS RECAP

Detroit Tigers 3
New York Yankees 2

GAME 1 – September 30, 2011 at Yankee Stadium
(completed on October 1)

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	-	R	H	E
NYY	1	0	0	0	1	6	0	1	x	-	9	11	0

WP: Ivan Nova LP: Doug Fister SV: None
HR: DET – Young (inning: 1, 2 out, 0 on) off Sabathia; NYY – Cano (inning: 6, 2 out, 3 on) off Alburquerque

The Yankees won their suspended Game 1 matchup vs. the Tigers, 9-3…the game was suspended in the middle of the second inning due to rain and resumed the following night…marked the first time the rule amendment passed by Major League Baseball in January 2009 was invoked, providing that all postseason games become suspended games if they are called, regardless of how many innings have been played or the score at the time the game is called…2B Robinson Cano (3-for-5) hit his first career postseason grand slam and tied the Yankees postseason franchise record with 6RBI (fourth time)…RHP Ivan Nova (6.1IP, 4H, 2ER, 4BB, 5K) became the first Yankees rookie to earn a win in his postseason debut since Orlando Hernandez in the 1998 ALCS…relieved starter LHP CC Sabathia who tossed 2.0 innings (1H, 1ER, 4K, 1HR) before the game was suspended.

GAME 2 – October 2, 2011 at Yankee Stadium

WP: Max Scherzer LP: Freddy Garcia SV: None
HR: DET – Cabrera (inning: 1, 2 out, 1 on) off Garcia; NYY – Granderson (inning: 8, 0 out, 0 on) off Benoit, Swisher (inning: 9, 0 out, 0 on) off Valverde

The Yankees had their ninth-inning comeback bid fall short in a 5-3 loss…the loss snapped the Yankees' record seven-game ALDS win streak…were held hitless by Max Scherzer for 5.1 innings, the longest any pitcher held the team without a hit to start a postseason game all time (credit: Elias)…went 0-for-7 with RISP…CF Curtis Granderson (1-for-4) plated the Yankees' first run with a solo HR to lead off the eighth…RF Nick Swisher (1-for-3) homered to lead off the ninth…DH Jorge Posada (2-for-3) followed with his first career postseason triple and scored in the ninth…RHP Freddy Garcia (5.1IP, 6H, 4R, 3ER, 0BB, 6K, 1HR) took the loss in his first postseason start as a Yankee.

THE JETER METER

SS Derek Jeter has reached base safely in 28 of 31 career Game 1's…in 15 career ALDS Game 1s, owns a .444 (24-for-54) career batting avg. with 16R, 4HR and 9BB, and has reached base safely in 14 of those contests (all but 2007 ALDS Game 1 at Cleveland).

GAME 3 – October 3, 2011 at Comerica Park

DET	0	0	2	0	1	1	1	0	x	-	5	8	0

WP: Justin Verlander LP: Rafael Soriano SV: Valverde
HR: DET – Young (inning: 7, 1 out, 0 on) off Soriano

The Yankees fell, 5-4, in Game 3 of the ALDS at Comerica Park…scored two runs in the first, but did not score again until the seventh on a game-tying, two-out, two-run double by LF Brett Gardner (2-for-3)…LHP CC Sabathia allowed 4ER in 5.1IP (7H, 6BB, 3K) with no decision in the start…tied his postseason high in walks (also 2007 ALDS Game 1 vs. the Yankees w/CLE), the most by a Yankee in a postseason start since Orlando Hernandez (also 6BB) in 1999 ALDS Game 1 vs. Texas…RHP Rafael Soriano threw a season-high 1.2IP, allowing the game-winning solo HR in the seventh.

GAME 4 – October 4, 2011 at Comerica Park

WP: A.J. Burnett LP: Rick Porcello SV: None
HR: DET – V. Martinez (inning: 4, 0 out, 0 on) off Burnett

The Yankees staved off elimination with a 10-1 win at Comerica Park…marked their most runs ever and largest margin of victory in an ALDS game…according to Elias, marked the third time the Yankees scored at least 10R in a playoff game without hitting a HR: also 1960 WS Game 6 at Pittsburgh (12-0) and 1978 WS Game 5 vs. Los Angeles (12-2)…RHP A.J. Burnett held the Tigers to 1ER on 4H in 5.2IP (4BB, 3K, 1HR) for his second career playoff win…Yankees relievers (Soriano, Hughes, Logan) tossed 3.1 perfect IP, with 6K…CF Curtis Granderson (1-for-5) had an RBI double and made two run-saving, diving catches…PH/DH Jesus Montero (2-for-2) made his postseason debut, recording a pinch-hit RBI single in his first plate appearance…at 21 years old, became the youngest Yankee position player to appear in a playoff game since Tommy Carroll (19 years old during the 1955 WS loss vs. Brooklyn).

GAME 5 – October 6, 2011 at Yankee Stadium

WP: Doug Fister LP: Ivan Nova SV: Valverde
HR: DET – Kelly (inning: 1, 1 out, 0 on) off Nova, Young (inning: 1, 1 out, 0 on) off Nova; NYY – Cano (inning: 5, 2 out, 0 on) off Fister

The Yankees fell in Game 5 vs. Detroit, 3-2…marked their third straight loss in a winner-take-all postseason game, falling to 11-11 all time in such contests…RHP Ivan Nova allowed 2ER in 2.0IP (3H, 0BB, 3K, 2HR) in his first postseason start, exiting from the game with a tight right forearm…became only the second rookie pitcher all time to make his first postseason start in a winner-take-all game, joining the Phillies' Marty Bystrom (1980 NLCS Gm 5 at Houston)…LHP CC Sabathia allowed 1ER in 1.1IP (2H, 2BB, 4K)…made his first career relief app. in either a regular season or postseason game…among pitchers whose first career relief outing came in the postseason, had the third-longest streak before it was snapped (Mike Mussina - 400 GS and John Smoltz - 380 GS)…2B Robinson Cano (2-for-5) hit a solo HR in the fifth for the Yankees' first run of the game…the paid attendance of 50,960 was the largest single-game crowd in the three-year history of the current Yankee Stadium.

2012 OFFICIAL MEDIA GUIDE & RECORD BOOK

This year marks the 80th anniversary of the 1932 World Series, in which the Yankees swept the Chicago Cubs in four games. Pictured above are Yankees Manager Joe McCarthy [R] and Cubs Manager Charlie Grimm greeting each other prior to Game 1. The Series marked the first of eight Fall Classics and seven world championships for McCarthy, who managed the club from 1931-46 and remains the all-time winningest manager in franchise history with a 1,460-867 (.627) mark.

Two-Stadium Doubleheaders

On three occasions, the Yankees and Mets have played two-stadium day-night doubleheaders. Each instance was precipitated by a rainout. According to the Elias Sports Bureau, the first occurrence in 2000 marked the first dual-venue doubleheader in the Majors since September 7, 1903, when the New York Giants and the Brooklyn Superbas (later called the Dodgers) faced off in Game 1 (NYG-6 BRO-4) at Washington Park in Brooklyn and Game 2 (BRO-3 NYG-0) at the Polo Grounds in Manhattan.

Played or Managed for Yankees and Mets

Through the 2011 season, there have been 112 players to appear in at least one game for both the Yankees and Mets. The first was "Marvelous" Marv Throneberry, who broke in and played three seasons with the Yankees (1955, '58-59) before joining the Mets via a 5/9/62 trade with Baltimore. The only other Yankee to play on the 1962 Mets was Gene Woodling, who played six seasons in the Bronx from 1949-54, winning World Series championships in each of his first five seasons with the club. He was purchased by the Mets from Washington on 6/15/62. Ron Swoboda was the only member of the 1969 World Series champion Mets to ever play for the Yankees.

*Played for Yankees and Mets in same season (15 players).

Exhibition Games vs. Mets/Dodgers/Giants

Mayor's Trophy Game

In the majority of seasons from 1946-83, the Yankees played the Giants, Dodgers or Mets in an annual exhibition game. The Mayor's office sponsored each mid-season contest and awarded a trophy to the game's winner. The proceeds from each game supported sandlot baseball programs and other New York charities. The Yankees won 20 of the 32 Mayor's Trophy Games played, going 7-1 vs. the Giants, 3-2 vs. the Dodgers and 10-8-1 vs. the Mets.

Spring Training Games

The Yankees and Mets used to meet on a regular basis in spring training, dating back to the Mets' inaugural season in 1962. The very first game between the clubs was a 4-3 Mets victory on 3/22/62 at their spring facility in St. Petersburg. The most recent spring meetings between the clubs were in 1996, when the teams split a pair of games at GMS Field in Tampa (on 3/29/96, Yankees 7 - Mets 3; and on 3/30/96, Mets 5 - Yankees 3). The two teams are slated to play a home and home series of spring training games on 4/3/12 at Port St. Lucie and on 4/4/12 at GMS Field.

Other Notable Exhibitions between the Yankees, Dodgers and Giants

The Yankees, Dodgers and Giants played a number of preseason games against each other over the years in Florida and on the East Coast (while heading north from spring training). The clubs also played games in New York just prior to the start of the season. Additionally, many in-season exhibitions were arranged, including the Mayor's Trophy Games (noted in left column) and other charitable endeavors. Some of the most notable games are listed below.

October 1910 - The Yankees and Giants faced each for the first time in a series of exhibition games following the 1910 regular season. Pitcher Christy Mathewson won three of the games as the Giants win the series, 4 games to 2. In an exhibition rematch after the 1914 regular season, the Giants again defeated the Yankees, 4 games to 1.

April 21, 1912 - At the Polo Grounds, the Yankees and Giants staged a benefit game for survivors of the Titanic. The Giants won, 11-2, as $9,425.25 was raised.

April 5, 1913 - The Yankees helped the Dodgers open Ebbets Field on April 5, 1913, with an exhibition game, which Brooklyn won, 3-2.The Dodgers' rookie outfielder Casey Stengel hit the first unofficial home run.

Sept. 9, 1931- In a benefit for the Mayor's Unemployment Fund, the Yankees defeated the Giants, 7-3, at Yankee Stadium in front of 60,549, netting $59,642. Babe Ruth hit the game's only home run.

June 26, 1944 - The Yankees, Giants and Dodgers played a unique mid-season "three-cornered" exhibition game. Each team batted in six innings and played defense for six innings. The Dodgers won the contest, which generated over $6.5 million worth of war bond sales.

Don't Just Transfer... Trade Up!

DANIEL A. PETSCHE Business Management, Class of 2012 Transfer Student

"Being a transfer student, I thought it would be hard to assimilate into another college atmosphere. I was wrong. Transferring to St. Francis is one of the best choices I've made in my life. The location of the school and the short travel time from my house to campus has made my life easier.

My major is Business Management with a concentration in Marketing and I enjoy the classes within the curriculum. SFC has allowed me to build on the skills I've gained in the classroom putting them to use in the business world. With my degree, I know I'll be able to further my education and become successful in the workforce, aspiring to lead a company one day."

"We call St. Francis College the small College of big dreams for a reason," said St. Francis President Brendan J. Dugan, a lifelong Brooklynite who graduated from the College in 1968. "That dream is alive for everyone; from our largest freshman class in College history to our growing field of graduate students to the increasing number of transfer students who are finishing their College career at St. Francis and proving to be some of our most successful graduates."

Recent graduates have gone on to medical school, law school or are teaching in city public schools, while accounting and business graduates are working at top firms including National Grid, Ernst & Young, KPMG, Deloitte & Touche, Merrill Lynch and many more.

The numbers back up the claim. St. Francis has been selected by U.S.News & World Report as a Best Regional College in the North and for the fourth year in a row, the College has been named to the Forbes.com America's Best Colleges list, moving up 38 slots from last year's ranking.

St. Francis is now accepting transfer applications. Call today for details and an appointment.

2012 OFFICIAL MEDIA GUIDE & RECORD BOOK

This year marks the 50th anniversary of the 1962 Yankees' dramatic seven-game World Series win over the San Francisco Giants. Pictured above is Series MVP Ralph Terry (2-1 in three starts, 25.0IP, 17H, 5ER, 2BB, 16K) being carried off the field following his complete-game, 1-0 win in Game 7 at Candlestick Park. The title was the Yankees' second in a row and 10th in a 16-year span from 1947-62.

History of the New York Yankees

The Yankees are Baseball's most storied franchise. With 27 World Championships and 40 American League pennants, the club stands alone in both categories.

The team's glorious history has surprisingly humble origins at the start of the previous century, when the upstart American League declared itself a Major League following the 1900 season. At that time, the league sought to place a team in New York for the 1901 campaign. But due to the political strength of the National League's New York Giants, the American League instead put a team in Baltimore, calling it the Orioles, with the intent to move it to New York as soon as possible.

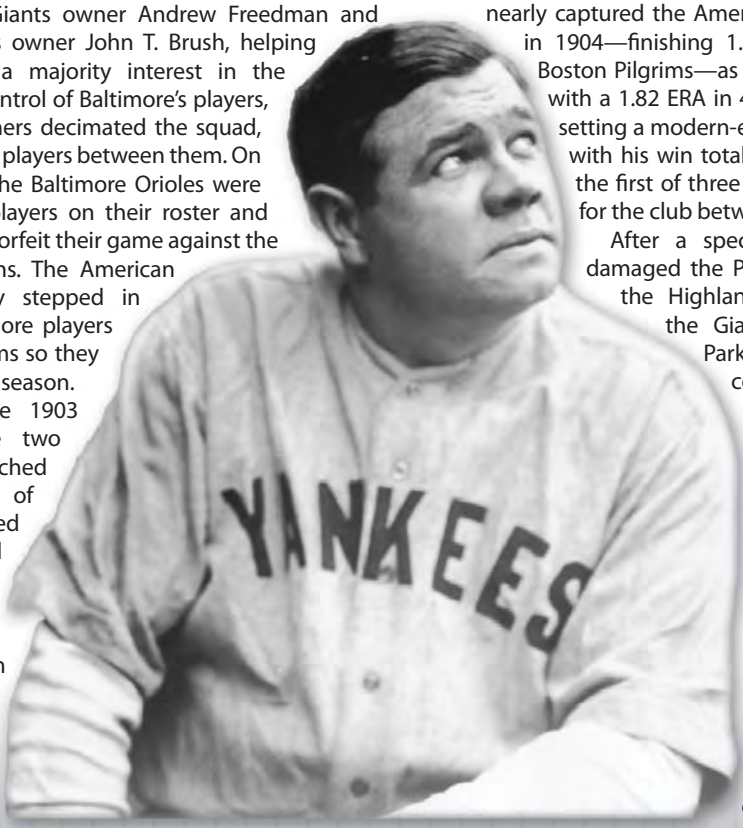
Managed by John McGraw, the 1901 Orioles finished 68-65 and failed to draw substantial crowds. The following season, McGraw, fearing the team would relocate to New York without him in 1903, precipitated a midseason release from his contract. He immediately teamed with Giants owner Andrew Freedman and Cincinnati Reds owner John T. Brush, helping them acquire a majority interest in the Orioles. With control of Baltimore's players, the pair of owners decimated the squad, divvying up the players between them. On July 17, 1902, the Baltimore Orioles were left with five players on their roster and were forced to forfeit their game against the St. Louis Browns. The American League quickly stepped in and lent Baltimore players from other teams so they could finish the season.

Prior to the 1903 campaign, the two leagues reached a truce, part of which involved the National League agreeing to allow an American League team in New York City. Racehorse owner Frank Farrell and ex-New York chief of police Bill Devery purchased the remnants of the Baltimore franchise for $18,000 and reestablished it in upper Manhattan.

The New York Americans, as they were formally named, were New York City's third Major League team, joining the Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers of the National League. They played home games at American League Park, a hastily constructed all-wooden structure at 168th Street and Broadway. Because the site was one of the highest spots in Manhattan, the team was commonly called the "Hilltoppers" or "Highlanders" and their home field "Hilltop Park." The club played its inaugural game on April 22, 1903, at Washington, losing, 3-1, to the Senators. The next day, they defeated the Senators, 7-2, recording the very first win in franchise history.

Led by future Hall of Famers Jack Chesboro, Clark Griffith and Wee Willie Keeler, the Highlanders finished with a 72-62 record, 17.0 games out of first place. They nearly captured the American League pennant in 1904—finishing 1.5 games behind the Boston Pilgrims—as Chesboro went 41-12 with a 1.82 ERA in 454.2 innings pitched, setting a modern-era (since 1900) record with his win total. That season marked the first of three second-place finishes for the club between 1904 and 1910.

After a spectacular fire severely damaged the Polo Grounds in 1911, the Highlanders' owners invited the Giants to share Hilltop Park until their home could be rebuilt. Two years later, the Giants returned the favor and allowed the Highlanders to become tenants in their rebuilt and vastly superior facility. With the move in 1913, the Highlanders officially changed their name to "Yankees," by which they had actually been known for most of their history.



Manager Miller Huggins [L] led the Yankees to three World Series championships and six American League pennants after being hired by Owner Jacob Ruppert [R] in 1918.

From 1911 to 1919, the Yankees won as many as 80 games in a season only twice. But three key moves—the January 11, 1915, purchase of the ballclub by Colonel Jacob Ruppert and Colonel Tillinghast L'Hommedieu Huston, the 1918 hiring of Manager Miller Huggins by Ruppert (without Huston's blessing) and the 1919 midseason trade for right-handed pitcher Carl Mays (26 wins in 1920 and 27 wins in 1921)—set the stage for the greatest course-altering transaction in baseball history, when on January 3, 1920, the Yankees purchased the contract of George Herman "Babe" Ruth from the Boston Red Sox for $125,000 and a $350,000 loan against the mortgage on Fenway Park.

Ruth's impact was immediate. The Yankees won 95 games in 1920, their highest victory total up to that point, then captured their first American League pennant a year later. With the Babe hitting 54 home runs in 1920—more than any other team in the American League—Yankees attendance at the Polo Grounds doubled to 1,289,422. In 1921, the Giants, being outdrawn in their own park, asked the Yankees to vacate the Polo Grounds as soon as possible. Now bitter rivals, the two teams squared off in the World Series in 1921 and 1922 with the Giants winning on both occasions.

Though he came up on the wrong end in both Series, Yankees pitcher—and 1969 Hall of Fame inductee—Waite Hoyt allowed just one earned run over 35.0 combined innings over the two Fall Classics. Remarkably, he went 2-2 in his five appearances (four starts), including a 1-0, Series-clinching loss (on an unearned run) in Game 8 of the 1921 best-of-nine championship.

With their departure from the Polo Grounds inevitable, the Yankees' owners set out to build a ballpark of their own. Designed to be baseball's first triple-decked structure with an advertised capacity of 70,000, it would be the first baseball facility to be labeled a "stadium."

Construction on the original Yankee Stadium began on May 5, 1922, and in only 284 working days, it was ready for its inaugural game on April 18, 1923 against the Boston Red Sox. An announced crowd of 74,200 fans packed the Stadium for a glimpse of Baseball's grandest facility while thousands milled around outside after the fire department finally ordered the gates closed. Appropriately, Ruth christened the Stadium with a three-run homer to cap a four-run third inning as the Yankees, behind starter Bob Shawkey, won, 4-1.

Playing in their new stadium, dubbed "The House that Ruth Built" by New York Telegram sportswriter Fred Lieb, the Yankees won the American League by 16.0 games in 1923, using just eight pitchers all season. Each of their five starting pitchers—Shawkey, Joe Bush, Waite Hoyt, Sam Jones and Herb Pennock—won at least 16 games. In October, the Stadium hosted the first of 37 World Series at the structure, and the Yankees won the first World Championship in franchise history, defeating their former landlord, the Giants, in six games.

Less than two seasons later, one of the greatest players in franchise history was given his chance to crack the lineup. On June 1, 1925, in a 5-3 loss vs. Washington, Huggins called upon Lou Gehrig, a 21-year-old first baseman with 34 career games to his name, to pinch-hit for light-hitting shortstop Paul "Pee Wee" Wanninger. It would mark the first of 2,130 consecutive games played by the "Iron Horse," who replaced Wally Pipp as the Yankees' starting first baseman the very next day. The story of Gehrig replacing Pipp because of a headache is a myth. Pipp, who led the AL in homers in 1916 and 1917 and was an integral part of the Yankees' World Series clubs from 1921-23, had been having a poor start to the season, and Manager Miller Huggins wanted to see what the younger and much-heralded Gehrig could do.

After the Yankees suffered a tough loss to the St. Louis Cardinals in the 1926 World Series (which famously ended with Babe Ruth making the final out in Game 7 while trying to steal second base), the Yankees rolled to World Championships in both 1927 and 1928, sweeping Pittsburgh and St. Louis, respectively. The 1927 club, known as the "Murderers' Row" Yankees, is often the yardstick by which team greatness is measured. During that season, Ruth broke his own single-season home run record (previously 59 in 1921) with his 60th on September 30, 1927, off Washington's Tom Zachary. Gehrig also added 47 homers and 175 RBI.

In his 15 seasons in pinstripes from 1920-34, Ruth helped establish a winning tradition with seven American League pennants and four World Championships. He finished his unparalleled career with 714 home runs (including 49 with the Red Sox from 1914-19 and six with the Boston Braves in 1935), 12 American League home run titles and six RBI crowns, including five seasons with more than 150 RBI. A charter member of Baseball's Hall of Fame, he remains widely regarded as the greatest player of all time.

Lou Gehrig

Throughout Ruth's time in pinstripes, he often overshadowed the soft-spoken, Manhattan-born Gehrig, who posted incredible numbers

in his own right. From 1926 through 1938, Gehrig drove in at least 112 runs each season. A major contributor to six World Championship clubs (1927-28, 1932, 1936-38), he finished with a .340 lifetime batting average and 493 career home runs in just 8,001 at-bats. He was the AL's starting first baseman in each of the first five Major League Baseball All-Star Games, and in 1934, became the first of two Yankees in franchise history (also Mickey Mantle in 1956) to win the Triple Crown, hitting .363 with a career-high-tying 49 homers and 165 RBI. He also still holds the American League record for RBI in a single season with 184 in 1931.

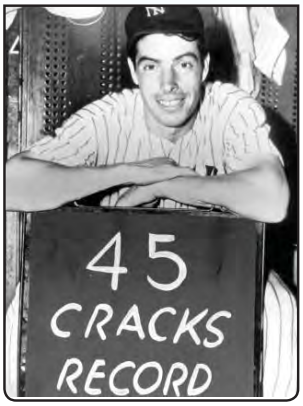
After the 1934 season, Ruth's last in New York, the Yankees purchased the contract of a budding star named Joe DiMaggio from the San Francisco Seals of the Pacific Coast League. Two years later, DiMaggio made his debut in pinstripes and helped the Yankees to an incredible string of four consecutive World Championships under Manager Joe McCarthy from 1936 through 1939. The 1930s also produced one of the game's greatest lefty-righty pitching combinations in future Hall of Famers Lefty Gomez and Red Ruffing. A four-time 20-game winner—including 24-7 in 1932 and 26-5 in 1934—Gomez posted a 6-0 record over five World Series. Ruffing, who was acquired in May 1930 from the Boston Red Sox for outfielder Cedric Durst and $50,000, had been 39-96 with the Red Sox since his 1924 rookie season. After coming to the Yankees, however, he built his Cooperstown credentials, going 231-124 in pinstripes while posting 20, 20, 21 and 21 wins on the four World Championship clubs from 1936 through 1939. He was also an exceptionally good hitter for a pitcher, totaling 36 career home runs and a .269 lifetime batting average.

From 1931 through part of the 1946 season, the Yankees were led by McCarthy, who compiled a Yankees-record 1,460 wins in his time at the helm. Having also spent time leading the Chicago Cubs (1926-30) and the Boston Red Sox (1948-50), he is eighth on the all-time managerial wins list with 2,125 victories. With the Yankees, he reached eight World Series (1932, 1936-39, 1941-43), winning a World Championship in all but one—the 1942 Fall Classic against St. Louis.

Sadly, in 1939, Gehrig was diagnosed with a crippling disease, eventually determined to be amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS), and his streak of playing in 2,130 consecutive games came to an end on May 2, when he took himself out of the lineup prior to the Yankees' 22-2 win at Detroit. He never played in a Major League game again.

On July 4 of the same season, the Yankees honored their captain with an emotional Lou Gehrig Appreciation Day at Yankee Stadium, and his uniform No. 4 became the first in Baseball to be retired. He died on June 2, 1941.

With Gehrig's retirement, DiMaggio became the pillar of the next generation of Yankees champions. In his 13 seasons in pinstripes (1936-42 and '46-51), DiMaggio made the AL All-Star team every year, and his club played in the World Series in all but three years (1940, '46, '48), winning nine World Series titles. Along the way, he tallied three AL MVP Awards (1939, '41, '47) and batted .324 over his career, marking the third-highest average in franchise history. The legendary "Yankee Clipper" compiled one of the game's most remarkable—and unbreakable—records in 1941, when he hit safely in an all-time-best 56 consecutive games.

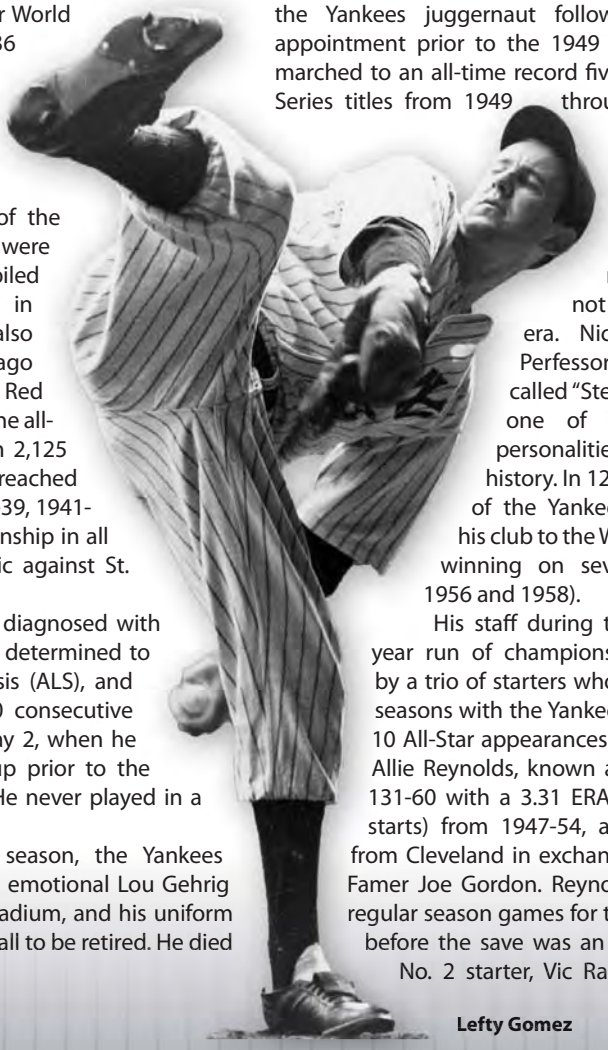


Joe DiMaggio

DiMaggio's retirement after the 1951 season at the age of 37 was made easier by the emergence of Mickey Mantle, who played side-by-side with DiMaggio in the outfield in the Yankee Clipper's final campaign. With contributions from future Hall of Famers Yogi Berra, Whitey Ford and Phil Rizzuto, the Yankees were nearly unstoppable from the late 1940s through the early 1960s. Manager Casey Stengel sublimely handled the Yankees juggernaut following his surprising appointment prior to the 1949 season, as the club marched to an all-time record five consecutive World Series titles from 1949 through 1953.

His emphasis on platooning players (often to their chagrin) allowed him to exploit matchups in a way not emphasized in his era. Nicknamed "The Old Perfessor," with a vernacular called "Stengelese," he remains one of the most colorful personalities in the game's history. In 12 seasons as manager of the Yankees, Stengel brought his club to the World Series 10 times, winning on seven occasions (also 1956 and 1958).

His staff during the remarkable five-year run of championships was anchored by a trio of starters who each pitched eight seasons with the Yankees and combined for 10 All-Star appearances while with the club. Allie Reynolds, known as "Superchief," went 131-60 with a 3.31 ERA in 295 games (209 starts) from 1947-54, after being acquired from Cleveland in exchange for fellow Hall of Famer Joe Gordon. Reynolds also finished 70 regular season games for the Yankees in an era before the save was an official statistic. The No. 2 starter, Vic Raschi, broke into the



Lefty Gomez

Majors at age 27 and didn't become a full member of the Yankees rotation until two years later in 1948. He won exactly 21 games in each of three consecutive years from 1949-51 and tallied a .706 winning percentage (120-50) and 3.47 ERA with the club from 1946-1953. The least-heralded of the three, "Steady" Eddie Lopat, went 113-59 with a 3.19 ERA with the Yankees from 1948-1955, including an AL-leading 2.43 ERA in 1953.

Mickey Mantle [L] and Roger Maris

For all the great players of the 1950s and early 60s, Mantle overshadowed everyone. He would achieve greatness despite suffering from osteomyelitis (a painful inflammatory bone disease) and numerous other injuries. The powerful switch-hitter belted 536 home runs, collected 2,415 hits and batted .300 or higher 10 times in an 18-year career. In his first 14 seasons in pinstripes (1951-64), the Yankees missed the World Series only twice (1954 and 1959) and won the Fall Classic seven times. With his .353 batting average, 52 homers and 130RBI in 1956, he remains the last Yankees player to win the Triple Crown.

Ford, who played his whole career in pinstripes, is the Yankees' all-time wins leader. His lifetime record of 236-106 gives him the second-best career winning percentage (.690) of any pitcher who began his career in the modern era (since 1900) with 150 or more decisions, trailing only career-Yankee Spud Chandler (.717, 109-43). Ford paced the American League in victories three times and in ERA and shutouts twice. He still holds many World Series records, including those for wins (10), consecutive scoreless innings (33.0) and strikeouts (94).

The heart of the Yankees for 18 seasons, Berra played on an incredible 14 pennant winners and 10 World Championship teams—a record number for any individual player in Baseball history. He is one of only 10 players in Major League history to win three MVP Awards and was selected to the All-Star team in every season from 1948 through 1962. Incredibly, he led the Yankees in RBI every season from 1949-55, had more career 100-RBI seasons (five) than Mantle (four), and hit at least 20 home runs in 11 different seasons, Known as much for his quotes ("It ain't over 'til it's over" and "I really didn't say everything I said," etc.) as he is for his accomplishments on the field, he remains one of the most beloved players to ever play the game.

Rizzuto played on 10 pennant winners and eight World Series championship teams from 1941 through 1956, capturing the league's MVP award in 1950, batting .324 with 200 hits and 125 runs scored. Eventually elected to the Baseball Hall of Fame in 1994, he gave one of the most memorable induction speeches in the history of the ceremony.

Not every notable Yankee was a future Hall of Famer. In Game 5 of the 1956 World Series vs. the Brooklyn Dodgers at Yankee Stadium, right-hander Don Larsen authored one of the game's greatest pitching performances when he retired all 27 Dodger batters for the only perfect game in World Series history.

The Yankees opened the 1960s winning pennants in the first five seasons (1960-64) and World Series titles in 1961 and 1962. Incredibly, in the 29 seasons from 1936 to 1964, the Yankees won 22 pennants and 16 World Championships. The 1961 club is still regarded as one of the best teams in Baseball history. With Mantle and Roger Maris embroiled in a season-long race to break Ruth's single-season home run record, the Yankees rolled to 109 wins en route to a World Championship. Maris broke Ruth's record when he belted his 61st home run on October 1 off Boston's Tracy Stallard at Yankee Stadium in the last game of the season.

Age finally caught up with the ballclub after a seven-game Series loss to the St. Louis Cardinals in 1964. The Yankees would finish above fourth place just once in the next nine seasons and actually fell to last place in 1966 for the first time in 53 years.

The team's fall from grace ended on January 3, 1973, when it was sold by CBS to a group headed by George M. Steinbrenner III. With the addition of Catfish Hunter, Baseball's first marquee free agent, shrewd trades that brought Ed Figueroa, Mickey Rivers, Chris Chambliss and Willie Randolph to the club, and a strong nucleus that included Thurman Munson, Graig Nettles, Roy White and Sparky Lyle, the Yankees returned to the postseason in 1976, ending an 11-year drought (1965-1975) by winning their first American League East title. Then on October 14, 1976, in the deciding Game 5 of the American League Championship Series vs. Kansas City, Chambliss launched a ninth-inning, pennant-winning home run to put the Yankees back in the World Series.

Reggie Jackson hit three home runs in Game 6 of the 1977 World Series.

Bucky Dent hits his famous three-run home run in the one-game AL East playoff contest on Oct. 2, 1978 at Fenway Park.

This newfound success took place in a remodeled Yankee Stadium. The 1974 and '75 Yankees played in Shea Stadium for two years while vast improvements were made to the original Yankee Stadium (for more details, see "History of Original Yankee Stadium").

After a disheartening four-game sweep by the Cincinnati Reds in the 1976 World Series, the Yankees introduced Reggie Jackson—the most prolific slugger of his era—as the club's newest free-agent acquisition. Jackson capped an exciting 1977 season with one of baseball's greatest individual performances. In the Game 6 World Series-clinching win vs. Los Angeles at Yankee Stadium, "Mr. October" belted three home runs on three swings of the bat to join Babe Ruth (and now Albert Pujols) as the only players to hit three home runs in a single World Series game.

In 1978, the Yankees overcame a 14.0-game deficit in the American League East to force a one-game playoff with the Boston Red Sox at Fenway Park to decide the American League pennant. Shortstop Bucky Dent erased a 2-0, seventh-inning Red Sox lead with a dramatic three-run homer, and the Yankees went on to a 5-4 win en route to a second straight World Championship over the Dodgers.

The 1978 season also saw the emergence of Ron Guidry as one the franchise's greatest pitchers. A four-time American League All-Star, Guidry compiled one of the most dominating seasons in baseball history while becoming known as "Louisiana Lightning." He went 25-3 with a 1.74 ERA in leading the Yankees to their dramatic comeback, compiling a club-record 248 strikeouts and nine shutouts along the way to a unanimous selection as the AL Cy Young Award recipient. On June 17, 1978 vs. the California Angels at Yankee Stadium, Guidry set a club record by striking out 18 batters. A five-time Gold Glove Award winner, Guidry also racked up 20-win seasons in 1983 (21-9) and 1985 (22-6).

Thurman Munson, Goose Gossage

The 1970s ended with tragedy. Thurman Munson, the Yankees' first captain since Gehrig, was killed when his private jet crashed on August 2, 1979. Only 32 years old at the time of his death, Munson was the undisputed leader of the clubs that won three consecutive pennants and two World Championships. After the captain's death, the Yankees would make only one more World Series appearance (1981) in the next 17 years despite compiling the best record in the Major Leagues during the 1980s.

During this period, Don Mattingly became one of the most popular players in franchise history, batting .307 in a 14-year career (1982-95) played entirely in pinstripes. He compiled an incredible six-year stretch from 1984 through 1989, in which he batted .327 and topped 100RBI five times, including a career-high 145 in 1985, when he captured the AL MVP Award. A year earlier, he outdueled teammate Dave Winfield for the 1984 AL batting crown (.343 to .340), going 4-for-5 on the final day of the season. His performance and loyalty were recognized when he was named the 10th captain in Yankees history from 1991-95.

Winfield, who came to the Yankees as the game's most sought-after free agent in 1981, compiled Hall of Fame credentials in his eight-plus seasons in pinstripes (1981-90). With the Yankees, he belted 205 home runs with 818RBI and won five Gold Glove Awards.

After a 13-year absence (1982-94), the Yankees returned to postseason play in 1995 as the American League's first-ever "Wild Card" entry. A heart-wrenching five-game loss to the Seattle Mariners in the Division Series marked the start of a 13-year run of consecutive postseason appearances (1995-2007), a record topped only by the Atlanta Braves' 14-season streak (1991-93, 1995-2005).

Rudy Giuliani, George Steinbrenner and Joe Torre

In 1996 under new skipper Joe Torre, the Yankees returned to the World Series against Atlanta, coming back from an 0-2 deficit to win four straight games, including Games 3, 4 and 5 in Atlanta. Following a Division Series exit in 1997, the Yankees won three straight World titles from 1998 through 2000, giving them four championships in five years. Their 114 victories in 1998 shattered the 44-year-old AL mark of 111 wins set by the 1954 Cleveland Indians (since broken by Seattle in 2001) and their 125 total victories, including 11 postseason wins, remains the highest single-season total in baseball history.

Beginning in the early 90s, the Yankees made a concerted effort to focus on drafting and cultivating homegrown talent such as All-Stars Robinson Cano, Derek Jeter, Andy Pettitte, Phil Hughes, Jorge Posada, Mariano Rivera, David Robertson and Bernie Williams. In addition, trades and free-agent acquisitions have brought such All-Stars as Wade Boggs, Scott Brosius, David Cone, Jimmy Key, Tino Martinez, Hideki Matsui, Mike Mussina and Curtis Granderson to the Bronx. Another of those players, Paul O'Neill, acquired in a November 3, 1992, trade with Cincinnati, became adored by Yankees fans for his intense and gritty approach. Winner of the 1994 batting title (.359) and often described as a "warrior," he is typically thought of as the heart and soul of the club's turn-of-the-century success.

In 2001, the Yankees fell just shy of becoming the second team in history to win four consecutive World Series titles, but they nevertheless captured the hearts of the nation in the aftermath of the terrorist attacks of September 11. The Yankees dropped the first two games of the Series at the Arizona Diamondbacks' Bank One Ballpark but rallied to win the next three at Yankee Stadium behind dramatic ninth-inning comebacks in both Games 4 and 5. On consecutive nights, Martinez and Brosius erased two-run, ninth-inning Diamondbacks leads with home runs, and the Yankees won both games in extra innings. It was in Game 4 that Jeter earned his "Mr. November" nickname with a 10th-inning "walk-off" home run. The victories marked the first time in World Series history that a team won two games in the same Series when trailing by at least two runs in the ninth inning.

Scott Brosius hits a two-run, ninth-inning, game-tying homer in Game 5 of the 2001 World Series vs. Arizona.

No one personifies the Yankees' success since 1996 more than Jeter, who was a rookie on that squad and is now Baseball's active hits leader. During the 2011 season, he became the 28th member of the 3,000 hit club, reaching the plateau on July 9 at Yankee Stadium with a home run off Tampa Bay's David Price. Jeter's personal career winning percentage of .600 (1,454-970-2) is the best among active Major League players who have played in a minimum of 1,000 games. Through the 2011 season, he tops the Yankees' all-time list in hits (3,088), games played (2,426), stolen bases (339), at-bats (9,868), singles (2,291) and hit-by-pitch (158). Jeter has also recorded seven 200-hit seasons and is one of two players in franchise history along with Gehrig (eight) with as many as four. In fact, according to the Elias Sports Bureau, no other player in Baseball history has had as many as four 200-hit seasons while playing at least 100 games at shortstop per year.

Posada and Rivera have also crafted special places for themselves in the annals of the franchise. Posada, a 24th-round selection in the 1990 First-Year Player Draft, was one of six catchers in Major League history to hit at least 20 home runs in eight seasons while playing a minimum of 50 percent of his games behind the plate. Known for his toughness and durability, the Puerto Rico-born backstop started at least 120 games in eight consecutive seasons from 2000-07, and retired a lifetime Yankee prior to the 2012 season.

Rivera, who now has 603 career saves, became Baseball's all-time saves leader in 2011, surpassing Trevor Hoffman (601). His reputation has been cemented by postseason excellence, which includes an 8-1 record and 0.70 ERA in 96 career postseason games (141.0 innings pitched) and an all-time record 33.1 consecutive scoreless postseason innings. His Major League-leading 42 career postseason saves is almost as many as the totals of the second, third and fourth place pitchers on the list combined (44). Additionally, his 2.21 career ERA is the second-lowest all time among pitchers with at least 1,000.0IP since ERA was made an official statistic in 1912 in NL and 1913 in AL (Eddie Cicotte 2.20).

In 2004, the organization acquired Alex Rodriguez in a trade from the Texas Rangers. Since his arrival in the Bronx, the now 14-time All-Star transitioned to a new position at third base and was voted the AL MVP in 2005 and 2007, while becoming the seventh—and youngest—player in Baseball history to reach the 600-home run plateau in 2010.

Former Yankees catcher Joe Girardi was named the 32nd manager in franchise history on October 30, 2007, heading into the final year of the original Yankee Stadium. The 2008 season was full of nostalgia and notable events, including the third Papal Mass in Stadium history on April 20 and a 15-inning, 4-3 American League victory in the All-Star Game on July 15. Though the Yankees played their last-ever home game in the original Stadium on September 21, defeating the Baltimore Orioles, 7-3, the drama of the season didn't end until its final day as Mike Mussina earned a win in the first game of a doubleheader over Boston at Fenway Park to become the oldest first-time 20-game winner in Baseball history.

The 2009 season proved nothing short of storybook material as the club finished the inaugural season in the newly-constructed Yankee Stadium with the best regular season record in the Majors (103-59) and a six-game World Series win over the Phillies. Free-agent acquisitions CC Sabathia (19 wins) and Mark Teixeira (second in AL MVP voting, 39HR, 122RBI) each played major roles in the club's success.

Sadly, the following season, 2010, will be remembered for the passings of Principal Owner George M. Steinbrenner III and longtime public address announcer Bob Sheppard.

In recent years, the Yankees have become a fixture in the postseason, having made the playoffs in 16 of the last 17 seasons since 1995, including 12 AL East titles in the last 16 years. The organization will continue to focus on procuring and nurturing young talent. Second baseman Robinson Cano, outfielder Brett Gardner and pitchers Phil Hughes, Ivan Nova and David Robertson are illustrative of the team's commitment to youth and international scouting. With the 2012 season at hand, the Yankees will strive toward the singular goal of bringing a 28th championship back to the Bronx.

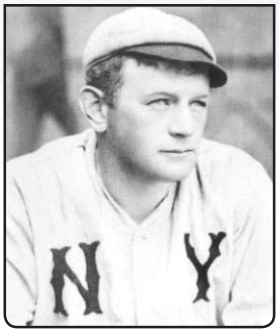
History of the Yankees Uniform

When the Yankees (then "Highlanders") first took the field for their inaugural season in 1903, their uniforms did not resemble the iconic style for which they are known today. A large ornate "N" decorated one breast and a large ornate "Y" the other. Two years later for the 1905 season, the "N" and "Y" were merged side by side into a monogram on the left breast, creating a forerunner of the now legendary emblem.



Jack Chesbro models the franchise's earliest "NY" design in 1903.

It wasn't until 1909 that the most recognizable insignia in sports—the interlocking "NY"—made its first appearance on the caps and left sleeves of Highlanders uniforms. The design was created in 1877 by Tiffany & Co. for a medal to be given by the New York City Police Department to Officer John McDowell, the first NYC policeman shot in the line of duty. Perhaps because one of the club's owners, Bill Devery, was a former NYC police chief, the design was adopted by the organization. The familiar "NY" eventually migrated from the left sleeve to the left breast of home uniforms from 1912-16, albeit in a larger version than is currently worn today.

In 1912, their final season at Hilltop Park, the Yankees (as they were commonly known by then) made a fashionable debut at their April 11 home opener by wearing pinstripes for the first time in their history. The club was not the first team to wear pinstripes (eight of Baseball's other 15 teams had already worn them at some point), and they would actually abandon the look in the following two seasons (1913-14). By 1915, though, home pinstripes were back for good.

In 1917, the Yankees removed the "NY" monogram from the jersey and went with a plain, pinstripes-only look. The "NY" remained off the uniform—except for the cap—for the next 19 years until it was reinstated in 1936. Babe Ruth, whose Yankees career spanned 1920-1934, played his entire Yankees career without ever wearing the club's now-legendary insignia on his jersey.

Lou Gehrig and Tony Lazzeri display the pre-1936 home uniform without insignia.

The Yankees utilized numerous cap designs from 1903 until 1921—including pinstripes in 1915, '16, '19 and '21—until they finally settled on a solid navy cap with the interlocking "NY" insignia in 1922.

Babe Ruth sports the pinstriped-cap look of 1921.

The club's road uniforms have remained relatively unchanged since 1918—solid grey with "NEW YORK" in block letters across the chest. The notable exception was from 1927-30, when "NEW YORK" was replaced by "YANKEES." In 1973, with the introduction of more breathable double-knit uniforms, Yankees road jerseys added navy-and-white banded trim to the cuffs of the sleeves as well as white shadowing behind the jersey lettering.

The home uniform remains the Yankees' signature look. With the exception of minor alterations—including bolder pinstripes in the 1940s—it has remained mostly unchanged for more than 70 years.

Origin of Numbered Uniforms

Numbers first appeared on Major League uniforms on June 26, 1916, when the Cleveland Indians wore large numerals on their left sleeves in an experiment that lasted just a few weeks. Another brief trial by Cleveland the next season and a similar sleeve trial by the St. Louis Cardinals in 1923 both proved temporary. It wasn't until the 1929 season that another attempt was made, as both Cleveland and the New York Yankees began their seasons with numbers as a permanent part of their respective uniforms. Though the Yankees are typically credited as being the team with the longest-standing such policy, it should be noted that the Indians began their season two days earlier than the Bombers, as the Yankees' April 16 Opening Day contest was rained out.

The initial distribution of numbers to the Yankees roster was made according to the player's position in the batting order. Therefore, in 1929, leadoff hitter Earle Combs wore No. 1, Mark Koenig No. 2, Babe Ruth No. 3, Lou Gehrig No. 4, Bob Meusel No. 5, Tony Lazzeri No. 6, Leo Durocher No. 7, Johnny Grabowski No. 8, Benny Bengough No. 9 and Bill Dickey No. 10 (Grabowski, Bengough and Dickey shared the catching duties). By the mid-1930s, other teams adopted the idea, and uniform numbers became the standard for all teams.

Patches & Armbands on the Yankees Uniform

Over the Yankees' 109-year history, temporary patches and armbands have been worn to commemorate special occasions and mourn the passings of members of the Yankees family. The list below represents the most thorough compilation of special additions to the uniform available at the time of the publication of this book. Annual alterations such as Major League Baseball's Mothers' Day and Fathers' Day ribbons, or permanent additions such as MLB logo patches on the backs of caps and jerseys are not included in the list below.

*Please note that all sleeve notations reflect game jerseys (GJ) unless otherwise noted to be batting practice jerseys (BPJ).

Important Dates in Yankees History

Hilltop Park, first home of the Yankees

Jan. 9, 1903 - Frank Farrell and Bill Devery purchase the defunct Baltimore franchise of the American League for $18,000, then move the team to Manhattan.

March 12, 1903 - The New York franchise is approved as a member of the American League. The team will play in a hastily constructed, wooden ballpark at 168th Street and Broadway. Because the site is one of the highest spots in Manhattan, their home field is referred to as "Hilltop Park."

April 22, 1903 - The Highlanders (as the Yankees were commonly known then) play their first game, a 3-1 loss at Washington.

April 23, 1903 - Pitcher Harry Howell records the first victory in franchise history, a 7-2 win at Washington.

April 30, 1903 - The Highlanders notch a 6-2 win vs. Washington in their inaugural home opener at Hilltop Park.

May 11, 1903 - John Ganzel hits the first home run in franchise history - an inside-the-park homer at Detroit's Bennett Park off George Mullin in an 8-2 Highlanders victory.

April 11, 1912 - Pinstripes first appear on Highlanders uniforms, creating a look that would become the most famous uniform design in sports.

April 21, 1912 - At the Polo Grounds, the Highlanders and Giants stage a benefit game for survivors of the Titanic. The Giants win, 11-2, as $9,425.25 is raised.

May 3, 1912 - The Yankees lose at Philadelphia, 18-15. The 33 total combined runs mark the highest total in franchise history, since equaled twice, both also at Philadelphia (5/22/30 Game 2 and 6/3/32, each in 20-13 Yankees wins).

April 1913 - The Highlanders are officially renamed "Yankees" after moving to the Polo Grounds, home of the National League's New York Giants.

April 5, 1913 - The Yankees play an exhibition game against the Dodgers, losing, 3-2, in the first-ever game at Ebbets Field.

April 17, 1913 - The Yankees play their first home game at the Polo Grounds, losing to Washington, 9-3. It marks the beginning of 10 seasons as tenants of the National League's New York Giants.

Jan. 11, 1915 - Col. Jacob Ruppert and Col. Tillinghast L'Hommedieu Huston purchase the Yankees for $465,000.

April 24, 1917 - Lefthander George Mogridge becomes the first Yankee to throw a no-hitter in a 2-1 win at Fenway Park. The next Yankees lefty to accomplish the feat is Dave Righetti on 7/4/83 vs. Boston.

April 3, 1919 - Yankees outfielder Ping Bodie defeats an ostrich named Percy in a spaghetti-eating contest in Jacksonville, Fla., during spring training, after Percy passes out after his 11th plate of pasta (credit: SABR Biography Project).

Jan. 3, 1920 - The Yankees purchase the contract of Babe Ruth from the Boston Red Sox for $125,000 and a $350,000 loan against the mortgage on Fenway Park.

May 1, 1920 - Babe Ruth hits his first homer as a Yankee in a 6-0 win over the Red Sox at the Polo Grounds.

Feb. 5, 1921 - The Yankees issue press release announcing the purchase of 10 acres of land in the West Bronx that will become the site of the original Yankee Stadium. The land, purchased from the estate of William Waldorf Astor, cost $675,000.

Oct. 5, 1921 - The Yankees play the first postseason game in franchise history, as Carl Mays tosses a complete game shutout to defeat the New York Giants at the Polo Grounds in Game 1 of the World Series.

May 5, 1922 - The construction contract for Yankee Stadium is awarded to White Construction Company with the edict that the job is to be completed "at a definite price" of $2.5 million by Opening Day 1923.

May 21, 1922 - Col. Ruppert buys out Col. Huston for $1.5 million.

April 18, 1923 - Yankee Stadium hosts its first regular season game as the Yankees defeat Boston Red Sox, 4-1, before an announced crowd of 74,200. Babe Ruth hits the Stadium's first home run - a three-run shot in the third inning - and starter Bob Shawkey records a complete-game win.

April 30, 1923 - The Yankees sign 19-year-old Columbia pitcher and position player Lou Gehrig to a professional contract.

Origin of the Names "Highlanders" and "Yankees"

When the American League moved the Baltimore Orioles to New York for the 1903 season, the club made its home at 168th Street and Broadway, one of the highest spots in Manhattan. As a result, the team became known as the "Hilltoppers" and their field "Hilltop Park," even though their formal team name was "New York Americans" and formal ballpark name "American League Park."

The name "Highlanders," as the team of that era is most-popularly remembered today, also started in the club's formative years. It originated not only as a nod to their elevated Manhattan perch, but also as a reference to club president Joseph W. Gordon, whose last name conjured up thoughts of the famous British army unit, the Gordon Highlanders.

Other nicknames for the team were "Porch Climbers," "Burglars," and "Invaders"—all three usually reserved for writers sympathetic to the New York Giants, who held lingering animosity at having American League competition in such close proximity.

As early as 1904, however, the name "Yankees" became common in the press. The earliest known use was in an April 7, 1904, article in the New York Evening Journal that bore the headline "YANKEES WILL START HOME FROM SOUTH TODAY," which was published following a successful spring training spent in the Southern U.S. A week later, the same newspaper's coverage of Opening Day was headlined "YANKEES BEAT BOSTON," and the term also appeared in the article's lead sentence.

"Yankees" was a natural fit given the club's formal name, but likely owes its success to newspaper typesetters and editors grateful for a team name with fewer letters than "Highlanders" or "Hilltoppers." When the franchise moved from Hilltop Park to the Polo Grounds in 1913, it officially changed its name to "New York Yankees."

Sept. 28, 1923 - The Yankees record 30 hits in a 24-4 win over Boston at Fenway Park. The hit total remains the most in a nine-inning game in franchise history.

Oct. 15, 1923 - The Yankees defeat the New York Giants, 6-4, at the Polo Grounds in Game 6 of the World Series, clinching the first World Championship in franchise history.

June 1, 1925 - Lou Gehrig begins his record streak of 2,130 consecutive games played, pinch-hitting for "Pee Wee" Wanniger in a 5-3 loss to Washington at Yankee Stadium.

Oct. 6, 1926 - Babe Ruth becomes the first player to hit three home runs in a single World Series game in Game 4 at St. Louis.

June 23, 1927 - In an 11-4 Yankees win at Fenway Park, Lou Gehrig become the first (of two) players in franchise history to hit 3HR in a single game against the Red Sox (also see May 8, 2010).

Sept. 30, 1927 - Babe Ruth breaks his own single-season Major League record by hitting his 60th home run (off Tom Zachary) in a 4-2 win over Washington at Yankee Stadium.

April 20, 1928 - Yankee Stadium's left field stands are enlarged to three decks.

Oct. 9, 1928 - In Game 4 of the World Series vs. the Cardinals at St. Louis' Sportsman's Park, Babe Ruth hits three home runs, marking his second three-homer World Series game.

April 18, 1929 - The Yankees wear numbered uniforms for the first time in their history, two days after the Cleveland Indians permanently adopt them as well (Numbers would become standard for all teams by 1932).

Sept. 24, 1929 - The Yankees celebrate Babe Ruth Day at Fenway Park by winning, 5-3, over Boston. Ruth goes 2-for-3 with a double and Tom Zachary (pitching for the Yankees) records his final decision of the season, improving to 12-0, still a Major League record for most wins in a season without a loss.

Joe DiMaggio

Sept. 25, 1929 - Manager Miller Huggins, who guided the Yankees to their first six AL pennants and three World Championships, dies of blood poisoning at age 51. Coach Art Fletcher manages the team for the remainder of the season.

May 21, 1930 - Babe Ruth hits three home runs in a 15-7 loss in Game 1 of a doubleheader at Philadelphia. It marks his only regular season three-homer game as a Yankee, though he accomplishes the feat twice with the club in the World Series and once at the end of his career with the Boston Braves.

July 26, 1931 - The Yankees defeat the White Sox, 22-5, in Game 2 of a doubleheader at Yankee Stadium, marking the most runs ever scored by the Yankees in a home game (later tied in 2011).

Aug. 3, 1931 - Aug. 2, 1933 - The Yankees score at least one run in a Major League-record 308 consecutive games.

May 11-16, 1932 - Yankees pitchers shut out their opponents in a franchise-high four consecutive games.

June 3, 1932 - Lou Gehrig becomes the first player to hit four home runs in a single game in the Yankees' 20-13 win at Philadelphia. The news is overshadowed by the retirement announcement of New York Giants Manager John McGraw. Gehrig remains the only Yankee to hit four home runs in one game.

Aug. 13, 1932 - Red Ruffing throws a complete game shutout and hits a 10th-inning solo home run off Washington Senators pitcher Al Thomas, giving the Yankees a 1-0 victory at Griffith Stadium. Though not the first to do so, no Major League pitcher has since thrown a complete game shutout and hit a home run in a 1-0 game.

Oct. 1, 1932 - In the fifth inning of the Yankees' 7-5 victory over the Chicago Cubs at Wrigley Field in Game 3 of the World Series, Babe Ruth gestures toward the bleachers before hitting his second home run of the game. Though Lou Gehrig also hits two homers that day, the game will be remembered for Ruth's much-debated "called shot."

May 27, 1933 - Trailing the White Sox, 11-3, going into the bottom of the eighth at Yankee Stadium, the Yankees score 12 runs in the frame and go on to win, 15-11. The Yankees' rally is capped by a grand slam from catcher Bill Dickey.

June 3, 1933 - Jumbo Brown strikes out a team-record 12 batters in relief in a 17-11 vs. Philadelphia.

June 4, 1933 - Starter Johnny Allen allows a first-inning single to Philadelphia's Ed Coleman, then holds the A's hitless the rest of the way, notching a one-hit shutout in a 6-0 Yankees home victory in the second game of a doubleheader.

July 6, 1933 - In the very first MLB All-Star Game, Babe Ruth hits the game's first home run – a two-run shot off the Cardinals' Bill Hallahan – leading the AL to a 4-2 victory at Comiskey Park. Lefty Gomez starts for the AL, tossing 3.0 scoreless IP to earn the win. He also records the first All-Star RBI with a second-inning single.

June 6, 1934 - Myril Hoag goes 6-for-6 in a 15-3, nine-inning win in Game 1 of a doubleheader at Boston, becoming the first of only two Yankees to go 6-for-6 in a single game (see June 7, 2008-Johnny Damon).

Nov. 21, 1934 - The Yankees purchase Joe DiMaggio from the San Francisco Seals of the Pacific Coast League for $50,000.

May 24, 1936 - The Yankees tally their single-game franchise-high in runs in a 25-2 win at Philadelphia. Tony Lazzeri is the star with three home runs (including two grand slams) and a triple. His 11 RBI set a still-standing AL single-game record.

April 20, 1937 - The Yankees' 15th season at Yankee Stadium opens with the right-field stands enlarged to three decks. Wooden bleachers are replaced by a concrete structure, and the distance to center field drops from 490 feet to 461 feet.

May 30, 1938 - A franchise-record crowd of 81,841 attends a doubleheader sweep of the Boston Red Sox at Yankee Stadium.

June 22, 1938 - In a rematch of their 1936 bout, Joe Louis knocks out Max Schmeling in 124 seconds to avenge his prior loss to the German and retain the heavyweight title in front of 70,043 fans at Yankee Stadium and an estimated 70 million people listening over the radio.

Aug. 27, 1938 - Monte Pearson authors the first Yankee Stadium no-hitter by a Yankee, defeating Cleveland, 13-0, in Game 2 of a doubleheader.

April 30, 1939 - Lou Gehrig plays in the last of his 2,130 consecutive games, going 0-for-4 in a 3-2 loss vs. Washington at the original Yankee Stadium.

May 2, 1939 - Lou Gehrig's playing streak of 2,130 consecutive games ends when he does not make an appearance in a 22-2 Yankees win at Detroit. Babe Dahlgren plays first base for the Yankees and contributes a double and a home run.

June 26, 1939 - At Philadelphia's Shibe Park, the Yankees play their first-ever night game, losing to the Athletics, 3-2.

July 4, 1939 - "Lou Gehrig Appreciation Day" is held at Yankee Stadium in between games of a doubleheader vs. Washington. His uniform No. 4 is the first to be retired in Major League Baseball. Gehrig makes his famous "luckiest man on the face of the earth" speech.

May 15, 1941 - Joe DiMaggio's 56-game hitting streak begins with a single off Edgar Smith in a 13-1 loss vs. Chicago.

June 2, 1941 - Lou Gehrig dies of Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis at the age of 37 in the Riverdale section of the Bronx.

July 2, 1941 - In an 8-4 win vs. Boston, Joe DiMaggio goes 1-for-5 with a three-run home run, extending his hitting streak to 45 games and surpassing Wee Willie Keeler's single-season Major League record 44-game streak set in 1897.

July 17, 1941 - Joe DiMaggio's consecutive-game hitting streak ends at 56 when he goes 0-for-3 in a 4-3 Yankees win at Cleveland. Indians third baseman Ken Keltner twice robs DiMaggio of hits with great fielding plays. DiMaggio hits safely in his next 16 games, giving him hits in 72 of 73 games.

Aug. 14, 1942 - The Yankees set a still-standing Major League fielding mark by recording seven double plays in an 11-2 win at Philadelphia.

June 26, 1944 - The Yankees, Dodgers and Giants play a three-way exhibition game at the Polo Grounds to promote the purchase of war bonds. Each team batted six times and played the field six times while a crowd of 50,000 fans bought $5.5 million in war bonds. Brooklyn wins by a score of 5 to 1 (Yankees) to 0 (Giants).

Jan. 25, 1945 - Dan Topping, Del Webb and Larry MacPhail purchase the Yankees for $2.8 million from the estate of the late Col. Jacob Ruppert. MacPhail replaces Ed Barrow as President and General Manager.

May 28, 1946 - The first night game is played at Yankee Stadium, a 2-1 loss vs. Washington before 49,917 fans.

April 27, 1947 - "Babe Ruth Day" is celebrated at Yankee Stadium and throughout Major League Baseball.

June 29 - July 17, 1947 - The Yankees reel off a franchise-record 19 consecutive wins, outscoring their opposition 119-41.

Oct. 3, 1947 - Yankees pitcher Bill Bevens loses his no-hitter and the game with two outs in the bottom of the ninth as pinch-hitter Cookie Lavagetto doubles home two runs in a 3-2 Dodgers win in Game 4 of the World Series at Ebbets Field.

June 13, 1948 - Babe Ruth's uniform No. 3 is retired at Yankee Stadium's 25th Anniversary celebration. The visit marks the Babe's final Stadium appearance.

Aug. 16, 1948 - Babe Ruth dies of throat cancer in New York at age 53.

Oct. 12, 1948 - The Yankees announce that Casey Stengel will replace Bucky Harris as manager.

Oct. 1-2, 1949 - The Yankees come back from a one-game deficit with two games to play, defeating the Boston Red Sox in the final two games of the season at Yankee Stadium, 5-4 and 5-3, respectively, marking the first of five consecutive American League pennants.

Oct. 5, 1949 - In Game 1 of the World Series vs. Brooklyn at Yankee Stadium, Tommy Henrich breaks up a scoreless pitchers' duel between the Yankees' Allie Reynolds and the Dodgers' Don Newcombe, hitting a game-winning solo home run in the bottom of the ninth.

Mickey Mantle made his debut in 1951.

April 17, 1951 - Mickey Mantle makes his Major League debut, going 1-for-4 in a 5-0 win vs. Boston at Yankee Stadium. The game also marks Bob Sheppard's first as Yankees public-address announcer. Boston's Dom DiMaggio is the first hitter announced.

Sept. 28, 1951 - In an 8-0 Game 1 win in a doubleheader vs. Boston at Yankee Stadium, Allie Reynolds becomes the second of four players in Baseball history to toss two no-hitters in the same season (also Johnny Vander Meer in 1938, Virgil Trucks in 1952 and Nolan Ryan in 1973). Reynolds had previously no-hit the Indians at Cleveland's Municipal Stadium on July 12 in a 1-0 win.

Dec. 12, 1951 - Joe DiMaggio officially announces his retirement.

Oct. 7, 1952 - Second baseman Billy Martin makes a running catch on a two-out, seventh-inning, based-loaded pop-up off the bat of Jackie Robinson to preserve the Yankees' lead in a 4-2 World Series-clinching Game 7 win at Brooklyn's Ebbets Field.

April 17, 1953 - Mickey Mantle clears the left-field wall at Washington's Griffith Stadium with a 565-foot home run off Chuck Stobbs in the fifth inning of a 7-3 Yankees win. Yankees PR representative Red Patterson retrieves the ball and measures off the distance, giving birth to the phrase "tape-measure home run."

Oct. 5, 1953 - Billy Martin singles home the winning run in the ninth inning of a 4-3, Game 6 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers at Yankee Stadium. The win clinches the Yankees' all-time record fifth-consecutive World Championship.

Elston Howard

April 14, 1955 - Elston Howard becomes the first black player in Yankees history, making his Major League debut in an 8-4 loss at Boston. He records an RBI single in his only plate appearance.

Oct. 4, 1955 - Brooklyn's Johnny Podres outduels Yankees starter Tommy Byrne and two relievers, 2-0, clinching the Dodgers' first World Series Championship. The World Series loss snaps the Yankees' string of seven consecutive team appearances in the Fall Classic without losing a Series (1943, '47, '49-53). It also marks the Yankees' first World Series loss to Brooklyn after wins in 1941, '47, '49, '52 and '53.

May 30, 1956 - Batting against Pedro Ramos in Game 1 of a doubleheader vs. Washington, Mickey Mantle nearly hits a home run out of Yankee Stadium, with the ball striking the upper deck frieze in right field.

Oct. 8, 1956 - Don Larsen hurls the only perfect game in World Series history, a 2-0 win over Brooklyn in Game 5 at Yankee Stadium.

Oct. 10, 1956 - Johnny Kucks pitches a complete game shutout, defeating the Brooklyn Dodgers at Ebbets Field, 9-0, to win Game 7 of the World Series.

June 15, 1957 - In the wake of the "Copacabana incident," the Yankees trade Billy Martin to Kansas City along with Woodie Held, Bob Martyn and Ralph Terry for Ryne Duren, Jim Pisoni and Harry Simpson.

April 22, 1959 - Whitey Ford pitches a 1-0, 14-inning complete game shutout at Washington, allowing just seven hits and striking out 15.

May 7, 1959 - The Yankees and Dodgers play an exhibition game before 93,103 fans at the L.A. Coliseum. The game is played to honor paralyzed Dodgers catcher Roy Campanella.

Oct. 8, 1960 - Second baseman Bobby Richardson sets an all-time World Series record (since tied by Hideki Matsui on 11/4/09 vs. Philadelphia and Albert Pujols on 10/22/11 w/ St. Louis at Texas) with 6RBI in Game 3 of the World Series vs. Pittsburgh, hitting a grand slam in the first inning and two-run single in the fourth inning of a 10-0 Yankees win.

Sept. 26, 1961 - Roger Maris hits his 60th home run of the season off Baltimore's Jack Fisher in a 3-2 Yankees win at Yankee Stadium, tying Babe Ruth's Major League record.

Oct. 1, 1961 - Roger Maris hits his 61st home run in the season's final game off Boston's Tracy Stallard at Yankee Stadium, establishing a then-Major League record and still-standing AL record. It was the only run in a 1-0 Yankees victory.

June 24, 1962 - Jack Reed's two-run, 22nd-inning home run ends the longest game in Yankees history, a 9-7 win at Detroit.

Oct. 16, 1962 - In Game 7 of the World Series, superb fielding from outfielder Roger Maris holds Matty Alou at third base after a two-out, ninth-inning Willie Mays double. Bobby Richardson then snares a screaming line drive off the bat of Willie McCovey for the game's final out, securing a 1-0, Series-clinching victory over the San Francisco Giants at Candlestick Park. New York scores the game's only run when Tony Kubek grounds into a fifth-inning double play. It would be the last championship for the Yankees for 15 seasons.

May 22, 1963 - In an 8-7, 11-inning win vs. the Kansas City A's, Mickey Mantle hits the upper deck frieze in right field for the second time in his career, this time off righthander Bill Fischer.

June 20, 1963 - The Yankees lose to the Mets at Yankee Stadium, 6-2, in the first-ever Mayor's Trophy game.

Nov. 2, 1964 - CBS purchases 80 percent of the Yankees for $11.2 million. The network later buys the remaining 20 percent.

May 14, 1967 – Mickey Mantle becomes only the sixth player—and second Yankee—to reach the 500 home run plateau, when he connects off Baltimore's Stu Miller in a 6-5 win at Yankee Stadium.

Aug. 23, 1968 - The Yankees play the longest tied game in franchise history, matching Detroit, 3-3, in Game 2 of a doubleheader at Yankee Stadium. Yankees pitcher Lindy McDaniel tosses seven perfect innings in relief in the 19-inning affair.

June 8, 1969 - "Mickey Mantle Day" is celebrated at Yankee Stadium and his uniform No. 7 is retired.

June 24, 1970 - Bobby Murcer hits home runs in four consecutive at-bats over two games of a doubleheader vs. Cleveland at Yankee Stadium.

Aug. 8, 1972 - The Yankees sign a 30-year lease to play in a remodeled Yankee Stadium. Completion is scheduled for 1976.

Jan. 3, 1973 - A limited partnership, headed by George M. Steinbrenner III as its managing general partner, purchases the Yankees for a net price of $8.7 million from CBS.

April 6, 1973 - At Fenway Park in Boston, the Yankees' Ron Blomberg becomes the Major League's first designated hitter. Batting in the top of the first inning, he walks with the bases loaded off Luis Tiant. He goes 1-for-3 with 1RBI as the Yankees lose to the Red Sox, 15-5.

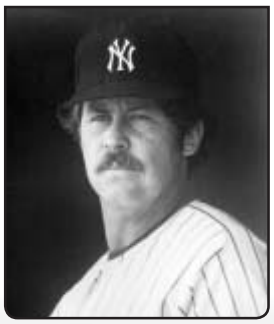
Sept. 30, 1973 - The Yankees play their final game in Yankee Stadium before gets remodeled, losing 8-5 vs. Detroit. Tigers pitcher John Hiller gets Yankees first baseman Mike Hegan to fly out to centerfield for the game's final out.

April 6, 1974 - The Yankees begin the first of two seasons at Shea Stadium as Yankee Stadium is remodeled. The Yankees will go 90-69 at Shea over the two seasons (1974-75).

Dec. 31, 1974 - Free agent Catfish Hunter signs a then-record five-year contract.

Aug. 1, 1975 - Billy Martin replaces Bill Virdon for his first of five stints as manager.

April 15, 1976 - Remodeled Yankee Stadium opens with an 11-4 win over Minnesota. The Twins' Dan Ford hits the first home run.



Jim "Catfish" Hunter

April 17, 1976 - In a 10-0 win, catcher Thurman Munson homers off Minnesota's Jim Hughes, marking the first home run by a Yankee in remodeled Yankee Stadium.

Oct. 14, 1976 - Chris Chambliss' ninth-inning home run off Mark Littell in Game 5 of the ALCS vs. Kansas City at Yankee Stadium gives the Yankees their 30th AL pennant and first trip to the World Series since 1964.

Nov. 29, 1976 - Free agent Reggie Jackson signs a five-year contract.

June 30, 1977 - The Yankees set a franchise record (since tied on 6/21/05 vs. Tampa Bay) with four home runs in a single inning in an 11-5 at Toronto. Cliff Johnson hits three homers in the game, including two of the Yankees' four in the eighth inning.

Sparky Lyle

Oct. 9, 1977 – The Yankees rally for one run in the eighth inning and three runs in the ninth for a 5-3, series-clinching win in the decisive Game 5 of the 1977 ALCS at Kansas City. Sparky Lyle earns the win for the second consecutive night, finishing the game with 1.1 scoreless innings on no rest following his scoreless 5.1-inning relief appearance at Kauffman Stadium in Game 4.

Oct. 18, 1977 - Reggie Jackson hits three home runs (on three consecutive pitches) in Game 6 of the World Series vs. the Los Angeles Dodgers at Yankee Stadium. He Babe Ruth and Albert Pujols are the only players to hit three home runs in a single World Series game.

April 13, 1978 - The Yankees defeat the White Sox, 4-2, in the Yankee Stadium opener on "Reggie!" Candy Bar Day. When Jackson slugs a three-run HR in the first inning, the field is showered with the chocolate and peanut candy bars, which were given out free to fans at the game.

June 17, 1978 - Ron Guidry establishes a franchise record by striking out 18 batters in the Yankees' 4-0 win vs. California.

July 24, 1978 - Billy Martin resigns as manager.

July 25, 1978 - Bob Lemon is named manager, replacing Billy Martin.

July 29, 1978 - On Old-Timers' Day, the Yankees announce that Billy Martin will return as Yankees manager in 1980 and Bob Lemon will become General Manager (also see June 18, 1979).

Oct. 2, 1978 - The Yankees, 14.0 games behind Boston as late as July 19, defeat the Red Sox, 5-4, at Fenway Park in only the second one-game playoff in AL history. Bucky Dent's three-run, seventh-inning home run becomes one of the most memorable in Baseball history.

June 18, 1979 - Billy Martin is rehired as Yankees manager, replacing Bob Lemon.

Aug. 2, 1979 - Yankees Captain Thurman Munson dies in a plane crash in Canton, Ohio, at age 32. His No. 15 is immediately retired.

Aug. 6, 1979 - After delivering a eulogy at Thurman Munson's funeral earlier that morning in Canton, Ohio, Bobby Murcer hits a three-run seventh inning homer and a two-run ninth-inning single, accounting for all five of the Yankees' runs in an emotional 5-4 comeback win vs. Baltimore at Yankee Stadium.

Oct. 28, 1979 - Dick Howser is named manager, replacing Billy Martin.

Dec. 15, 1980 - Free agent Dave Winfield signs a then-record 10-year contract.

Nov. 21, 1980 - Gene Michael is named manager, replacing Dick Howser.

May 4, 1981 - Yankees reliever Ron Davis enters in the bottom of the seventh inning of a 4-2 Yankees win at California. After getting Don Baylor to pop out to the second baseman, he strikes out eight consecutive Angels to record the save. The performance ties the American League record for consecutive strikeouts in a single game, previously set by Nolan Ryan (twice) and later tied by Roger Clemens and Blake Stein. Davis remains the all-time Major League leader in consecutive strikeouts in a relief appearance.

Sept. 6, 1981 - Bob Lemon is named manager for a second time, replacing Gene Michael.

April 26, 1982 - Gene Michael becomes manager for a second time, replacing Bob Lemon.

Aug. 3, 1982 - Clyde King is named Yankees manager, replacing Gene Michael.

Jan. 11, 1983 - Billy Martin is named Yankees manager for the third time, replacing Clyde King.

July 4, 1983 - Dave Righetti pitches the sixth regular season no-hitter in franchise history and the first since 1951 in a 4-0 win vs. Boston at Yankee Stadium. Righetti strikes out Wade Boggs for the final out.

July 24, 1983 - The Yankees and Kansas City play the infamous "Pine Tar" game at Yankee Stadium. George Brett hits a two-out, ninth-inning home run off Goose Gossage to give the Royals an apparent 5-4 lead. Manager Billy Martin points out that the pine tar on Brett's bat is above the allowable 18 inches and Brett is subsequently called out for using an illegal bat. The Yankees (temporarily) win 4-3 (see Aug. 18, 1983).

"The Pine Tar Game"

Aug. 18, 1983 - Kansas City's protest is upheld and play is resumed at Yankee Stadium from the point immediately after Brett's home run. Yankees pitcher Ron Guidry plays center field while lefthanded first baseman Don Mattingly plays second base. Royals' reliever Dan Quisenberry retires the Yankees in order in the bottom of the ninth for a 5-4 Royals win.

Dec. 16, 1983 - Yogi Berra is named manager for the second time, replacing Billy Martin.

April 8, 1985 - At 46 years, 7 days old, Phil Niekro becomes the oldest Opening Day starter in Yankees franchise history (and third-oldest all time), allowing 5ER in 4.0IP while picking up the loss in a 9-2 Yankees defeat at Boston.

April 28, 1985 - Billy Martin is named manager for the fourth time, replacing Yogi Berra.

Aug. 4, 1985 - The Yankees celebrate "Phil Rizzuto Day" at Yankee Stadium, dedicating a plaque in his honor and retiring his No. 10. The Yankees lose their scheduled game to the Chicago White Sox, 4-1, as Tom Seaver wins his 300th career game.

Oct. 6, 1985 - Phil Niekro tosses a four-hit complete game shutout in an 8-0 victory at Toronto's Exhibition Stadium for his 300th career win.

Oct. 17, 1985 - Lou Piniella is named manager for the first time, replacing Billy Martin.

June 29, 1987 - At Toronto's Exhibition Stadium, the Yankees defeat the Blue Jays, 15-14, behind a pair of grand slams from Don Mattingly and Dave Winfield.

July 18, 1987 - Don Mattingly homers off Texas' Jose Guzman to tie Dale Long's Major League record of hitting a home run in eight consecutive games (Mattingly hits 10 HR during the streak).

Sept. 29, 1987 - Don Mattingly hits a grand slam off Boston's Bruce Hurst, setting a Major League record (tied by Travis Hafner in 2008) with six grand slams in a season.

Oct. 19, 1987 - Billy Martin is named manager for the fifth time, replacing Lou Piniella.

June 23, 1988 - Lou Piniella is named manager for the second time. Billy Martin is replaced as manager of the Yankees for the fifth and final time.

July 27, 1988 - Tommy John commits three errors on one play during the fourth inning of a 16-3 Yankees victory vs. Milwaukee. John becomes the first pitcher in the Modern Era to commit three miscues in the same inning.

Oct. 7, 1988 - Dallas Green is named manager, replacing Lou Piniella.

Dec. 9, 1988 - The Yankees sign a 12-year television contract with the Madison Square Garden Network.

Aug. 18, 1989 - Bucky Dent is named manager, replacing Dallas Green.

Dec. 25, 1989 - Billy Martin dies in an automobile accident near Binghamton, N.Y. at age 61.

June 6, 1990 - Stump Merrill is named manager, replacing Bucky Dent.

July 1, 1990 - With a no-hitter intact with two out in the bottom of the eighth at Comiskey Park, the Yankees make three errors behind starter Andy Hawkins, leading to four unearned runs as the Yankees go on to lose, 4-0. While initially ruled a "no-hitter", MLB removes the designation in 1991 after redefining a "no-hitter" as requiring a pitcher(s) to complete at least 9.0IP.

Oct. 29, 1991 - Buck Showalter is named manager, replacing Stump Merrill.

Sept. 4, 1993 - Jim Abbott tosses a 4-0, no-hit win vs. Cleveland at Yankee Stadium.

Aug. 13, 1995 - Mickey Mantle dies of cancer at age 63 in Dallas, Tex.

Sept. 6, 1995 - Lou Gehrig's Major League record of 2,130 consecutive games played is broken when Baltimore's Cal Ripken, Jr. plays in his 2,131st.

Oct. 4, 1995 - The Yankees play the longest postseason game in their history, a 15-inning, 7-5 win over Seattle at Yankee Stadium won on a two-run homer by Jim Leyritz. The contest was the final Yankee Stadium game for Don Mattingly.

Nov. 2, 1995 - Joe Torre is named the Yankees' 31st manager, replacing Buck Showalter.

Mar. 1, 1996 - The Yankees defeat the Cleveland Indians, 5-2, in the first ever game at Legends Field (renamed George M. Steinbrenner Field in 2008), the club's new spring training home.

April 9, 1996 - The Yankees defeat the Kansas City Royals, 7-3, in a snowy Bronx home opener. Starter Andy Pettitte earns the win as newcomers Joe Girardi (replacing Mike Stanley) and Tino Martinez (replacing Don Mattingly) get booed during pregame introductions. Hitting in the ninth spot, rookie shortstop Derek Jeter goes 1-for-3 with a single.

May 1, 1996 - Outfielder Gerald Williams goes 6-for-8 with 1HR and 3RBI in a 15-inning, 11-6 win at Baltimore. With Myril Hoag (6/6/1934 at Boston) and Johnny Damon (6/7/2008 vs. Kansas City), he is one of three Yankees in franchise history with six hits in a single game.

May 14, 1996 - Dwight Gooden hurls the eighth regular season no-hitter in Yankees history, a 2-0 blanking of the Seattle Mariners at Yankee Stadium.

June 16, 1996 - Mel Allen, the legendary "Voice of the Yankees" from 1939-64, passes away at age 83.

Aug. 25, 1996 - A monument in honor of Mickey Mantle is unveiled in Yankee Stadium's Monument Park.

Oct. 23, 1996 - In Game 4 of the World Series at Atlanta's Fulton County Stadium, Jim Leyritz hits a three-run eighth inning homer off the Braves' Mark Wohlers, knotting the game at 6-6. The Yankees went on to win, 8-6, in 10 innings.

John Wetteland and the Yankees celebrate their 1996 World Series title.

Oct 24, 1996 - The Yankees' Andy Pettitte (8.1IP) outduels Atlanta's John Smoltz (8.0IP), 1-0, in Game 5 in Atlanta.

Oct. 26, 1996 - In Game 6 of the World Series at Yankee Stadium, John Wetteland closes out a 3-2 win vs. Atlanta, giving the Yankees their first World Championship in 18 years.

June 23, 1997 - With 16 strikeouts in a 5-2 Yankees win at Detroit, David Cone sets the Yankees' all-time single-game high for a right-handed pitcher.

May 17, 1998 - David Wells tosses the first regular-season perfect game by a Yankee (and 14th in Baseball history), defeating Minnesota 4-0 at Yankee Stadium.

David Wells tossed a perfect game on May 17, 1998.

Sept. 25, 1998 - The Yankees set a then-American League record with their 112th win of the season (a 6-1 win vs. Tampa Bay at Yankee Stadium), breaking the mark of 111 by the 1954 Cleveland Indians

Sept. 27, 1998 - The Yankees finish their regular season with a 114-48 (.704) mark, becoming the first team since the 1954 Indians (111-43, .721) to finish a season with a winning percentage above .700.

Oct. 21, 1998 - The Yankees complete an incredible season with a four-game World Series sweep of the San Diego Padres to capture the franchise's 24th World Championship. The 3-0 win gives the club a 125-50 record over the entire season (114-48 in the regular season, 11-2 in postseason).

March 8, 1999 - Joe DiMaggio dies at age 84 in Hollywood, Fla.

April 25, 1999 - A monument in honor of Joe DiMaggio is unveiled in Yankee Stadium's Monument Park in front of a sold out Stadium and many of DiMaggio's former teammates. Paul Simon sings "Mrs. Robinson" while standing in center field.

July 18, 1999 - On "Yogi Berra Day," David Cone tosses the 15th regular season perfect game in Baseball history, one season after David Wells accomplishes the feat. Amazingly, Don Larsen—who tossed a perfect game in the 1956 World Series—throws out the ceremonial first pitch.

Oct. 27, 1999 - The Yankees play Baseball's last game of the century and complete a four-game sweep of the Atlanta Braves, capturing their 25th World Championship.

April 23, 2000 - In a 10-7 Yankees win at Toronto, Jorge Posada and Bernie Williams become the first (and only) pair of teammates in Major League history to each hit home runs from both sides of the plate in the same game.

July 8, 2000 - The Yankees and Mets play the first two-stadium, split doubleheader in nearly 100 years with the Yankees sweeping both games by the score of 4-2. Game 1 took place at Shea Stadium followed by Game 2 that night at Yankee Stadium. It marked the first day-night doubleheader to take place in different venues since the New York Giants and Brooklyn Superbas faced off on 9/7/1903.

Oct. 21, 2000 - The Yankees' World Series Game 1 win vs. the Mets at Yankee Stadium marks their 13th consecutive victory in World Series play, breaking the 12-game record of the 1927, 1928 and 1932 Yankees.

Oct. 26, 2000 - The Yankees win World Series Game 5 over the Mets at Shea Stadium, clinching their third consecutive World Championship in the first "Subway Series" since 1956. It marks the first time a club has won three consecutive World Series titles since the 1972-74 Oakland Athletics.

Sept. 2, 2001 - Mike Mussina comes within one out of a perfect game at Fenway Park, when Carl Everett singles with two outs in the ninth.

Sept. 23, 2001 - Yankee Stadium hosts "A Prayer for America" service for those lost on September 11. It was the first large-scale and formally staged program offered in memory of those killed or missing and presumed dead in the terrorist assault on the World Trade Center towers.

Oct. 13, 2001 - With a 1-0 lead and two-out in the bottom of the seventh of Game 3 of the ALDS in Oakland, Derek Jeter picks up Shane Spencer's errant throw from the outfield and "flips" the ball in a backhand motion to Jorge Posada, who tags Jeremy Giambi for the final out of the inning. The Yankees go on to win the game, 1-0, and the series 3 games to 2. The play will be known as the "Flip Play."

Oct. 30, 2001 - President George W. Bush throws out the first pitch prior to the Yankees' 2-1 World Series Game 3 win vs. Arizona at Yankee Stadium.

Oct. 31, 2001 - In Game 4 of the World Series vs. Arizona at Yankee Stadium, Tino Martinez's two-out, bottom-of-the ninth, two-run home run off Byung-Hyun Kim sends the game into extra innings. Shortly after the stroke of midnight, Derek Jeter wins the game with a "walk-off" solo home run in the 10th, earning him the nickname "Mr. November."

Nov. 1, 2001 - In the late innings of Game 5 of the World Series vs. Arizona at Yankee Stadium, fans serenade Paul O'Neill, who is playing in his last game at Yankee Stadium. Scott Brosius' two-out, bottom-of-the ninth, two-run home run off Byung-Hyun Kim sends the game into extra innings, and Alfonso Soriano singles in the winning run in the 12th.

May 17, 2002 - Jason Giambi becomes only the 21st player—and second Yankee—to hit a "walk-off" grand slam with his team trailing by three runs (Babe Ruth did it on 9/24/25). His 14th-inning slam off Minnesota's Mike Trombley erases a 12-9 Twins lead, giving the Yankees a 13-12 win.

April 8, 2003 - Hideki Matsui hits a grand slam in his Yankee Stadium debut, leading the Yankees to a 7-3 win over Minnesota.

Hideki Matsui

June 3, 2003 - Derek Jeter is named the 11th captain in franchise history.

June 13, 2003 - In a 5-2 win vs. St. Louis at Yankee Stadium, Roger Clemens records both his 300th career win and 4,000th career strikeout (Edgar Renteria).

Oct. 16, 2003 – In Game 7 of the ALCS vs. Boston at Yankee Stadium, Aaron Boone becomes only the fifth player—and second Yankee—to end a postseason series with a "walk-off" home run (also Chris Chambliss, 1976 ALCS vs. Kansas City), when his 11th-inning leadoff solo shot off Tim Wakefield clinches the Yankees' 39th pennant.

March 30-31, 2004 - The Yankees play their first-ever regular season games outside of North America, splitting a pair of games with Tampa Bay at the Tokyo Dome, losing 8-3 and winning 12-1, respectively.

July 1, 2004 - Derek Jeter makes his most famous catch, diving into Yankee Stadium's third base stands to nab a 12th-inning popup off the bat of Boston's Trot Nixon. John Flaherty wins the game with a 13th-inning RBI single.

April 26, 2005 - Alex Rodriguez hits three home runs (all off Bartolo Colon) and becomes just the second Yankee in franchise history to record at least 10 RBI in a game (also Tony Lazzeri, 11 on 5/24/36) in a 12-4 win vs. the Angels at Yankee Stadium.

June 15, 2005 – The Yankees announce plans for a new Yankee Stadium to be constructed in Macombs Dam and John Mullaly Parks, which are located on the north side of 161st Street (adjacent to the site of the original Stadium).

April 29, 2006 - For the second time in franchise history, the Yankees score in each inning of a game during a 17-6 win vs. Toronto (also 7/26/39 vs. St. Louis).

May 11, 2006 - Hideki Matsui fractures his left wrist and is removed from the game in the top of the first inning vs. Boston. According to Rule 10.24 (c), his 1,768 consecutive-games-played streak as a professional (1,250 with the Yomiuri Giants and 518 with the Yankees) comes to an end has he did not play one half-inning in the field or complete a time at-bat by reaching base or making an out. His streak as a Yankee is the longest since Lou Gehrig's (2,130 games).

Groundbreaking ceremony for the current Yankee Stadium

May 16, 2006 - The Yankees tie a franchise record by overcoming a nine-run deficit vs. Texas to win, 14-13, in nine innings. Jorge Posada hits a two-run "walk-off" home run off Akinori Otsuka.

Aug. 16, 2006 – The Yankees break ground for a new Yankee Stadium, scheduled to be ready for Opening Day 2009.

Aug. 4, 2007 - Alex Rodriguez becomes the 22nd and youngest (32 years, 8 days) player in Baseball history to reach the 500-home run mark in a 16-8 win vs. Kansas City at Yankee Stadium. He is the third player to hit his 500th career homer as a Yankee, joining Babe Ruth and Mickey Mantle.

Sept. 5, 2007 - Bob Sheppard works his final game as Yankees Public Address Announcer, a 3-2 win over Seattle.

Oct. 30, 2007 - Joe Girardi is named the 32nd manager in Yankees franchise history.

Mar. 18, 2008 - The Yankees traveled to Blacksburg, Va., to play an exhibition game vs. Virginia Tech, on-campus at English Field, to honor the victims and aid in the healing process following the tragic events that took place on the college's campus on 4/16/07. The players and staff visited the campus' memorial site before heading to the stadium. For the game, the Yankees wore their traditional Yankees caps with the Virginia Tech "VT" logo and memorial ribbon on the side, signifying the tragedy.

March 27, 2008 - Prior to the Yankees' final home exhibition game of spring training, Legends Field is renamed George M. Steinbrenner Field.

June 7, 2008 - Johnny Damon goes 6-for-6 in the Yankees' 12-11 win vs. Kansas City, matching the franchise record for hits in a nine-inning game (see June 6, 1934 - Myril Hoag) and becoming the only Yankee in original Yankee Stadium history to record six hits in a game of any length. His final hit is a "walk-off" single.

Sept. 16, 2008 - Derek Jeter singles off Chicago's Gavin Floyd in the first inning for his 1,270th career hit at Yankee Stadium, surpassing Lou Gehrig for the most all-time hits at the ballpark. Jeter finishes the game 2-for-3 in the 6-2 loss.

Sept. 21, 2008 - The Yankees play their last ever game in the original Yankee Stadium. Julia Ruth Stevens, daughter of Babe Ruth, throws out the ceremonial first pitch, and Jose Molina hits the park's final home run in the fourth inning. Following the Yankees' 7-3 win over Baltimore, Derek Jeter thanks the fans over the Stadium public address system.

Sept. 28, 2008 - On the final day of the season in the first game of a doubleheader at Boston's Fenway Park, Mike Mussina records his 20th win of the year, becoming the oldest pitcher in Major League history to win 20 games for the first time.

Nov. 8, 2008 - Local Bronx high school youth groups are joined by Scott Brosius, David Cone, Jeff Nelson and Paul O'Neill of the Yankees' 1998 World Championship team and Yankees General Partner and Vice Chairperson Jennifer Steinbrenner Swindal in removing home plate, the pitcher's rubber and pails of dirt from the original Yankee Stadium, then installing them in the current Yankee Stadium.

April 3-4, 2009 – The Yankees play their first exhibition games in Yankee Stadium, defeating the Cubs, 7-4 and 10-1, respectively. Chien-Ming Wang tosses the first pitch in the April 3 contest.

April 16, 2009 – The Yankees play the first regular season game in Yankee Stadium history, falling to Cleveland, 10-2. CC Sabathia tosses the Stadium's first official pitch, Johnny Damon records the first hit (first-inning single off Cliff Lee) and Jorge Posada hits the first HR (fifth-inning off Lee).

May 14 – June 1, 2009 – The Yankees set an all-time Major League mark with 18 consecutive errorless games, safely handling 660 chances over the stretch.

Sept. 11, 2009 – Derek Jeter breaks Lou Gehrig's all-time franchise mark of 2,721 hits with a single off Baltimore's Chris Tillman at Yankee Stadium. Gehrig had held the mark since 9/6/37.

Oct. 4, 2009 – Alex Rodriguez hits a three-run home run and a grand slam in the sixth-inning of the season finale at Tampa Bay in a 10-2 Yankees victory, setting an all-time AL mark with 7RBI in an inning.

Nov. 4, 2009 – The Yankees win their 27th World Championship, defeating Philadelphia in Game 6 of the World Series, 7-3. Hideki Matsui ties Bobby Richardson's all-time World Series mark (1960 Game 3 vs. Pittsburgh) with 6RBI. Andy Pettitte records the win, becoming the first pitcher to start and record the win in the clinching game in all three rounds of a single postseason. Manager Joe Girardi joins Billy Martin and Ralph Houk as the only individuals in franchise history to win a World Series with the Yankees as a player and as a manger.

2009 World Champions

May 8, 2010 – Mark Teixeira becomes the second Yankee in franchise history to hit 3HR in a single game against the Red Sox (also see June 23, 1927), homering in the fifth, seventh and ninth innings of a 14-3 Yankees win at Fenway Park.

June 12-13, 2010 – Jorge Posada becomes the first Yankee since Bill Dickey (June 3, Game 2 - June 4, 1937) to hit grand slams in back-to-back games as he accomplishes the feat in 9-3 and 9-5 wins vs. Houston.

July 11, 2010 – Longtime Yankees Public Address Announcer Bob Sheppard passes away at his home in Baldwin, Long Island, at age 99.

July 13, 2010 – Yankees Principal Owner George M. Steinbrenner III passes away in Tampa, Fla. at age 80.

Aug. 4, 2010 – Alex Rodriguez becomes the seventh (and youngest) player in Major League history to hit his 600th HR, accomplishing the feat at 35 years, 8 days old in a 5-1 win vs. Toronto off pitcher Shaun Marcum.

Sept. 20, 2010 - The Yankees dedicate a monument to Principal Owner George M. Steinbrenner III in Monument Park.

July 9, 2011 - Derek Jeter becomes the 28th player all time to record 3,000 hits - and the first Yankee, accomplishing the feat with a third-inning solo home run vs. Tampa Bay off David Price.

July 30, 2011 - In the second game of a doubleheader, the Yankees score 12 first-inning runs in a 17-3 win vs. Baltimore, sending 16 men to the plate with 13 reaching base on seven singles, two doubles, 1HR, 2BB and 1 error. All nine batters had at least one hit and one run. The club sets a franchise record for most runs scored in the first inning in any game.

August 25, 2011 - Robinson Cano, Russell Martin and Curtis Granderson each hit grand slams for the Yankees, as the club becomes the first team ever to hit three grand slams in a single game.

Sept. 19, 2011 - Mariano Rivera becomes the all-time leader in saves after closing out a 6-4 win vs. Minnesota at Yankee Stadium.

Lou Gehrig Appreciation Day - July 4, 1939

Prior to the Yankees' May 2, 1939, game at Detroit's Briggs Stadium, captain Lou Gehrig gave the umpires his team's lineup card—which did not have his name on it. He watched the entire game from the bench, marking the end of his 2,130-consecutive-games-played streak. "The Iron Horse" was suffering the effects of amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS), a disease known since as Lou Gehrig's Disease. He would never play again.

Just over two months later, on July 4, 1939, Lou Gehrig Appreciation Day was held in front of approximately 62,000 fans in Yankee Stadium. Ceremonies took place between games of a doubleheader against the Washington Senators. Gehrig and his teammates were joined by members of the 1927 Yankees. After speeches by Mayor Fiorello La Guardia and Postmaster James A. Farley, Manager Joe McCarthy said his public goodbye to Gehrig: "Lou, what can I say except that it was a sad day in the life of everybody who knew you when you came to my hotel room that day in Detroit and told me you were quitting as a ballplayer because you felt yourself a hindrance to the team. My God, man, you were never that."

Various gifts were presented to Gehrig from club employees and the rival New York Giants. His teammates gave him a trophy, which was inscribed with a poem by New York Times writer John Kiernan. As the crowd chanted, "We want Lou; We want Lou…," Gehrig stepped to the microphone to deliver one of the most oft-quoted speeches in American history.

"Fans, for the past two weeks you have been reading about the bad break I got. Yet today I consider myself the luckiest man on the face of the Earth. I have been in ballparks for 17 years and have never received anything but kindness and encouragement from you fans.

"Look at these grand men. Which of you wouldn't consider it the highlight of his career just to associate with them for even one day? Sure, I'm lucky. Who wouldn't consider it an honor to have known Jacob Ruppert? Also, the builder of baseball's greatest empire, Ed Barrow? To have spent six years with that wonderful little fellow, Miller Huggins? Then to have spent the next nine years with that outstanding leader, that smart student of psychology, the best manager in baseball today, Joe McCarthy? Sure, I'm lucky.

"When the New York Giants, a team you would give your right arm to beat, and vice versa, sends you a gift—that's something. When everybody down to the groundskeepers and those boys in white coats remember you with trophies—that's something. When you have a wonderful mother-in-law who takes sides with you in squabbles with her own daughter—that's something. When you have a father and a mother who work all their lives so you can have an education and build your body—it's a blessing. When you have a wife who has been a tower of strength and shown more courage than you dreamed existed—that's the finest I know.

"So I close in saying that I might have been given a bad break, but I've got an awful lot to live for."

During the ceremony, Gehrig had his No. 4 retired by the Yankees, becoming the first person in sports to be given such an honor. To this day he remains the only Yankee ever to wear the number.

Gehrig died on June 2, 1941, at his home in the Riverdale section of the Bronx. He was 37.

Babe Ruth Day - April 27, 1947

On April 27, 1947, Babe Ruth Day was celebrated throughout Major League Baseball, as the Babe said goodbye in an on-field ceremony at Yankee Stadium. Dressed in a topcoat and hat, Ruth, weakened by throat cancer, made the following remarks:

"Thank you very much, ladies and gentlemen. You know how bad my voice sounds—well it feels just as bad.

"You know this baseball game of ours comes up from the youth. That means the boys. And after you're a boy and grow up to know how to play ball, then you come to the boys you see representing themselves today in your national pastime. The only real game—I think—in the world is baseball.

"As a rule, some people think if you give them a football, or a baseball, or something like that—naturally they're athletes right away. But you can't do that in baseball. You've gotta start from way down [at] the bottom, when you're 6 or 7 years of age. You can't wait until you're 15 or 16. You gotta let it grow up with you. And if you're successful, and you try hard enough, you're bound to come out on top—just like these boys have come to the top now.

"There has been so many lovely things said about me, and I'm glad that I've had the opportunity to thank everybody. Thank you."

Ruth returned to Yankee Stadium once more, on June 13, 1948, to celebrate the 25th anniversary of Yankee Stadium and have his uniform No. 3 retired.

He died on Aug. 16, 1948, at Memorial Hospital in New York at age 53. His body lay in state at the entrance of Yankee Stadium on Aug. 17 and 18, before his funeral on Aug. 19 at New York's St. Patrick's Cathedral.

George M. Steinbrenner III (1930-2010)

From 1973 until his passing on July 13, 2010, George M. Steinbrenner III created a legacy of winning unmatched by his peers. His foresight, drive and commitment permanently transformed not only the Yankees organization, but the game of Baseball.

On January 3, 1973, a group of businessmen formed and led by Mr. Steinbrenner purchased the New York Yankees from CBS for a net price of $8.7 million. It took just five years for his aggressive leadership to turn the organization back into World Champions. In his time as Principal Owner of the club, the Yankees won more pennants (11) and World Series (7) than any other team in baseball, while posting a Major League-best .566 winning percentage (3,364-2,583-3 record) over the stretch.

In addition to the team's on-field success under the direction of Mr. Steinbrenner, the New York Yankees consistently shattered franchise and league attendance records at home and on the road. In 2009, they drew 3,719,358 fans in their first season of play in the current Yankee Stadium, topping the American League in attendance for the seventh straight season (2003-09). The Yankees remain the only franchise in Baseball history to draw more than 4 million fans at home in four consecutive seasons (2005-08).

Most recently, Mr. Steinbrenner's foresight into both sports and business continued to build the value and prominence of the franchise, positioning it for the future. In 2002, Sporting News named him the No. 1 "Most Powerful Man in Sports," and Forbes magazine has continued to list the Yankees as the most valuable franchise in all of Baseball.

Mr. Steinbrenner's vision led to the creation of YankeeNets, which owned the New Jersey Nets and New Jersey Devils and ultimately led to the launch of the YES Network, a trailblazing enterprise that has been the nation's most watched regional sports network since 2003. Additionally, Mr. Steinbrenner teamed with long-time friend and Dallas Cowboys owner Jerry Jones, creating Legends Hospitality, LLC, a new concession and merchandising company which currently operates at the Yankees' and Cowboys' new stadiums.

In 2006, his participation in the groundbreaking ceremony for the new Yankee Stadium underscored his role as the principal impetus in moving the much-anticipated facility towards its opening in 2009.

Mr. Steinbrenner's tenure of over 37 years exceeded that of any other New York Yankees owner by 13 years (Colonel Jacob Ruppert purchased the Yankees with Tillinghast L'Hommedieu Huston in January 1915, bought out Huston in 1922, and maintained sole ownership in the club until his death in January 1939—a total of 24 years). During Mr. Steinbrenner's time as the sole Principal Owner of the Yankees, the other 29 Major League clubs had over 100 owners or ownership groups.

Mr. Steinbrenner's success in the sports world began at an early age. He was a multi-sport athlete at Culver Military Academy (where he is in the Athletic Hall of Fame) and at Williams College. He began his successful coaching career as an assistant football coach at two Big Ten universities, Northwestern and Purdue. Then he assembled championship basketball teams in the National Industrial and American Basketball Leagues. In 2002, he was honored with the prestigious Gold Medal Award from the National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame for a lifetime of "outstanding commitment, dedication and dynamic leadership in his business, as well as his personal life."

Mr. Steinbrenner devoted as much time and effort to the U.S. Olympic Committee (USOC) as he did to his many other sporting endeavors. He was on the U.S. Olympic Foundation Board from 1986-2002 and served as Chairman over the last six years of his tenure. He also was Chairman of the 1989 Olympic Overview Commission, which was created to evaluate the structure and efforts of the U.S. Olympic program, and served as Vice President of the USOC from 1989 to 1992. As a result of his distinguished service, he was presented with the General Douglas MacArthur USOC Foremost Award and the F. Don Miller United States Olympic Award. In 2005, the U.S. Olympic Foundation created the George M. Steinbrenner Sports Leadership Award in his honor, which celebrates a member of the U.S. Olympic family who has made outstanding contributions to sport.

Additionally, Mr. Steinbrenner was a member of the Baseball Hall of Fame's Board of Directors and served on the NCAA Foundation Board of Trustees beginning in 1990.

Most of Mr. Steinbrenner's philanthropic endeavors were performed without fanfare. However, he was repeatedly recognized by the communities in which he immersed himself. In 1993, he earned the Tampa Civitan Club's "Outstanding Citizen" Award, and in 1998, Tampa Law Enforcement named him "Citizen of the Year" for founding a scholarship fund for the children of slain law enforcement officers. Mr. Steinbrenner was also honored as an "Outstanding New Yorker" by the New York Society of Association Executives in 1997 and credited in 2009 by the Museum of the City of New York as one of the "New York City 400," recognizing "people who have helped create the world's greatest city since its founding in 1609."

In February 2008, the Tampa City Council and the Board of the Hillsborough County Commissioner's Office both passed resolutions endorsing the renaming of Legends Field in Tampa after Mr. Steinbrenner to pay tribute to his numerous contributions to the area. On March 27, 2008, Mr. Steinbrenner—joined by his family—pulled down a curtain draped above the outfield scoreboard to unveil the new name for the Yankees' spring training home: George M. Steinbrenner Field.

On September 20, 2010, prior to the team's game vs. Tampa Bay, the Yankees unveiled a monument in Mr. Steinbrenner's honor in Monument Park, reflecting the special connection, appreciation and responsibility that he felt toward Yankees fans.

November 20, 2008:	Hal Steinbrenner named Yankees Managing General Partner.

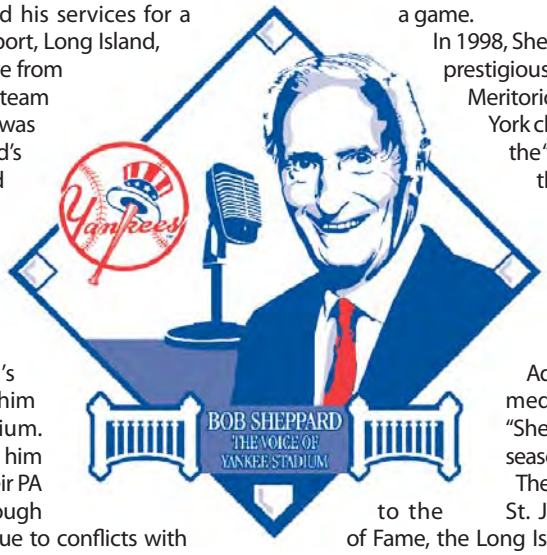
Bob Sheppard "The Voice of Yankee Stadium"

Bob Sheppard will forever be the "The Voice of Yankee Stadium." With his instantly recognizable elocution — in which each syllable was given meticulous attention — Sheppard provided a soundtrack of irreproachable dignity to Yankee Stadium for 57 years.

Sadly, he passed away on July 11, 2010, at his home in Baldwin, N.Y., with his wife, Mary, by his side. He was 99 years old.

Born in Ridgewood, Queens, Sheppard began his tenure as Yankees public address announcer on April 17, 1951—Opening Day of Joe DiMaggio's final season and the day of Mickey Mantle's Major League debut. Among the approximately 4,500 baseball games he worked over his tenure with the Yankees were 121 consecutive postseason contests from 1951 to 2006, including 62 games in 22 World Series.

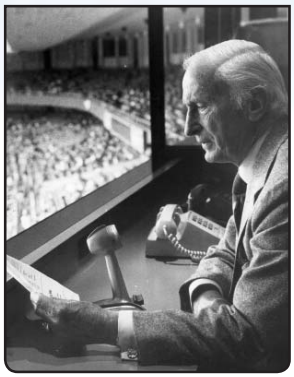
Sheppard's incredible career behind the microphone started when he volunteered his services for a charity football game in Freeport, Long Island, in the late 1940s. An executive from the Brooklyn Dodgers football team of the All-America Conference was at the game. He liked Sheppard's style ("clear, concise and correct") and hired him. The football Dodgers folded after just one season at Ebbets Field (1948), but one of their opponents—the New York football Yankees—heard Sheppard's booming voice and offered him their PA job at Yankee Stadium. Baseball's Yankees discovered him as a result and offered him their PA role for the 1950 season. Though he turned down their offer due to conflicts with his teaching schedule, he changed his mind the following year.



In addition to his baseball duties, Sheppard was the public address voice for the New York football Giants for 50 seasons—from their move to Yankee Stadium in 1956 until his retirement after the 2005 season. Sheppard also served the New York Titans of the American Football League at the Polo Grounds, the New York Stars of the World Football League at Downing Stadium, the New York Cosmos soccer team, and St. John's University's basketball and football teams. Sheppard also handled PA duties for five Army-Navy football games in Philadelphia.

Some of the events he listed as the most memorable of his incredible career were: Don Larsen's perfect game in Game 5 of the 1956 World Series on October 8, 1956; Roger Maris' 61st home run on October 1, 1961; Reggie Jackson's three home runs in Game 6 of the World Series on October 18, 1977; and the Giants-Colts overtime NFL Championship Game on December 28, 1958.

Sheppard attended St. John's College, which eventually became St. John's University. Always a talented athlete, he received a full athletic scholarship to the school, playing quarterback on the football team all four years. He later enrolled at Columbia University, where he received his master's degree in speech and worked his way up from teacher-in-training to substitute teacher to permanent teacher to department chairman. In order to supplement his teaching salary, Sheppard played semiprofessional football on Sundays in Long Island with the Valley Stream Red Riders and the Hempstead Monitors, earning $25 a game.



In 1998, Sheppard was presented with the prestigious William J. Slocum "Long and Meritorious Service" Award by the New York chapter of the BBWAA as well as the "Pride of the Yankees" award by the ballclub.

On May 7, 2000, a plaque was dedicated to Sheppard in Monument Park of the original Yankee Stadium to commemorate his 50th anniversary season. Additionally, the Yankee Stadium media dining room was named "Sheppard's Place" prior to the 2009 season to commemorate his legacy.

The native New Yorker was elected to the St. John's University Sports Hall of Fame, the Long Island Sports Hall of Fame and the New York Sports Hall of Fame. He was awarded honorary doctorates from St. John's University (Pedagogy) and Fordham University (Rhetoric), and in 2007, received St. John's' Medal of Honor, the highest award that the university can confer on a graduate.

Sheppard also made cameo appearances in numerous motion pictures and television shows, including *61, It's My Turn, It Could Happen to You, Anger Management, Seinfeld and Mad About You.

Sheppard announced his final game at Yankee Stadium on September 5, 2007, a 3-2 Yankees victory over the Seattle Mariners.

On Sept. 21, 2008, Sheppard provided a valedictory in the bottom of the seventh inning of the final game at the original Yankee Stadium. Unable to say goodbye in person as he continued to recover from an illness that had kept him away from the Stadium since the final weeks of the 2007 season, Sheppard gave his tribute through a taped segment played on the video board. He recited, "Farewell, old Yankee Stadium, farewell / What a wonderful story you can tell / DiMaggio, Mantle, Gehrig and Ruth / A baseball cathedral in truth."

Voices Before Sheppard

Red Patterson: The man who preceded Sheppard

Hard to believe, but Bob Sheppard was not the only Public Address Announcer in the original Yankee Stadium's fabled history. But no one—not even Sheppard himself—could remember who immediately preceded the current Stadium P.A. announcer behind the microphone. After all, the last game by this mystery man would likely have been the fourth and final game of the 1950 World Series between the Yankees and Philadelphia's "Whiz Kids" Phillies.

But, after years of search and research, the answer may have turned up in the transcript of an interview conducted in 1991 by writer Paul Doherty with Don Carney, the producer-director of Yankees telecasts for more than three decades.

Extolling Sheppard's longevity, Carney told Doherty that "Bob's been around forever. He followed Red Patterson, who was the club's Public Relations Director and also did the P.A."

Carney's words give not only the answer but may also explain the mystery. Sheppard's predecessor was widely but anonymously quoted in the newspapers for an infamous gaffe he made during a Yankees-Philadelphia Athletics game on May 31, 1946. "Will the spectators in the front row please remove their clothing…" he began, with the rest of his announcement: "from the front railing," drowned out by the crowd's laughter.

The story got into the papers, but the identity of the speaker did not. Of course, it didn't. The writers didn't want to embarrass their main conduit for information about the club!

Additional research shows that Yankee Stadium was the last ballpark in the Majors to install a public-address system. It debuted in Game 3 of the 1936 World Series and was manned by Jack Lenz and George Levy, two veterans of the time when information was still relayed to the crowd by megaphone.

The careers of Lenz and Levy began in 1915 when the Yankees and Giants shared the Polo Grounds. When the Yankees hopped across the Harlem River in 1923, Levy stayed with the Giants while Lenz took the Yankee post. "I grabbed the offer," Lenz said. "Who wouldn't, with the old Bambino holding forth at the Stadium?"

To do his job, Lenz sat in a box alongside the Yankees dugout (then on the third-base side of Yankee Stadium) and shouted the batting orders and batteries (each team's pitcher and catcher) as well as the changes throughout the game. Unlike today, players were not announced each time they came to bat and Lenz was called upon only when a change was made.

Jack Lenz: "The little man with the big voice."

According to a feature article which appeared in the New York Evening News in the early 1930s to celebrate a career of more than 2,000 consecutive games, Lenz—the "mild-mannered megaphone man"—would receive the lineups and batting orders from both managers approximately 15 minutes before the start of the game (3:15 p.m. in those days). After telephoning the press box with the "necessary dope," Lenz would pick up his megaphone and shout the batting orders and batteries. He directed his voice first toward the bleachers, then to the upper tiers of the grandstand and again to the lower stands.

Due to the vast size of their new ballpark, the Yankees actually began the 1927 season with two public address announcers to service Yankee Stadium. After the idea proved successful before a crowd of more than 65,000 on Opening Day, the "two-ply announcer system" of Lenz and Levy was used again for the second game when the crowd was only about 7,000. The experiment was likely short lived.

The 1927 Yankees - "Murderers' Row"

Many baseball writers and historians consider the 1927 Yankees the greatest baseball team of all time. With a lineup known as Murderers' Row, the club marched to a 110-44 regular season record, leading the AL from wire-to-wire and finishing ahead of the second-place Philadelphia A's by 19.0 games. The club featured seven future Hall of Famers – outfielders Babe Ruth and Earle Combs, first baseman Lou Gehrig, second baseman Tony Lazzeri, pitchers Waite Hoyt and Herb Pennock, and manager Miller Huggins. Additionally, the team was constructed by an eighth Hall-of-Famer, general manager Ed Barrow.

Ruth had his signature season, hitting 60 home runs, including 17 in September. With his final blast of the year off the Washington Senators' Tom Zachary, he surpassed his own single-season record of 59 set in 1921. Ruth also led the Majors in on-base percentage (.486), slugging pct. (.772), runs (158), walks (137) and strikeouts (89).

Hitting behind Ruth in the clean-up spot, Gehrig won the AL MVP Award, batting .373 with 175 RBI, 117 extra-base hits and 447 total bases. While this marked Gehrig's breakout season, his winning the award had a lot to do with the rules of the time, which prohibited a repeat winner (Ruth had won in 1923). Nevertheless Gehrig's totals for extra-base hits, total bases and RBI are the second-highest, third-highest and tied for the fourth-highest, respectively, in a single season in Baseball history.

As a club, the Yankees led the Majors in almost every offensive category, including runs (976), triples (103), home runs (158), walks (642), batting average (.307), on-base percentage (.384) and slugging percentage (.488). Ruth and Gehrig alone tallied 107 combined homers, just two shy of the New York Giants, who had the second-most as a team in the Majors.

For all the attention that the hitters received, the pitchers were every bit as good. They led the Majors with a 3.20 combined ERA and allowed the third fewest walks (409) and homers (42) among the Majors' 16 teams. They tossed 82 complete games (second in the AL) and led their league with 11 shutouts.

The group was paced by Hoyt, who had the best overall season of his career, going 22-7 with a 2.64 ERA and tying for the AL lead in wins. Urban Shocker, a four-time former 20-game winner with the St. Louis Browns, went 18-6 with a 2.84 ERA, while dealing with a mitral valve disorder that forced him to sleep sitting up and contributed to his death the following year.

The biggest surprise on the staff was Wilcy Moore – a player Barrow discovered in 1926 while reading minor league statistics in the Sporting News. Moore became a spot starter as well as the Yankees' principal all-purpose relief pitcher, tossing 213.0 innings (93.0 as a starter, 120.0 as a reliever), going 19-7 and leading the Majors with a 2.28 ERA.

The Yankees capped off their season with a four-game World Series sweep of Pittsburgh, outscoring the Pirates 23-10. Ruth hit the only two homers of the Series and Moore tossed a complete game in the clincher.

The 1961 Yankees and Roger Maris' 61-Home Run Season

The 1961 Yankees are considered to be among the greatest teams of all time. Led by Roger Maris, who broke Babe Ruth's all-time single-season home run mark, the club powered their way to the 19th World Series championship in franchise history.

The Yankees finished the regular season with a 109-53 (.673) record, eight games ahead of the 101-61 (.623) Detroit Tigers. The clubs were just 1.5 games apart in the standings heading into the final full month of the season before the Yankees reeled off a 13-game winning streak from Sept. 1-12 to vault an insurmountable 11.5 games in front. Their massive win total was fueled by a 65-16 mark at Yankee Stadium, the best single-season home record in Major League history.

Assembled by General Manager George Weiss, the Yankees had sluggers up and down the lineup, including Moose Skowron (28 HR), Yogi Berra (22 HR), Elston Howard (21 HR) and "Super-sub" Johnny Blanchard, who hit 21 homers in just 243 at-bats. Of the 240 home runs the Yankees hit, 10 were pinch-hit homers, setting a still-standing single-season franchise mark.

The pitching staff was paced by Whitey Ford, who had a career year, going 25-4 with a 3.21 ERA. Under first-year manager Ralph Houk, Ford took the ball every fourth day for the first time in his career and set career highs in wins, winning percentage (.862), starts (39) and innings pitched (283.0), earning the Cy Young Award as the best pitcher in both leagues. Bill Stafford (14-9, 2.68 ERA), Ralph Terry (16-3, 3.15 ERA) and Rollie Sheldon (11-5, 3.60 ERA) were the Yankees' other top starters, and Luis Arroyo picked up 15 wins in relief, the highest total by a reliever in franchise history.

In the World Series, the Yankees triumphed over Cincinnati, 4-games-to-1, as Ford tossed 14.0 combined scoreless innings, earning wins in Game 1 and 4. With the Series knotted at one game apiece, Game 3 proved pivotal. Down, 2-1, heading into the eighth, Blanchard tied the game with a solo homer before Maris hit a game-winning solo shot in the ninth. The Yankees then outscored the Reds 20-5 over the final two contests to win the first of two consecutive World Series titles.

Much of the season's drama centered on the chase by the M&M Boys – Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle – to break Ruth's seemingly untouchable single-season record of 60 home runs, which he set with the 1927 Murderers' Row Yankees. Maris, the American League MVP in 1960 and 1961, was joined in his pursuit by Mantle, who topped out at 54 home runs after sitting out seven of the club's final 10 games with an abscess in his right hip.

Maris tied Ruth's mark on Sept. 26 at Yankee Stadium with a home run off Baltimore's Jack Fisher in the team's 159th game of the season. Needing one homer to break the record with four games to go (the Yankees had played a tie earlier in the year), Maris was given a full game off prior to going homerless in the first two games of a three-game series against Boston at Yankee Stadium.

In the season's final game on Oct. 1, Maris connected in the fourth inning off Tracy Stallard, hitting a line-drive into the right-field stands for his 61st home run, which turned out to be the only run in a 1-0 Yankees victory. The quiet and humble Maris had to be pushed back onto the field by his teammates for his curtain call.

Roger Maris hits his 61st home run of the season on Oct. 1, 1961 at Yankee Stadium.

The chase was not without controversy as writers and fans loyal to Ruth clamored that the record should receive a special notation given that the American League was playing a 162-game schedule in 1961 due to the addition of two expansion teams. With the exceptions of 1901-03 and 1918-19, the AL had always played a 154-game format.

Ford Frick, a former sportswriter and New York City sportscaster who had previously ghostwritten Ruth's 1928 autobiography Babe Ruth's Own Book of Baseball, was the commissioner of baseball at the time. In the middle of the season, he issued the directive that baseball's official record book, The Little Red Book of Major League Baseball, compiled by the Elias Sports Bureau, should show two records — one for a 154-game schedule and another for a 162-game schedule. Contrary to popular lore, an asterisk was never used for the notation, and separate designations remained in the official record book until 1991, when Major League Baseball finally rescinded the distinction.

Maris' 61 in 1961 remains the highest single-season home run total in American League history and the seventh-highest single-season total all time, behind those of Barry Bonds (73), Mark McGwire (70, 65) and Sammy Sosa (66, 64 and 63).

The 1998 Yankees - "Most Wins in a Single Season"

The 1998 Yankees were one of the most dominant teams in Major League baseball history. Despite starting the season with a three-game losing streak and dropping four of their first five, they proceeded go 64-16 dating from their sixth game of the year, marking the best single-season 80-game run in franchise history.

Ultimately, the Yankees finished the regular season 114-48 (.704) and won the AL East by 22.0 games, marking the third-largest margin of any league or division winner in Major League history, behind only Cleveland in 1995 (+30.0) and Pittsburgh in 1902 (+27.5). Their regular season winning percentage trailed only the 1927 Murderers' Row team (.714) for the best in franchise history, and their 125-50 overall record including the postseason, marks the most single-season wins by any team all time.

The 1998 club was good at every facet of the game, leading the American League in runs scored (965), runs per game (5.96), on-base percentage (.364), fewest runs per game allowed (4.05) and ERA (3.82). They ranked second in stolen bases (153) and tallied the league's third-fewest errors (98). Five members of the club (Scott Brosius, Derek Jeter, Paul O'Neill, David Wells and Bernie Williams) were named to the AL All-Star team.

The club fielded a remarkably balanced lineup as 10 different batters hit at least 10 home runs, with no player hitting more than 28. Additionally, the 1998 club became the first team all time to have eight players hit at least 17 home runs in a single season.

Second baseman Chuck Knoblauch was the team's leadoff hitter (.265BA, 117R, 17HR, 64RBI), after being acquired from Minnesota for four players just before the start of spring training. He was followed in the second spot by Jeter, who batted .324 (203-for-626) in posting the first of his seven career 200-hit seasons. The future captain led the AL with 127 runs scored while making his first All-Star team.

O'Neill, Williams and Tino Martinez were the Yankees principal 3-4-5 hitters, though Martinez batted cleanup for stretches, including when Williams was on the disabled list with a sprained right knee from June 11 - July 18. O'Neill, in his sixth year with the club after parts of eight seasons with Cincinnati, batted .317 (191-for-602) with 40 doubles, 24HR and 116RBI, setting career highs in hits and runs scored (95). Williams won his only career batting title, posting a .339 (169-for-499) mark with 26HR, 97RBI and a .422 on-base percentage. He also won a Gold Glove for his play in centerfield.

Martinez led the club with 123RBI and solidified the defense at first base. On the opposite corner, Scott Brosius had a career year, batting .300 (159-for-530) with 19HR and 98RBI, making his only All-Star team. The catching duties were split between Jorge Posada (.268BA, 17HR and 63RBI in 111 games) in his first year as the first-string backstop and Joe Girardi (.276BA in 78 games).

One of the hallmarks of the club was its depth. Darryl Strawberry hit 24 home runs in just 295 at-bats and Tim Raines put up a .395 on-base percentage in 109 games. Rookie Shane Spencer lit up the Bronx with 10 homers in 67 at-bats, including eight after being called up in September and seven in the Yankees' last 11 games of the season. The bench was so strong that over the course of the season, the substitues (.370) had a better on-base percentage than the starters (.364).

The pitching staff was anchored by David Cone (20-7, 3.55 ERA in 31GS), who tied for the AL and Major League lead in wins. Lefthander David Wells (18-4, 3.49 ERA in 30GS) led the AL with five shutouts and a 1.05 WHIP. Along with tossing a perfect game on May 17 vs. Minnesota, Wells also had eight complete games during the season, a total that no Yankee has equaled since.

Orlando Hernandez added a boost to the rotation following his June call-up. Signed in March as a free agent from Cuba, "El Duque" went 12-4 with a 3.13 ERA in 21 starts. Andy Pettitte (16-11, 4.24 ERA) and Hideki Irabu (13-9, 4.06 ERA) rounded out the rotation, which often got bailed out by utility pitcher Ramiro Mendoza, who went 10-2 with a 3.25 ERA in 41 appearances, including 14 starts. Mike Stanton (4-1, 5.47 ERA in 67G), Jeff Nelson (5-3, 3.79 ERA in 45G) and lefthanded specialist Graeme Lloyd (3-0, 1.67 ERA in 50G in his best career season) provided the bridge to Mariano Rivera (3-0, 1.91 ERA), who notched 36 saves and allowed just four of 24 inherited runners to score.

In the postseason, the Yankees swept Texas in three games in the ALDS, outscoring them 9-1 and outhitting them 23-13. The ALCS was trickier as Cleveland took a 2-games-to-1 series lead before the Yankees won in six games. David Wells earned MVP honors, winning both of his starts in Game 1 and Game 5.

The Yankees met San Diego in the World Series, and the turning point came early. Down 5-2 in the seventh inning of Game 1 at Yankee Stadium, Knoblauch tied the score with a three-run homer. Five batters later, Tino Martinez hit a two-out, full-count grand slam off Mark Langston into the upper deck in right-field to cap a seven-run inning in a 9-6 Yankees win.

The Yankees never looked back. They won Game 2, 9-3, and they took Game 3 due to the heroics of World Series MVP Scott Brosius (.471 BA, 8-for-17, 2HR, 6RBI), who got the Yankees on the board in the seventh with a solo home run and then provided the margin of victory with a three-run homer in the eighth, propelling the Yankees to a 5-4 win.

Andy Pettitte held the Padres scoreless over 7.1 innings in Game 4, which was closed out by Mariano Rivera, who recorded his third save of the series and sixth of the postseason. Rivera tossed 13.1 scoreless innings in 10 appearances during the 1998 postseason, allowing just six hits.

The championship was the Yankees' second in three years (also 1996) and the first of three consecutive (1998-2000). It marked the highpoint of one of the greatest eras in club history, establishing the yardstick by which all post-integration teams are measured.

Official Scoring at Yankee Stadium

The Yankees-Tigers contest at the Polo Grounds on May 15, 1922, might be the most significant game in the history of official scoring. In the second inning that wet day, Yankees shortstop Everett Scott failed to come up with a ground ball off the bat of Ty Cobb. Official scorer John Kieran (the first Sports of the Times columnist and founding editor of the Information Please Almanac) charged an error on Scott. Glancing over his shoulder as he fled the rain that was blowing into the press box, Fred Lieb (national president of the B.B.W.A.A. and New York chapter chairman) scored it a hit. It was so reported by the Associated Press, for whom Lieb was compiling the box score. As was the custom, Kieran did not announce his call and Lieb, who was probably more interested at that moment in staying dry, did not ask.

The hit/error mattered — a lot. When official American League statistics were compiled (at the end of the season), the one-hit discrepancy was discovered. Cobb's season average was either .401 or .399. A predictable brouhaha ensued. Despite Lieb's willingness to cede to Kieran's official capacity, and despite the B.B.W.A.A.'s December vote that no hit be awarded, AL president Ban Johnson ordered the record to reflect that Cobb earned a hit and thus a .401 average. So it remains, officially, for all time.

As a result of "The Case of the Two-Point Base Hit" (as it was known), official scorers were instructed to contemporaneously communicate their calls to the press box, and the leagues assured the B.B.W.A.A. that, in the future, a scorer's judgment would not be questioned.

Scorers' calls on close plays have also had a hand in Yankee Stadium no-hitters (and near misses). Had Lieb scored Whitey Witt's leadoff grounder to third on Sept. 11, 1923, an error and not a hit, Boston's Howard Ehmke would be remembered with Johnny Vander Meer as hurlers of consecutive no-hitters. And had John Drebinger of The Times not changed a hit (originally scored an error) back to an error after consulting during the game with Detroit's Johnny Pesky regarding Phil Rizzuto's fourth-inning grounder to short, Virgil Trucks would have thrown only one no-hitter in 1952.

Babe Ruth and Ty Cobb at the Polo Grounds, which was the site of the "Two-Point Base Hit."

Dan Daniel of the World-Telegram scored many Yankees home games during Joe DiMaggio's 56-game hitting streak in 1941, and according to Jerome Holtzman (later the official historian of Major League Baseball), he awarded at least two arguable hits to help keep the streak alive. Four years later, a reversed call on the last day of the season by Bert Gumpert of the Bronx Home News gave Yankees second baseman Snuffy Stirnweiss the hit he needed to edge the White Sox's Tony Cuccinello for the AL batting title by .000087.

The cavalcade of scorers who have worked at Yankee Stadium includes some of the giants of the baseball writers industry: Lieb, Daniel, Sid Mercer (an original BBWAA member in 1908), Frank Graham (Lou Gehrig's first biographer), John Drebinger (who covered 203 consecutive World Series games over 34 years), Dick Young (who covered New York baseball for the Daily News and New York Post for 44 years), Leonard Koppett (author of The Thinking Fan's Guide to Baseball), Jack Lang (BBWAA secretary-treasurer for 22 years), Maury Allen (author of over 30 sports books), Red Foley (senior scorer in New York for 15 years), and Bill Shannon (senior scorer in New York for nine seasons and author of Official Scoring in the Big Leagues).

Yankees in Cooperstown

There are 47 members of the Baseball Hall of Fame who have played, managed, coached, owned or been a general manager for the New York Yankees at one time or another. The Yankees' first inductee was Babe Ruth, who entered the Hall in its inaugural 1936 class along with Ty Cobb, Walter Johnson, Christy Mathewson and Honus Wagner. The Yankees' most recent former player inductees are Joe Gordon and Rickey Henderson, who were formally enshrined in Cooperstown on July 26, 2009.

In addition to the 47 individuals below, at least three Hall of Famers worked for the Yankees in other capacities, including Joe Kelley (HOF in 1971 / Yankees Scout from 1915-25), Dick Williams (HOF in 2008 / NYY adviser from 1995-2001) and Pat Gillick (HOF in 2011 / NYY scouting director from 1974-76).

Currently, the choice of which insignia appears on the cap of each Hall of Famer's plaque belongs to the Hall of Fame itself. The decision is based on the "historical accomplishments" of the player and "where that player makes his most indelible mark" (though the wishes of the inductee are always considered). It is important to remember that caps have not always had insignias and some players' images are cast as profiles without visible insignias.

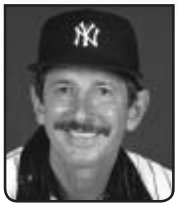
Yankees Retired Uniform Numbers

Beginning with Lou Gehrig's No. 4 in 1939, the Yankees have retired 15 uniform numbers to honor 16 players and managers. Additionally, Major League Baseball retired No. 42 on April 15, 1997, in honor of Jackie Robinson, though players using the number at the time could continue wearing it. The Yankees' Mariano Rivera is the last active player still wearing the number.



1 Billy Martin (Number retired in 1986)

Born: May 16, 1928 in Berkeley, Calif. • Died: Dec. 25, 1989 in Binghamton, N.Y.
Height: 5-11 • Weight: 165 • B/T: R/R

Had as much "Yankee Pride" as any player or manager to wear pinstripes, and he implanted his own fierce desire to win in his teams. Played an integral part in four World Series in the 1950s as a player, and added another ring managing the Yankees in 1977. His .333 lifetime series batting average is sixth with at least 75 AB on the all-time series list. Combative and daring, Martin was a brilliant baseball strategist and a legend in Yankees history.

3 Babe Ruth (Number retired in 1948)

Height: 6-2 • Weight: 215 • B/T: L/L

Baseball's greatest slugger and the most colorful figure in the game's history. Debuted as a pitcher for the Boston Red Sox, winning 89 games over six seasons before being converted to the outfield because of his tremendous power. Was sold to the Yankees in 1920 and his 54 home runs that year were more than any other American League team. En route to 714 career home runs, won 12 home run titles, hitting 60 in 1927. Added 15 home runs in World Series competition as he led the Yankees to seven Series appearances and four World Championships. A member of the inaugural class of Hall of Fame inductees in 1936.

4 Lou Gehrig (Number retired in 1939)

Born: June 19, 1903 in New York, N.Y. • Died: June 2, 1941 in Riverdale, N.Y.
Height: 6-1 • Weight: 212 • B/T: L/L

Durable, powerhitting first baseman who played in an amazing 2,130 consecutive games between 1925 and 1939. Drove in at least 100 runs for 13 straight seasons (1926-38) and established an American League record with 184 RBI in 1931. Compiled a .340 lifetime batting average and belted 493 home runs in a career shortened by terminal illness. Was honored at Yankee Stadium on July 4, 1939, and made memorable, "Today, I consider myself the luckiest man on the face of the earth" speech. Life was immortalized in classic 1942 motion picture, The Pride of the Yankees, starring Gary Cooper. Elected to the Hall of Fame in 1939.

5 Joe DiMaggio (Number retired in 1952)

Height: 6-2 • Weight: 193 • B/T: R/R

The "Yankee Clipper" is considered by many experts as the best all-around baseball player in history. Was a sensational hitter for average and power, and a splendid, graceful, ball-hawking center fielder. Owned a powerful and accurate arm, and was a daring and alert baserunner. Compiled a .325 lifetime batting average from 1936 to 1951. A two-time batting champion and three-time MVP, he powered the Yankees to the first of four consecutive World Championships in his 1936 rookie season. Many rate his 56-consecutive-game batting streak in 1941 as the top baseball feat of all time. Elected to the Hall of Fame in 1955.

7 Mickey Mantle (Number retired in 1969)

Height: 6-0 • Weight: 201 • B/T: S/R

"The Mick" was the most feared hitter on some of the most successful teams in history. Could run like the wind and hit tape measure homers, like his famous 565-footer in Washington in 1953. In the 14 seasons between 1951 and 1964, he led the Yanks to 12 Fall Classics and seven World Championships. He still owns records for most homers, RBI, runs and walks in World Series play. In 1956, Mantle had one of the greatest seasons ever at the plate, hitting 52 homers with 130 RBI and a .353 average to win the Triple Crown. Elected to the Hall of Fame in 1974.

8 Yogi Berra (Number retired in 1972)

Height: 5-8 • Weight: 191 • B/T: L/R

A mainstay behind the plate for some of the most dominating teams in history from the end of World War II until the early 1960s. Although he never led the league in a single major offensive category, he was just the third man to win three Most Valuable Player Awards. Was selected to play in the All-Star Game in 15 successive seasons (1948-62). Played on 14 pennant winners and 10 World Champions, more than anyone in history. Led the Yankees to the 1964 pennant as manager. Elected to the Hall of Fame in 1972.

8 Bill Dickey (Number retired in 1972)

Height: 6-1 • Weight: 185 • B/T: L/R

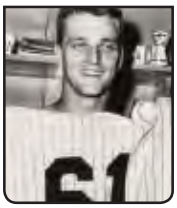
Regarded as one of the greatest catchers of all-time. A durable and tireless worker, he caught more than 100 games in 13 consecutive seasons (1929-41), an American League record. In 1931, he did not allow a single passed ball in 125 games behind the plate, another AL record. Dickey also excelled at the plate, batting over .300 in 10 of his first 11 full seasons, while hitting 202 homers during his career. He handled Yankees pitching staffs on eight World Series teams, winning seven championships.



9 Roger Maris (Number retired in 1984)

Height: 6-0 • Weight: 197 • B/T: L/R

In one of the most dramatic assaults on a baseball record, Maris caught, then surpassed Babe Ruth's famous home run record of 60. Maris hit 61 home runs in 1961, a Major League record which stood until 1998 and is still the American League mark. The two-time American League MVP (1960-61) is also considered one of the best-fielding right fielders in Yankees history.

10 Phil Rizzuto (Number retired in 1985)

Height: 5-6 • Weight: 150 • B/T: R/R

Playing 13 years for the Yankees, "Scooter" went to nine World Series. That stat may best explain why the diminutive shortstop is regarded as a true Yankees legend. He was durable, a skilled bunter and an enthusiastic baserunner with a solid .273 career batting average. In 1950, Rizzuto earned the AL MVP Award, batting .324 with 200 hits, 92 walks and 125 runs scored. He batted .320 in the 1951 World Series and was named Series MVP. He also spent 40 years as a Yankees broadcaster (1957-96) and was elected to the Hall of Fame in 1994.

15 Thurman Munson (Number retired in 1979)

Height: 5-11 • Weight: 190 • B/T: R/R

Was the undisputed leader and most respected man on Yankees teams that won three consecutive AL pennants (1976-78) and two World Championships. Munson was a tremendous defensive catcher, winning the Gold Glove Award in three consecutive seasons (1973-75). From 1975-77, Thurman drove in more than 100 runs and hit better than .300 in each season. He hit the first Yankees home run in remodeled Yankee Stadium. There is no more tragic date in Yankees history than August 2, 1979, when Munson passed away in a plane crash at age 32.

16 Whitey Ford (Number retired in 1974)

Height: 5-10 • Weight: 181 • B/T: L/L

"The Chairman of the Board" was the ace pitcher on great Yankees teams of the 1950s and early '60s. The wily southpaw's lifetime record of 236-106 gives him the best winning percentage (.690) of any left-handed pitcher in the 20th century with 100 or more wins. He paced the American League in victories three times, and in ERA and shutouts twice. The 1961 Cy Young Award winner still holds many World Series records, including 10 wins, 33 consecutive scoreless innings and 94 strikeouts. Elected to the Hall of Fame in 1974.

23 Don Mattingly (Number retired in 1997)

Height: 6-0 • Weight: 185 • B/T: L/L

"Donnie Baseball" was only the 10th captain to be named by the Yankees in their storied history. The premier first baseman of his era, Mattingly was a nine-time Gold Glove winner. The 1985 American League MVP set records for most grand slams in a season (6–since tied) and most home runs in seven consecutive games (9) and eight consecutive games (10). A humble man of grace and dignity, Mattingly carried on the legacy of the pinstripe tradition and dedicated his career to the pursuit of excellence.

32 Elston Howard (Number retired in 1984)

Height: 6-2 • Weight: 196 • B/T: R/R

Became the first black player in Yankees history when he made the club in the spring of 1955. The versatile two-time Gold Glove catcher was an important member of AL pennant-winning Yankees teams in nine of his first 10 seasons with the club. The 1963 American League MVP, Howard was a clubhouse leader who was respected as both a player and a man. Howard's dignified manner off the field and competitive spirit on the field set a powerful example for his teammates.

37 Casey Stengel (Number retired in 1970)

Born: July 30, 1890 in Kansas City, Mo. • Died: Sept. 29, 1975 in Glendale, Calif.
Height: 5-11 • Weight: 175 • B/T: L/L

In a distinguished 54-year professional career, "The Old Perfessor" emerged as one of the game's greatest managers. His feat of guiding the Yankees to 10 pennants and seven world titles in a 12-year span ranks as one of the top managerial accomplishments of all time. Simply put, Casey Stengel was one of the best things to ever happen to the game of Baseball. He was an authentic baseball ambassador, making the game fun for millions of Americans. Elected to the Hall of Fame in 1966.

44 Reggie Jackson (Number retired in 1993)

Height: 5-10 • Weight: 181 • B/T: L/L

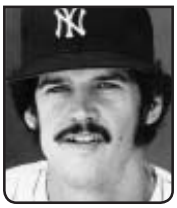
One of the game's premier power hitters, "Mr. October" blasted 563 career home runs, good for 13th place on Baseball's all-time list. In Game 6 of the 1977 World Series, Jackson hit three home runs, all on the first pitch, as the Yankees beat the Dodgers to wrap up the club's first World Championship since 1962. Jackson was an exciting clutch player and an intimidating clean-up hitter with a .490 career slugging percentage. The 1973 American League MVP once said, "Some people call October a time of pressure. I call it a time of character." He was elected to the Hall of Fame in 1993.



49 Ron Guidry (Number retired in 2003)

Born: Aug. 28, 1950 in Lafayette, La.
Height: 5-11 • Weight: 165 • B/T: L/L

Known as "Louisiana Lightning," Ron Guidry was a four-time American League All-Star and three-time 20-game winner. He compiled one of the most dominating seasons in Baseball history in 1978, going 25-3 with a 1.74 ERA. He led the Yankees to a dramatic comeback from 14.0 games behind the Boston Red Sox to capture their second straight World Championship. That season, he also compiled a club-record 248 strikeouts and nine shutouts en route to a unanimous selection as the American League's Cy Young Award winner. On June 17, 1978 vs. California at Yankee Stadium, Guidry struck out 18 Angels, breaking the club's single-game record. With Willie Randolph, he served as the Yankees' co-captain from 1986 through his retirement in 1989. He remains in the Top 10 on the Yankees' all-time list in games pitched (368), innings pitched (2392.0), wins (170), winning percentage (.651), strikeouts (1778) and shutouts (26).

Yankees retired numbers are immortalized in Yankee Stadium's Monument Park.

All-Time Roster

In the Yankees' 109 seasons in the American League, 1,501 players have appeared in at least one game.

All-Time Numerical Roster

In 1929, the New York Yankees and Cleveland Indians became the first teams to make numbers a permanent part of the uniform. Other teams quickly adopted the idea and, by 1932, uniform numbers became standard for all teams. The Yankees' initial distribution of numbers was made according to the player's spot in the batting order. Therefore, in 1929, leadoff hitter Earle Combs wore No. 1; Mark Koenig No. 2; Babe Ruth No. 3; Lou Gehrig No. 4; Bob Meusel No. 5; Tony Lazzeri No. 6; Leo Durocher No. 7; Johnny Grabowski No. 8; Benny Bengough No. 9; and Bill Dickey No. 10 (Grabowski, Bengough and Dickey shared catching duties). After some exhaustive research, the Yankees' Media Relations staff compiled the following list of Yankees uniform numbers.

The list represents uniform numbers worn by coaches (c), managers (m) and players who officially appeared in a regular season game. Yankees retired numbers are denoted in boldface text.

Yogi Berra (No. 8) congratulates Roger Maris on hitting his 61st home run on Oct. 1, 1961.

OPENING DAY HOME RUNS

The Yankees have hit 98 Opening Day home runs in franchise history by 59 different players, including home runs in 2011 from Curtis Granderson and Mark Teixeira. In 2010 at Boston, Jorge Posada and Curtis Granderson hit back-to-back homers, marking the first Yankees to go back-to-back on Opening Day since Dave Winfield and Steve Kemp in 1983 at Seattle. Joe Pepitone (pictured) was the last Yankee to homer twice on Opening Day.

1977 World Champion New York Yankees - 35th Anniversary

The 1977 season marked the first of seven championships the Yankees would win under principal owner George Steinbrenner following his purchase of the franchise in 1973. The Yankees were led by Manager Billy Martin and featured a bevy of All-Star talent, including free-agent acquisition Reggie Jackson, as the club ended a 14-year title drought dating back to 1963. The squad went 100-62, including a 50-20 mark following the All-Star break. Graig Nettles led the team with 37 home runs, two shy of the AL high, and played Gold Glove defense at third base. Jackson hit .286 with 39 doubles, 32 home runs and 110 RBI in 146 games. Sparky Lyle put together a Cy Young Award-winning season as the team's closer, going 13-5 with 26 saves and a 2.17 ERA. The starting rotation featured four pitchers with at least 14 wins (Ed Figueroa 16-11; Ron Guidry 16-7; Mike Torrez 14-12 and Don Gullett 14-4). They defeated Kansas City in the ALCS with three runs in the top of the ninth for a 5-3 win in the decisive Game 5. They then defeated the Dodgers in six games in the World Series, highlighted by Reggie Jackson's memorable Game 6 performance when he matched Babe Ruth (twice) to become the second player to homer three times in a single World Series game, accomplishing the feat on three consecutive pitches.

Switch-Hit HR by Teammates, One Game
Bernie Williams and Jorge Posada each hit home runs from both sides of the plate on 4/23/00 in a 10-7 win at Toronto, the only time in Major League history that two teammates have hit switch-hit home runs in the same game.

Most Switch-hit HR by Teammates, One Season
According to Elias, the 2009 season marked the first time in Baseball history a team had three different players homer from both sides of the plate in a single game within the same season (Cabrera-1x, SWISHER-3x and TEIXEIRA-3x).

Most Switch-hit HR, One Player in a Season
According to the Elias Sports Bureau, three AL players have hit three sets of switch-hit homers in a single season: MARK TEIXEIRA (2009 w/ NYY), NICK SWISHER (2009 w/ NYY and 2007 w/ Oakland) and Tony Clark (1998 w/ Detroit).

 Lefthanded pitcher + Perfect Game

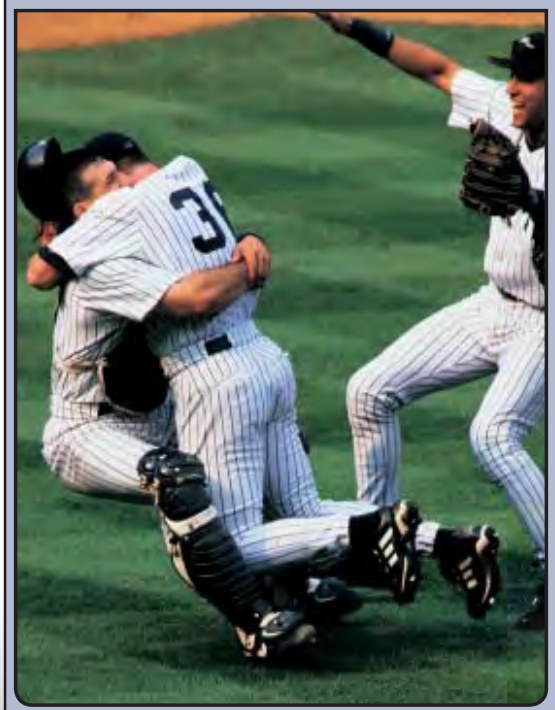
Don Larsen [R] and Yogi Berra celebrate after Larsen's perfect game in Game 5 of the 1956 World Series.

David Cone's Perfect Game

On July 18, 1999, David Cone tossed the 15th perfect game in Baseball history (since 1901) on a day Don Larsen was on hand to throw out the game's ceremonial first pitch. It came only one season after David Wells accomplished the feat and gave the Yankees a record three perfect games in their history, including Don Larsen in the 1956 World Series. Prior to Wells' and Cone's feats, perfect games had only been pitched in consecutive seasons once (by Jim Bunning of the Phillies in 1964 and the Dodgers' Sandy Koufax in 1965) and never by pitchers from the same team. The original Yankee Stadium also became the only park to host as many as three perfect games (Dodger Stadium was the site of perfect games by Koufax in 1965 and Montreal's Dennis Martinez in 1991).



David Cone celebrates with Joe Girardi.

Mike Mussina

The most-recent Yankee to have a one-hit complete game was Ted Lilly on 4/27/02 in a 1-0 defeat at Seattle, becoming the first Yankee in franchise history to lose a one-hit CG in the regular season (allowed a walk, WP and RBI-single in 7th).

The Yankees' last one-hit complete-game win was by Mike Mussina on 9/2/01 at Boston in a 1-0 Yankees victory…he retired 26 consecutive batters before Carl Everett singled with two outs in the ninth to break up a perfect game…it was the first complete-game one-hit victory by a Yankee since Jimmy Key on 4/27/93 at California.

The Yankees have had two postseason one-hit complete games…Roger Clemens still holds the all-time record for fewest hits allowed in an AL or NL Championship Series complete game with his one-hit, 15K performance in the Yankees' 5-0 ALCS Game 4 win at Seattle on 10/14/00…Bill Bevens famously lost his one-hit CG in Game 4 of the 1947 World Series vs. Brooklyn…he was one out from a no-hitter when pinch-hitter Cookie Lavagetto doubled in two runs to give the Dodgers a 3-2 victory…Bevens walked 10 batters and had one wild pitch on the day…the World Series marked the last games Bevens and Lavagetto ever played in the Majors.

Yankees with multiple complete-game one hitters are Whitey Ford (3), Bob Turley (3), Lefty Gomez (2), Rip Collins (2) and Vic Raschi (2), while Bill Bevens (see above paragraph) also threw a one-hit CG in the regular season.

One hitters by opponents against the Yankees: The Yankees were last held to 1H on 6/30/07 at Yankee Stadium by Oakland's Chad Gaudin and Rich Harden…the last starter to throw a one-hitter against the Yankees was Mike Maroth on 7/16/04 at Detroit…Joe Wood, Earl Hamilton and Nolan Ryan are the only pitchers with a pair of one-hitters against the Yankees, with both of Hamilton's coming in 1913…Hoyt Wilhelm, who no-hit the Yankees in 1958, also tossed a one-hitter against them in 1959.

Grand Slams

Grand slam notes from 2011: The Yankees hit 10 grand slams in 2011 (Cano-3; Teixeira-2; and Cervelli, Granderson, Martin, Posada and Rodriguez-1), matching their franchise record set in 2010 and 1987…Cano led the Majors in 2011 with his three slams…the Yankees became the first team in Major League history to hit three grand slams in the same game on 8/25/11 vs. Oakland (Cano, Martin, Granderson).

On June 12, 2008 at Oakland, Hideki Matsui became the only Yankee in franchise history to hit a grand slam on his birthday.

Pinch-Hit Home Runs

2011 Notes: The Yankees did not hit any pinch-hit homer runs in 20111…hit two pinch-hit home runs in 2010 – one by Jorge Posada and one by Colin Curtis…Curtis' homer on 7/21 vs. Los Angeles-AL came after he entered the game with an 0-2 count when Brett Gardner was ejected…Curtis became the first Yankee to hit his first career home run as a pinch-hitter since Andy Phillips on 9/26/04 at Boston.

Other Pinch-hit HR Notes: In 1998, the Yankees hit two pinch-hit home runs, both ninth-inning grand slams by Darryl Strawberry (on 5/2 at Kansas City and 8/4 at Oakland, G2)…the Yankees franchise has 255 pinch-hit home runs, including 21 pinch-hit grand slams.

All-Star MVPs

Derek Jeter is the only Yankee to ever be named All-Star MVP, taking home the honor at the 2000 All-Star Game at Turner Field in Atlanta with a 3-for-3 performance with 1 run, 1 double and 2 RBI. He doubled in the first inning off Randy Johnson, singled and scored in the third off Kevin Brown and had a two-run single in the fourth off Al Leiter in the American League's 6-3 win.

Yankees All-Time All-Star Batting Statistics

Data below includes all Yankees with at least one All-Star plate appearance. Of all NYY non-pitchers to appear in an ASG, only Billy Johnson (1947) and Irv Noren (1954) made their only Yankees ASG appearances as a defensive replacement without ever receiving a PA. Additionally, there have been five position players named to an All-Star team who never entered the game at all in their only ASG as a Yankee (Tony Lazzeri-1933; Johnny Lindell-1943; RUSSELL MARTIN-2011; Aaron Robinson-1947 and Buddy Rosar-1942).

All-Star Games at Yankee Stadium

The Yankees have hosted four All-Star Games, including the 2008 Midsummer Classic in Yankee Stadium's final season. The Stadium also hosted the All-Star Game in 1977 (48th), 1960 (29th) and 1939 (seventh). Only Cleveland's old Municipal Stadium hosted as many All-Star Games as Yankee Stadium. Overall, New York City has hosted eight MLB All-Star Games, the highest total in Major League history, with the Polo Grounds (1934 and 1942), Ebbets Field (1949) and Shea Stadium (1964) also serving as host sites. The 2008 game marked the first time the Midsummer Classic was held in the host team's final season at its ballpark.

Since the game originated in 1933, the Yankees have had the most All-Star players (119) and the highest total All-Star selections (402) of any Major League Baseball franchise. Mickey Mantle owns the most All-Star selections in club history, having been named to 20 All-Star teams (fourth-most all-time). Yankees pitcher Lefty Gomez is the only pitcher in All-Star Game history to earn three wins, having made five career All-Star starts. Joe DiMaggio (13-time All-Star) and Tom Tresh (three-time All-Star), own the distinction as the only Yankees rookies to start for the American League (1936 and 1962, respectively). Of the 82 All-Star Games, a Yankees Manager has skippered the American League team 32 times. Among Yankees on the roster as of Feb. 1, 2012, third baseman Alex Rodriguez leads the team with 14 career trips to the Midsummer Classic, followed by shortstop Derek Jeter and closer Mariano Rivera with 12 All-Star appearances apiece. Jeter holds the distinction as the only All-Star MVP in club history, taking home the honor in 2000 after going 3-for-3 with 1 double and 2RBI in the AL's 6-3 win at Atlanta's Turner Field. He became just the fourth shortstop to earn the award. Rodriguez led the Majors in All-Star balloting in 2007 and 2008.

Seventh All-Star Game

July 11, 1939, Yankee Stadium

Yankee Stadium was chosen to host the 1939 All-Star Game due to the World's Fair which was being held at Flushing-Meadows in Queens during the 1939 season. The Cubs' Gabby Hartnett managed the National League squad while Yankees skipper Joe McCarthy led the American League team, which featured 10 Yankees All-Stars, six of whom were starters. Yankees centerfielder Joe DiMaggio was 1-for-4 in the game, hitting a solo home run. Lou Gehrig, who announced his retirement in May of 1939, was an honorary member of the AL squad.

29th All-Star Game

National League 6, American League 0
July 13, 1960 (Game #2), Yankee Stadium

Yankee Stadium was the host site for baseball's second All-Star Game in three days in 1960. The National League completed the All-Star sweep with a 6-0 win, having won Game 1 on July 11 in Kansas City, marking the only year that both All-Star games were won by the same team. Yankees hurler Whitey Ford was the starting pitcher for the AL squad, while fellow Yankees Yogi Berra (catcher), Mickey Mantle (left field), Roger Maris (centerfield) and Bill Skowron (first base) all appeared in the starting lineup. The National League used six different pitchers to combine on the shutout effort and hit an All-Star record-tying four home runs, including one by Willie Mays. The 38,000 fans who attended the game witnessed Ted Williams in his final All-Star appearance.

48th All-Star Game

July 19, 1977, Yankee Stadium

79th All-Star Game

July 15, 2008, Yankee Stadium

In the final Midsummer Classic at the original Yankee Stadium, the American League emerged with a 4-3 win in 15 innings as Texas' Michael Young brought home Minnesota's Justin Morneau with a "walk-off" sacrifice fly. The 4-hour, 50-minute contest was the longest All-Star Game time-wise and tied for the longest ASG in innings (also 1967 at Anaheim, 2-1 NL win). It was the AL's 12th straight All-Star Game victory and ensured American League home-field advantage in the World Series. SS Derek Jeter started and recorded the game's first hit in the first inning. RHP Mariano Rivera pitched 1.2 scoreless innings. Yankees Manager Joe Girardi joined the AL coaching staff as did Yankees Head Athletic Trainer Gene Monahan, who made his fourth All-Star Game appearance (also 1977, '86 and '92). Pregame ceremonies included 49 Hall of Famers, marking one of the largest gatherings of living baseball HOFers ever. The festivities were highlighted by Yankees Principal Owner/Chairperson George Steinbrenner, who delivered baseballs to the ceremonial first pitch participants (Reggie Jackson, Whitey Ford, Yogi Berra and Goose Gossage).

Yankee STADIUM

The New York Yankees began a new chapter in their storied history with the opening of Yankee Stadium in 2009. Located directly across the street from the site of the original, the new Stadium's architecture is a celebration of the spirit and tradition of the franchise. While firmly rooted in the past, the Stadium has a vision toward the future, incorporating the best in technology and state-of-the-art guest services.

All of the Stadium's modern amenities exist within the framework of classic elements of the original, most notably the instantly recognizable frieze that again circles the grandstand. Among the countless fan-friendly elements, massive video boards give Yankees fans more information than ever before, and concessions have been placed on concourses that allow for continuous viewing of the game.

Yankee Stadium, as a living museum, has been designed to set the standard — much like the team has done with its 27 World Championships.

THE STADIUM SITE

The Yankees are proud to play in the Bronx, which is home to approximately 1.4 million residents and is one of the five boroughs that make up New York City.

The Stadium sits on former parkland from Macombs Dam Park and Mullaly Park, with the Stadium grounds bounded by Jerome Avenue to the west, River Avenue to the east, and 161st Street to the south. The northern edge of the site is located between 162nd Street and 164th Street. In a nod to tradition, the footprint of the original Stadium has been replicated in the new Stadium.

Gate 4 at Yankee Stadium

Yankee Stadium is the fourth permanent home of the New York Yankees, following Hilltop Park (1903-12), the Polo Grounds (1913-22), and the original Yankee Stadium (1923-73, '76-2008). The Yankees also played two full seasons at Shea Stadium (1974-75) in Queens when the original Stadium underwent remodeling.

HOMAGE TO THE ORIGINAL STADIUM

The current Yankee Stadium evokes the spirit of the original, while restoring many of the lost treasures from before the renovations of 1974-75.

The signature frieze once again outlines the top of the Stadium bowl. As in the past, it is attached to a roof that extends into the Stadium, covering the top rows of the Grandstand.

Monument Park has been relocated to its original position in center field, albeit behind the fence, unlike before the renovation when the monuments were on the playing field. All plaques, monuments and tribute displays for the 16 Yankees who have had their numbers retired are on display for fans, who may visit Monument Park prior to all home games.

On the Main Level, near Gate 6, the Yankees Museum presented by Bank of America—a museum within a museum—tells the story of baseball and the Yankees franchise through various displays of artifacts and memorabilia. Items include a "Ball Wall" with hundreds of signed baseballs from Yankees greats, Thurman Munson's locker from the original Yankee Stadium and a replica of a locker from the Yankees clubhouse in the current Stadium. On game days, fans are welcome in the museum from the time the gates open until the end of the eighth inning. On non-game days, visitors can enjoy the museum as part of Yankee Stadium tours.

Babe Ruth Plaza, located on the south side of the Stadium in between Gates 4 and 6, honors the man proverbially credited with building the original House that Ruth Built. Through a series of storyboards displayed on light posts, the Babe's life story is recounted throughout the plaza.

INNOVATIVE ARCHITECTURE AND MODERN AMENITIES

One of the goals in building Yankee Stadium was to bring fans closer to the action in a facility more attuned to modern needs and expectations. The new building is 63 percent larger than the original Stadium with about 500,000 square feet of additional space.

Improved sight lines, wider concourses and the installation of nearly 1,400 high-definition video monitors throughout the Stadium all ensure guests won't miss a minute of on-field action while in their seats or at concession stands. In addition to the live game broadcast, these centrally controlled Internet protocol monitors can also provide up-to-the-moment news, scores, weather, traffic information and safety updates.

The Great Hall is a 31,000-square-foot space located between the Stadium's exterior wall and the interior of the Stadium. Spanning from Gate 4 to Gate 6, it is covered overhead but has massive open-air archways, which help support the Yankees' "green initiative." It is home to large banners bearing the images of past Yankees greats from Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig to more modern stars such as Don Mattingly and Paul O'Neill. A 24-foot-high-by-36-foot-wide 10mm true high-definition video board and a 5-foot-by-383-foot LED ribbon board immediately greet guests who enter through this portion of the Stadium.

The Great Hall stretches from Gate 4 to Gate 6.

The audio/visual experience at Yankee Stadium is highlighted by a 59-foot-high-by-101-foot-long 16mm true high-definition centerfield video board, which is flanked by two smaller video boards that display day-of-game lineups and out-of-town scores. Additionally, the entire length of the Terrace Level is spanned by a 3-foot-high, 1,279-foot long full-color LED ribbon board. A distributed sound system optimizes speaker placement for audio quality vastly superior to that in the original Stadium. The entire Stadium is built with a future-proof infrastructure designed by Cisco Systems that is easily adaptable to new technologies.

A 7,000-square-foot state-of-the-art FedEx Banquet and Conference Center is designed to meet the needs of guests who wish to host business functions in the ballpark.

URBAN PLANNING

The site for Yankee Stadium was in part selected for its proximity to mass transit. Like the original Stadium, it is served at the 161st Street/Yankee Stadium subway stop by the No. 4, B and D trains.

Metro-North offers train service to Yankee Stadium from anywhere in its service territory. For more information, call the MTA at 511 or visit www.mta.info.

As in previous years, Yankee Stadium is accessible by New York City Transit bus lines (call the MTA at 511 or visit www.mta.info).

View of Gate 6 and Babe Ruth Plaza from the No. 4 train stop outside of Yankee Stadium.

Pedestrian access points are located at Yankee Stadium's four gates: Gate 2 on Jerome Avenue and 164th Street; Gate 4 at Jerome Avenue and 161st Street; Gate 6 at River Avenue and 161st Street and Gate 8 at River Avenue, south of 164th Street.

RETAIL & FOOD OPTIONS

There are six distinct retail stores in Yankee Stadium, headlined by the 5,825-square-foot Home Plate Team Store near Gate 4, which houses the largest selection of Yankees merchandise and memorabilia. The New Era Team Store on the Main Level sells caps and other Yankees merchandise, and the Great Hall Team Store at Gate 6 sells various items and is open year-round.

Traditional baseball fare the Stadium.

Women's clothing and accessories are the focus of the Women's Team Store located on the Field Level near Section 114A. Other stores include a Yankees-Steiner Collectibles Store in Section 114B and the Monument Park Store, which is located on the Field Level behind centerfield.

Yankee Stadium is home to two premier dining establishments. The iconic Hard Rock Cafe is open year-round and houses music memorabilia and Yankees-related pieces in a 7,000 square-foot restaurant at Gate 6. NYY Steak, located above the Hard Rock Cafe, offers an upscale dining experience, including dry aged USDA prime steaks, five-star seafood dishes and an impressive collection of wines from around the world.

More casual fare can be found at a New York-themed food court located on the third-base side of the Field Level concourse and in other locations throughout the Stadium.

Membership restaurants include the Audi Yankees Club on the SAP Suite Level and the Mohegan Sun Sports Bar above Monument Park in center field.

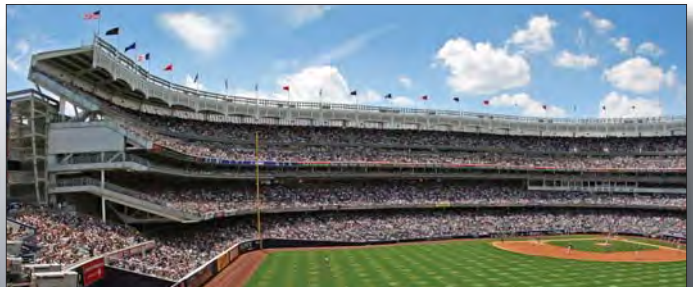
DISABLED SERVICES

Yankee Stadium strives to provide an accessible environment for all of its guests. Wheelchair accessible and aisle transfer seats are available at various price points and locations, and include the Yankees' Premium Offerings seat locations.

There are two dedicated open-captioning video boards for guests who are deaf or have hearing impairments: one in left field, just below Section 233B, and one in right field, just below Section 206. Captioning is also provided on the right-center field televisions, the high-definition video board in the Great Hall, high-definition video monitors throughout Yankee Stadium and on the video board in the New York Yankees Museum presented by Bank of America.

The Yankees extend their appreciation to those who participated in periodic outreach meetings led by the United Spinal Association, which helped build a Stadium that Acting U.S. Attorney for the Southern District of New York Lev Dassin called, "a model of accessibility to people with disabilities."



BRONX INCENTIVES

Yankee Stadium is one of the premier building projects to take place in the Bronx in the last 50 years. The hard work and dedication of engineers, architects and construction professionals in building and designing the Stadium made the facility one of the most impressive and fan-friendly venues in Major League Baseball. Equally important was the project's dedication to support local community groups, institutions and residents as the Yankees remain devoted to the long-term development of the Bronx.

Building a new state-of-the-art facility required an army of talented and experienced professionals. As part of the Yankees' commitment to ensure the Stadium project created economic opportunities in the Bronx, the Yankees made a concerted effort to recruit a wide range of vendors and employees from the local community. Of the 190 contracts awarded, 63 were allotted to Bronx-based businesses (accounting for over 33 pct. of the contracts and resulting in $133 million in contracts to Bronx-based businesses). The Yankees also stayed committed to hiring at least 25 pct. of the total workforce from Bronx residents, again providing incentive to the surrounding community.

In conjunction with the construction of the Stadium, the Yankees also established a $1 million grant for professional skills training for Bronx residents. Among the supported initiatives was Project H.I.R.E. (Help In Re-entering Employment), which taught Bronx residents functional construction skills for practical use in local building projects.

Other Events at the Current Yankee Stadium

College Football

Notre Dame-27, Army-3 11/20/10
The first football game at the current Yankee Stadium marked the 50th all-time meeting between the two teams. Heisman Trophy winners Johnny Lujack and Pete Dawkins served as honorary captains, joining Yankees Managing General Partner Hal Steinbrenner for the coin toss. The crowd of 54,251 was the largest ever for any event at the current Yankee Stadium.

New Era Pinstripe Bowl 12/30/10
Syracuse-36, Kansas State-34
The inaugural New Era Pinstripe Bowl marked the second-ever college football bowl game in the Bronx (also Gotham Bowl in 1962). Syracuse and Kansas State played an instant classic that was decided by one play – a failed two-point conversion by the Wildcats with just over one minute left in regulation.

Rutgers-27, Army-12 11/12/11
Rutgers and Army squared off against each other at the home of the Yankees for the first time since 1948. The Scarlet Knights scored 14 unanswered points over the final seven minutes of the game for the victory.

New Era Pinstripe Bowl 12/30/11
Rutgers-27, Iowa State-13
The Scarlet Knights emerged victorious in the second New Era Pinstripe Bowl. RB Jawan Jamison was named the game's MVP.

Concerts

JAY-Z/EMINEM CONCERTS 9/13-14/10
Yankee Stadium played host to its first-ever concerts, featuring Grammy Award winners JAY-Z and Eminem in a two-night affair. The sold-out shows featured crowds of 45,434 and 46,272, respectively.

PAUL MCCARTNEY 7/15-16/11
The former Beatle played his first ever concerts at the home of the Yankees, drawing 44,037 and 43,966 fans, respectively, on consecutive nights.

Sir Paul McCartney

THE BIG 4 9/14/11
Metallica, Slayer, Megadeth and Anthrax performed a combined 9 hours of music in front of a headbanging crowd of 41,451.

Boxing

Press Conference to Announce 9/10/09
Manny Pacquiao-Miguel Cotto Fight
Yankee Stadium played host to a press conference to announce the boxing match between Miguel Cotto and Manny Pacquiao, which took place on Nov. 14, 2009, at the MGM Grand Garden in Las Vegas.

Miguel Cotto TKO (9th Rd.) Yuri Foreman 6/5/10
Boxing returned to the Bronx for the first time in 34 years with "Stadium Slugfest," as Miguel Cotto recorded a ninth-round technical knockout of Yuri Foreman in the Yankee Stadium outfield in the main event. In front of a crowd of 20,272, Cotto secured the WBA Super Welterweight title.

Other Performers and Events

Joel and Victoria Osteen – "A Night of Hope" 4/25/09
In the first non-baseball event at the current Yankee Stadium, 34,195 people were on hand for a celebration of faith.

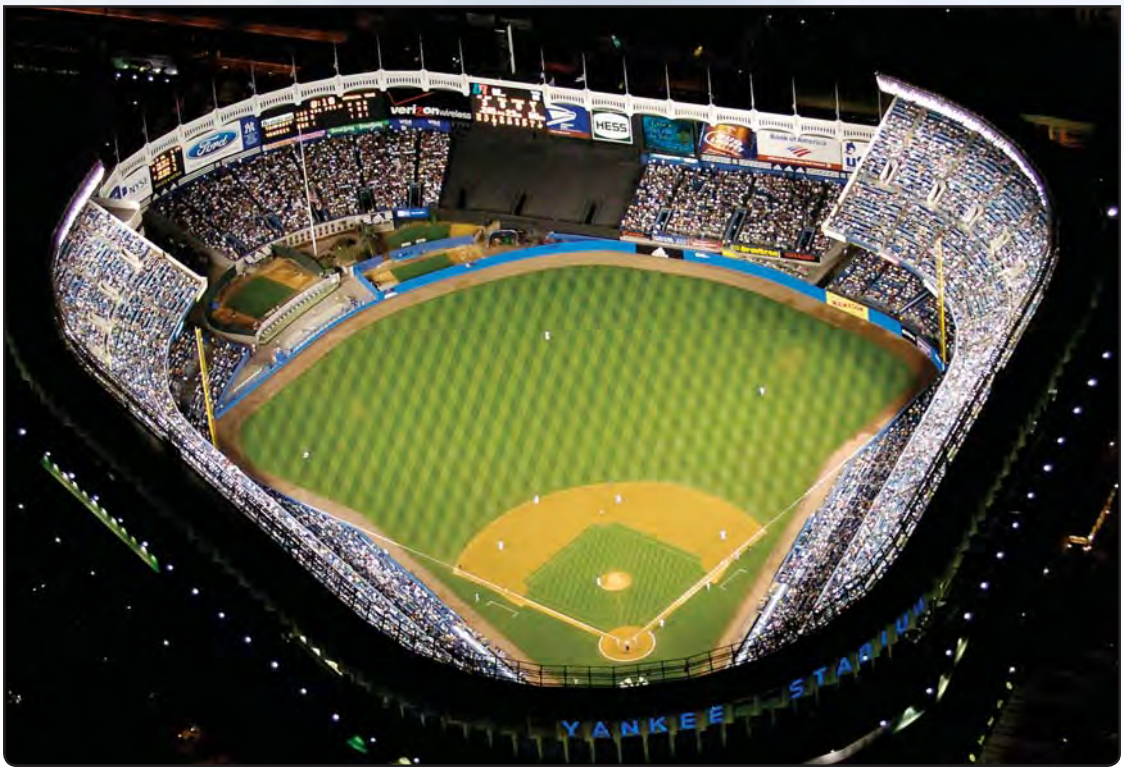
In no event will the Yankees be liable to the ticket holder and/or ticket purchaser for any direct, indirect, consequential, exemplary, incidental, special or punitive damages or for lost profits, revenues or business opportunities even if the Yankees have been advised of the possibility of such damages.



History of the Original Yankee Stadium

One year after changing the course of Baseball history with the purchase of Babe Ruth from the Boston Red Sox, the Yankees made another acquisition that would forever alter the way the game was watched.

On February 5, 1921, the Yankees issued a press release announcing the purchase of 10 acres of property in the west Bronx. The land, purchased from the estate of William Waldorf Astor for $675,000, sat directly across the Harlem River from the Manhattan-situated Polo Grounds, which the Yankees had been unhappily sharing with their landlord, the New York Giants of the National League since 1913.

The relationship between the clubs crumbled after the 1920 season when the Yankees' attendance—boosted by their new slugging sensation—doubled to almost 1.3 million, approximately 25 percent more than that of the Giants. In 1921, the Giants asked the Yankees to vacate the Polo Grounds as soon as possible. With their departure from the Polo Grounds now inevitable, Yankees co-owners Jacob Ruppert and Tillinghast l'Hommedieu Huston set out to build a spectacular ballpark of their own, Baseball's first triple-decked structure. With an advertised capacity of 70,000, it would also be the first to be labeled a "stadium."

Original plans by the architect—the Osborn Engineering Company of Cleveland, Ohio—had the Stadium triple-decked and roofed all the way around. An early press release, in fact, described the Yankees' new home as a field enclosed with towering embattlements rendering the events inside "impenetrable to all human eyes, save those of aviators." But the initial grand design was quickly scaled back with the triple-decked grandstand not reaching either foul pole. Contrary to the owners' wishes, the action would be visible from the elevated trains that passed by the outfield, as well as from the buildings that would spring up across River Avenue. Fortunately, a purely decorative element survived the project's early downsizing and would become the park's most recognizable feature. A 15-foot-high copper frieze adorned the front of the roof, which covered much of the Stadium's third deck. It would give Yankee Stadium a stately dignity that no park has possessed—either before or since.

The new stadium would favor left-handed power with the right-field foul pole only 295 feet from home plate (though the right-field fence would shoot out to 429 feet in right-center). The left-field pole measured only 281 feet from the plate, but right-handed hitters would be neutralized by a 395-foot left field and a whopping 460 feet to left-center. The new stadium would also be patron-friendly, boasting an unheard of "eight toilet rooms for men and as many for women scattered throughout the stands and bleachers." (After the Stadium was remodeled 50 years later, it included more than 50 restrooms.) The club's executive offices would be moved from Midtown Manhattan and relocated between the main and mezzanine decks with an electric elevator connecting them with the main entrance.

The construction contract was awarded to New York's White Construction Company on May 5, 1922, with the edict that the job be completed "at a definite price" of $2.5 million by Opening Day 1923. Incredibly, it was. In only 284 working days, Yankee Stadium was ready for its inaugural game on April 18, 1923 vs. the Boston Red Sox.

An announced crowd of 74,200 fans packed Yankee Stadium while thousands more milled around outside after the fire department finally ordered the gates closed. Before the game began, John Philip Sousa and the Seventh Regiment Band led both clubs to the flagpole in deep center field, where the American flag and the Yankees' 1922 pennant were raised. Appropriately, Ruth christened his new home with a three-run homer to cap a four-run third inning as the Yankees coasted to a 4-1 win over the Boston Red Sox.

Yankee Stadium in the 1920s

Because it was widely recognized that Ruth's tremendous drawing power made the new stadium possible, New York Evening Telegram sportswriter Fred Lieb dubbed it "The House That Ruth Built." Later that season, the Stadium hosted the first of 37 World Series, as the Yankees won their first World Championship, defeating their former landlord, the Giants. Of course, as the original Stadium became the stage for a staggering 26 world titles, it would also become known as "The Home of Champions."

In its early years, when wooden bleachers surrounded the outfield, a grass slope rose toward the outfield walls from foul pole to foul pole. Outfielders, especially Ruth in right, routinely backed up the small hill to pull down fly balls. Advertising signs lined the tops of the bleachers except in right-center, where a lone manually operated wooden scoreboard was large enough to record 12 innings for games played by every club in the two major leagues. Over the years, the board would be replaced by more modern models. The Yankees, in fact, would unveil Baseball's first electronic message board in 1959.

The original manual scoreboard

By 1928, the Stadium was ready for its first major face-lift. The triple-decked grandstand in left field was extended beyond the foul pole and several rows of box seats were removed in order to extend the left-field foul pole distance to 301 feet. The right-field grandstand was extended in 1937, allowing for "upper-deck" home runs in both directions. With the grandstand expansion, the remaining wooden bleachers were replaced with a concrete structure, and the distance to center field dropped from 490 feet to a still-distant 461 feet.

In 1932, the Yankees began their tradition of commemorating their heroes with monuments and plaques when they dedicated a monument to Manager Miller Huggins, who had died suddenly during the 1929 season. Five more monuments were added (one each for Lou Gehrig, Ruth, Mickey Mantle and Joe DiMaggio and one to honor the victims and heroes of the terrorist attacks of September 11, 2001) along with numerous plaques. For years, existing monuments were in the field of play in deep center field, and outfielders occasionally had to work around them to retrieve baseballs hit to that part of the park.

Except for the addition of lights in 1946, the look of Yankee Stadium remained relatively the same until the winter of 1966-67. Then, under the direction of the Yankees' new owner, CBS, the 44-year-old facility received a $1.5 million modernization, most of which was spent on 90 tons of paint. The brown concrete exterior was painted white as was the timeworn greenish copper frieze. Also, all of the grandstand seats went from green to blue, a color scheme that would be retained when the Stadium was completely remodeled after the 1973 season.

On August 8, 1972, after years of debate about the future of the aging ballpark, the Yankees signed a 30-year lease with the City of New York, which called for Yankee Stadium to be completely modernized in time for the 1976 season. After completing the Stadium's 50th-anniversary in 1973, the Yankees moved to Shea Stadium for two seasons while the majority of Yankee Stadium was torn down and rebuilt.

The most striking change of the modernization was the removal of the numerous obstructive steel columns that supported the second and third decks, as well as the roof. By "cantilevering" the upper decks and lowering the playing field while increasing the slope of the lower stands, sight lines for fans were dramatically improved. Capacity was reduced from 65,010 in 1973 to 54,028 upon reopening as wider plastic seats replaced wooden seats.

Of course, with the removal of the original roof, the Stadium almost lost its most-recognizable feature: the copper frieze. However, an innovative design concept included an exact replica of the frieze atop the new 560-foot-long scoreboard wall, which stretched across the rear of the bleachers. The board also included Baseball's first "telescreen," which could provide instant replays of the action by employing a then-incredible "nine shades of gray."

Yankee Stadium's exterior changed dramatically, as three escalator towers were added, one at each of the Stadium's three entrances. With seven additional rows of seats added to the upper deck, the already grand Stadium received an even more majestic look. A 138-foot Louisville Slugger-shaped smokestack, commonly called "The Bat," was added outside the Stadium near the home-plate entrance.

The renovated Stadium also saw the mammoth fence distances in left and center field greatly reduced as "Death Valley" in left-center was brought in from 457 feet to 430 feet, and straightaway center field was slimmed from 463 feet to 417 feet. Subsequent alterations prior to the 1985 and 1988 seasons brought fences in to the configuration that is now replicated in the current Yankee Stadium.

The remodeled original Yankee Stadium reopened on April 15, 1976—with the Yankees topping Minnesota, 11-4. Like its predecessor and successor, it hosted the World Series in its inaugural season. In fact, the remodeled Stadium hosted the Fall Classic in its first three seasons, as the Yankees followed their 1976 Series loss to Cincinnati by winning back-to-back World Series titles in 1977 and 1978 over the Dodgers.

As one of the world's most prestigious addresses, the original Yankee Stadium was also the home for scores of other sports, entertainment and cultural events. While the Yankees were on the road or in the offseason, the Stadium opened its gates to college and pro football, soccer, political assemblies, religious conventions, concerts and even the circus.

Boxing immediately found a home at Yankee Stadium with Benny Leonard winning a 15-round decision over Lou Tendler for the lightweight title just three months after the gates opened on July 23, 1923. When Muhammad Ali stopped Ken Norton on September 28, 1976, it marked the 30th championship fight at the Stadium. All previous title bouts had taken place between 1923 and 1959–perhaps none more memorable than the June 22, 1938, heavyweight championship rematch between Joe Louis and Germany's Max Schmeling. After suffering a knockout loss in the initial non-title encounter at the Stadium two years earlier, Louis—now the heavyweight champ—avenged his defeat with a stunning first-round KO.

Football also became an immediate fixture at Yankee Stadium with Syracuse and Pittsburgh inaugurating a rich history of collegiate and professional football matchups on October 20, 1923. Five years later at Yankee Stadium, on November 12, 1928, during halftime of a scoreless Army-Notre Dame contest, the legendary Knute Rockne made his famous "Win One for the Gipper" speech at halftime, spurring the Fighting Irish to a 12-6 victory.

The New York football Giants also called Yankee Stadium home from 1956 through 1973 and on December 28, 1958, took part in what has since been dubbed "The Greatest Game Ever Played." With the NFL championship at stake, a crowd of 64,185 watched the Baltimore Colts tie the game, 17-17, on a Steve Myrha field goal with seven seconds left. Eight minutes into professional football's first-ever "sudden-death" overtime period, the Colts' Alan Ameche crashed into the end zone from the 1-yard line, ending a contest that would help establish pro football as a major sport.

The Stadium was also an important stop for religious conventions, especially those of the Jehovah's Witnesses. In 1950, the group began holding conventions at the Stadium, including one that drew 123,707 people on August 8, 1958—the largest single-day event in Stadium history. On October 4, 1965—with the Yankees out of the World Series for only the third time in 17 years—the Stadium held the first-ever Papal Mass in the United States as Pope Paul VI celebrated Mass before a crowd in excess of 80,000. Pope John Paul II also celebrated Mass at the original Yankee Stadium on October 2, 1979, during his tour of the United States.

On August 16, 2006, a groundbreaking ceremony was held for a new Yankee Stadium to be ready for the 2009 season. The location chosen for the new building was the north side of 161st Street and River Avenue in the Bronx, directly across the street from the site of the original.

As part of its final season in 2008, Yankee Stadium hosted a third papal visit on April 20 from Pope Benedict XVI, NYU's commencement ceremony on May 14 (believed to be the first ever college commencement in Stadium history) and a 15-inning 4-3 AL victory in the 2008 All-Star Game on July 15 (the fourth at Yankee Stadium, joining Midsummer Classics in 1939, 1960-Game 2, and 1977).

The building took its final bow on September 21, when the Yankees played the last game in Stadium history. Gates opened at 1:00 p.m., allowing approximately 13,000 fans the opportunity to visit Monument Park and walk around the warning track. With a national Sunday night audience watching on television, all-time Yankees greats, along with the evening's starting lineup, took their positions in the field before Julia Ruth Stevens, daughter of Babe Ruth, tossed out the ceremonial first pitch. Fittingly, the game ended in a Yankees victory, this one over the Baltimore Orioles, 7-3. After the final out, the club assembled by the pitcher's mound at the side of captain Derek Jeter. Over the PA, he thanked the crowd for their years of support, while reminding everyone of the new memories soon to be made.

In the bottom of the seventh inning of the Yankees' final home game on September 21, 2008, a taped valedictory was given on the Yankee Stadium video board by longtime public address announcer Bob Sheppard, who was unable to say goodbye in person as he continued to recover at home from an illness that had kept him away from the Stadium for the entire season. His appearance on screen brought a reverential hush to the crowd as everyone recognized they were about to hear the most perfect of all couplings perhaps for the last time—Bob Sheppard's voice reverberating in the original Yankee Stadium. He said the following:

"Farewell, old Yankee Stadium, farewell. What a wonderful story you can tell. DiMaggio, Mantle, Gehrig and Ruth, A baseball cathedral in truth."

Negro Leagues at the Original Yankee Stadium

Satchel Paige warming up at Yankee Stadium on August 2, 1942

For almost 20 years in the 1930s and '40s, Yankee Stadium was a regular home to Negro Leagues baseball. During that time the greatest black stars of the day drew thousands of fans to watch players prohibited from playing in the Major Leagues at the time. Almost every Negro Leagues player of note over that two-decade stretch played at Yankee Stadium, including Hall of Famers Leroy "Satchel" Paige, John Henry "Pop" Lloyd, "Cool Papa" Bell, Oscar Charleston, Buck Leonard, Hilton Smith and Josh Gibson, who hit some of the longest home runs in the Stadium's history.

Yankee Stadium opened to black baseball on July 5, 1930, when Yankees owner Jacob Ruppert donated the free use of the facility to the New York Lincoln Giants and Baltimore Black Sox for a benefit doubleheader to raise money for the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, one of America's most prominent black unions. The games raised approximately $3,500 and included the appearance of Bill "Bojangles" Robinson who entertained the crowd along with the 369th Hell Fighters marching band.

Black baseball games at Yankee Stadium usually took place on Sundays when the Yankees played on the road. Sometimes a pair of teams would play a doubleheader, while at other times four-team doubleheaders were scheduled in order to maximize attendance and profits. Bands often performed and celebrities such as Joe Louis and New York City Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia were common. Track races and other pregame contests also delighted fans.

In 1931, Lloyd organized an All-Star team of black players named the "Harlem Stars," which played several games at Yankee Stadium. Eventually, that team became the New York Black Yankees of the Negro National League. The club went on to use Yankee Stadium for a portion of their home schedule between 1936 and 1947, often wearing the used uniforms of the Major League Yankees. In the spring of 1941, Paige, black baseball's greatest pitcher, briefly joined the Black Yankees, pitching and winning his only game in a New York uniform at Yankee Stadium.

Yankee Stadium also served as the venue for black baseball All-Star games and championship contests. One of the most memorable Negro Leagues All-Star games took place on August 27, 1939, when the Negro National League defeated the Negro American League, 10-2, with the help of Gibson's bases-clearing triple.

Ruppert's death in 1939 did not put a stop to black baseball at the Stadium. In fact, the Yankees sponsored a Jacob Ruppert Memorial Cup tournament among Negro National League teams. Ten doubleheaders were held at Yankee Stadium that summer to determine a winner, and on September 24, 1939, the Baltimore Elite Giants were crowned champs in Ruppert's name.

In October 1946, Yankee Stadium was home to two noteworthy exhibition games between an African-American All-Star team managed by Paige and an American League All-Star team led by future Hall of Famer Bob Feller. Cleveland Indians pitcher Bob Lemon hit a home run to win the first game for the AL but Paige out-pitched Feller in the second game to earn a split.

When Jackie Robinson finally broke the color barrier with the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1947, it was a watershed moment in the history of civil rights in the United States. But it did precipitate the decline and eventual extinction of the Negro Leagues.

Dressed in their Homewood Grays uniforms, Hall of Famers Josh Gibson [L] and Buck Leonard [R] join Sam Bankhead [C] at Yankee Stadium in 1939.

Black baseball's relationship with the New York Yankees came to a close on August 20, 1961, as stars of the Negro American League gathered for its All-Star Game at Yankee Stadium. Paige, reportedly 55 years old at the time, pitched three scoreless innings and claimed the game's Most Valuable Player honors.

Previous Homes of the Yankees

Hilltop Park

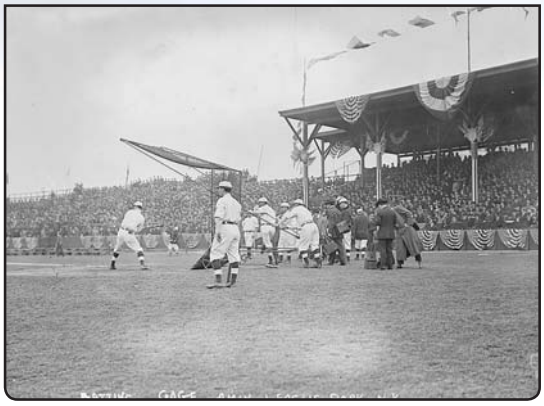
American League Park (commonly known as Hilltop Park) was the Yankees' first home. Hastily constructed in just six weeks on one of the highest points in Upper Manhattan, the all-wooden ballpark sat on a block bounded by Broadway, 165th Street, Fort Washington Avenue and 168th Street, in close proximity to the New York Giants' 155th Street home, the Polo Grounds. The first game at Hilltop Park was played on April 30, 1903—a 6-2 win over Washington, started by Hall of Famer Jack Chesbro.

The ballpark had a covered grandstand ringing the infield from first base to third base and uncovered bleachers running up the foul lines. There was seating for approximately 15,000 people, but as was the case in many ballparks of that time, it could accommodate overflow crowds both in the outfield and along foul ground in the infield, occasionally bringing capacity up toward 25,000.

When a fire ravaged the Polo Grounds on April 14, 1911, the Yankees allowed the Giants to play their home games at Hilltop Park until the Polo Grounds could be rebuilt. From April 15 through May 30, the Giants put together a 20-8 record at their temporary home.

The Yankees were successful in their 10 years at Hilltop Park, compiling a 398-342 all-time record there. The club's final game at the structure came on October 5, 1912—an 8-6 win vs. Washington. After the Yankees' lease at Hilltop Park expired at the end of the season, they decided to leave the rickety ballpark to become renters at the Polo Grounds, where the Giants became their landlords. The move, unthinkable years earlier, was facilitated by the Yankees' post-fire hospitality.

In 1914, Hilltop Park was torn down. Currently, its former location is the site of Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center.



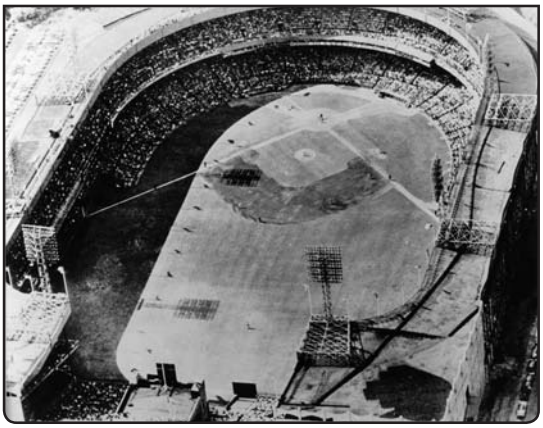
Hilltop Park (above/below) served as the Yankees' first home. It was built in just six weeks and was located near Broadway and 168th Street in Upper Manhattan.

Polo Grounds

The Yankees called the Polo Grounds home from 1913 through 1922, sharing the park with the New York Giants. Located on West 157th Street and Eighth Avenue in Upper Manhattan, the Polo Grounds was overlooked by a promontory called Coogan's Bluff to the west. To the east was the Harlem River—on the other side of which Yankee Stadium was built in 1923.

The Polo Grounds was constructed with straight sides, and the outfield fences by the foul poles ran parallel to each other and away from home plate. The foul poles in left and right were approximately 277 and 258 feet away from the plate, respectively, while left-center, center and right fields were all in the range of 445-483 feet away from home.

The Yankees compiled a 416-338 all-time regular season record at the uniquely-shaped facility, winning the first two pennants in franchise history while tenants in 1921 and 1922. The club lost both of those World Series to the NL Champion Giants—5 games to 3 in 1921 and 4 games to none with one tie in 1922—in Fall Classics played entirely at the Polo Grounds.



The Polo Grounds, located on West 157th Street and Eighth Avenue in Upper Manhattan, served as the home of the Yankees from 1913-22.

The American Leaguers were welcome tenants as long as they remained less popular than the Giants. But with Babe Ruth's arrival in 1920 and the team's subsequent success, the dynamic quickly changed. After the Yankees started outdrawing the Giants in their own park in 1920 and 1921, the National Leaguers asked the Pinstripers to vacate to a new facility as soon as possible. The 1922 season marked their final season in Manhattan before their April 18, 1923, Yankee Stadium debut in the Bronx.

The Polo Grounds remained home to the Giants until they moved to San Francisco in 1958. It stood empty until 1962 when the Mets arrived to play two seasons there before moving into Shea Stadium. In 1964, the Polo Grounds was demolished. Apartment buildings called the Polo Grounds Towers occupy the site today.

Monument Park

Since 1932, the New York Yankees have honored their all-time greats with the dedication of monuments and plaques in Yankee Stadium. The tradition continues in the current Stadium in Monument Park, located behind the outfield fence in centerfield.

The first monument was dedicated on May 30, 1932, to the memory of Miller Huggins, who died suddenly in 1929. The diminutive manager guided the Yankees to six American League pennants and three World Championships in his 11-plus seasons.

The first plaque was placed on the center-field wall in April 1940, a tribute to Jacob Ruppert, the former owner who built Yankee Stadium and brought the tradition of winning to the Yankees.

Monument Park is located just behind the centerfield fence and is accessible to all fans.

Two additional monuments followed: in 1941 for Lou Gehrig and in 1949 for Babe Ruth. Later plaques were placed in center field for General Manager Ed Barrow (1954) and two great Yankees center fielders, Joe DiMaggio and Mickey Mantle (1969). After his death, Mantle's plaque was removed and replaced by a fourth monument on August 25, 1996. On April 25, 1999, DiMaggio—who passed away less than two months earlier—was honored with the Stadium's fifth monument. (The two plaques which previously honored DiMaggio and Mantle were donated by the Yankees to the Yogi Berra Museum and Learning Center in Montclair, N.J.).

Originally, the monuments and plaques were part of the playing field. The monuments and Stadium flagpole were located in straight-away center field on the warning track approximately 10 feet in front of the wall. Sometimes long hits and fly balls forced fielders to go behind the monuments to retrieve the baseball.

One tradition of Yankee Stadium before it was remodeled was to allow fans to exit through the center-field gates via the warning track, where they could pause and reflect on the achievements of these honored legends. After Yankee Stadium was remodeled in 1974 and 1975, the monuments and plaques were relocated to an area off the field between the Yankees' and visitors' bullpens.

In 1976, two more plaques were added to memorialize managers Joe McCarthy and Casey Stengel. In the 1980s, plaques were dedicated to Yankees greats Thurman Munson (1980), Elston Howard and Roger Maris (1984), Phil Rizzuto (1985), Billy Martin (1986), Whitey Ford and Lefty Gomez (1987), Yogi Berra and Bill Dickey (1988), and Allie Reynolds (1989). The Yankee also dedicated two plaques to non-uniformed Yankees legends: the "Voice of the Yankees," Mel Allen (1998); and the "Voice of Yankee Stadium," public-address announcer Bob Sheppard (2000). Yankees greats Don Mattingly (1997), Reggie Jackson (2002), Ron Guidry (2003) and Red Ruffing (2004) are the most recent Bombers to be honored with plaques in Monument Park.

Plaques commemorating the visits of Pope Paul VI in 1965 and Pope John Paul II in 1979 were dedicated by the Knights of Columbus, and a plaque commemorating the New York Yankees' interlocking "NY" insignia was added to the park in 2001. The most recent plaque was dedicated in 2008 following the visit of Pope Benedict XVI.

In 1985, after the left-center-field fence of the original Stadium was moved in, the Yankees were able to open Monument Park for up-close fan viewing. By 1988, long lines and increased fan interest caused the Yankees to move the fence in further and expand the area. A special walkway was added with an exhibit honoring those Yankees who have had their uniform numbers retired.

In a pregame ceremony on Sept. 11, 2002, the Yankees dedicated a monument in remembrance of the victims and heroes of the 9/11 tragedy. It was the sixth monument dedicated in Yankee Stadium and the first to non-Yankees personnel.

During the 2010 season, a monument was erected in honor of Yankees Principal Owner George M. Steinbrenner, III , who passed away on July 13, 2010. During a special pregame ceremony on Sept. 20, 2010, the entire Yankees team joined the Steinbrenner family and Yankees alumni in unveiling the monument.

In all, there are seven monuments (for four Yankees players, one manager, one owner and one to commemorate the tragedy of 9/11) and 24 plaques (for 14 players, two managers, one owner, one executive, one PA announcer, one broadcaster, three Papal visit commemorations and one noting the history of the NY logo).

We Remember
On September 11, 2001, despicable acts of terrorism were perpetrated on our country.
In tribute to the eternal spirit of the innocent victims of these crimes and to the selfless courage shown by both public servants and private citizens, we dedicate this plaque.
These valiant souls, with unfettered resolve, exemplify the true character of this great nation. Their unity and resilience during this time of distress defined American heroism for future generations.

GEORGE M. STEINBRENNER III
JULY 4, 1930 - JULY 13, 2010
New York Yankees Principal Owner
"The Boss"
1973 - 2010
Purchased the New York Yankees on January 3, 1973.
A true visionary who changed the game of baseball forever, he was considered the most influential owner in all of sports.
In his 37 years as Principal Owner, the Yankees posted a
Major League-best .566 winning percentage, while winning 11
American League pennants and seven World Series titles, becoming the most recognizable sports brand in the world.
A devoted sportsman, he was Vice President of the United States Olympic Committee, a member of the Baseball Hall of Fame's Board of Directors and a member of the NCAA Foundation Board of Trustees.
A great philanthropist whose charitable efforts were mostly performed without fanfare, he followed a personal motto of the greatest form of charity is anonymity.

Yankees Around the Globe

As the game of Baseball continues to grow on a global scale, "America's Pastime" has become infused with talent from all four corners of the world.

The New York Yankees, as one of the most recognized brands in the world, are dedicated to making meaningful and lasting footprints throughout the international Baseball community.

The New York Yankees began the 2011 season with a Major League-high 16 foreign-born players, the first time the club has led the Majors in that category since Opening Day in 2000. Just under 28 percent of players on Major League rosters on Opening Day 2011 were born outside the United States. For the Yankees, the total was 53.3 percent (16 of 30 players, including five on the D.L.).

The Yankees' 2011 Major League Opening Day roster was composed of players from seven different nations outside the United States (Canada, Curacao, Dominican Republic, Mexico, Panama, Puerto Rico and Venezuela), tying for the second-most among all Major League clubs.

The Yankees' brand transcends international borders as fans show their pride around the globe.

Signing and developing exceptional talent from around the globe has become a trademark of the Yankees organization. Some of the club's acquisitions include the American League's all-time saves leader and Panama native Mariano Rivera, five-time All-Star Jorge Posada of Puerto Rico, two-time All-Star Hideki Matsui from Japan, 2006 Cy Young Award runner-up Chien-Ming Wang from Taiwan and All-Star Robinson Cano of the Dominican Republic.

At the minor league level in recent years, the organization has signed two Chinese minor leaguers, two players from the Israel Baseball League, and procured top minor league talent from Australia, Brazil, Canada, the Czech Republic, Colombia, Mexico, Nicaragua, Taiwan and Venezuela. In addition, the Yankees field two Dominican Summer League teams and operate a state-of-the-art Latin Baseball Academy in the Dominican Republic.

The Latin Béisbol Academy

For the vast majority of the Yankees' Latin American prospects, the Latin Béisbol Academy is the starting point for their professional careers.

Constructed in Boca Chica, Dominican Republic, the Yankees built their academy from scratch, allowing player development personnel to manage every detail of the project, from the trainer's room to the clubhouses to the classrooms. The end result is a four-building, four-field complex with the capacity to house up to 110 players. There is also a small apartment building for coaches and instructors. The academy, which officially opened in June 2005 and was completed in the spring of 2006, has a campus feel to it that is not lost on the ballplayers, many of whom are spending time away from their families for the first time.

Previously, the Yankees had leased a variety of facilities in Latin America for scouting and player development use, but it became apparent that it was necessary to find and develop their own facility.

"We've never had as many fields or batting cages," said Mark Newman, Yankees Senior Vice President of Baseball Operations, at the time the academy opened. "We've never had this level of control over player nutrition or this kind of strength and conditioning facility. All of these things enhance our player development efforts. Already, we've seen the physical, mental, emotional and fundamental maturation of players at a more rapid rate, and we should see it to a greater degree in the future."

As a dedicated investor in Latin American talent, the Yankees make every effort to provide their players with a well-rounded education off the field. The complex is staffed with educators who teach players academic disciplines such as Spanish and English along with broad-based life skills such as conflict resolution, financial literacy and American customs. Players are also given guidance on how to deal with the heavy travel incumbent in a baseball lifestyle. Throughout their time at the academy, the young Yankees hopefuls participate in clinics with local children, reminding them to always be mindful of their community.

The Yankees also arrange for past and present Major League stars, such as Mariano Rivera, Robinson Cano and Reggie Jackson, to be guest lecturers for the prospects. In November 2007, Yankees Manager Joe Girardi visited the Béisbol Academy. The players received a special visitor in January 2011 when professional boxing champion Miguel Cotto visited the Academy.

"The Latin Béisbol Academy was built to instruct, enhance and further develop the inherent skills in young, aspiring baseball players from all parts of Central and South America."

~ Yankees Chief International Officer, Executive Vice President Felix Lopez

The players and staff are also active in local community events as well, hosting annual instructional clinics in the Dominican Republic, Nicaragua and Venezuela. In addition, the Yankees' Latin complex has hosted several R.B.I. (Reviving Baseball in the Inner City) tournament games and joined the Yankees organization in the 2007 donation of $65,000 in food and cash to hurricane damaged areas in the D.R. and Nicaragua. The Yankees have also adopted an orphanage in the Dominican town of La Romana, supplying it with food, money and clothing.

In July 2010, Dominican Summer League players delivered gifts to ailing children at a local hospital in Santo Domingo. The Latin Beisbol Academy also played host to a fundraiser game in 2010 against the Dominican National Police Department to raise money for local charities throughout the D.R. In 2011, select Yankees draft picks held a clinic in San Pedro de Macoris for over 100 kids, also handing out shoes, equipment and uniforms to participants.

The Yankees field two DSL teams, winning back-to-back titles in 2005-06. With the hard work and dedication of the Yankees Player Development staff, the organization looks forward to the future, when these young players can be a part of a World Championship in the Bronx.

Yankee Stadium Hosts Hispanic Heritage Baseball Hall of Fame

In July 2011, the New York Yankees proudly unveiled the Hispanic Heritage Baseball Museum Hall of Fame display at the Yankee Stadium Museum Presented by Bank of America. The special exhibit pays homage to the six living Hall of Fame members of Latino descent currently enshrined in Cooperstown – Roberto Alomar, Luis Aparicio, Rod Carew, Orlando Cepeda, Juan Marichal, and Tony Pérez – who have all made an indelible mark on America's favorite pastime, while proudly representing their Latino heritage. The New York Yankees – who possess a rich heritage of outstanding Latino players – were the inaugural host of this exhibit, which features player jerseys, trophies, collectible merchandise and autographed memorabilia.

The Latino Living Legends exhibit was displayed in the Yankee Stadium Museum.

Partners in Japan

During the 2002 season, the Yankees entered into a working agreement with the Yomiuri Giants, winners of 21 Japan Series Championships. Pursuant to the agreement, the teams consented to share baseball information, ideas and strategies. Also in 2002, the Yankees pursued and signed three-time Central League MVP Hideki Matsui. A nine-time Japanese League All-Star and three-time home run champion, Matsui became the first bonafide power hitter to make the transition from Japan to the Major Leagues.

In 2004, the Yankees traveled to Tokyo to open the regular season against the Tampa Bay Devil Rays. The historic trip marked the 70th anniversary of Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig's 1934 All-Star tour of Japan. It also recognized the anniversary of the founding of the Yomiuri Giants franchise, Japan's oldest professional baseball team. The two-game series was just the second-ever Major League season opener to take place in Japan. At the time, the two games were the highest-rated televised Major League games in Japan's history.

Korean Baseball Commissioner Young Koo You threw out the first pitch prior to the Yankees-Blue Jays game on July 2, 2010.

Yankees Teach in Taiwan

In January 2009, the Yankees joined the Chinese Taipei Baseball Association under the auspices of Major League Baseball in holding a clinic for high school pitchers, catchers and coaches at the National Taiwan Sport University's Taoyuan Campus in Taipei, Taiwan. It marked the Yankees' first-ever large-scale outreach in Taiwan and represented the club's initiative in cultivating baseball talent and increasing brand recognition in Asia and the greater international community. The five-day clinic focused on pitching and catching fundamentals and philosophy.

Yankees and Chinese Baseball Association Reach Memorandum of Understanding

Yankees Team President Randy Levine and GM Brian Cashman established a working agreement with the Chinese Baseball Association on Jan. 29, 2007.

The New York Yankees and the Chinese Baseball Association (CBA) held a press conference in Beijing, China, on January 29, 2007, to announce a Memorandum of Understanding that for the first time formalized a strategic alliance between a Major League Baseball club and the Chinese Baseball Association. During the Yankees' 2009 World Series trophy tour, club officials met with the CBA in Beijing to further the cooperation agreement between the two entities.

The agreement, subject to Major League Baseball's rules, regulations and agreements pertaining to the People's Republic of China, states that the Yankees will provide the CBA with guidance in training baseball players, including sending coaches, player development staff, scouting and training personnel to China to assist the CBA. The partnership also allows the CBA to send staff to the Yankees' facilities in the United States in furtherance of those goals.

During their 2007 trip, the Yankees were represented in Beijing by team President Randy Levine, Senior Vice President and General Manager Brian Cashman, Vice President and Assistant General Manager Jean Afterman, and Vice President of Corporate Sales and Sponsorship Michael Tusiani. Beijing Womei Advertising Company Limited and Sportscorp China, headed by President and Managing Director Marc Ganis and Managing Director Kenneth Huang, coordinated the meetings and were instrumental in the Yankees' involvement in China.

The CBA was represented by Chairman Hu Jianguo, Secretary General Shen Wei and Deputy Secretary General Tian Yuan.

On June 16, 2007, the Yankees announced the signings of catcher Zhenwang Zhang and left-handed pitcher Kai Liu to minor league contracts, marking the first-ever acquisition by a Major League organization of Chinese baseball players. Both players were members of the Chinese National team that competed in the 2008 Olympics in Beijing.

Yankees Championship Trophy Tour of the Dominican Republic, Japan and China

Following their 2009 championship season, the Yankees embarked on a world tour with their 2009 World Series Trophy, traveling to the Dominican Republic and Asia.

Led by Chief International Officer and Executive Vice President Felix M. Lopez, Jr., a Yankees contingent took the championship trophy to the Dominican Republic for a three-day tour from Jan. 7-9, 2010. The Dominican Republic leg of the trophy tour included stops at the National Palace for a ceremony with Dominican Republic President Dr. Leonel Fernández, where Lopez was joined by bench coach Tony Pena, and players Robinson Cano, Damaso Marte, Francisco Cervelli and Edwar Ramirez as well as by several Yankees minor leaguers. The next day, the Yankees visited the U.S. Embassy and the National Police Headquarters. That evening, the Yankees displayed the trophy for fans at the Dominican Winter League playoff game between the Licey Tigers and Escogido Lions at Quisqueya Stadium in Santo Domingo, and Lopez threw out the ceremonial first pitch. On their final day in the D.R., the Yankees placed the trophy on display for residents of the town of Casa de Campo. In the evening, Lopez tossed the ceremonial first pitch at a game between La Romano and Escogido, and the Yankees again displayed the trophy for fans.

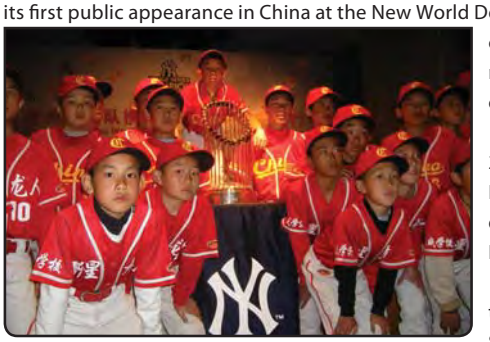
Three weeks later, a Yankees delegation including Team President Randy Levine, Senior Vice President and General Manager Brian Cashman, Vice President and Assistant General Manager Jean Afterman and Senior Vice President of Corporate Sales and Sponsorships Michael Tusiani, took the trophy on a six-day tour to Tokyo, Beijing and Hong Kong from Jan. 31 through Feb. 5, 2010.

The Yankees' 2009 championship trophy visited the MLB Café in Tokyo, Japan, where it was displayed alongside the Yomiuri Giants' 2009 Championship trophy in the first-ever instance of the two titles being side-by-side.

The contingent was met by fans and media at Tokyo's Narita Airport, marking this first-ever occasion of a Yankees World Series trophy being brought to Asia. The next day, another historic moment took place at the MLB Café in Tokyo as the trophy was displayed alongside the Yomiuri Giants' 2009 Japan Series championship trophy.

From there, the trophy traveled to China, where fans in Beijing and Hong Kong had their first opportunity to gaze at Major League Baseball's grandest prize. The trophy tour in China was organized by QSL Sports, which has been active in the promotion of Baseball in the People's Republic of China (PRC) and operates the China Youth Baseball League together with the Chinese Baseball Association. The events in China were hosted by QSL Sports, New World Department Stores (one of the largest owners and operators of department stores in China), and K11, the "World's First Art Mall," which integrates elements of art, culture and nature, while elevating the shopping experience.

On Feb. 3, 2010, Yankees officials met with the CBA in Beijing to further the cooperation agreement between the two entities, after which the groups held a joint press conference at the Kunlun Hotel. Later that evening, the championship trophy made its first public appearance in China at the New World Department Store, which included traditional Chinese performances and ceremonies. Joining the Yankees delegation were CBA officials, New World representatives and the Beijing Yankees youth baseball team, which is part of MLB's "Play Ball" youth baseball program in China.



Chinese youth were on hand with the trophy during a press event with the Chinese Baseball Association.

Hong Kong marked the final stop on the Asian tour., with a Feb. 5, 2010, event at the Hyatt Regency hotel adjacent to the recently-opened K11 Mall. The next morning, the trophy was introduced to players and fans during the opening ceremony for the 2010 Phoenix Cup, Hong Kong's International Women's Baseball Tournament.

The Yankees thank their partner Delta Air Lines for ensuring the safe transportation of the World Series trophy and appreciate the efforts of Sportscorp China, led by president Marc Ganis.

Yankees Take Part in Taiwan All-Star Tour

New York Yankees Robinson Cano and Curtis Granderson joined a team of Major League Baseball All-Stars for a five-game tour in Taiwan from November 1-6, 2011, to play against the Chinese Taipei national team. The MLB All-Star squad swept the five-game series, which took place in three different cities – New Taipei City (XinZhuang Stadium) , Taichung (Intercontinental Stadium) and Kaohsiung (Chengcing Lake Stadium).

In addition to excelling on the field, Cano and Granderson soaked in the local culture, taking part in each sightseeing trip as well as a stop at Snake Alley & the Taichung Night Market where they sampled the local "snake blood." Cano also visited children at the China Medical University Hospital, joining Taichung Mayor Jason Hu to talk baseball and listen to stories with the children.

For Granderson, it marked his fifth journey abroad with an MLB-initiated tour, having served as an ambassador for MLB trips to Europe, South Africa, China and New Zealand. For Cano it was his first trip to Taiwan where his father (pictured with him at right) played for five seasons.

U.S. MILITARY ALL-STAR BASEBALL TEAM VISITS YANKEES' LATIN BÉISBOL ACADEMY IN THE DOMINICAN REPUBLIC

On April 24, 2008, the U.S. Military Baseball Team paid a visit to the Yankees' Latin Béisbol Academy in Boca Chica in the Dominican Republic. The team joined Yankees players for a workout as part of its Armed Forces "Baseball Diplomacy" program, undertaken in conjunction with the United States Embassy, the Dominican Armed Forces, the National Police Sporting Club, and the Dominican Baseball Federation. Following the training session, coaches from the academy joined U.S. military players at Ensanche Luperon in Santo Domingo, to give a baseball clinic to local children. In return, the Yankees sent coaches and scouts to participate in a clinic on April 26, 2008, at the Olympic Center, also in Santo Domingo.

Media Services for Yankees Games

The New York Yankees Media Relations staff welcomes you to Yankee Stadium. Please see below for helpful information and guidelines for the 2012 season. Contact us with any questions or concerns you may have. We look forward to working with you.

ADMISSION TO STADIUM/CREDENTIAL PICK-UP: All media must enter Yankee Stadium via the Press Gate, adjacent to Gate 4. The Press Gate opens five hours prior to game time. BBWAA cards, MLB-issued passes or credentials issued by the New York Yankees are necessary for admittance. NO OTHER CREDENTIAL WILL BE HONORED. All bags are subject to search upon entry. Photo ID will be required.

ADMISSION TO FIELD AND DUGOUTS: On game days, the field and dugouts can be accessed from the Service Level (000) via the Field Access Tunnel (located on the outfield side of the Visitors Clubhouse) or through either team's clubhouse when open to the media during regular clubhouse hours. Take the press elevator or stairs from the Press Gate or Main Press Box down to the Service Level and follow the interior concourse to the right for the Yankees Clubhouse or to the left for the Field Access Tunnel and Visitors Clubhouse. Please note that the field is closed to media at the conclusion of the visiting team's batting practice.

AUTOGRAPHS NOT PERMITTED: ANY MEMBER OF THE MEDIA REQUESTING AUTOGRAPHS WHILE CREDENTIALED WILL HAVE THEIR CREDENTIAL REVOKED.

CLUBHOUSES: The Yankees Clubhouse is open to those with BBWAA cards, MLB-issued passes or applicable credentials issued by the New York Yankees. NO OTHER CREDENTIAL WILL BE HONORED. The Clubhouse is open from three and a half hours prior to the game until the team takes the field for batting practice. At times, certain additional restrictions may be imposed. Private corridors inside the clubhouse, including the trainer's room, player's lounge, weight room, etc. are CLOSED TO MEDIA AT ALL TIMES. Visiting clubhouse is governed by the visiting club.

CREDENTIAL QUESTIONS: Please direct questions to Alexandra Trochanowski in the Yankees Media Relations office at credentials@yankees.com or (718) 579-4460.

DAILY CREDENTIALS: All requests for single-game regular season media credentials for games played at Yankee Stadium may be made online at https://credentials.mlb.com. The online application is the only acceptable method for requesting single-game regular season media credentials for games played at Yankee Stadium. Applications must be completed by a Sports Editor or Sports Director and require at least 24 hours notice.

ELEVATOR TO PRESS BOX: The Field Level elevator entrance is directly behind the Press Gate between Gate 4 and the Great Hall. A staircase adjacent to the press elevator also provides a route to the Service, Field and Press Box Levels. Entrance on the Service Level is near the Legends Suite Club on the first base side.

FIELD: All media, with BBWAA cards or applicable credentials issued by the New York Yankees, are permitted on the field in designated areas during pre-game practice. For safety purposes, all media must leave the field once the batting cage is removed. Dugouts are to be cleared one half hour prior to all games. Please display passes at all times.

INTERNET: Wireless Internet is available throughout all working media areas. Please see a Yankees Media Relations representative for login instructions.

INTERVIEW REQUESTS: To schedule interviews requiring special arrangements, please e-mail your request to media@yankees.com.

MEDIA GUIDES: Please see a member of the Yankees Media Relations Department.

Yankees Television Broadcasters

Michael Kay

Now in his 11th season as the play-by-play announcer for the YES Network and WWOR-TV, Michael Kay immerses himself in all things New York in order to provide his listeners and viewers with original opinions and the most exclusive, up-to-the-minute Yankees information. Additionally, Kay is the host of YES' CenterStage series, hosts his own radio talk show on ESPN 1050 AM in New York and is a frequent contributor to ESPN's Emmy Award-winning Sports Reporters. In 2008, he handled play-by-play duties for the ESPN Radio Network's coverage of the AL Division Series.

A 21-time Emmy Award nominee and three-time Emmy winner, Kay signed a multi-year extension with the YES Network in 2008 to remain as the club's lead play-by-play voice as well as host on a variety of YES Network programs.

Before joining the YES Network, Kay worked at the MSG Network from 1989-2001 as a Yankees reporter. In 1992, he added the assignment of Knicks locker room reporter to his responsibilities and continued in that role through the 1998-99 season.

In addition to his television work, Kay also worked as a Yankees analyst on WABC Radio from 1992-2002. Kay was a winner with Bob Goldscholl (WBBR) for "Best Sports Reporter" at the 2000 New York Metro Achievement in Radio Awards. After the Yankees' World Series victories in 1996, 1998, 2000 and 2009, Kay and John Sterling were asked by New York City's Mayor to host the post-parade victory celebration at City Hall.

In 1998, Kay also began co-hosting Sports Talk with John Sterling and Michael Kay, an MSG-produced nightly sports radio call-in show which aired on WABC Radio during the winter months. During the baseball season, Kay and Sterling hosted Yankee Talk which aired 90 minutes prior to all weekend Yankees games.

Shortly after graduating from Fordham University in 1982 with a B.A. in Communications, the Bronx, N.Y., native became one of the hot sports reporters in New York City with a style that combined great reporting skills with quality writing. While at Fordham, he honed his skills working for the school newspaper and radio station, working at Sports Phone and as the public address announcer for the New York Pro Summer Basketball League. In 1982, Kay landed a job as a general assignment writer for the New York Post. Two years later he began covering college basketball (1984-85) and then the New Jersey Nets, whom he covered for two seasons before becoming the newspaper's general basketball writer. In 1987, he moved to baseball where he served as his paper's Yankees beat reporter. While he was in that position, he got his first television job with MSG Network as host of the "Hot Stove League" segment of MSG's Sports Night. Kay moved from the Post to the New York Daily News in 1989, where he covered the Yankees until 1992, when he made the jump to radio. With the move, he became the first newspaper reporter in any sport to make the jump into the broadcast booth full-time, performing both play-by-play and analysis.

Kay was given the Dick Young Award for Excellence in Sports Media by the New York Pro Baseball Scouts in 1995. He was also a part of the Yankees/MSG Production team that was nominated for New York Emmy Awards for six consecutive years. In 1998, he was on the MSG team that won for "Outstanding Live Sports Coverage–Series." In 1996 and '97, he was a member of the MSG team that won New York Emmys for "Outstanding Live Sports Coverage–Single Program" for Dwight Gooden's no-hitter and "The Battle for New York: Yankees vs. Mets".

Kay resides in Manhattan, N.Y., and in 2005 had an honorary street sign in his name erected on the Grand Concourse in the Bronx. He is active with the Alzheimer's Association in memory of his mother, Rose, who passed away from the disease in 2006. Kay has also joined Joe Girardi for the "Remember When, Remember Now" banquet at the Grand Central Oyster Bar to benefit Girardi's Catch 25 Foundation and Alzheimer's research. He and his wife, Jodi, were married in February 2011.

Ken Singleton

Former Major Leaguer Ken Singleton enters his 11th season as a game analyst and announcer for YES Network broadcasts of the New York Yankees. Known on the diamond as a consistent power hitter, Singleton has proven to be equally as reliable since joining the radio and television broadcast booths.

Prior to joining YES, Singleton divided his time calling play-by-play and providing commentary at the MSG Network. In 1998, he was part of MSG's production team that won four New York Emmys for its Yankees coverage.

Singleton joined the MSG Network in 1997 from The Sports Network (TSN), where he served as analyst for the Montreal Expos from 1985-96. From 1991-96, he also called play-by-play and served as analyst for CIQ Radio, the Expos' flagship radio network. In 1996 and '97, he was named by FOX Sports as a lead analyst for Saturday afternoon baseball broadcasts. In 1997 and '98, he worked as an analyst for Major League Baseball International.

Singleton enjoyed a 15-year Major League career with the New York Mets, Montreal Expos and Baltimore Orioles, batting .282 with 317 doubles and 246HR. He is one of only 11 players in Baseball history to hit 35 or more home runs in a season as a switch-hitter. He also ranks among the all-time leaders in most Baltimore offensive categories, including homers, RBI and total bases. During his career, Singleton was named to the American League All-Star team in 1977, '79, and '81. He was named Most Valuable Oriole in 1975, '77, and '79 and was a member of the Orioles' 1983 World Championship team. In1982, he was the recipient of Major League Baseball's Roberto Clemente Award, honoring him for his contributions both on and off the field.

Born in Manhattan and raised in nearby Mount Vernon, N.Y., Singleton played both baseball and basketball in high school, and also played baseball in the Bronx Federation League at Macombs Dam Park on the current site of Yankee Stadium. After getting a basketball scholarship to Hofstra University and playing baseball as well for one year, Singleton was drafted by the Mets in 1967.

Singleton serves on the Board of Directors for the Cool Kids Campaign, a non-profit organization that helps children and their families who are dealing with cancer. He was honored with the "Denzel Lifetime Achievement Award in Sports" at the Boys & Girls Club of Mount Vernon's 100th Anniversary Gala in March.

David Cone

David Cone returned to the YES Network in 2011. Upon his retirement from the game, Cone joined the YES Network team during its inaugural year in 2002, and again for the 2008 and 2009 seasons

Cone compiled a 194-126 record, 3.46 ERA and 2,688 strikeouts in his 17-year Major League career with the Kansas City Royals (1986, 1993-94), New York Mets (1987-1992, 2003), Toronto Blue Jays (1992, '95), New York Yankees (1995-2000) and Boston Red Sox (2001). He was a five-time All-Star (1988, 1992, 1994, 1997 and 1999) and captured the American League Cy Young Award in 1994 after posting a 16-5 record with a 2.94 ERA. With the award, he became the first pitcher to win the Cy Young despite not leading the league in any category or pitching for a first-place club.

While with the Yankees, Cone was 64-40 with a 3.91 ERA and 888 strikeouts, and was part of four World Championship teams (1996, 1998, 1999 and 2000). He had arguably his finest season in pinstripes in 1998, when he was 20-7 with a 3.55 ERA and 209 strikeouts. A year later, on July 18, 1999, he hurled the 14th perfect game in modern Major League history (since 1900, including postseason) in a 6-0 win vs. the Montreal Expos at Yankee Stadium. The performance also marked the third perfect game ever thrown by a Yankees pitcher, following Don Larsen's in Game 5 of the 1956 World Series vs. Brooklyn and David Wells' vs. Minnesota in 1998. The Kansas City, Mo. native, was selected by his hometown Kansas City Royals in the third round of the 1981 First-Year Player Draft.

He compiled an 8-3 career postseason record and also won a title with the 1992 Blue Jays.

Cone and his wife, Lynn, have a son, Brian. In 1996, he established the David Cone Charitable Gift Fund. Cone was honored with numerous awards for his community service as a player and still pursues his charitable endeavors, working with the Maria Fareri Children's Hospital at the Westchester Medical Center.

Jack Curry

Jack Curry joined the YES Network in 2010 as studio analyst, reporter and program contributor, following a 20-year career covering the Yankees for the New York Times. In addition, he contributes as a columnist on YESNetwork.com. He also serves as host of YES' new Yankees Access show. In 2010 and 2011, respectively, Curry traveled to the Dominican Republic and Taiwan to report on Yankees feature stories.

During his career with the Times, Curry authored more than 4,500 articles, covering 18 World Series, 11 All-Star Games and two World Baseball Classics. The New Jersey native also was nominated for a Pulitzer Prize in 1999, and won multiple Times Publisher Awards.

Curry's television experience extends back to 1991, when he began contributing to Madison Square Garden Network's Yankees pre-game show and weekly baseball magazine show. Since November 2005, Curry has been a regular contributor to YES' Yankees Hot Stove and Yankees Baseball Daily shows. In addition, he was a featured panelist on MSG's Angles roundtable show, was a frequent guest on WCBS-TV's Baseball Insider weekly studio show, and has also provided expert baseball analysis and commentary on television and radio programs such as ESPN's Outside The Lines, MSNBC's Countdown with Keith Olbermann, ESPN Radio's The Michael Kay Show and various WFAN Radio programs.

He also co-wrote a book with Derek Jeter entitled The Life You Imagine: Life Lessons for Achieving Your Dreams, which was a New York Times best-seller.

A 1986 graduate of Fordham University, Curry resides with his wife, Pamela, in New Jersey.

John Flaherty

Former Yankees catcher John Flaherty enters his seventh season as a field reporter, studio analyst and game analyst for YES Network telecasts in 2012.

Drafted by Boston in 1988, Flaherty progressed through the Red Sox farm system before joining their Major League squad in 1992. He played 14 seasons in the Majors with Boston (1992-93), Detroit (1994-96), San Diego (1996-97), Tampa Bay (1998-2002) and the Yankees (2003-05), compiling a .252 average with 80HR in 1,047 games.

Flaherty brought his knowledge of the game and his veteran style of leadership to the Yankees clubhouse when he signed as a free agent in 2003. He played in 134 games with the Yankees across three seasons, and will be long remembered for his dramatic pinch-hit, "walk-off" single that defeated the Boston Red Sox in the 13th inning of a 5-4 victory on June 1, 2004, in the contest that featured Derek Jeter's famous dive into the third base stands.

Flaherty is a New York City native and a graduate of George Washington University. On May 15, 2009, he was awarded an honorary Doctorate of Humane Letters from St. Thomas Aquinas College in Sparkill, N.Y.

Al Leiter

Entering his seventh year with the YES Network, former Yankees pitcher Al Leiter serves as color commentator, providing viewers with insight gained from his 19 years as a player in the Major Leagues. He is also a contributor to YES's Yankees on Deck series, and is an analyst for the MLB Network, where he was nominated for a 2010 National Emmy Award for his work there.

Prior to signing with YES, Leiter had worked as a postseason game analyst for FOX Sports and ESPN.

Originally drafted by the Yankees in 1984, Leiter played parts of 19 professional seasons with the Yankees (1987-89, 2005), Toronto Blue Jays (1989-95), Florida Marlins (1996-97, 2005) and New York Mets (1998-2004). A two-time All-Star (1996, 2000), he was a part of two world championship teams (Toronto in 1993 and Florida in 1997) and became the first pitcher in history to record a victory against all 30 Major League teams. On May 11, 1996, Leiter tossed the first no-hitter in Marlins history in an 11-0 win vs. Colorado.

A native of Bayville, N.J., Leiter has been nearly as busy off the field as he was on it. Since 1996, he has donated more than $1.5 million to various charities in the New York area and South Florida. In 2000, he was honored by Major League Baseball with the Roberto Clemente Award for his contributions to the community, and the Bart Giamatti Award in 2002. Also in 2002, he was appointed to the board of directors of the Twin Towers Fund in New York City. He was named the March of Dimes "Sportsman of the Year" in 2003 and the John V. Mara "Sportsman of the Year" in 2004 by the Catholic Youth Organization. He also created "Leiter's Landing," a charitable organization committed to the betterment of youth through education, health care and social and community service. Leiter has also been the recipient of numerous other awards and honors as a result of his charity work, including the 2008 "Breakthrough Spirit Award" at the Children's Cancer and Blood Foundation gala in New York City. In January 2012, Leiter was inducted into the New Jersey Sports Writers Association Hall of Fame. He also served as master of ceremonies at New York City Mayor Michael Bloomberg's first induction ceremony at City Hall in 2002

Paul O'Neill

Paul O'Neill returns for his 11th season in broadcast television in 2012, serving as a game analyst for the YES Network. He received a New York Emmy Award nomination in 2011 for his analyst work on YES.

The five-time All-Star outfielder played 17 years in the Majors, spending his final nine seasons in pinstripes. He appeared in six World Series, winning five titles, including four with the Yankees (1996, '98-2000).

Affectionately known as a "warrior" to most Yankees followers, O'Neill began his Major League career in 1985 with the Cincinnati Reds and earned the first of his five World Series championships in 1990. He joined the Yankees in 1993 after eight seasons with the Reds, and in 1994 claimed the American League batting title with a .359 average. From July 1995 to May 1997, he played in 235 consecutive games in right field without making an error. In 2001, at the age of 38, O'Neill became the oldest player in Major League history to steal 20 bases and hit 20 home runs in the same season.

He lives in his native Cincinnati with his wife, Nevalee, and their three children: Andrew, Aaron and Alexandra. He was named the "Father of the Year" in June 2008 by the National Father's Day Council at its 67th Annual Father of the Year dinner in New York.

Lou Piniella

Former New York Yankees player, manager and general manager Lou Piniella joins the YES Network as a special contributor for the 2012 season. He provides Yankees game and studio analysis on YES, is involved in the network's Spring Training and potential postseason coverage, and contributes to YES special event programming as well as YESNetwork.com.

"Sweet" Lou Piniella played his final 11 Major League seasons with the Yankees and was a pivotal piece of their World Series Championship teams in 1977 and 1978. During his time in the Bronx, he played on five American League East-winning teams and four pennant-winners. He also managed the Yankees from 1986 to 1987. He took over as New York's general manager in 1988 and also resumed his manager's role in June of that year.

The Tampa native compiled a .291 career batting average with 102 home runs and 766 RBI over 18 Major League seasons with Baltimore (1964), Cleveland (1968), Kansas City (1969-73) and the Yankees (1974-84). He was named the 1969 American League Rookie of the Year during the Royals' inaugural season, when he was the first batter in the team's history (doubled in the 4/8 season opener). He was an All-Star with the Royals in 1972. In 1974, Piniella began his 11-year stint in Yankees pinstripes.

Piniella owns a career managerial record of 1,835-1,713, ranking 14th on Baseball's all-time managerial wins list. He served as Manager of the Cincinnati Reds from 1990-92, guiding the Reds to the World Series Championship in 1990. Piniella was a two-time American League Manager of the Year (1995 and 2001) while skippering the Seattle Mariners from 1993-2002. He then served as the Manager of Tampa Bay from 2003-2005, and the Cubs from 2007-2010, earning National League Manager of the Year honors in 2008. His most recent role saw him serve as a special consultant with the San Francisco Giants organization during the 2011 season.

Piniella was a game analyst during MSG Network's Yankees telecasts in 1989, and was an analyst for FOX Sports' MLB coverage in 2006. He is a graduate of Tampa's Jesuit High School, where he was an All-American basketball player. He played his collegiate baseball at the University of Tampa, earning NCAA Division II All-American honors.

Yankees Radio Broadcasters

John Sterling

"Yankees win! Theeeeeee Yankees win!"

If anything has become synonymous with the Yankees' run of success over recent years, it is John Sterling's memorable conclusion to so many Yankees victories. As the radio voice to 162 games a year, plus preseason and postseason, he has called 3,814 official games (3,657 regular season/157 postseason) over the last 23 seasons, without missing even one, making him one of the most recognized—and imitated voices—in all of New York sports.

Sterling joined the Yankees broadcast team in 1989 from Atlanta's TBS and WSB Radio, where he called Hawks basketball (1981-89) and Braves games (1982-87). It marked a return to the town where he first achieved fame, hosting a talk show on WMCA from 1971-78, and calling the Nets (1975-80, and as a fill-in, in 1997) and Islanders (1975-78) for WMCA ,WVNJ, WWOR-TV and SportsChannel.

Sterling also previously broadcasted Morgan State Football (eight years) and Washington Bullets basketball in 1981. In addition to his seven years at WMCA and a year at WSB in Atlanta, he has also hosted talk shows on WFAN and WABC in New York. He has not missed a broadcast since the fall of 1981.

As the host of the YES Network's acclaimed Yankeeography series, Sterling has won a total of 12 Emmy Awards since 2003. He has also been honored by the New Jersey Sportswriters Association with its Radio-TV Excellence Award (1999), and was the winner of the 2001 Whitney Radio Jimmy Cannon Award. In addition, his call of a Jason Giambi home run on WCBS radio in 2002 was voted the "Best Baseball Call" of the year in a poll conducted by MLB.com. In 2002, Sterling was also honored by the NY Air Awards for being a part of the best play-by-play team on radio.

When he's not in the booth, Sterling serves as a master of on-field ceremonies for major Yankees events, and is well known for his emcee work at City Hall (with his former radio partner Michael Kay) at "Key to the City" ceremonies following Yankees World Series victories.

Sterling enjoys attending Broadway shows and boasts an extensive knowledge of the lyrics to many American pop standards. In 2007, he embarked on his own Broadway venture in a cabaret show titled "Baseball and Broadway" in which he both served as emcee and sang alongside broadway talent.

For the past 19 years, he has been a spokesman for the Leukemia Society of America. He enjoys reading, movies and swimming. He lives in Bergen County, N.J., and is the proud father of four children: daughter Abigail and triplets, Veronica, Bradford and Derek.

Suzyn Waldman

Award-winning journalist Suzyn Waldman begins her 26th season either covering or broadcasting the New York Yankees. She joined John Sterling in the radio booth in 2005 as the Yankees' color commentator on WCBS-AM radio, becoming the first woman to hold a full-time position as a Major League broadcaster.

Waldman has spent more than two decades overcoming all the obstacles that go along with being a female sports broadcaster and has risen to the top of her profession. In 2006, she became a permanent part of the "Women in Baseball" exhibit at the Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, and in 2009, her World Series Game 6 scorecard was added to the Hall of Fame's collection, commemorating her being the first female broadcaster to call game action in the World Series.

In 1987, Waldman became the first female voice heard on WFAN-AM in New York, the first all-sports radio station in the country. She was a mainstay on that station for almost 15 years, creating the job of the radio beat reporter, covering both the New York Yankees and New York Knicks. Her news-breaking reports, exclusive interviews and always original and controversial opinions won her countless journalism awards. Her accolades include the "International Radio Award" for her live and emotional reporting from the upper deck of Candlestick Park during the 1989 San Francisco earthquake, the 1996 "NY Sportscaster of the Year" Award from the National Sportscasters & Sportswriters and the 1999 "Star Award" for radio from the American Women in Radio and TV. Waldman became a popular talk show host at WFAN and co-hosted the coveted midday slot until leaving WFAN in 2002 to join the YES Network.

The word "first" invariably precedes the name of Suzyn Waldman in every facet of her television and radio career. The first woman to work on a nationally-televised baseball broadcast, Waldman added another first, being the first woman to provide play-by-play for a Major League team, when she started broadcasting New York Yankees games for WPIX, MSG Network and WNYW/FOX5 in the mid 1990s. The first woman ever to host an NBA pre-and post-game show, Suzyn worked in that capacity for the New York Knicks on WFAN, provided play-by-play for the WNBA on Lifetime TV and was an analyst on St. John's basketball games for MSG and WFAN.

She has been honored by countless organizations, including the Thurman Munson Foundation, the March of Dimes, B'nai B'rith, the Jimmy Fund of Boston and the US Federal Women's Program. In 2006, she received the first Women's Global Health Award from the Albert Einstein College of Medicine at the United Nations. She is a tireless motivational speaker at schools and cancer centers around the country, encouraging young women to pursue their dreams despite any pitfalls they may encounter. And in 2011, she joined Bronx Borough President Ruben Diaz Jr. as host of the borough's annual Chanukah celebration.

Waldman's life and accomplishments have been the subject of hundreds of magazine and newspaper articles, and chapters in children's and motivational books. She has been profiled on the Today Show, CBS Evening News with Dan Rather, ABC's 20/20 and NBC's Dateline.

A native Bostonian with a degree in Economics from Boston's prestigious Simmons College, Suzyn spent 15 years on the Broadway Musical Stage and performed in countless night clubs around the world. She is proudest of her two years starring opposite Richard Kiley in Man of La Mancha. She lives in Westchester with her German Shepherds, Gatsby and A.J.

Carlos Silva

Carlos Silva, a native of Caracas, Venezuela, enters his seventh season producing and engineering Yankees games for WCBS Radio 880 AM (Spanish and English). The 2012 season will mark his 12th year working on Yankees radio broadcasts and his 23rd overall season in baseball. It also marks his second year producing and conducting interviews in Spanish for yesnetwork.com. Silva has also worked for ESPN Radio, Phillies Spanish radio, and the NBA's Orlando Magic and New Jersey Nets. He is also responsible for the translation and recording of Spanish broadcast spots throughout the season. In the offseason, he resides in Tampa, Fla., with his wife, Teresa, and his children Leslie , Kimberly and Matthew .

Yankees en Español

For the 16th consecutive season, the Yankees – in conjunction with WCBS radio – will provide Spanish radio and SAP (second audio programming) for game broadcasts.

Beto Villa

Beto Villa, a native of Caracas, Venezuela, has been broadcasting the Yankees since the beginning of the club's Spanish radio network in 1997, becoming one of the most recognized voices in baseball. The 2012 season will mark Villa's 16th as the "Spanish voice of the New York Yankees." His famous home run call: "¡La bola va atrás, se va, se va, se va, se vaaaaaaaaaa…se fue de cuadrangular…jonrón de…!" has made him very popular in the tri-state area and around the world.

Beto provides Spanish listeners with thorough and thoughtful Yankees coverage. He treasures his pages and pages of statistics of Latin American ballplayers, which he uses during his radiocasts. After beginning his career in 1981, he has had the opportunity to broadcast both the Major League World Series and the Caribbean World Series. He is currently a Senior Editor of Latinobaseball.com, a Web site covering Latin American players in the Majors and Winter Leagues. Beto has a daughter, Margarita.

Francisco Rivera

Since 1995, Francisco Rivera has been involved in baseball as a color commentator and play-by-play announcer, including seven years in the Yankees' broadcast booth. A native of Morovis, Puerto Rico, he covered the Philadelphia Phillies for "Radio Tropical" from 1995 to 1998 and worked the American League Championship Series in 2003 and 2004 for ESPN. Rivera received his Bachelors Degree in Spanish Literature from Rutgers University and graduated from the Cambridge University-affiliated Miguel Angel Torres School of Communications in Manhattan in 1978. He began his communications career covering NBA basketball for WADO, and was later one of the pioneers of the talk show WADO Deportivo where he worked until 2003. Francisco is married to Yvette Rodriguez and has two daughters, Melissa and Lorraine.

Felix DeJesus

Felix DeJesus, a native New Yorker, enters his seventh season as a back-up commentator for the New York Yankees. He also serves as a Yankees correspondent for WCBS and is one of the co-hosts of El Mundo de Las Grandes Ligas, an internet show on MLB Radio.

DeJesus broke into broadcasting in 1993, when he became the color commentator for the NHL's Florida Panthers. He has worked in all areas of broadcasting, television, radio and the Internet. From 1998 to 2004, he covered Major League Baseball on television for XTRA Innings in New York. He has covered the Caribbean World Series on FOX Sports, ESPN international and CNN. In 1999, he became the first announcer to broadcast in SAP for NBC News. DeJesus has also served the last six years as the Spanish language translator for Showtime Championship Boxing.

DeJesus graduated from Fordham University in 1988 with a degree in Economics and currently resides in the tri-state area. He and his wife, Melissa, have three children, Christopher, Brendan and Giselle.

George M. Steinbrenner Field

This year marks the 17th season the Yankees will play their spring training games at George M. Steinbrenner Field in Tampa, Fla. Since opening in 1996, the complex has also served as the home of the Single-A Tampa Yankees of the Florida State League. The field's dimensions are an exact replica of Yankee Stadium in the Bronx, measuring 318 feet down the left line, 408 feet to center field and 314 feet down the right field line. In 2008, the addition of the Tampa Tribune Deck in right field expanded the Stadium's capacity to 11,076, making it the largest spring training facility in the Grapefruit League.

Fans will also notice another link to the Bronx with replicas of the Yankees' retired numbers placards from Yankee Stadium greeting them as they enter the complex.

Originally opened in 1996 as Legends Field, the complex was renamed in honor of the late Yankees' Principal Owner and Chairman prior to the Yankees' March 27, 2008, spring training game against the Pittsburgh Pirates. On February 14, 2008, Hal and Hank Steinbrenner announced that the New York Yankees would rename the facility George M. Steinbrenner Field. The name change followed two unanimous resolutions recommending and supporting the change from the Hillsborough County Commission and the Tampa City Council.

"I am humbled and flattered to have this outstanding and totally unexpected honor conferred on me," said George M. Steinbrenner at the time the resolution was passed. "I extend my thanks to the Tampa City Council and to the Hillsborough County Commissioners for passing resolutions suggesting and recommending the change. I also thank my family for supporting the renaming of the stadium and for everything they have done for so many years that helped bring about this great day."

The resolution passed by the Tampa City Council on February 7, 2008, cited Mr. Steinbrenner's many charitable donations on behalf of youth activities, hospitals and the arts. The resolution passed by the Board of the Hillsborough County Commissioners on February 6, 2008, recognized Mr. Steinbrenner's numerous extraordinary contributions to the area.

The Yankees Pavilion is the newest feature at George M. Steinbrenner Field in Tampa. The reconstructed half-acre covered party area is located next to the Yankees' pregame workout field, and offers fans an exclusive spot to eat, drink and watch warm-ups right before the game.

James P. Dawson Award

Each spring training, the Yankees present the James P. Dawson Award to the outstanding Yankees rookie in spring training. The award was established in honor of James P. Dawson (1896-1953), who began a 45-year career with The New York Times as a copy boy in 1908. Eight years later, he became boxing editor and covered boxing and baseball until his death during spring training in 1953. New York Yankees beat writers vote on the winner.

Two winners of the honor, Tony Kubek in 1957 and Tom Tresh in 1962, went on to win the American League "Rookie of the Year" Award. The total list of the award's past winners include:

Game times listed as TBA are subject to determination by Major League Baseball and its television partners.

All seat locations are subject to availability.

Time, opponent, date and team rosters and lineups, including the Yankees' roster and lineup, are subject to change.

Distribution of promotional items is for fans in attendance only, while supplies last. Promotion dates, items and distribution are subject to change and/or cancellation.

NOTICE: For the safety of every Guest, all persons specifically consent to and are subject to metal detector and physical pat-down inspections prior to entry. Any person or property that could affect the safety of Yankee Stadium, its occupants or its property shall be denied entry.

WARNING: During all batting practices, fielding practices, warm-ups and the course of the game and postseason game experience, hard hit baseballs and bats and fragments thereof may be thrown or hit into the stands, concourses and concessions areas. For the safety of every Guest, all Guests must stay alert and be aware of their surroundings at all times while visiting Yankee Stadium. Accordingly, Guests who are concerned with their seat location by reason of the foregoing at any time during the game and/or postseason game experience should contact any Guest Relations representative for an alternate location.

NOTICE: The Yankees reserve the right, with or without refunding any amount paid by the ticket holder, to refuse admission to and/or eject any person who uses foul or abusive language or who wears or fails to cover obscene or indecent clothing. Ticket holders acknowledge and agree that the Yankees' ban on foul/abusive language and obscene/indecent clothing does not violate their right to free speech and that such time, place and manner of the restrictions are reasonable to ensure the safety of all Guests and sports participants and to preserve the enjoyment of the game or event for all Guests. In addition, ticket holders further acknowledge and agree that by entering Yankee Stadium, they hereby consent to the ban on foul/abusive language and obscene/indecent clothing and waive, to the fullest extent they may legally and effectively do so, any objection they may now or hereafter have to such ban and the penalties that the Yankees may impose for any violation of the same.
